City Administrator Ordinance Will Be Presented To Council

An ordinance fixing the duties and authority of the city administrator of Morehead will be presented to City Council at its next meeting Nov. 13.

The ordinance stems from recent controversy between the council and Mayor Clayton Jackson concerning the authority of the mayor's office as well as that of City Administrator Don Evans.

Basically, the ordinance reads the same as Evans' job description. It defines the city administrator's duties and responsibilities as follows:

1. Plan, organize, coordinate and supervise the day to day administration of all city departments, with the exception of the police department.

Special Olympics Returning Here

The state Special Olympics will be held for the second year in a row at Morehead State University, on June 1, 2, and 3, 1979, and the director for the state games, Mike Mayhew of MSU, says that plans for the event are already "way ahead of last year."

"We already have 25 committee co-chairpersons, and more Morehead and state civic groups have offered to help than last year," Mayhew said. "A lot of them didn't know what it was last year, but now that they do, they're anxious to help."

Mayhew said many people were persuaded to come back to help this year because of their experiences last year. "Special Olympics did almost as much for some of the volunteers as it did for us. The whole atmosphere this year is 50 times better than last year."

He added that, going by groups, Special Olympics already has more volunteers than all of last year, but 500 more are needed to enlist between now and June. "We're concentrating more

Election Results Should Be Known By 7 O'Clock

Results of today's General Election in Rowan County are anticipated by 7 p.m., according to Rowan County Court Clerk Jean Bailey.

Clerk Bailey said, "We'll start counting ballots right at 6 p.m. and should be finished by 7 tonight."

Counting of absentee votes to begin at 3 p.m. The Clerk pointed out that only 21 applications for absentee ballots were filled out by her office.

Polling will begin at 6 a.m. and were to close at 6 p.m.

The only local interest in the election was in the school board race, with opposition to only one of the two districts up for re-election.

Warren Proudfoot, incumbent candidate, is unopposed in his district, while Chenault James is running against incumbent Lake Cooper in the other.

The other three school board districts in Rowan County are not up for election this year.

Veteran politicians here have predicted a very light voter turnout today.

Football Contest Has $250 Winner

With eight weeks of winners down, and only two more to go, we finally have a grand prize winner in the weekly Football Contest in The Morehead News.

"If at first you don't succeed, enter again." That's the philosophy Larry Wilson had and, because of it, he's $250 richer.

Wilson, a resident of 338 Bays Avenue in Morehead, became the first grand prize winner in the Football Contest being jointly sponsored by The Morehead News and 18 Morehead businesses.

To be the grand prize winner, Wilson successfully selected all of the 18 game winners last week, and it was only the second time he had entered the contest that began Sept. 12 and ends after the winners of next Tuesday's contest are named.

Wilson picked Fleming County to beat Nicholas County in Friday night's high school action, and it proved to be the winning difference over Mark Sheehan. It was the only one Sheehan missed out of the 18 games.

Each week, the offerings have been $25 for first place, $10 for second and $5 for third. Then, if our amateur prognosticator should get lucky, or good, and pick all 18 winners, he receives a grand prize of $250. And, that's just what Wilson did.

This week and next are all that remain in the Football Contest, and there still is prize money waiting for those who can pick all the winners

4,000 pounds and reported that it is the best tobacco crop for them in years. Official weighing of burley begins at 9 a.m. Friday in Morehead and throughout the eight-state burley belt.

Burley Weighing Begins Friday

Official weighing of burley will begin at 9 a.m. Friday, Nov. 10, at burley warehouses throughout the eight-state burley belt.

Sales will start Monday, Nov. 20, and continue Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday of that week, with no sales on Thursday because of the Thanksgiving holiday.

In six weeks thereafter, burley tobacco auctions will be held Monday through Thursday of each week.

Thursday, Dec. 14, will be the final day of sales prior to the Christmas recess. Sales will resume on Wednesday, Jan. 3, and continue for three days of sales that week (Wednesday through Friday).

Sales will be conducted the usual maximum of three and one-half hours per day, with each warehouse selling no more than 360 baskets per hour and up to 1,260 per day.

The five days that loose leaf baled burley tobacco can be marketed on the state's 30 markets are: Nov. 24, Dec. 7 and 14, and Jan. 5 and 25.

Although the burley season has been recorded by the Kentucky Crop and Livestock Reporting Service as some 16 days to two weeks behind the average schedule throughout the year, the market's opening date is the earliest in more than a decade. The only other

Holbrook Refutes Rumors

Morehead City Councilman John Will Holbrook Jr. says that he does not want to be Morehead's mayor and is trying to squelch rumors stating otherwise.

In an interview last week concerning council's running controversy with Mayor Clayton Jackson, Holbrook said he is willing to resign his council seat and sign an affidavit stating he will not run for public office for four years if the mayor is willing to do likewise.

"I absolutely do not want to be mayor," Holbrook said. "If I had season to tie this year's opening was in 1972, according to veteran observers.

It has been estimated that 40 to 50 percent of the state's crop will be ready by the opening sale date.

Albert Clay, chairman of the Burley wanted to be mayor then I would have run for mayor instead of city council."

Holbrook added that the mayor had a "misconception of his duties, his authority and powers."

He said that council not only was a legislative body but that it was vested with the administrative powers of the city.

Recent controversy defining the powers of the mayor as well as that of City Administrator Don Evans have surfaced several times during the past months.

Evans says he will leave his position but city council has not accepted his resignation.

Council plans to submit an ordinance outlining the responsibilities of the city administrator's office at its next meeting Nov. 13.

Thelma Stovall Will Speak At BPW Meeting

Lt. Gov. Thelma L. Stovall will be in Morehead Monday, Nov. 13, as guest speaker for the November meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club. She will talk on "Women In Politics" in the meeting that is open to the public.

The event will open with a banquet at 6:30 p.m. in the Red Room of the Adron Doran University Center on the Morehead State campus.

Tickets for the evening are $5 per person. Reservations can be made by calling Donna Barnhill at 784-4470 or 784-5313.

WINCHESTER, Ky., UPI — Planners are awaiting approval of federal rent subsidies to clear the way for the remodeling of the 74-year-old Brown-Proctor Hotel in downtown Winchester as an apartment complex. The proposal will cost more than $1.56 million. If the rent subsidies are approved as expected, the hotel will be converted into 45 apartment units for senior citizens. The hotel was ordered closed in 1976 by the state fire marshal.

LEXINGTON, Ky., UPI — A survey of Lexington banks shows automatic transfer from savings to checking accounts has not captured the fancy of most of the facilities in the area. Only three of seven banks in the area provide the service, although the remainder plan to offer it some time in the future.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., UPI — Michael Marnell Smith, 31, a farm worker, has been sentenced by a circuit court judge to die in Virginia's electric chair Dec. 4. He would become the first convict executed in the state since 1962. Smith was convicted in the rape-slaying of Audrey Well.

WINCHESTER, Va., UPI — Rep. J. Kenneth Robinson, R-Va., says he is "100 percent" in favor of allowing people who receive Social Security benefits to work while receiving those benefits. "Because it is unfair to penalize the desire to work, I have supported phasing out the earnings limitation placed on Social Security beneficiaries and the successful effort in Congress to raise the widely-applied mandatory retirement age from 65 to 70," Robinson said.

Weather

The weather will be somewhat over this week breaking an unseasonably warm trend enjoyed in the area last week.

Temperatures today will be in the 50s with lows in the upper 30s to low 40s. The extended forecast calls for fair weather tomorrow through Friday.

Fire Destroys Roof In Rear Of Parker Store

An early morning fire yesterday destroyed the roof of a block building in the back of the C. B. Parker Grocery Store on Christy Creek.

Fire Chief Glen Terrell said he and six firemen were able to contain the flames.

The department answered the alarm about 3 a.m.

successfully. Merchants and businesses that have sponsored the Football Contest, in cooperation with The Morehead News, are:

People's Bank of Morehead, Dogwood Tree, Stanley Pontiac, C. Roger Lewis Agency, Inc., McDonald's, Holiday Inn, Northcutt & Son Home Pro Furnerals, Don McKenzie Ford, Burger Queen.

Pack's, Inc., Larry's Rock And Read, Fanning Brothers Golf, Charlie's Carpets, Allen's IGA, Battison Drugs, Martin's Department Store, Morehead Printing Services, and American Office Supply.

The deadline for entries each week is 5 p.m. Thursday. They must be submitted to The Morehead News. Rules for entering appear on the contest page elsewhere in this issue.

MICKEY MOUSE was honored on his 50th birthday with a special party at University Cinema on Saturday and Sunday afternoons. There was free cake for all children and favors for the first 400 youngsters who turned out to see the special Walt Disney movies. THE GENERAL AND THE DUKE: The second annual Gen. Omar Bradley Spirit of Independence Award will be presented by the general Dec. 18 at the Independence Bowl football game in Shreveport, La. Accepting the honor, which cites him as "a source of inspiration to millions in his many portrayals of the American fighting man," will be John Wayne.

MAN FOR ALL SEASONS: Richard Dreyfuss chased a hungry shark in "Jaws," flying saucers in "Close Encounters of the Third Kind" and Marsha Mason in "The Goodbye Girl." Now he's chasing history — on behalf of Jews in Russia. The Academy Award winner will narrate the World premiere Nov. 18 of a special concert by composer Morris Moshe Costel in New York. The work — titled "The Night of the Murdered Poets" — commemorates the slaying in a single night of 24 prominent Jewish writers and poets in the Soviet Union during the Stalinist regime. It's a 15-minute work for five musicians, and the narration consists of actual texts written by the murdered artists. The show is sponsored by the Greater New York Conference on Soviet Jewry.

Jr. High Champs

Tildon Hogge captured the title in the Rowan County Junior High football race this season. Coach Curt Cundiff's club posted a perfect record in seven games. ### OUR CASHIERS HAVE PRIDE!

Quite often, the only person you actually communicate with while you're in a supermarket is the cashier. If she or he is pleasant, you leave with a positive impression of the store; if the person at the cash register is "scowling", chances are good you will be too, when you leave. At IGA, while we can't promise 100% smiles 100% of the time, we do guarantee you something our competitors often can't: our cashiers take obvious pride in their jobs — and it shows.

HUD Gives City $898,000 Grant

FRANKFORT, KY. UPI — The city of Frankfort has been awarded a block grant of $898,000 from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for the purchase of real estate, the rehabilitation of private properties, storm sewers and park development.

In a letter dated Oct. 31 from HUD, the agency said the money can be used immediately after the city obtains necessary environmental review and clearances on its projects.

The grant runs through Oct. 31 of next year.

ANTIQUUE FURNITURE Factory label can give warning

By JAMES G. McCOLLAM
Copley News Service

Dear Mr. McCollam: I recently purchased three chairs (picture enclosed), made by the Piedmont Chair Co., Lenoir, N.C. I also bought a pedestal drop leaf dining table (picture enclosed), made by the Brandt Furniture Co., Rogersville, Md. I would be most grateful if you could tell me something about this furniture. — G.C., Boston, Mass.

Dear G.C.: All these pieces were factory made in the early 20th century. The chairs are reproductions of Empire side chairs and the table was inspired by the designs of Duncan Phyfe. It is easy to mistake good reproductions for the real thing, but you should have been warned by the factory labels. Antiques were not made in factories until late in the 19th century.

Dear Mr. McCollam: The enclosed photo is of a love seat which I have been told was a wedding gift to my grandparents in 1864. I believe it is made of cherry wood; it is in excellent condition.

