

New Bridge At Clearfield Held Probable

Heaviest Industrial Hauling, Largest Rowan Payrolls Affected

Hope for early construction of a new bridge over the 'Creek at Clearfield was expressed this week by State Highway Department engineers. W. Rye and Creek, who came here to look over the project.

The engineers told a delegation at the office of the Lee Clay Products Company in Clearfield that something has to be done and done right away.

Warnings have been placed on the present bridge declaring it unsafe for more than five tons. The heaviest industrial traffic in Rowan County crosses the bridge since it carries 1500 truck haulings of Le Clark, coal and lumber haulings to the Morehead North Park Railroad and much other heavy traffic.

Mari Bowne, general manager of Lee Clay and Murrel Crowley, president of the Morehead and North Park Railroad, pointed out that the bridge is unsafe unless bridge is built immediately the largest payrolls and industry in the county will be affected.

The engineers, after an examination, decreed the old bridge must be repaired and it is their opinion that a contract for the new structure, which will cost between $200,000 and $300,000, will be let within 60 days. Rye said that the bridge was harassed for funds since all counties seek road work, but that an extreme emergency did exist in this case.

The bridge also serves the southwestern section of Rowan County and Morehead-Frenchburg traffic. Long range plans called for a paved highway through the West Liberty via the Paragon, Yocum neighborhoods which would also be bridged.

Another Morehead representative at the state office, Barbara and Chole were chosen delegates to the national meeting in Kansas City the latter part of June.

Morehead's scrapbook received the highest rating of "superior." The theme of the district meeting was built around the national project of "families together." Emphasis was placed on "let's work together." Miss Amy Irene Moore, Brockingridge Training teacher, gave lectures on "How Girls, Through Recreation, Can Build Better Homes." Morehead representatives, Barbara Layne, Salyersville, Sandy Holsky, and other delegates, were Boyd County High and Phelps.

Representing Morehead were: Mrs. Harker, Peggy Conn, Jean Harlow, Lucille Perry, Joy Redwine, Frances May, Geraldine Burton, Wanda Goodman, Thelma Workman, Margaret Forman, Pauline Moore, Lilyb Tibbey, Frieda Caskey, Anna Foster, Juanita Hutchinson, Laura Ray, Barbara Swainson, Billie Cora Jane Puckett, Joyce Walters, Mary Ann, and Louise Hall and Susie Thompson.

11 Breck Students Score In Regional Music Festival

Nearly 1,000 people invaded the Morehead State College campus for the annual Regional Music Festival which was held here on Saturday, April 15. The colorful uniforms of the Junior and Senior High School, along with the eye-catching attire of the balala twirlers and drum majorettes, and the robed figures of the chorus singers gave the campus something of the air of an opera stage.

The recent festival was the largest of its kind ever to take place on this campus and was highly commended by the judges for the efficiency of its organization and the high level of the performances.

There were over 160 superior ratings given, eleven of which went to the Breckinridge Training School. The largest number of entrants came from the schools in Maysville and Ashland, with Morehead's two schools placing Morehead third on the list of number of entrants.

Judges for the event were Dr. Edwin Steff, Miss Mildred Lewis,

Student Art Acclaimed At KEA Meetings

One of the main attractions of the KEA meetings in Louisville, in the Brown Hotel, was the students' art exhibit from Morehead State College.

In the picture shown above are some of the fifteen oil paintings, five water color paintings and pastel drawings on exhibit. These pictures are the products of art majors at Morehead.

Due to the favorable comments given by several art critics, the work done by Frank Profit ranked about the best of the amateur art presented. Josephine Hill's work was also commended outstandingly.

If you should be wandering past Dr. Baird's office sometime stop in to see the painting, made by Frank Profit, Maxine Agnew, Homer, and Ford Fielding and presented to him as gifts by them.

Sound Equalization Offered To All Counties Of Kentucky

It is agreed by most everyone who has even a cursory knowledge of taxation and assessments that there is little uniformity and much discrimination in Kentucky counties.