I would appreciate any information you may have on such a piece and your opinion as to its present value. — G.P.F., San Diego, Calif.

Dear G.P.F.: The love seat appears to be of much later vintage than 1864. The furniture made at this time consisted of the Gothic Revival, Cottage, Louis XV Revival, and Renaissance Revival. This love seat is none of these, but is more like the furniture made late in the 4th quarter of the 19th Century. As such, it would be less than 100 years and not considered an antique. However, there is a market for turn of the century furniture and this would probably sell from the low to middle hundreds.

Dear Mr. McCollam: Enclosed you will find a picture of my table which is in excellent condition. I am assuming that this table is over 100 years old, judging from the party from whom I received it and I have had it for over 30 years. Could you please identify this table for me and evaluate it? Could you suggest a suitable place in my area where I might get a honest price for the table? — R.E.B., Wilmington, Mass.

Dear R.E.B.: This is a Victorian French Revival table made in the third quarter of the 19th Century. It would retail for from $300 to $500. A dealer would pay about half the retail price.

If you want to sell, I suggest that you contact some of the dealers who advertise in the AUCTIONS section of the Boston Herald American.

The following is a reprint of THE GRAY LETTER, July 31, 1978.

Art and antiques in America a $5 billion industry. Our new figures for the 1977-78 season show more than 20 percent growth over the previous $4 billion total for 1976-77. And for the next year, we predict another record smashing season, this just one year after a third consecutive billion dollar jump — 1975-76, $3 billion; 1976-77, $4 billion; now $5 billion.

If you have any questions concerning the identification and evaluation of antique furniture, send a detailed description and one or more pictures of a single item with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to James G. McCollam, P.O. Box 687, Dunedin, Fla. 32828. (Published pictures cannot be returned.) Since the opinions stated here are based on superficial information, no responsibility is assumed. Questions of universal interest will be published, but all letters will be answered.

Antique Furniture File

There were southern antiques that were used in the south, and then there were those made in the south. The former were imported from the north or from Europe; most of the latter were made on the plantations by indentured or hired cabinetmakers, working with limited equipment and materials. In the more urban centers, the work was comparable to the best New England or the continent had to offer.

The one shown here is a plantation piece made of solid cherry in North Carolina, circa 1810. It followed the Hepplewhite lines without the use of veneers or elaborate inlays. Wooden mushroom pulls were substituted for the more sophisticated brass hardware and the only concession to inlay work was the holly keyhole escutcheons.

The value of a chest like this would range from $1,000.00 to $2,000.00; more if well documented.

CUTTING HIS LOSSES: Last June, a Las Vegas jury shot down the last hope Melvin Dummar had of becoming the richest pump jockey in Nevada, ruling the now famous "Mormon will" a forgery. That would have given Dummar one-sixteenth of the estate left by the late Howard Hughes — but all is not lost. Newsweek magazine says Universal Pictures has purchased rights to Dummar's story. They'll film it with Paul Lemat in the drag racer in "American Graffiti" — as Dummar, with Jason Robards in the role of Hughes.

CONTRACT ON SUPERMAN: Novelist and screenwriter Mario "The Godfather" Puzo says the producer of "Superman" broke a contract with him over film, advertising and book rights to the still-unreleased movie. He's suing Alexander Salkind in Los Angeles — for $30.25 million. Puzo wants $20 million in general damages, $10 million in punitive damages and $250,000 in attorney fees.

PUNCH LINE

DADA IDI: The average kid doesn't get himself named after a piece of geography, but then the average kid's father usually isn't out conquering the neighbors at his birth. So far, the Ugandan army of African dictator Idi Amin Dada has gotten as far as the Kagera River in its invasion of Tanzania, so that's the name his senior wife, Medina, has given his new-born son. Median and little Kagera River are said to be doing fine in a Kampala hospital.

Ann Landers

Copyright - Field Enterprises, Inc.

Dear Ann Landers: Do you know anything about the "Rent-a-Girl Services"? I read about it in a respectable paper and was flabbergasted. It seems to be a chain operation. According to the article, a girl can be rented for $100 an evening — from "cocktail time till midnight." A customer can pay for "overtime" if he wants it.

The ad implies that these girls are highly respectable and no monkey business is tolerated. Well? You and I know, Ann Landers, a man is not going to pay $100 for an evening of conversation.

Much to my surprise, these "services" have the approval of many local chambers of commerce.

I am married to a traveling man. The ad shook me up because he always comes off the road too tired for love. Usually it takes him 48 hours to rest up. My sister's husband travels also. He comes home from HIS trips "hungry" and eager. What do you think of this? — Threatened in Connecticut

Dear Conn: A traveling man who wants to fool around doesn't need the approval of the chamber of commerce. And he doesn't have to leave town either.

If your suspicions are based on the fact that hubby returns from the road exhausted — forget it. A traveling man works hard. His need to rest up is not proof of infidelity. If you have no better evidence — forget it.

Dear Ann: Our daughter and her husband have been married ten years. They are desperate to have a family. Last week they decided to take a black child. The woman at the adoption agency told them that's all they can get right now.

My husband was born in Alabama and he is appalled. Frankly, I'm not very happy about it myself. What are the chances for this child growing up well-adjusted and happy? — Dark Cloud Overhead

Dear D.C.O.: I spoke with several social workers and received a variety of opinions. One said, "Terrific! If the parents truly love the child it will work out fine."

Another (her opinion was closest to mine) said: "It is far better if black children are placed with black families. All children face challenges during their formative years — even under normal conditions. This special situation places and added burden on both the child and the parents — and siblings, if there are any."

The results of how well this experiment works will not be known for at least 15 years. There are sure to be successes and disasters. Those who take such a chance need unusual courage and a great deal of love to give.

Dear Ann: I accepted the chairmanship of a committee and am scared silly because I will have to report periodically in front of the entire membership. I get so upset I can't eat a thing before I say even a couple of

Jewels & gems

by Deane Iant

Most people know very little about jewelry. Of course, the basics indicate that diamonds are usually used for engagement rings; gold bands for wedding rings, and that pearls look good on a black evening dress. But the business of jewels and gems is much more complex. For one thing, there are a tremendous number of gemstones that most of us are familiar with, which are extremely attractive and quite valuable. Value is an important item in any purchase. Be sure to consult a trusted jeweler.

Your trusted jeweler in this area is DEANE'S JEWELRY, 212 Main St., 784-5504, a name that has become synonymous with quality. We are professional gemologists whose absolute accuracy and precision are assured. Whether you are looking for something special for yourself or for a gift please drop by so we can get acquainted. Free parking at the rear of our store. Master Charge and BankAmericard honored. Open: Mon.-Sat. 9-5.

10 Perish In Department Store Fire

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — The city fire code did not require sprinkler systems at the time the Youngers Department Store was built.

But a sprinkler system might have held down the toll in Sunday's flash fire that took at least 10 lives, district fire chief Tony Defino said.

"The building was constructed before the code required sprinkler systems," he said. "Today they do. The building had no system whatsoever."

"It would have kept the fire from getting away from fire fighters. It would have been held in check."

The fire broke out with a gust of hot air and an explosion about 9:30 a.m., just as employees were arriving to prepare for a noon opening Sunday, witnesses said.

Firemen were hampered in fighting the blaze because there were few windows through which to direct their hoses. A police bomb squad finally dynamited holes in the roof, but by the time the fire was controlled about 3 p.m., the building was destroyed.

Polk County Medical Examiner R.C. Wooders said the dead were four men, four women and two whose sex was not known late Sunday. All died of apparent smoke inhalation, he said.

Identities of two of the victims were given as Robert Reinertson, 62, and Edward Parr, 67, both of Des Moines. Other names were being withheld until next of kin were notified.

"This was one of the worst, if not the worst, fires I have seen," Wooders said. At least six persons were taken to Des Moines hospitals suffering from smoke inhalation and one with a cut suffered in breaking a window to escape the blaze.

As the hours passed, initial reports from store officials that all had escaped evaporated into fear as employees could not be found.

The Rev. Patrick Bacon, fire apartment chaplain, broke the news of the deaths to relatives. Bacon gathered family members in front of the store and then helped them identify the bodies as they were brought from the rubble.

Democrats Will Keep Dominance

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats will retain their generation-long dominance of the Senate in Tuesday's elections. The outlook for Republicans appears grim.

But Senate Democrats and Republicans share a common problem. An unusually large number of incumbents from both parties could be axed at the polls in what are considered tossup races.

A state-by-state survey of UPI political writers indicates that, at best, the Republicans will break even in the mid-term elections with a chance that they could lose one or two seats.

The Democrats go into the election with an overwhelming 62-38 edge in the Senate and every indication the GOP will continue to be a deeply mired minority for the next two years.

Working against Republican hopes of gaining ground this year is the fact that of the 35 seats at stake, almost half, 17, are now held by Republicans.

Even more sobering — from a Republican viewpoint — is that the UPI survey shows Republicans could lose eight, or even nine, of the seats they have while only seven Democratic seats apparently are in jeopardy.

Four Senate GOP veterans — Edward Brooke of Massachusetts, Robert Griffin of Michigan, John Tower of Texas and Charles Percy of Illinois — are considered in the most serious trouble.

All four are seeking a full third term and all four have a reputation for rescuing their campaign in the final hours.

Brooke, 59, the Senate's only black since Reconstruction who breezed in his first two races, is in the fight of his political career against Democratic Rep. Paul Tsongas, 20 years his junior.

Brooke, who might have been in trouble anyway, has been hounded by Wallingford and Deborah Tolene Downing, 18, Route 3, Maysville.

Gary W. Miller, 30, Route 2, Ewing and Ginger D. King, Flemingsburg. George B. Allen, Route 1, Ewing and Clara Jo Wolfenbarger, Route 2, Wallingford.

University, won the 1978 Ford Fairmost awarded by the IGA East Store. Sisney, whose wife is a junior at MSU, resides at the MSU trailer park on Rt. 32. He noted that his wife had signed his name to the ticket that won him the auto.

disclosures of financial reporting problems stemming from his divorce.

Two pictures might hold the key to Texas's no-holds-barred gutter campaign, matching Tower against Rep. Bob Krueger.

The side-by-side photos taken at a dinner, showed Krueger offering a handshake to Tower and the bantam Republican turning away with a look of disdain. It was considered a breach of civility in Texas and hurt Tower in what was a tight race from the beginning.

Griffin, the former assistant Senate GOP leader and a close political ally of Gerald Ford, matched against 44-year old Carl Levin, has been hurt by renouncing an earlier decision to retire and by a glaring absentee record in the interim period.

The Democrats have four incumbents of their own on the danger list: Sens. William Hathaway of Maine, Floyd Haskell of Colorado, Wendell Anderson of Minnesota and Jennings Randolph of West Virginia.

FOOTBALL CONTEST

BONUS $250

Only one $250 prize will be awarded. If more than one wins the prize, money will be divided.

To enter the contest, select winning team from each game and ink in the square completely.

Write name of advertiser in whose ad game appears on the line at right of the game. Do not fill in but one square per game. To do so will disqualify you.

All advertisers' names must be listed to be eligible for prize.

If you select all games correctly and write the name of each of the advertisers for the respective games (see advertisers in the boxed advertisements on page), along with your team selections marked, and pick the Tie Breaker score correctly, you will win $250. The Breaker score must be written in to win any of the prizes.

All entries must be mailed or turned to The Morehead News office no later than 5 p.m. Thursday.

Please submit not more than 3 entries per family.