Uniform standards have generally appeared and there is indication that, in many counties tax assessors and boards of equalization have worked with and for special interests.

It costs approximately $20,000 to reassess an acre county. The contract is let by the department of revenue to a firm experienced in this work, and the state bears all expense.

The county and school system does stand to gain through the findings of unbiased property on which the owner is paying no taxes.

In its April 1 issue the Louisville Courier-Journal looks at this tax assessing plan in this light "The times have thrown our system out of joint. Nothing should prove this better than the case of neighbors who live side by side on the same lot and yet are unequally assessed.

There never was a better time for getting back to the Constitution in this respect. If the job has seemed unduly delayed, it must be said that conditions have been unsteady and price levels are so confused that it is unwise to raise more revenue but to create inflation.

A Courier-Journal was speaking of Jefferson County, Kentucky's largest, where assessment and taxation records are probably the most up-to-date of any county.

Rowan County's fiscal court and the county board studied the plan and recently invited the department of revenue to make the survey here. At a meeting here Monday it was explained to many leading business people and property owners. It drew their approval, just as it has been endorsed by practically every local civic organization. It is one of the most forward steps that Rowan County has ever taken, giving hope of an end to poor assessments and inequalities.

Ashland Home Telephone Keeping Pace Now With The Community

Complaints of Morehead telephone users, so prevalent a year ago, have about ceased. The reason, of course, being that the Ashland Home Telephone Company, holders of the franchise, have greatly improved the local and long distance service.

Although figures are unavailable it is obvious that Ashland Home spent several thousands of dollars through the installation of new cables in Morehead; put in operation a larger switch-board and ran additional long distance connections to key outlets at Ashland, Lexington and Cincinnati.

Improvement is particularly noticeable on long distance service. In most cases a long distance call to any place in the nation can be completed in a few minutes. Many times the customer does not have to hang up the phone. As an example, an important call was completed from the News office to Washington, D. C. within three minutes yesterday.

There has also been marked improvement in the local service, although it could be some better. The service is mostly good, except that it is difficult to again reach the operator after one local call is completed. But, it is so much better than Morehead has ever before had, that complaint is negligible in view of the telephone company's announced policy in Morehead to eventually render us service as good as that any place.

The general atmosphere of the entire system shows improvement. The operators are more courteous, and, in turn, the patrons more considerate of the operators at all times. Before these improvements were made the customer became exasperated, and, no doubt, the operator obtained little enjoyment from their work when they were forced to always be so much unfavorable criticism every day.

It is apparent that the Morehead franchise must be a good investment because the number of users has trebled in the last seven or eight years. Further, Morehead's growth has been more rapid than any eastern Kentucky city or town. A larger population, plus prosperity that Morehead has always enjoyed, add up to more users and a more lucrative system for Ashland Home.

In Mr. Frank Paris, the Morehead manager and Mr. Paul Kemper, the district manager, who has offices in Morehead, the telephone company was wise in personnel selection. They have cooperated with the community to always be ready for better service. They have fitted in with Morehead and have made friends for the company they ably represent.

It appears that the Ashland Home Telephone Company has realized and is meeting its obligation as a public utility. All of this adds up to a better system, good service and more congenial relations with the people they serve.

It's Not As Bad As The Headlines Sound

The headlines may convince jittery Americans that the country is about to be possessed by the Reds, but let's not overlook the facts.

"Actually," says the Christian Science Monitor, "the United States has less than 10,000 Communists out of 150,000,000 people."

The same newspaper remarks that the loyalty boards are non-partisan and staffed by citizens of unquestioned ability and patriotism. After months of sitting, only 201 of two million Federal employees were found suspect by these boards. More than half have appealed the judgment against them.

It should not be overlooked that the F. B. I. is supposed to be the most efficient professional organization for discovering disloyalty and catching spies. Its resources are unlimited and its information, at times, uncanny. During the war, it scored notable successes in defeating enemy sabotage. There is no reason to conclude that this organization, headed by J. Edgar Hoover, is less effective today in its efforts to cope with those who would undermine the American government.

Times are really back to normal. There are now almost as many car salesmen as there are cars.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

There is a Great Spiritual Revival Going On In The United States, But There's Question About Its Sincerity

International Sunday School Lesson for April 30, 1949. Memory Section: "Let justice roll down as waters, and righteousness as mighty streams."

Everywhere, from all parts of the nation, comes news of the evidence of a spiritual revival among the people of this country.

It is apparent that the Morehead franchise must be a good investment because the number of users has trebled in the last seven or eight years.

However, in view of the experiences of the past, one cannot help but wonder whether this apparent turning to religion is sincere as it might be, whether it is based on the genuine need of God, or because of fear of the destruction of the world by the atom bomb.

Unless the teachings and principles of Christianity are reflected in the daily life of citizens, then the formal performance of one's religion is hypocrisy.

Whereupon we observe on sundry subjects. Bonuses for war veterans. I am in receipt of a bit of campaign literature from an Indiana attorney who is running for the Republican nomination for the State Senate from his district.

One particular portion of it is directed to war veterans in which the attorney states: "It now develops that there are several inequities, uncertainties and hardships of the bonus law which should be remedied as a matter of course, is referring to the Indiana bonus laws."

There is a great spiritual revival going on in the United States, but there's question about its sincerity.

This is the lesson that all of us needs today, and it is of universal significance. We need to ask ourselves: Has our worship become mere form and habit? Are we sincere and thoughtful as we participate in group and private worship?

RANGER'S COLUMN

Farmer in Whitley County Has A Fire Fighting Canine

County Judge A. R. Little of Middleboro County recently found it profitable for an owner to invest in a dog for starting a forest fire near Fagan, Ed Coway of the same address is paying $1.00 a month for another fire fighting canine by his name, William, while playing with matches.

Strong winds and dry weather have resulted in another spell of good weather, but a fire-fighting dog is not a bad investment. Radio Station WFTM of Morehead helped out Sunday by broadcasting a fire warden over the air. I know preachers are beginning to think the Forest Service employees are health-conscious because they miss church so much.

There are dogs for all purposes, but a fire-fighting dog is something new. Ranger Meekins in Rowan County has been more than successful in such a dog exists. The owner is W. H. Ryan of Whitley County, and the dog actually fights any fire he sees by scratching and digging. He keeps at it until the last spark is out. I'd be in favor of raising more like that. Anyone wanting to raise a dog for that purpose in Rowan County and vicinity, please know, I'll keep the dog in bones.

Hold that topsoil on the slopes by sowing permanent pasture or planting trees. The "Keep Kentucky Green" pasture program in Rowan County has been organized some time ago. County Agent Adrian Rizer was elected chairman of the committee. The judging committee will be visiting entries at the Pasture Derby within a week or two. Keep that topsoil where it belongs and make money while you're doing it.

It is my belief that the city officials, including Mr. Rhorer, who approved a resolution denouncing the jury's indictment of the Middleboro police should have thought of the name applying gives a town when they were tolerating gambling, and not wait until official action is taken by an investigative body before they should "foul."

Mr. Rhorer wrote me: "The present city administration of Middleboro does not believe in law enforcement, but it does not believe the city of Middleboro deserves the notoriety it has gained by reason of exploiting the illegal findings of a prejudiced and hand-picked jury."

Just How Well Do You Keep The 9th Commandment? "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor" is still one of the Ten Commandments. No doubt nine out of ten people questioned would say that that is one sin they never commit. But, try listening to any conversation, even your own—and you may wonder how carefully, how habitually the Ninth Commandment is broken.

You bear false witness against your neighbor when you judge him not as an individual upon his own merits, but as a part of a group. You bear false witness against your neighbor when you impute to him motives for action about which you can know nothing.

You bear false witness against your neighbor when you accuse him of acting only in his own self-interest. You bear false witness against your neighbor when you pass up the opportunity to do good.

Statewide Bee Inspection Is Now Available

Commissioner of Agriculture, Harry F. White, has called attention to the fact that recent legislation has provided for state-wide bee inspection for the prevention and elimination of bee diseases. The bee-keeping industry is suffering acutely from losses through disease, this resulting in a loss of more than $3.00 million to farmers through lack of pollination of various farm crops.