The winner each week will be the person selecting the largest number of game winners correctly and will receive $25. Second place prize will be $10 and third place will be $5.

Winners

Okay, maestro. Drum roll, please. And you guys with the long stemmed trumpets, stay in line and wait for your cue. And someone clear out the cowboys, crawl into the cubby hole and drag out the 25,000 pennies.

CAUSE WE HAVE A WINNER!

After nine weeks of our contest (the first on Sept. 12) and with only today's and next week's to go (the last Nov. 14), finally someone has come up with a perfect score. Okay, maestro...hit it!

Contest please. And the winner is... Larry Wilson of 338 Bays Avenue, Morehead. Larry, manager of the bowling lanes and an instructor in the Morehead State recreation department, turned in a perfect — 18 for 18 — score in this week's contest.

Along with a $250 grand prize, Wilson's been dubbed "Prognosticator of the Week" by our sports staff and is a leading candidate for "Prognosticator of the Year" honors with the winner being named at the end of the contest year.

Whereas, in most instances this season hunches have proven to be the route to elimination, this week it may have paved the way to the grand prize. It also led to a close race.

Heading the list of surprise winners was our own Morehead State. The Eagles broke a four-game losing streak with a one-point win over East Tennessee down in Johnson City. Another big game was Fleming County's win over playoff-bound Nicholas County.

It was that game which made Mark Sheehan a runnerup and not $250 richer. Coach Sheehan picked Coach Ben Humphrey's club to beat the Panthers but when Bobby Lewis gets rolling not even a powerful Class A club like Nicholas County is going to stop him.

There was a crowd gathering at third place with two misses. But all except Ival Bryant picked Murray State over Austin Peay which wasn't a bad move since the Racers have been on a streak lately.

First Prize $25

Second Prize $10
Third Prize $5

Lions Take District Title

Sparks' Two Tackles Stops Last Minute Drive By Rowan County, Preserves Win

GANG TACKLE — Rowan County's Marvin Adkins is practically snowed under while white shirts as the Viking's freshman fullback tries to ground out a few extra inches before going down. Leading the charge for the Lewis County defense is Aaron Polston (10) who's got Adkins collared. (Staff Photo)

Sports Writer
The Lewis County Lions silenced all the experts on the Dickinson System, Alabama System, coin flip or whatever, defeating Rowan County Friday night 17-12 to win the district in their own right and nail down a perfect regular season.

Coach Bill Robinson's team will move on to state tournament play when it hosts Fort Knox Friday in a game that will be broadcast on WKYV (airtime 7:30).

Rowan County made a run at the Lions in the waning seconds of game, but too many missed opportunities came back to haunt the Vikings. Rowan County was driving on the Lewis County defense with less than a minute to go, but two outstanding plays by Matt Sparks shooting into the backfield to nail Viking runners stalled the march deep in Lion territory.

Rowan County scored first, late in the first quarter, on Bill Brock's 10-yard run. Lewis County took control from there, with a one-yard touchdown push, the extra point, and a 24-yard field goal, all by Ernie Robinson, putting the Lions up 10-6 at the half. The sophomore son of coach Robinson was also responsible for his team's last seven points, hitting Barry Moore on a six-yard touchdown pass early in the final frame and chalking up the PAT. Rowan County's last six points came when quarterback Bart Braughler, seemingly stopped well short of a touchdown at the one, rolled around end for the score. The Vikings missed the two-point conversion try both times.

Rowan County won the statistical battle, which is almost par for the course for the undefeated Lions. Marvin Adkins took rushing honors for the game with 117 yards, breaking the century mark for the seventh time. Robinson hit on only four of 11 passes, but made it good for 91 yards.

Overall, Rowan County ended with 315 yards and 287 for Lewis County, but those numbers did not concern coach Robinson. "If you let the other team go from 20 to 20 it doesn't mean much. Robbin pointed out, "That happened to Rowan County several times in the game."

Indeed it did. The Vikings fell short on several golden opportunities, but coach Ken Howard of Rowan County looked to his defense, not the offense, as the reason for the outcome. "In the last few games it's been the defense," Howard said of the unit that has allowed 108 points in its last four games against four very strong opponents. "Lewis County only punted once in the game. We would take the ball down the field, and even if we didn't score, we left them deep in their own territory. Lewis County just moved the ball out. So it's not the offense, it's really the defense again in discussing the success of Brock and Adkins. "We knew we'd be able to move the ball on Lewis County and score some points. We were concerned with stopping them. The last few games we've been concerned with the defense. It hasn't risen to the occasion."

Robinson wasn't surprised about Brock and Adkins, either. "Braughler did a good job of getting the pitch off to Brock," the Lions coach praised. "The only thing we didn't want them to do was break the long run. We thought if we could stop that, they'd make a penalty or be stopped in the backfield and that would slow them down."
For the most part, Lewis County ran a wide-open offense, calling a variety of plays that, especially in the second quarter, had the Viking defense guessing — usually wrong. The Lion attack was slowed down for most of the second half, however, with only 51 yards on the ground, although that enabled Ernie Robinson to pass for 50 yards and the game winning touchdown. Ernie's dad didn't see any signs of a letdown after intermission. "Sometimes when you're playing wide open, you can have a tendency to play too wide-open," Robinson explained. "We sometimes stopped ourselves on bad calls. We went for the bomb at times instead of just trying to punch it in."
Rowan County's offense was in gear for the second half, with 137 yards rushing and a touchdown in the fourth period. The Vikings were well on their way to six more on their last series of

Menifee County Outbattles Scrappy Breck To Take Conference Tournney

By JACK KELLEY
Sports Editor

FRENCHBURG — Sparked by some timely hot shooting by rookie and a brilliant overall performance by their "Mr. Dependable", Menifee County outbattled a scrappy University Breckinridge Saturday night to take the championship of the fifth Foothills Conference pre-season tournament.

The win gives the Wildcats their first basketball title ever under second-year coach Terry Young. And it marks the eighth of a complete turnaround from last year when the 'Cats won only four contests.

"This is making an old man out of me," stated a youthful looking Young after watching his team come from behind their third win in a row.

Earlier in the tournament, Menifee County had disposed of a tough Elliott County bunch then on the following evening eliminated Hazel Green.

"We're working at it," the coach admitted, referring to his team's new winning look this season.

Down for most of the first half, but keeping within reasonable sight of the surprisingly determined Eagles, Menifee County made its move to the front with must under four minutes left to go in the second period. Trailing by a 22-count, the Wildcats put six quick points together on a layup by reserve guard John Cobb and four straight free throws to take their first lead with 3:32 left.

The last two came from Menifee County's "Mr. Dependable", Donnie Harper, on a bonus situation.

Harper had some cold-shooting problems early but he later turned on to keep the 'Cats ahead in the closing minutes.

By the time the quarter ended, the lead had changed teams three times before Breck managed to take a slim, 33-35 advantage into the locker room.

In the first two quarters, the Eagles had managed to stay ahead most of the way by some excellent boardwork by Joe Dawson and Dwayne Allen. The two combined for 20 rebounds in the first half which was three more than had the entire Menifee County team had gathered all night.

After it was over with, Coach Young pointed to that sudden point-barrage by Williams as the key to his team's win.

"This is his first year starting," the coach explained, "and only his third game on the varsity. He just needed to get some confidence cause he's an excellent shooter."

Whether Williams got confidence remains unknown but one thing for sure, it lit a fire under the Wildcats who outpointed Breck 15-7 for the rest of the period. By the time the third quarter closed, Menifee County had shot out to the longest margin of the game, a 10-point at 56-46.

Also in the third quarter, Menifee County's "Mr. D." started to play with his usual successful reckless abandon which was a good sign for the Wildcats.

Breck's last surge came in the opening minutes of the last stanza. Behind 58-49, Dawson led the Eagles' attack, bringing them to within one at 58-57 with 5:20 left. But two big free throws by Harper and some costly turnovers by Breck, plus the sudden loss of Dawson due to an injury, paved the way to Menifee County's third win of the infant season.

In the statistics race, Breck and Menifee County finished pretty even except for the points.

The Wildcat's Harper led all scorers, netting 26 points with nine field goals and eight of 11 shots from the line. Williams had an unexpected 18 points and tied with Harper with 12 rebounds to lead the team. The rookie had six field goals was perfect in six charity tosses.

Another bright spot in the Wildcat's boxscore was the play of awesome Robert Wells who came off the bench to get just four points. But he came in to help even up the battle on the boards a bit, grabbing nine important rebounds, as the Wildcats finally pulled to within reach of Breck's first half advantage.

They lost the race 44-41 but after the first half total Menifee County did some heavy rebounding in the final 16 minutes.

One guy who did not prosper statistically but Coach Young felt played a major role was veteran Vester Carty. Carty had a relatively cold shooting night, getting only 10 points, but his coach saw his invaluable leadership suffer no slump.

"Vester hung in there all the way and kind of set an example for the younger players," he said.

On the other bench, Dawson led the Eagles with 22 points while Allen added 16 on only three field goals but a 10-12 night from the line. Mike Campbell was the only other Breck player in double digits with 10 points.

Allen led all rebounders with 18 while Dawson was next with 13 from his guard position.

Both teams open regular season play tonight. Breck travels to Allen central while the Wildcats play host to Riverside.

DAWSON FOR TWO — University Breckinridge's Joe Dawson is basketball-bound for two of his team-high 22 points Saturday night in the finals of the Foothills Conference. The Eagles, however, lost the services of their starting guard with 5:42 left in the game when Dawson went down with an ankle injury and had to leave. Breck lost to Menifee County, 70-44, for a second place finish in the five-team tourney. (Staff Photo)

Because He Wanted It Most, Back's Dream Comes True

By JACK KELLEY
Sports Editor

LEXINGTON — Tim Back saw a dream come true Saturday. The senior at University Breckinridge took first place in the state Class A horse country meet at the new Kentucky Cross Park in Lexington. And his coach, Dan Lindsey, probably spells out the best reason why his star distance runner broke the tape.

"It was just like he (Tim) said the other day," Coach Lindsey explained. "It was the person who wanted it the most. That's what it was."

Well, going into the 5,000-meter romp over the horse park's hilly terrain, no one wanted to break the tape more than Back. And it was that determination, his coach believes, is what gave him the little extra incentive and put him ahead to stay in the final 400 yards.

"We (at the finish line) didn't see Tim make his move," Lindsey said. "He and (Greg) Briscoe were even when they went down into a little ravine near the end and we lost sight of them. When they came back out on top, Tim was about 40 yards ahead."

Back gave his first-hand view of what happened in the climactic finish.

"I really don't know what happened," he confessed. "We were running together and all of a sudden we weren't. All I knew was the finish line was coming up and I had to go."

And go he went.

Back crossed the line at 15:14 while the junior from Corbin was some 17 seconds behind. Up until Saturday, Back had not beaten Briscoe and he knew it was going to take an ultimate effort to win.

He'd run the race just like he'd planned. Stay with Briscoe for as long as he could then within a reasonable distance, kick in the afterburners. He, along with his coach, felt he'd turned in his maximum effort.

"I thought Tim ran a race probably to his limit," Lindsey stated. "I don't think anything else he could have done would allow him to go any faster."

Tim agreed.

"I think it was my best effort," he said.

While Back was obviously pleased, Briscoe was likewise disappointed.

"I thought I ran a horrible race," he stated. "I felt pretty good but the last 200 meters I felt like collapsing."

But the junior said he'd be back next year.

Rounding out the top five finishers, Larue County's Bruce Hacker took third, fourth was John Borders of Somerset while fifth was Curt Rader, also of Somerset.

In the team race, Somerset, as expected, ran away with the title. The class A power in distance running finished with 52 points while second place Richmond Model had 68.

University Breck placed 11th with 279 points and according to Coach Lindsey, the Eagles could have done a lot better.

"We didn't do as well as we'd hoped or expected," he said. "We were just so high for the regional cross country, meet it was almost impossible for us to get up for this one."

"After that (the regional) it was just a letdown," he adds.

Other area individuals and teams competing, West Carter's David Kiser placed 12th in Class A while Henry Clemons from Bath County took 17th.

In girls' competition, Bath County took an overall fourth, with 104 points, while Ft. Campbell set the pace with 30. Menifee County was seventh with 163.

Individually, Kim Hawkins of Bath County placed sixth while teammate Mary Lyle Gibblings was 20th. Menifee County's Lynda Morrison was 22nd.

Panthers Close Out Impressive Season By Downing Playoff-Bound Nicholas County

By TED SLOAN
Sports Writer

While Lewis County made it to post-season competition, the 1978 season came to an end for the rest of the area's schools.

Fleming County was the only one of four nearby teams to finish on a winning note, and the Panthers had to come from behind to do that. Down at the half 15-6, Fleming County bounced back to win an 18-17 thriller from powerful Nicholas County.

Bobby Lewis of the Panthers led the way as usual with 207 yards and a pair of touchdowns. Fleming County's other touchdown came on a pass from Tim Williams to Adam Mitchell.

Coach Ted Purcell of the Panthers was especially pleased with the effort he got out of his defense, which stopped Nicholas County four times inside the Fleming County 10. "Our defense was super," he crowed. "It was called on a number of times to stop 'em. It was just super."

Purcell was even happier that his team made the effort it did in its last game of the year. "It would have been so easy just to lay down and quit," he said. "We're going nowhere, and it's not the end of the world. But they decided in the second half that 10-2 was better than 9-3, and they really went after 'em."

Purcell was impressed with Nicholas County, a team coached by Ben Pumphrey, who Purcell and Panther defensive coach Don Hardin served under at one time. "They're by far the best team we played all year," the Fleming County pilot said, referring to a list that includes district champion Lewis County. "They're a good-twitching club, and they don't hurt themselves. They're a well-drilled ballclub."

"We didn't realize how good they were until it was almost too late," Purcell added. "They didn't either. They can really play."

Purcell did have some good words for the Lions in talking about their post-season possibilities. "They do things well enough to win," he said. "That's what's important. They don't blow anyone out, but they do well enough to win. They'll do well, but I don't know how far they'll go."

Among the more unfortunate teams was Morgan County, which gave strong Johnson Central a fight, but bowed by a 25-20 count.

The Cougars scored first on Scotty Collins' 12-yard pass catch from Tommy May. Morgan County followed with a Johnson Central score with Chris Barker's seven-yard touchdown run to take a 14-6 lead at the half. The opponents went in front with two straight touchdowns, but Morgan County tied the game in the fourth quarter when Greg Stacy returned an interception 35 yards for a touchdown. Johnson Central pulled the game out with 1:26 to go to establish the final 26-20 score.

Morgan County coach Bruce Herd-man felt his team played its best game of the year. "We were real pleased," he said. "Not with the outcome, of course, but as far as playing to ability."

Herdman indicated that his players felt the same way. "They were disappointed. I think they know they gave a great effort."

Morgan County ended a 5-6 on the year, and Herdman saw many encouraging signs for the future. "We'll have lots of boys returning," Herdman reported. "We're losing nine seniors with great talent, but we'll have some great youngsters coming up that I'm looking forward to working with."

Montgomery County ended a very subpar 5-7 season with a tough 14-7 defeat to Class AAA power Woodford County, in a battle of the two quarterbacks. Arthur Douthitt of the Indians paved the way for his team on the ground with 77 yards, and completed eight of 17 passes for 106 yards. His opposite number, Mark Mathews, rushed for 107 yards and threw for 76, 48 on one play that set up Woodford County's first touchdown.

That came in the first frame, and the score stayed 6-0 until the third stanza, when Roger Dale completed an 80-yard drive with a one-yard run. Reza Hashanpour's extra-point boot put Montgomery County on top 7-6.

Woodford County scored the winning points with 2:21 left in the game, on a fourth and four gamble inside its own 30 yard line. The ensuing two-point pass finished the scoring.

Dale, like Herdman, was pleased with the way his team played, saying the Indians "totally dominated the last three quarters." He also saw some good things from players who will return for next season. "We had a lot of younger kids who played as well as our seniors," Dale said. "They were very hurt when we lost. Several of our younger kids made some key plays, and they will be back."

The coach with the least to say was Gary Ramey, whose Bath County Wildcats were stomped by Estill County, 47-14, in what Ramey called "probably our worst effort of the season."

the game, and wouldn't have left Lewis County enough time to strike back. Matt Sparks of Lewis County came through with the two big plays, though, to stop the Vikings on downs. Robinson later said that his defense was adjusted to prevent the option and keep Brock from running outside, where he had been fairly successful all night. The tackles were to shoot into the backfield as quickly as possible, and Sparks, one of those tackles, took the hero's role with his two game-saving sacks. The situation had Robinson worried, however. "Any time the other team has the ball in the closing seconds and has time to score, we're really worried."

The Lions now have to worry about Fort Knox, and Howard likes his district rival's chances in post-season action. "If they get their defense bucked down, they should do good," he predicted. "Their offense keeps a team off balance. Their opponents will have a tough time stopping them."

Stopping Lewis County doesn't end within those 100 yards, like most teams. Ernie Robinson's golden toe has puffed out victories with extra points and field goals all season long, and undoubtedly it will be a key part of his father's scoring plan.

Sports Briefs

NEW YORK UPI — Don Ohlmeyer, president of NBC sports, pulled no punches Sunday after technical problems caused some temporary "blackouts" of two NFL games.

"It's very tragic when so many people work as hard as we do in pro football and what everybody thinks is NBC's proven product gets embarrassed," Ohlmeyer said after AT&T line failures caused interruptions in the telecasting of the Cleveland at Houston and Oakland at Kansas City games.

Eleven television stations were blacked out from the Houston game for 42 minutes while a switching failure caused a 10-minute delay of the Kansas City game from El Paso to Burbank and a five-minute delay to St. Louis. "We spend $100,000 a week to the phone company and there's no switching," added Ohlmeyer. "If NBC showed the same performance, I'd fire people left and right."

MEXICO CITY UPI — Canadian

Ludwig Heimrath, driving a Porsche 935, took the Final Trans-AM GT Championship race of the season at Mexico City's Ricardo Rodriguez Autodrome Sunday.

The Canadian took the race over American runner up Greg Pickett, in a Chevrolet Corvett.

The first woman to ever drive in the Indianapolis 500, Janet Guthrie, brought her Porsche 935 across the finish line in 4th place.

BOSTON UPI — Ten New England Patriots will change from chargers to chargers Nov. 20 when they take to the runway for the annual Patriots' Wives Fashion Show at the Sheraton Boston Hotel.

All that mincing and prancing by a bunch of football players, who will model clothes, will be for charity.

The proceeds go to the Children's Hospital in Boston. Tickets are $25 each, or $200 a table.

GARDENA, Calif. UPI — Bob East of Shelbyville, Ind., returned to his native California during the weekend and scored the second U.S. Auto Club sprint car victory of his career at Ascot Park.

East, formerly of Belflower, Calif., got his only other triumph at the same track in his first USAC race two years ago. He has been racing in the East since his first win.

East was in third place through the first 25 of 40 laps Saturday night behind Ron Shuman of Mesa, Ariz., and Bobby Jones of Danville, Ill. Jones went out with engine trouble at that point and Shuman stayed ahead until the 35th lap.

East then took the lead with Chuck Gurney of Livermore, Calif., slipping into second on the final lap. Shuman was third with Duke Cook of Speedway, Ind., fourth and Jimmy Oskie of Downey, Calif., fifth.

GAMBIER, Ohio UPI — Jim Mazzella had 27 carries for 113 yards rushing and once touchdown to lead Kenyon to a 27-12 win over Centre Saturday. Centre scored its two TDs in the first quarter on a 72 yard run by Stan Tracht and a 19 yard run by John Quillen. Both kicks for the point after failed. Centre, now 3-5, entertains Maryville of Tennessee in Danville this Saturday afternoon.

Murphy Nets 32 In Second Blue-Gold

Hebron — As confused as a basketball game can get at times, it's still unusual to see a player score for the opposition.

During Morehead State University's pre-season women's Blue-Gold game in Hebron, the line-ups were juggled to make the game more interesting.

Members of the Blue team contributed 15 points to the Gold team effort and members of the Gold added six while on the Blue roster.

After Coach Mickey Wells returned to the starting line-ups, the Gold team picked-up the game's pace for an 80-77 win.

The game gave Wells another close look at his squad in a game situation as the Lady Eagles prepare for the 1978-79 season.

Forward Donna Murphy, Newport junior, led all scorers with 32 points, 26 for the Blue and six for the Gold. For the night, Murphy hit 16 of 24 from the floor, grabbed 21 rebounds and had nine assists.

Guard Robin Harmon, Lovely freshman, added 22 points for the Blues.

Guards Irene Moore, Breathitt County freshman, and Debbie Burk, Warsaw sophomore, led the Gold scoring with 14 points each.

The Lady Eagles open the season Monday, Nov. 20, at Cumberland College.

'Toppers Hand MTSU Worst Beating In 45 Years, 54-0 Gouvs Down Murray State

NASHVILLE, Tenn. UPI — Western Kentucky University gained at least a share of the Ohio Valley Conference football championship Saturday by giving Middle Tennessee its worst beating in 45 years.

Practically everything the Hilltoppers tried during the 54-0 mismatch worked. Freshman fullback Barry Scages carried the ball only five times, but three of his runs were for touchdowns.

Quarterback John Hall threw two touchdowns passes.

MTSU coach Ben Hurt conceded that Western Kentucky, which put in subs early in the second half, could have run the score up even more.

"They didn't pass much in the second half," he said. "They probably could have moved the ball more if they wanted to."

Hilltopper coach Jimmy Feix said,

"We just kept getting the breaks. We were getting the ball deep in MTSU territory."

"There's a limit to how much you can contain your own offense without embarrassing the other team. We didn't deliberately run the score up."

The victory boosted Western to 5-0 in the OVC and 7-2 overall. The Hilltoppers, idle this week, can do no worse than tie Eastern Kentucky for the championship. A Western win in the season finale against Murray Nov. 18 will give the Hilltoppers the crown outright, as would an Eastern Kentucky loss to Morehead Nov. 18.

In other OVC action Saturday, Eastern Kentucky downed Tennessee Tech 20-16. Austin Peay tripped Murray State 23-17, and Akron bowed 56-21 to Temple.

This weekend, Eastern 4-1, 6-2 is host to Akron 5-4. Austin Peay 3-2, 5-3 plays Tennessee Tech 2-2, 3-6. Middle Tennessee and Murray 1-4, 4-5 takes on Eastern Illinois.

Eastern Kentucky capitalized on six Tennessee Tech fumbles and an interception in Saturday's Colonel victory at Cookeville. Eastern came from a 13-0 halftime deficit to score 20 points in the third period.

Charlie Brunson picked off an errant Eagle pass and ran 78 yards for one Eastern touchdown. Dave Flores kicked two field goals and Stan Mitchell ran 13 yards for another touchdown.