The present statutes call for registration of all bee colonies in Kentucky by the Department of Agriculture. The scale of fees is $1.00 for 1-10 colonies, $2.00 for 11-50 colonies, $3.00 for 51-100 colonies, $4.00 for 101-200 colonies, $5.00 for 201-300 colonies, $6.00 for 301-400 colonies, and $7.00 for more than 400 colonies.

Remember, this legislation is for the benefit of beekeepers and beekeepers, the registration fees together with other funds available to be used in the best interests of beekeepers. Blanks for registration may be obtained from the office of the Commissioner of Agriculture at Frankfort, your County Agent, District Beekeepers Association or the Kentucky State Beekeepers Association, Box 43, Louisville.

Cooperation of all beekeepers is asked by the Commissioner.

Funeral services for Mrs. Luza Stegall 54, who died Tuesday in Lexington will be conducted Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Carter, near Elliottville.

A native of Elliott County, Mrs. Stegall was widely known in Rowan County. She was the wife of the late Harry Stegall, a survivor of a war and a son of four daughters: Arnold Stegall of Elliottville; Mrs. Inez Simer, Middlesboro; Mrs. William Carter, RFD 3, Morehead; Mrs. Hattie Lykins, Morehead, and Miss Louise Stegall of Ruff, Ky.

Arrangements are being handled by the Lane Funeral Home. Many highways facilities can be avoided if motorists will be courteous in their driving and obedient to traffic signs.

Both Taylor and your neighbor when you impute to him motives for action about which you can know nothing. You bear false witness against your neighbor when you accuse him of acting only in his own self-interest.

Commerce And Business Administration

Morehead offers a four-year curriculum leading to a Bachelor of Science Degree with a professional high school certificate with a major of approximately 30 hours in commerce and business administration. A major in commerce and business administration without a teaching certificate may be elected by those who do not plan to follow the teaching of business subjects as a profession.

These programs include not only shall subjects in the business fields such as typing, shorthand office procedure and practice and accounting, but general background courses as well. The student will not only have acquired marketable skills with which he can obtain initial employment in business or a teaching position, but will have had advanced training through a wealth of background courses in the social sciences, mathematics, science and English which will enable him to develop and grow into a more responsible position in his field of employment.

While it is not the purpose of the college to offer business courses which compare with short courses offered in schools other than four-year colleges, a number of students are enrolled in these courses and are given credit of certain subjects until such skill and knowledge are gained that they are qualified for an office position.

For these students we have provided both a one-year and a two-year curriculum in which special emphasis is given to typing, shorthand, business English, business arithmetic, accounting, filing, office machines, office management and general secretarial procedure and practice.

This work is all in the college level and credit on the degree is given on the completion of all courses.

Classrooms at Morehead are equipped with the best and latest style office equipment. Business today is highly specialized and the procedures and techniques used require specialized training on many new types of office machines. Employees must know how to use modern equipment. In order to acquaint business students with these machines, materials and methods in general, the college has purchased and made available for class use the most modern equipment found in the business office.

Over 50 typewriters of different makes, high manual and electric, duplicating machines, such as the Shrograph, Ditto and spirit duplicator, an Elliott addressograph machine, an adding and sound Scriber dictating and transferring units, filing practice sets and equipment, a key-ring and full keyboard adding and listing machines, key driven and crank driven calculators and a bookkeeping machine as well as other equipment found in the modern office are available for class and laboratory use.

Beginning classes in a number of commercial subjects are offered in the summer term which begins June 3. Classes for the regular Fall term will begin on September 14. Classes offered in the Fall include: Business arithmetic, personal finance, beginning typewriting intermediate typewriting, advanced typewriting, beginning shorthand, construction office machines, clerical office machines, filing, secretarial procedure and practice, introduction to business, dictation, materials and methods in general, general subjects, private law and advanced accounting.