Austin Peay freshman running sensation Craig Woods ran for three touchdowns, though he carried the ball only 10 times, in the Governors' triumph over Murray. The Racers had a 17-0 lead at the half before a couple of Woods touchdowns — one on a 30-yard run — put Austin Peay in command.

Morehead State Sports Brief

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn. UPI — East Tennessee's Mark Hutsell threw four touchdown passes, including one with five seconds left in the game, but it wasn't enough as Morehead held on to a 17-0 lead at the half before a couple of touchdowns from Greg McQuire, including a one-yarder that proved to be the winning margin with just 48 seconds left in the game. The Eagles, idle this week, play at Eastern Kentucky in Richmond Nov. 18.

Sports Briefs

BLACKSBURG, Va. UPI — Freshman quarterback Larry McCrimmon passed for two touchdowns to lead Kentucky to a 28-0 victory over Virginia Tech Saturday. Kentucky upped its record to 3-4-1 with the win. The Wildcats return to Southeastern Conference play this Saturday afternoon when they host Vanderbilt at Commonwealth Stadium in Lexington.

MARS HILL, N.C. UPI — Dean Tomberlin went five yards for a touchdown, capping a 65 yard third quarter drive, to give Mars Hill a 7-0 win over Georgetown Saturday. Georgetown, now 3-3, had two of their passes intercepted and lost one fumble. The Tigers play host to Indiana Central in Georgetown this Saturday afternoon.

ADC Sponsoring Band Performance Saturday

An unique group of six women who perform traditional Appalachian music will be at MSU this Saturday as part of the Concert and Lecture Series, in conjunction with the Appalachian Development Center.

The Mountain Women's Cooperative Band led by Joan Moser, will present a free concert at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Duncan Recital Hall in Baird Music Hall.

The six women, all currently from North Carolina, play a variety of instruments, including the fiddle, banjo, mandolin, autoharp, dulcimer, and string bass.

According to Dr. James Gifford, conference planner for the ADC, the women perform throughout Appalachia out of a "love for the music. They are devoted to their culture."

Gifford said the band came together about three years ago, but all of the members were "accomplished musicians" before that.

Each of the women has a full-time job in addition to the band. Three of the women work in the education field, one is a county planner, another is a social worker, and the sixth is an auto mechanic.

Gifford said the ADC became interested in the band because "one of the things we hope to accomplish besides offering services is making the Appalachian people aware of their culture."

"We want to promote our culture," he added. "We're very proud of it, and we want others to be proud of it. The purpose of programs like this is to show how delightfully accomplished some of our people are. That's why we're so eager for this kind of group to come there."

Sheriff's Office Reports Three Cases Last Week

MT. STERLING - The Montgomery County Sheriff's office handled three cases last week, including one major theft.

Last Friday, Oct. 27, R.F. Marley reported the theft of a black and white 12-inch television, an electric guitar, a shotgun, and a 35 mm. camera from his home on Rt. 3, Paris Pike. No dollar value was placed on the loss.

Cecil Young reported on Oct. 31 the theft of a small cooler and a spare tire and wheel from his pick-up truck at Rt. 2, Levee and Great Rds. The thief, however, also broke the right side vent glass and damaged the right door of the truck.

Last Thursday, Nov. 2, Floyd Baker of Rt. 4, Eubank Trailer Court, reported that someone had knocked down 15 mail boxes at the trailer court, with one completely destroyed.

Olympics—

 Mentally retarded and, in some cases, handicapped children a chance to participate in competitive athletics. At last year's state games, over 1200 children participated in the activities in Kentucky.
 Anyone interested in helping should contact Mayhew in the TRIO center in Allie Young Hall or call him at 3-3361.

Burley—

 Auction Warehouse Association, the group that appoints the sales committee, said of this year's crop, "This is probably as good a domestic crop as we've ever seen."
 Clay referred to the crop's light texture, which is preferred by U.S. cigarette manufacturers. He added that this year's loose leaf should meet the needs of foreign buyers, who seem to be taking an added interest in U.S. burley because of the devaluation of the dollar.

Correction

In the Oct. 31 issue of The Morehead News, the offense against James A. Williams, Box 395, Olive Hill, listed in District Court News, was incorrect. It should have stated that Williams was fined for a traffic violation.

Handy Wok
 A wok's unique bowl-shape gives it cooking versatility. Stir-frying is probably the most popular way to cook in a wok. Ingredients are cut into uniform, bite-size pieces and rapidly tossed-cooked over very high heat in a little oil - searing all sides. The result is usually crisp vegetables and succulent meats.

HONORED... Earl S. Young, who served as treasurer of the Morehead Area Community Salvation Army Board, from the time it was organized and formed in Dec. 1965, until 1977 when he resigned, is pictured, second from left, receiving a plaque in recognition of his work. At extreme left is Alpha M. Hutchinson, chairman of the local board; Mrs. Oveda Messer, who was appointed treasurer to replace Mr. Young; and Bill Williams, Field Representative of the Salvation Army.

Earl Young Recognized By Salvation Army Board

Bill Williams, Field representative of the Salvation Army out of the Southwestern Ohio and Northeast Kentucky Division, and his family entertained at the dinner meeting of the Morehead Area Community Salvation Army Board held at Kentucky Utilities Community Room here recently.

Honored at the meeting were Earl S. Young, who had served as treasurer of the local board since its formation in Dec. 1965, and until his resignation in 1977. Mrs. Oveda Messer was appointed to replace him.
 Young received the Distinguished Service Award. Farmer Rowan Judge Otis Caldwell was presented with a Certificate of Appreciation for his efforts to assist the unit.
 Bill Williams, Oveda Messer and Alpha M. Hutchinson presented the two awards.
 Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williams and their seven children, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Neff and Heather, Mr. and Mrs. Alpha M. Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Messer, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Caldwell. The current local board consists of Hutchinson, chairman; Oveda Messer, treasurer, and Otis Caldwell, Sam Litton Jr., James H. "Tommy" White, Calude Messer and A.H. "Hardy" Jones.

PUBLISHER'S COLUMN

The comments in this column are those of the Publisher and not those of either the officers or the members of the Board of Directors of Morehead News, Inc. Responses should be made directly to the Publisher.

Day-by-day, job-by-job, pick-up and commentary by W. E. Collier, retired from the management Publisher of this newspaper.

The late Oscar Brownman, the dapper, efficient and intellectual Frenchman who was long secretary and advisor to Morehead's Senator Allie W. Young, often told this one:
A man on trail for murder in Rowan County when the late Henry Prewitt was Circuit Judge, bribed one of the jurors for $100 to hold out for a lesser verdict of involuntary manslaughter. After being out for a long time the jury returned the desired verdict.
"I'm grateful to you," the accused man whispered through the jail bars. "Did you have trouble?"
"Yes," replied the juror. "I had a devil of a time in that jury room. All the others wanted to acquit you."

HOMECOMING at Morehead State University last Saturday was the best in many years.
Everything was well planned and attended - the candlelight dinner, perhaps the best parade in history, alumni reception, and return of so many graduates, particularly those in the class and age bracket of the Publisher. It was a beautiful autumn day.
Well, almost everything was par excellence.

The football game in which Western Kentucky defeated our Eagles 35-7 was a real damper, and the fans display outright and obvious displeasure. Several classmates of many years back asked us "When will Morehead ever have a good football team?"
Before the game started we talked briefly for three big-time pro scouts - one represented the St. Louis Cardinals, another the Green Bay Packers, and the third never did tell us who he was scouting for.

All three asked some questions about Morehead's Phil Simms, and it was apparent that Simms was the senior quarterback they had come to see. (Kansas City has rated Simms high on its draft choice selections, maybe number one.)
It is a game of frustration for the Eagles, and downright despair for Simms.
During the first half, Simms was sacked five times, tossed an erratic lateral to thwart MSU's only scoring opportunity, and completed only one pass for a gain of on yard. Morehead did score late in the game on a deflected lucky aerial.

Actually, Simms had no chance. The Western defenders came through Morehead's offensive line like a swarm of locusts.
After the game that was so disheartening to MSU alumni and fans, the pro scouts had no comment. We conjecture, though, they couldn't submit a favorable report on Phil.
The grads praised the homecoming crown coronation, the fine MSU marching band - in fact, everything except the football team.
We should also mention that the pro scouts had kind words for the considerate treatment they were accorded at Morehead, and they were surprised to discover such a sprawling and magnificent campus.

"AND, what is this man charged with?" asked the Judge.
"Bigamy, your honor," explained the clerk of the court. "He's got three wives."
"That ain't bigamy," spoke a voice from the rear of the courtroom, "that's trigonometry."

EXPLAINED the teacher: "Quite a number of growing things have the prefix, 'dog.' For instance, the dogwood, the dog rose and the dog violet are well known. Can you name another?"
There was silence, then a happy look illuminated the face of a little boy. Proud of his knowledge, he yelled out - "collie-flowers."

"HAS your husband any hobbies?" asked the visitor.
"No, he has rheumatism a good deal, and lives now and then, but he ain't never had no hobbies."

AREA folks will be reading this issue of the Morehead News on election day - Tuesday, Nov. 7.

We have this question - have you voted?
Oh, we know that this is an off-year election and the winners for Congress and U.S. Senator are almost as certain and foregone conclusion.
If you are a GOOD CITIZEN in the accepted criteria of being privileged to live in a democracy, you WILL cast your ballot.
We have often thought that a person's voting record - not who he casts his vote for but the times he took the time to go to the polls - should be included in job applicant and personnel analysis.
We have some citizens in Rowan County who can be justly proud they have voted in every election since adulthood - but they are very few. On the other hand, statistics show that only a small fraction of the new generation are voting, and that is not good.
Some local interest has been generated in the Rowan County Board of Education race in division I composed of the following precincts - 1. Courthouse; 2. Hogtown; 5. Roubann; and 15 Christy. The opponents are incumbent Lake Cooper and Chenault James, Dr. Warren Frost, School Board Chairman, is unopposed in district 5.

Holdover members of the Board, all with two years remaining on their terms, are: Ben Lowe, division 2; Gene White, division 3; and Clyde White, division 4.
The chances are you will be reading this before the polls close, if so, you have until 6 p.m. to cast your ballot.

THE FISCAL accounting year of the U.S. Postal System ended Sept. 30, and we asked Morehead Postmaster Norman Gross to supply us with information on total postage receipts for the past five years. Mr. Gross' debit for the receipts for the statistics, for which we are appreciative.
The postal receipts at Morehead have more than doubled during the past five years, as follows:
Fiscal 1973-74 ..... $388,863
Fiscal 1974-75 ..... $444,905
Fiscal 1975-76 ..... $550,737
Fiscal 1976-77 ..... $723,724
Fiscal 1977-78 ..... $881,513
If you think that the above increases are due to higher postage rates, you're only about half right. Over six percent of the increase in postage, particularly of third class (advertising)

AN EMPLOYER was filling out one of the questionnaires the government always wastes money sending out. One question asked, "How many employees do you have, broken down by sex?"
The employer took a quick look at his employees and wrote, "None that I know of. Our problem is laziness."

A RESIDENT of Meade County, L. H. (Dick) Frymire has gained something of a regional reputation for predicting the weather. He correctly forecast the past two bitterly cold winters.
Frymire says he makes his forecasts from the leaves, bark and seeds and other signals on his 50 year old Japanese maple tree.
The Meade County Messenger, pointing to Frymire's mostly correct past weather predictions, has printed his forecast for this coming winter, and it is bad with 80 inches of snow.
Frymire's timetable is specific, although he admits that he may be off a few days. His forecasts by dates -
Oct. 6, light frost; Oct. 15, killing frost; Nov. 8, first snow; half-inch; Nov. 14, one inch snow; Nov. 29, half-inch snow; Dec. 9, two inches snow; Dec. 17, five inches snow; Dec. 25, a white Christmas with three inches snow; Jan. 2, two inches snow; Jan. 7 through 27, extreme cold; Jan. 7, four inches snow; Jan. 10, seven inches snow; Jan. 13, five inches snow; Jan. 16, six inches snow; Jan. 19, 22 degrees below zero; Jan. 22, eight inches snow; Jan. 27, five inches snow; Jan. 30, three inches snow; Feb. 3, two inches snow; Feb. 11, three inches snow; Feb. 20, one inch snow; Mar. 1, one inch snow; March 22, first Robin.
The treeologist adds that "sometime between Jan. 10 and Jan. 22, there will be 14 and 18 foot high snow drifts; and schools will be out 20 to 30 days during the coming winter."

Although Frymire's past track record has been good, according to the Brandenburg newspaper, we pray that he's all wrong about this coming winter.
HE SAT down at a high class restaurant, pointed to a line on the French menu card, and said to the waiter: "Bring me some of that."
"Sorry, sir," answered the waiter, "the orchestra is playing that."
PASTOR of church where the attendance was dropping - and the collection plate meager: "Brothers and sisters, we must do something to remedy the status quo."
Deacon: "Brother Jones, what is the status quo?"
Pastor: "That, brother, is Latin for the mess we are in."

"DOES your wife play contract bridge?"
"No, judging from the cost, it must be toll bridge."

OUR FOUNDING fathers never realized that the only reason to hold elections is to see if the poll makers are correct.
HISTORIANS tell us about the past and economists tell us about the future. Thus, only the present is confusing.
THE U.S. DOLLAR has sunk so low that in West Germany it won't even buy a cup of coffee.
West Berlin taxi drivers are refusing U.S. currency.
The Handesblätt, a prestigious daily financial and business newspaper, headlined the story about the sinking U.S. currency: "People Are Dropping the Dollar Like Hot Potatoes."
In Tokyo, a daily newspaper headline read: "The Dollar: Printing Press Funny-Money."
And, all over the world President Carter's speech on voluntary price and wage controls was treated as nonsense, ridiculous and silly. One publication was kind enough to classify Carter's approach as "Naive" and "most editorially spoke out" that the Americans are unwilling to make sacrifices.

A WIDOW submitted to the Editor a poem she had written, titled, "I Wonder If You Miss Me?"
After reading it the Editor returned the poem to the lady with the following memo: "Dear Madam - If he does, he ought never to be trusted with firearms again."

NOT MANY Congressmen are motivated by common cents.
PUBLISHER Larry Stone of Central City observes: "Once I was two-thirds married. My girl was willing and so was her mother."

WHAT'S the use of building a fence around a cemetery. Nobody's that is in can come out, and nobody that's out wants to get in.
WE HAD a pleasant visit during the week with a lifetime friend, Harve Mobley.
Harve, a resident of Washington, D.C. spent over four decades, before retirement, in some position with the federal government in the nation's capitol, and we kiddingly refer to him as a bureaucrat. But, Harve made a statement during our visit which caused considerable thought after his departure.
Mr. Mobley said: "There is only one solution to the economic problems of the United States, that is an embargo against importing petroleum... and a strict, strongly enforced, rationing of domestic gasoline and oil."
Among the points that Harve stressed: Almost all the trade deficit of the United States is imported oil... halting of imported oil would eventually solve inflation... there are 150 million automobiles and trucks in the United States... half of the gasoline used in this country is unnecessary... our people could get out of debt because 27.2 percent of the average family's income is spent on cars, gasoline, car insurance, maintenance etc... and we would start building a public transportation system.
We could write page after page on Harve's aggressive contention that the "motor age" is the root of our troubles. He stressed that everybody in the United States over age 16 has to have a car, the economy evolves around Detroit, and we produce enough domestic oil to meet mandatory transportation needs.
Summed up, though, Harve said: "The President and the Congress know that the non-importation of petroleum is the solution to our financial problems... but they also know they wouldn't be reelected after taking this step."
We mentioned that cutting gasoline consumption by 50 to 60 percent would result in massive unemployment - all the way from Detroit, down to the service station operator, highway motels, mechanics, and hundreds of other business facets. Harve countered that it would mean a realignment of the work force, and reiterated that other nations are focusing on public transportation, particularly railroads.
"You can write this down," Mr. Mobley contended, "within one year from today, the Congress and the President will agree and enact a law stopping the importation of oil... and gasoline will be rationed."
The more we think about it, Harve could be right!

THE PUBLISHER also conversed over the week with John Collis who recently purchased a moped that gets over 100 miles to the gallon of gasoline. We expect to soon write, probably next week, Mr. Collis' observations on mopeds, and the belief of many that this two wheel, gasoline motor driven, vehicle is our "transportation of the future," same as it now is in many other countries.

Out-Of-School Youths Can Now Receive Diploma

MT. STERLING - The Montgomery County Board of Education recently received two grants from the Kentucky Bureau of Manpower Services to train 50 youths who left school early in Bath, Rowan and Montgomery Counties.
The training will consist of G.E.D. preparation, consumer education and vocational training leading directly to local jobs. Factory personnel will assist with the instruction.
The youths, both male and female, must be between the ages of 18 and 22 and meet family income guidelines.
Interested youths can attend either day or evening sessions and will receive training allowances of $2.65 per hour plus travel.
Persons interested in entering the training programs should call the Community Education Office in Mt. Sterling at 498-8800 or the local Manpower Service Office.

Community Services Board Meeting Set

The regular meeting of the board of directors of Gateway Community Services will be held Thursday, Nov. 8, at 6 p.m. in the Outreach Center in Freuchburg.
The meeting is being held one hour earlier than usual inasmuch as dinner will be served. Spouses are invited.

GOOD NEWS!
Absolutely Free Checking Is Here!

See something to put a smile on your face... free checking! Not the kind where you'd have to leave a large sum of money in a savings account... the kind that requires you even open a savings account. That's not really "free."

Or free checking is... when you're not in "hot" from paying any per-check charges, monthly charges or even keeping a minimum balance!

And even better, we'll print your name and address on every check and deposit slip, and send you a balance statement every month... absolutely free! If you're not smiling yet... think about all the money you'll save every time you write a check!

What's Going On In Many Schools

November 12 through 18 is National Education Week. Many parents and interested people will be visiting the schools. This year's theme is "Schools Can Turn Things Around."

- 1. Back to the basics— Many schools are stressing reading, writing and arithmetic. These are the basic skills you will need in everyday life.
- 2. Handicapped children— Because of a new law, more handicapped children will be offered an education in a regular school.
- 3. Violence— Educators and concerned citizens are working to do what they can about the growing amount of violence in the schools. More discipline is being demanded.
- 4. Bilingual education— Some kids do not speak English as a first language. Many schools have bilingual (two-language) classes where teachers teach both in English and in another language, such as Spanish.

Old-Timey Schools

Look at the picture. How is this schoolroom different from yours?

- How was it heated?
- How was it lit?
- How are the desks different?

Kids in costumes act out a typical school day in a one-room schoolhouse that dates back to 1861. The school is at the Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn, Mich. Henry Ford, the famous carmaker, went to this school.

The Paper Box

Look through the rest of your paper. Do you see any news about schools? What plans are you making at school for parents to visit?

Children's Book Week is coming up. Read about the Newbery and Caldecott winners ... next week in 'The Mini Page.'

CAN DO TRY 'N FIND

Words about things kids should learn to do and study are hidden in the block below. See if you can find: speak, exchange, read, write, compute, organize, persuade, judge, remember, reason, science, think, feel, play, geography, study, deal, figure, respect, evaluate, discover and know.

Schools teach and test

Getting Prepared for Life

Are you able to identify the cautions or warnings on product labels? Many of our readers can do this now. Why do you think this is important?

Are schools teaching you what you need to know to get along in the world?
Are you growing up to be a "can-do" citizen?

Now, more than ever before, people are looking at your education.

Some states have passed laws that say you must be able to do certain things before you can graduate from high school.

Schools are testing and retesting. Teachers are offering special help to students who are having trouble.

But, after getting help, if high school seniors can't pass a "life skills" test, they can't get their diploma.

Just a few things that you might have to be able to do to get your high school diploma.

HELLO WANTED

Olivia Newton-John... the Super Singer from "Grease"

Olivia Newton-John is the singer who played the high school senior in the smash hit, "Grease". She has been in this country for only five years. She was born in England and grew up in Australia.

She has won many popular-music awards. She has had seven gold single records. (For a single to record to "go gold," 1,000,000 copies must be sold.)

She is not from a musical family. Her father is a college professor. Her grandfather, a scientist, won a Nobel Prize. She lives in Malibu, Calif. on a ranch that has a view of the ocean.

Olivia Newton-John was well-known before "Grease." But now the 29-year-old singer is a superstar.

She loves music. She also loves animals. At one time, she even thought about becoming a vet. She owns seven horses, five dogs and two cats. Singer Helen Reddy is her very good friend.

Olivia first became interested in singing and dancing early in school.

With three other girls, she formed a group, the "Solo Four." They had to ditch band when her school work began to suffer. Later she decided not to go to college, but to have a singing career.

"Grease" is rated PG.

Puzzle-10-10-do

A prefix is a syllable added to the beginning of a word. It changes the meaning of the word. All the words in this puzzle begin with the "re" prefix. "Re" means again.

ACROSS

1. Make something over.
2. To count again.
3. To heat over.

DOWN

4. Give back.
5. Do over.
6. Cover again.

3 green
4 blue
5 red

Magic Trick

Water and Pin Trick
Have a friend guess how many straight pins you can drop in a small glass full of water without making the water overflow. Your friend will probably not even come close to the correct number.

1. Fill a glass to the brim with water.
2. Start dropping pins point first into the middle of the water.

Even you will be amazed at how many pins can be dropped without causing the water to spill.

  - 2 teaspoons salt
  - ¼ teaspoon pepper
  - 1 cup butter or margarine
- Serves 6

Sport Update: Bruce Jenner

Bruce Jenner was the "Golden Boy" of the 1976 Olympics. The strong, handsome athlete won the gold medal in the decathlon. This is a competition involving 10 athletic skills.

What has he been up to since then? He has been taking acting lessons. He has turned his story into a book called, "Decathlon Challenge." He has been traveling around the country, making talks. He is interested in the Special Olympics, a sports program for handicapped children. You have also probably seen him on TV as a sports commentator. Bruce Jenner has been a busy winner.

Now your children can enjoy easy how-to recipes in book form.

Throw away your TV dinners — throw away your TV! — the kids are in the kitchen and they're cooking with class.

From beverages to desserts, from appetizers to plum-delectious puddings, this handy cookbook will help you and your kids pull back in ordinary reputation. Here are recipes fine as company fare but easy enough to be kids' stuff! (Spiral bound) 128 pages.

YOUR WEEK AHEAD By DAMIS

Forecast Period: November 12 - 19

ARIES Nov. 21-Apr. 19 It's a week of new ventures. All the week you will be doing something that never, in the past, appeared to you.

TAURUS Apr. 20-May 20 An associate will knock you off stride. The advice you will be given will make you less sure of yourself.

GEMINI May 21-June 20 The seed of dreams may be planted into reality. Don't neglect tasks at hand.