Prof. Young To Give Puppet Show For High School Guests

Hobby Proves An Interesting Means Of Entertainment

Tom Young and his puppet show will be presented to the some 600 high school seniors who will be in Morehead Friday for the annual High School Day. Mr. Young first began giving puppet shows when he was in High School and has continued to the present time. In college at the University of Kentucky he gave numerous shows for clubs and children's parties around Lexington. During summers at the University he often gave shows and appeared on programs. On one occasion he appeared at the Ben Ali theatre as an added act of local talent with eight regular vaudeville acts. During one of these appearances he displayed his talents to the Kentucky Legislature at a banquet given them by UK at the Lafayette Hotel. The play presented was an especially written allegory showing why the legislature should appropriate more money for the university. Mr. Young states that the university got the money. During the summer term, Mr. Young and two other students took the puppet show to more than a dozen towns in Kentucky. He has displayed the puppets at Louisville, Frankfort, Lexington, Ashland, and many other cities. While at Columbia University, he won a prize of $50 with his puppet act. The dolls which Mr. Young uses are all designed and constructed by him. The clothing which the puppets wear are also of his own design, and he uses his own system of controls to operate the marionettes. Some of the puppets require as many as 30 strings for operation. By operating these strings he has been able to make the miniature actors do such feats as juggle, change clothes, smoke cigarettes, and almost anything else that a human being can do. The furniture which is used in the puppet performances is all made to scale. Some of the figures are carved from wood while others are moulded in clay and cast in plastic. Mr. Young has presented several full length plays including "A Thousand and One Nights" and "MacBeth." The idea of operating dolls by strings and other controls is not new, but rather extends back as far as history. Some have been found in the tombs of Egypt and they were also known to the American Indians. In the days before most of the population

Meyville Woman Burned To Death

Mrs. Minnie Wise Kidder, 68, of Meyville, died at Hayswood Hospital about 24 hours after suffering extensive burns over the greater part of her body. Mrs. Kidder's clothing was ignited while she was using gasoline to clean the floor in the newly installed bathroom of her home. A bottle of gasoline ignited from a water heater and Mrs. Kidder apparently tried to carry the burning fluid out of the house. Her clothing caught fire before she reached the kitchen door.

could write, marionettes were used to portray the story of the Bible. The name marionette originally came from "Little Mary." Ordinarily, figures which are operated by hand are called puppets while those operated by strings are called marionettes. Mr. Young now has around 80 marionettes which include characters which extend all the way from Shakespeare to Jazz. Some puppets are made to be beautiful, some to be grotesque, and some are made to be clever, and some are made to be amusing. The variety show will include some from each.

Kiwanis Sponsor Morehead Sextette

The Morehead College Sextette, under the direction of LeRoy Well, which has made many appearances before Kentucky audiences, is scheduled to appear at the annual International meeting of Kiwanis in Miami, Fla. The trip came about as a result of Mr. Joe Asher, LI, Governor of the Kiwanis for this area, who heard the sextette sing at Hazard. He suggested that the sextette sing at the International and the necessary plans were made. The sextette is being sponsored by the Morehead Kiwanis. While in Miami, they are to sing for the 35th annual convention of the Kiwanis which will be held at the Miami Beach Hotel which takes place from May 7 to 11. The group will probably leave Miami in time to sing on a variety program Sunday. The following Tuesday night the sextette will appear at a banquet and on Wednesday they will sing for the convention. They will then leave the city to arrive in Morehead Friday.

Elementary Teachers Are In Demand

Survey Shows More Than Enough For High Schools

Graduates trained for elementary school teaching will find employment opportunities in every state this year while those qualified on the secondary level will run into a highly competitive situation, the Trail Blazer, student publication of Morehead State College said this week.

The article said that last year only one student completed training for elementary teaching for every three who were needed this year and predicted this shortage will remain acute. But, there was an oversupply in the high school field.

The school paper amplified its survey in this manner: The need for teachers in elementary schools will continue to increase over the next several years, according to a recent study by the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics. The number of elementary school teachers will probably rise sharply for the next 7 years in most States and then level off. The number of elementary teaching positions will therefore increase considerably, perhaps by more than 500,000 in the next 7 years. The number of new teachers required annually will be greatly outstripped, the year when the sharpest decline in enrollments is expected.