MOONCHILD A fast talker, who will promise you the whole world, could be in the scheme of things this week.

LEO July 23-Aug. 22 It's a day for being way out. As the week progresses, you will meet someone whose thoughts are in the shade.

VIRGO Aug. 23-Sept. 22 Take no one for granted - especially your mate or similar alliance.

LIBRA Sept. 23-Oct. 22 It's a day of romantic mischief. Stay in the shade. This week could find you in deep trouble.

SCORPIO Simply make it through the week - you probably feel as though you are going from nowhere to nowhere.

SAGITTARIUS Don't bargain off tomorrows for today. You have a very important decision to make.

CAPRICORN You are being imposed upon by a member of the opposite sex. Just make it through the week without an explosion.

AQUARIUS You will miss out on something this week because of your unawareness.

PISCES Avoid any "unholy" alliances. Don't confuse Feb. 19-Mar. 20 with your associates.

THOUGHT FOR FOOD BY GOLD COOK

Pumpkin Pie There are so many different recipes for PUMPKIN PIE...

First, have ready a single uncooked pie crust. One that you especially like and make or the store bought...

The ingredients for this old favorite are: 2 beaten eggs, 1/4 cup brown sugar, 1 1/2 cups canned pumpkin...

Mix the first six ingredients together and well. Add milk and cream and stir until blended.

To be sure of a non-gooey crust - after you've put the pumpkin filling in - bake the pie for 10 minutes in a 400° oven - then turn it back to just under 350°...

Another dog, while eating his supper, was deliberately kicked by a passing teenager. The dog bit the boy - and a court later threw out the boy's claim for damage.

Frustrating Fido

After several nasty encounters with a customer's bulldog, newsboy Billy arched himself with a repellent spray. Next time the dog charged, Billy zapped him with the spray.

Under these circumstances, the boy collect damages from the owner of the dog? Hand in court, the owner argued that Billy had "provoked trouble" by using the spray.

But it is not provocation to take sensible precautions for one's safety. And, even if the victim did provoke the dog on one occasion, that may not justify retaliation by the dog on some other occasion.

Kentucky Has Many Historic Sites

Norfleet To Make TV Appearance

More than 8,000 houses, commercial and institutional buildings, barns, smokehouses, springhouses, cribs, mills, carriage houses, churches, schools, bridges and other sites are listed on the Survey of Historic Sites in Kentucky.

An average of about 3,000 each year have been added since the Kentucky Heritage Commission began its county-by-county survey of historic resources in 1976, according to Bob Polsgrove, the commission's survey coordinator. Surveys of historic sites have been completed in 20 counties: Adair, Ballard, Boone, Boyd, Boyle, Bullitt, Christian, Clark, Davess, Fleming, Franklin, Hart, Jefferson, (outside Louisville), Jessamine, Nelson, McCracken, Montgomery, Powell, Pulaski and Warren.

The state legislature appropriated money for the commission to expand survey activities in 1978 and to do a comprehensive historical and archaeological survey of 24 counties over a two-year period. Polsgrove said, "The results of these first two years have been in line with what we set out to do—that is, to locate, identify and document sites with historic value emphasizing county traditions and local oral history."

Polsgrove noted that besides increasing the number of sites documented by the commission, the survey provides a valuable planning tool for federal, state and local government. "It provides data necessary for federal and state agencies to plan historic preservation activities in Kentucky," he said. "The survey has also broadened the scope of significant sites to include ones associated with previously neglected themes such as black history, transportation, industry and prehistoric archaeology."

To conduct the surveys, the Heritage Commission has employed three historians and three architectural historians. Polsgrove explained that during a county inventory, which taken an average of three months, a survey team made up of an architectural historian and a historian works closely with county and city officials, local preservation groups, the commission's county representative and interested individuals. "The two locate sites, map, photograph, and document each, and record architectural and historical data on the survey form," said Polsgrove. "An average of about 300 sites are identified in a county survey. For the most part, structures over 100 years old are always surveyed, but structures between 50 and 100 years old are surveyed only if they are historically or architecturally significant. Outstanding examples of contemporary architecture are also surveyed," he explained.

Sites, structures, buildings and objects that have significance in national, state, and local history, architecture or culture are identified in the survey effort. A majority of the structures are listed on the Survey of Historic Sites in Kentucky, and designated as Kentucky Landmarks, according to Polsgrove. The most significant sites are slated for eventual nomination to the National Register of Historic Places.

Morehead State University President Morris L. Norfleet is returning to the airwaves in an effort to communicate directly with the University community.

He will appear Tuesday, Nov. 7, at 7 p.m. on Channel 2 of the city and campus cable television systems for a live question-and-answer session. The program also will be broadcast by WNKY Radio, the University station. Questions may be directed to President Norfleet at 783-4708 or 783-4709 and will be accepted throughout the 30-minute session.

The program, titled "Crosstalk," is sponsored by Alpha Epsilon Rho broadcasting honorory.

Legend has it the first cocktail was served in 1776 in a New York bar decorated with chicken feathers.

Three Injured In Truck Crash

MT. STERLING — Three people were injured, two hospitalized, after a head-on collision of two pick-up trucks four miles from here at Howard's Mill.

According to the Montgomery County Sheriff's office, the accident occurred at approximately 7:55 Thursday morning, during foggy conditions, which a sheriff's office spokesman said was probably the cause of the accident. The driver of one truck, Danny Willis, is listed in satisfactory condition at St. Claire Medical Center in Morehead, while the driver of the other truck, Gary Farrell, is listed in fair condition in the intensive care unit at the University of Kentucky Medical Center in Lexington.

A passenger in the Farrell truck, Andrew Miles, was treated, and released at Mary Chiles Hospital in Mt. Sterling.

MSU Debaters Division Winners

Morehead State University debaters David Penwell and Phil Stowers won the recent Western Kentucky Invitational Debate Tournament junior varsity division. Penwell, Buffalo freshman, and Stowers, Aikoi, W. Va. freshman, were third and fourth outstanding individual speakers respectively.

Rod Burruss, Mt. Washington sophomore, was fifth individually in the varsity division.

Paddlings Might Result From Talking In Class

A teacher or school official can paddle a student for such infractions as talking in class, according to an opinion from the Attorney General's office.
 "Respective of whether one is an opponent or proponent of corporal punishment, the legal fact exists that corporal punishment is alive and well and constitutionally acceptable," Assistant Attorney General Robert Chenoweth wrote in an opinion to Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Cunningham of Shelbyville. The Cunninghams had requested an attorney general's opinion following an incident in which their 15-year-old son had refused to accept a paddling as an infraction for talking in class.

Chenoweth, in the letter acknowledged that the Office of the Attorney General had not looked at the issue since the U.S. Supreme Court reviewed and approved using the paddle.

In the letter Chenoweth said that while it is not against the law for a teacher or school official to paddle a youngster there should be consideration given by the local school board governing the use of such punishment.

Appalachian Development Council Has Work Session

The executive committee of the Appalachian Development Council, a group formed in June by Gov. Carroll to plan continued economic growth in eastern Kentucky, met in Frankfort last week to work toward pinpointing specific goals.

In an earlier meeting, the council voted to split into five subcommittees, addressing the quality of life, including health, housing and environment; intergovernmental relations, coal severance tax and city-county tax structures; transportation, education, and enterprise development, including land development, economic diversification and industrial development.

Last week's meeting brought the subcommittee chairmen, who make up the executive committee, together to discuss how best to approach each of the five topics. Members in attendance included G. B. Johnson, chairman, Ashland; Phillip R. Dillon, Liberty; Rep. Morris Norfleet, Morehead State University president; Janie Douglas, Harlan and James C. Witten, Sr., Paintsville.

According to Ralph Coldiron, executive director of the council and executive director for community and regional development with the Kentucky Development Cabinet, "Each sub-committee chairman will be calling his group together in the near future for working sessions."

In other business, the council elected to bring in private interest groups such as bankers, farmers and coal miners for direct input into the council's decision making process as well as to utilize the expertise of individuals from all over the U.S. who have worked directly in area economic development. The council voted to name G.B. Johnson official spokesman to deal with the press. According to Coldiron, the executive committee made tentative plans for a full council meeting for late January.

Snow Removal Funds May Have To Be Returned

Counties and cities which received emergency funds for snow removal last winter may have to return those funds if necessary forms concerning the use of the funds are not soon received by the state.

The Legislative Research Commission today voted to ask Attorney General Robert Stephens to notify some 100 local governments that information on the use of the funds is long overdue. The LRC further voted that any governments that do not report on the funds within 30 days of the Attorney General's notification be warned of possible legal action by the state to regain the funds.

The funds were awarded to the local governments by the 1978 General Assembly. House Joint Resolution 34 appropriated $2 million for emergency snow removal during last January's blizzard conditions. One of the provisions of HJR 34 required local governments to report on their use of the funds.

Rep. Art Schmidt (R-Cold Spring) noted that the LRC has twice requested that counties and cities which hadn't submitted the required forms to do so. "I don't think we should procrastinate any longer. I think we should act (to gain compliance with the resolution or to regain the funds)," he said.

The resolution did not contain any penalty for failure to report.

Petro-Users
 Automobiles consume about 28 per cent of all the petroleum used in the United States - at a rate of approximately 4.6 million barrels a day.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Farm and Home Week

Man of you probably remember when the University of Kentucky used to put on annual Farm and Home Week program, usually in January. This event has not been held in several years, but is being revived and will be held Jan. 8-12, 1979. Starting on Monday, Jan. 8, the program will be as follows:

- Monday - Jan. 8 - Tobacco production and the future of one of Kentucky's foremost money crops. Exhibits will be open daily, including a tobacco harvester, manure injector, pasture renovator and large round hay bale transporter developed by UK agricultural engineers.
- Tuesday - Markets and marketing alternatives for getting better prices for farm products and credit needs of farmers.
- Wednesday - Application of solar energy from the sun on the farm and in the home, and energy conservation, including ways you can get more out of the fuel you use. Interpretation of the federal farm program and compliance by farmers also is on this day's schedule.
- Thursday - Grain crops and livestock.
- Friday - Forage crops and livestock.

Energy Conservation

Is your heat bill going up? One cause may be lack of enough insulation or some other problem. We have a questionnaire here in the office that you can fill out relative to the type construction of your house. This information can be sent to Lexington to the College of Agriculture. The agricultural engineers there will feed the information to a computer and they will send you recommendations as to how to improve heating efficiency, and there is no charge for this service.

Logs May Harbor Pests

Many of us are off-harvest heat costs by using the place and wood 1 the fireplace logs you stacked up you may also have a supply of millipedes, sow bugs, crickets and other hibernating creatures at no extra cost.

When you bring the wood in and place it on the hearth or use, the insects may also be brought in. In the warmth of your home, these pest resume their activity and become a nuisance as they wander out of the wood.

To avoid this problem, do not bring in more wood at a time than you are using in a few hours. Do not pile up your wood of insects with insecticide sprays. This could make the smoke from burning logs toxic.

Rocks Reflect Autumn Brilliance

By Helen Price Stacy

Want to see a rock? Rocks, those symbols of strength, grandeur and power, are everywhere, and during these days of brilliant autumn splendor they are beautiful to behold.

In the Southern Mountains of Bell County, Chained Rock holds autumn within its huge links. Overlooking Pineville and an area that encompasses Middleboro and forested Cumberland peaks, Chained Rock on a late afternoon in fall is var-colored like the West's Painted Desert. At dusk, when sun casts a red glow that tells far-away seamen that it's well for the next day, the rock high on the mountain becomes tinted with rose hues that move on to subtle pink to pale yellow and sienna.