Many more new teachers are required each year as enrollments than for new positions, even in the current period of rapid growth in elementary school population. On the basis of a conservative rate of 1 percent, it is estimated that over half a million elementary teachers will be required in the next 10 years to replace those who die, retire or leave the classroom. A sizeable number will be needed to replace some of the persons now teaching on emergency certificates.

The number of young people taking training for elementary teaching will depend, in the future as in the past, chiefly on the other employment opportunities available and the relative salaries offered. General economic conditions should become less favorable and there should be considerable unemployment; the supply of elementary teachers might become such that keen competition would develop.

Strong competition for high school teaching positions is expected in the country as a whole for the next few years at least. However, the distribution of teachers both locally and by subject field is such that some schools suffer shortages while others have many applicants for each job. With few exceptions, shortages are now limited to rural areas and such special subject fields as home economics.

The greatest oversupply in most states is in the social, physical education, the men's sciences, and English. It is likely that education and experience requirements will be raised in line with the present trend. Students taking training for high school teaching should plan to get master's degree in order to qualify for the best employment opportunities.

Enrollments in grades 9 to 12 are expected to decline until about 1952. Therefore, the need for high school teachers will be covered largely by replacements for the next few years. After 1952, enrollments will probably rise slowly for the following 3 years and then increase rapidly into the 1950's. Over the 1950 decade, close to 85,000 new teachers may be needed to handle increased enrollments. In addition from 17,000 to 20,000 replacements may be required each year during the 1950's. However, unless high school enrollments are considerably greater than seems probable on the basis of past trends, a training gap as high as that in 1948 would continue to produce an oversupply of secondary school teachers even in the years of greatest need.

Cattle Show At Flemingsburg Set For August 18

Commissioner of Agriculture Harry F. Walters today announced distribution of $14,000 in prize money at eleven beef cattle, hog and dairy shows under 4-H and FFA sponsorship this year—an increase of $9,000 in prize money since he took office in 1948 when only one annual show was being held. Walters pointed out that $3,000 had been allocated for the 4-H and FFA Big State Beef Show to be held at Bourbon Stockyards, Louisville, November 15, 16 and 17. Last year this allowance was $5,000.

In addition, Walters announced that there will be six Dairy Shows—to which he has allocated $6,000 in prize money—this year compared with $14,000 last year. Last year there were five such shows, this year's new one to be held at Williamson, August 24. Other District Dairy Shows will be held at Mayfield, August 14; Bowling Green, August 15; Campbellsville, August 16; Shelbyville, August 17; a 4-H Flemingsburg, August 18, these having been initiated in 1948.

In addition Mr. Walters allocated $500 each for the following new shows not previously held: A 4-H and FFA Baby Beef

Navy Has Solution For Pest Hitchhikers

High brass and government officials set Jacksonville, Fla., Friday in a specially equipped oceanic airplane.

Their co-passengers were 25-050 fleas, bedbugs, roaches, and mosquitoes.

The object: To test an automatic aircraft disinfection device.

The swarms of pests were released in flight to attack the big shots as they set off. Then the pilot pressed a button, 20 nozzles squirted out insecticide and the bugs died.

The Navy thinks it has the answer to pests (insect type) hitchhiking their way in from foreign countries.

Show at Princeton and a similar show at London next October, the specific dates to be announced later.

A 4-H and FFA Hog Show will be held at Bradwell in March 1951.

A Dairy show to be held at Somerset, August 22.

Details of the shows were worked out by Mr. Walters, J. Whitehouse, State 4-H Leader; Jerry Montgomery, Lancaster, of the FFA staff, and Assistant Commissioner of Agriculture John I. Anderson.

Kentucky Farm Land Values Off 3.4%

(By Adrian Raser (Rowan County Agent))

According to the department of Farm Economics of the College of Agriculture, farm land values in Kentucky have decreased 3.4 per cent since March 1949. This decrease has followed a similar trend in cash income reported by tobacco.