Johnson County's Barnrock, like Chained Rock, is located in a region that is vibrant with color in autumn. Used for everything from a church service to a place to keep logs and in old days bears, the long arched rock absorbs glows, reds, rusts and soft tints from the maples, willows, sumacs and pines. As Chained Rock is in the Pine Mountain State Park region, Barnrock is not far from Jenny Wiley State Park in adjoining Floyd County.

Many counties have a "High Rock" from where hikers and picnickers can view the changing seasons. Menifee County, like the Red River Gorge nearby, is a land of cliff and canyon with trees clinging to crannies like the toehold of eagles. Donathon Rock, the highest spot over-looking Frenchburg, is resident in its fall setting.

At one time everyone hiked to Donathon Rock to view the countryside, and returning visitors still climb to the rock. Like a sandy beach soaking up color from nature, Donathon Rock is painted by the ever-changing color of leaves from different trees that have grown around it. George McCormick who once owned the rock made a request that his body be placed in a chair and lowered to a crevice in the rock.

Not far from Donathon Rock is Carrington Rock. This rock possesses a unique place in area history, as well as mountain beauty in autumn. The earliest white settlers once observed a doe and her fawns leaping to their death far below when the animals were surprised by the hikers and thinking they were trapped decided to leap. The deer bleated then jumped and was followed by the younger animals. Despite Carrington Rock's magnificent location, it is as dry as a desert in autumn. During the Civil War a force of soldiers got trapped atop the rock and were without water and food. They prayed for enough water to sustain them - until they could be rescued. Immediately, water began to flow from the rock and continued its flow until help came.

In Morgan County a rock of a different kind is attracting visitors who want to get out in the warmth and beauty of the season. On Ky. 191 in Caney Valley, sun plates a massive man-made granite memorial to Elder Daniel Williams and Elder Daniel Duff. Inscribed at the top is "Dedicated to the Glory of God" and beneath are names of Kentucky's Governors, statesmen and others who have helped with the memorial and the surrounding Memory Hill Park. The park is work of the Rev. Wardie Craft, his wife Hazel and his brother Ernest Craft of Caney.

Memory Hill Park already has eight log cabins, six completed, that are being furnished as early-day museums including a church, school, home and mill.

When autumn sun starts its downward trip it washes the granite's polished surface in gold plate. According to Craft's inscription, Elder Williams is the uncle of Confederate President Jefferson Davis, came to Kentucky with Daniel Boone in May 1877, fought in the Revolution, helped organize some of the region's first churches and the Burning Spring Association of Baptists in 1813 and built the first cabin in West Liberty in about 1804. Elder Daniel Duff, known in history as Parson Duff, performed marriages for early settlers and helped organize Owen Fork and Quicksand churches. He was the son of Shadrack and Deborah Dixon Duff from Scotland.

Rocks are valuable in symbol and in reality. Small ones make pocket "worry stones" to help ease tension; overhanging ones provide animal shelter and even early-day churches, courthouses and homes; high ones are mecca for hikers who want to see and feel the awesome wonder of nature and still others are links with history through early scouts who carved initials on them and were life-giving in battle.

Find an outstanding rock in the region, hike to its summit and view the country, for soon the sun that gilds its surface with warmth and color will take back its bounty until another autumn.

Vandalism Reported At Hobart

MT. STERLING - Two cases of vandalism, one at the Hobart Manufacturing Co. site, were investigated last week by the Mt. Sterling Police Department.

Last Saturday, Oct. 28, Ruth Fouch reported that someone had thrown a rock through one of the windows at Co-viden Factory on Queen St. The night before. No dollar value was placed on the window.

Last Thursday, Nov. 2, John Hughes of Flatwoods, an engineer for C&O Railroad, reported that someone had thrown rocks through the engine cab and caboose windows of a train as it passed Hobart Manufacturing Co., where UAW workers have been on strike since May. No dollar value was placed on the four windows broken, and no suspects have been arrested.

Campus Has Fire

City firemen were called to a trash fire on the campus of Morehead State University Saturday evening.

Fire Chief Glenn Terrell said that 15 men reported to a garbage area in Wilson Hall and put out the blaze with relative ease.

This makes the third time the department has received a trash fire call from a dormitory on campus, he said.

Although Moreheadians heard the fire alarm ring several times over the week-end, Terrell informed the NEWS that the calls were false alarms.

Man Charged With Speeding

A Morehead man was cited for doing 98 miles per hour in a 55 zone Sunday afternoon by city police.

Wayne H. Strange, 24, Rt. 2, was ticketed by Patrolman John Brown on Ky. 328 near Park's Inc.

Strange is scheduled to appear in district court Nov. 20.

Revival Scheduled

The Sileam Church of God will conduct revival Nov. 8 & 9 and 10.

Rev. Clifford Hutchinson of Mid-tion, Ohio, will serve as evangelist for the three-night meeting. Services begin nightly at 7 o'clock.

The pastor, Rev. E. Collier, invites the public.

50 Percent Of Students Needing Shots

The immunization survey being conducted by the Rowan County Health Center in cooperation with the county school system has been completed in the following schools: Haldeman, Elliottville, Morehead Grade, and Tilden Hogge.

The survey indicates that 50 percent of the students are lacking in either adequate immunizations or records.

Letters have been sent home to the parents of students needing immunizations or records, requesting that they comply with state regulations which require adequate immunizations for all students enrolled in school.

Parents who have received these letters are urged to take action immediately to correct the inadequacies.

If a child needs immunization shots, he should be taken to a private physician or the county health center to be administered. Request a record and send it to the school where the child is enrolled.

Immunization clinics are conducted at the Rowan County Health Center each Tuesday free of charge.

The recommended immunization schedule is as follows:

- DPT and Polio - 6 weeks old
- DPT and Polio - 3 months old
- DPT - 6 months old
- TB Skin Test - 1 year old
- Measles and Rubella - 15 months old
- DPT and Polio - 18 months old
- DPT and Polio Booster - just prior to entering school.

Operation Toybox Announced

Christmas is coming, and that means lots of toys for Kentucky children. It also could mean a rise in the number of toy-related injuries if children receive toys that are unsuitable or unsafe, says state Human Resources Secretary Peter Conn.

Conn called a news conference last week in Frankfort to announce the beginning of "Operation Toybox," an inspection effort by the Department for Human Resources to identify potentially hazardous toys on sale in Kentucky retail stores.

During November and December, Conn said, inspectors from the department's Consumer Product Safety Branch will make spot visits to retail outlets throughout Kentucky. They will be checking to see that toys meet federal requirements for safety and labeling and that no toys banned by the federal government are on sale.

The department estimates that more than 5,700 toy-related injuries were treated in hospital emergency rooms in Kentucky in 1977. "This doesn't take into account the children who were taken to a private doctor, to a health clinic, or were treated at home. We estimate that at least 15,000 toy-related injuries needing professional medical attention occur each year in Kentucky," Conn said.

"Gov. Carroll was surprised by the number of toy-related injuries," Conn said, "and he was concerned that we step up our efforts against unsafe toys."

More than half of the toys sold each year in Kentucky are purchased in the three months leading up to Christmas. "That's why we are making a concentrated effort now to monitor toy sales and alert parents and gift-givers to possible toy hazards," Conn said.

Human Resources inspectors will go into department stores, toy specialty stores, discount stores, drug stores and hardware stores in November and December to sample a cross section of toys being sold in Kentucky. Banned toys include those with hidden hazards and unsafe features such as sharp edges and points, protruding wires, small removable parts, and paint with high lead content. The state will confiscate toys banned as unsafe by the federal government.

Conn said the toy industry in recent years has made great strides in improving toy safety by adopting voluntary standards. "The toy industry's efforts to make safer toys - and increasing consumer awareness - have resulted in a dramatic reduction in the number of toys that had to be banned by the federal government," Conn said.

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission banned some 2,500 different toys from the national marketplace in the early 1970's, but the number of toys banned has dropped dramatically since then. In the past year, the commission has recalled five toys which will be among those that Human Resources inspectors will be watching for in Kentucky stores, Conn said.

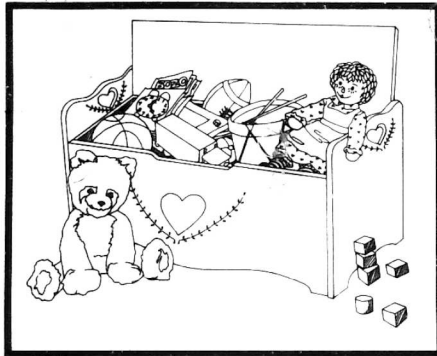

During inspections, particular attention will be directed to toys with painted surfaces, says Edsel More, manager of the department's Consumer Product Safety Branch. Congress has lowered the allowable limit of lead content in paint to .06 percent.

Electrical toys also will be closely scrutinized, with particular emphasis on the service cord and the presence of a symbol of endorsement by an independent testing organization such as Underwriters Laboratories.

Inspectors will take samples of painted toys with a suspected high-lead content to Frankfort for analysis in Human Resources laboratories. Other toys suspected to be hazardous will be sent to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission to confirm a suspected hazard, Moore said.

Three of the five toys recalled in the last year by the commission had painted surfaces that exceeded allowable limits for lead. The other two toys involved a garden hose attachment with a small part that could be swallowed by a child, and a toy golf club that came apart easily.

"With Operation Toybox we will be able to weed out the toys that will most likely cause injury to Kentucky children," Conn said. "However, the most important part of toy safety remains with parents and gift-givers. Proper selection of toys for children can, in itself, substantially reduce toy-related injuries."

The Good Word from the Bible

A weekly inspirational message for today's life styles. Find out how to live better, prosper, and be happy in the Bible. It's the only book that can help you live better, prosper, and be happy in the Bible. It's the only book that can help you live better, prosper, and be happy in the Bible.

It God would in some way give us a preview of the beautiful life after death, there wouldn't be room in the churches of the world to hold new members.

We love life because it is filled with familiar good things. Death is unknown. It's dark. It's end of life as we know it. With age, and experience, we understand more of the awareness of this wonderful world. We see beauty and goodness that respect the beauty of our youth. It becomes difficult to imagine a more perfect life because the grass is greener on the other side.

There is, of course, no finding it in the Bible. Jesus and in the words spoken in Matthew 28:18, the resurrection, and the life, which is in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live again. (St. John 11:25)

'West Side Story' To Be Presented

The Morehead State University Theatre and Music Department will present "West Side Story" Nov. 16-18. Directed by Dr. William J. Latta, associate professor of communications, the production is a modern theatre classic about the harsh reality of the street life and the racial barriers that oppose young love.

Performances are scheduled at 8 p.m. each evening in Burton Auditorium. Featured in lead roles are Bob Thomas, Maysville senior, and Betty Fraley, Maysville graduate student. Conductor is Dr. Robert Haskins, professor of music.

Ticket information is available from the MSU Theatre at 606-783-2120.

Hit-And-Run Investigated

Two incidents of hit-and-run, both occurring in parking lots, were reported to city police last week.

A vehicle belonging to Becky Barnsdale, Kessler Place, was damaged on its left rear fender while parked outside her home Thursday morning.

Gale S. Franks, Rt. 1 Morehead, had parked her car at Allen's IGA West Friday afternoon when it was struck on the left front fender and left rear door.

Both incidents were investigated by Patrolman John Brown.