The Kentucky Bankers' Association has announced it will hold a series of meetings on selected farms similar to the one held in this county on the farm of Harvey McCreary last year.

The nearest one to this section will be held in Clark County on May 22, with the purpose of providing bankers of this part of the state with information on sound farm management practices to be used as a basis of farm credit.

Church Receives Citation

The dinner meeting was part of the 13th annual rural leadership institute being held at the University, April 16, 20. Dr. Ralph J. Ramsey, field agent in rural sociology, has been instrumental in conducting the institute.

Organization Delayed

Mrs. Jones and the agent had planned to organize the community 4-H Club at Diney School on Friday, April 21, but a number of the pupils were absent.

Census-Taker Finds Them All At Home

The census taker will start work at Sing Sing prison this week and for him it will be a breeze. Everybody will be home.

He won't have to count noses because Warden William Conyer knows there are 1,824 prisoners. He won't have to ask questions either, as all the necessary data is contained in prison files.

"I doubt that the enumerator will have to interview the prisoners personally," said Joseph A. Nowicki, census supervisor of the 27th Congressional district.

Mt. Sterling Liquor Dealer Slays Negro

A Mt. Sterling liquor store proprietor was charged with murder and held to the grand jury this week shortly after he voluntarily surrendered to police and announced that he had killed a man in his store.

Police Chief J. W. Scott said the charge was filed against Oliver P. (D) Henry, 32, who posted $5,000 bond and was released pending action of the grand jury, now in session.

According to the police chief, Henry told this story:

Ernest Carrington, Negro, about 50, coming stagelove, entered Henry's liquor store dispensary on South Bank Street about 4:30 p. m. and created a disturbance while Henry was talking to two other customers. When the other customers left, Carrington told Henry he wanted a pint of whiskey but did not have the money to pay for it.

Henry, the police chief related, told Carrington he could not sell liquor on credit and refused to let him have it. Carrington then cursed Henry, the store operator, and started toward him, brandishing a heavy cane.

Henry, the store operator, in handling him, was "going to have some whiskey."

Henry said he reached under the counter, pulled out an old Army model .45-caliber revolver and fired one shot at Carrington. The bullet struck Carrington between the eyes, killing him instantly.

Cranston Farmer To Carry Out Conservation Plan

By John D. Alexander

John C. Thornsbury, Cranston community, is planning to carry out a conservation plan on his farm. His first step toward a complete soil and water conservation plan was setting aside and severely eroded land to trees. Mr. Thornsbury set 2,000 pine and 1,000 locust trees this spring and is also establishing improved pastures and meadows.

Gordon Lewis, Smith community, is seeding an old pasture field to Sudan grass this spring for temporary pasture. The Sudan grass will be grazed off this summer then the field will be disked and seeded to fescue this fall. This will enable Gordon to have additional pasture this summer and also have a better seedbed for his pasture seeding this fall. By seeding the fescue in the fall he will increase his view starting at 7 o'clock.

chances of a good stand as the fescue will become established while there is no competition from weeds.

Wheeler Epperhart, Little Bushy community, is preparing a seedbed on pasture fields this spring and seeding to lespedeza. He will clear the land this fall and seed to fescue.

Bartrum Holbrook seeded fescue last spring on steep, eroded banks and the stand failed because of weed competition and a lack of moisture during the hot, dry summer months. Bartrum said he would not seed fescue again in the spring. Instead he is seeding the field to soybeans.

Adkins, Dickerson To Plead At Clearfield

Rev. Clavis Adkins and Rev. Fred Dickerson of Elliott Community will be the speakers of April Free Will Baptist Church at Clearfield Saturday evening. An invitation has been extended to the public to attend this special service starting at 7 o'clock.

Feather-bedding scheme of Firemen's Union to put an additional fireman on diesel locomotives has been REJECTED!

Fact Finding Boards appointed by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman have said these demands were "devoid of merit" and they were REJECTED!

Now the Firemen's leaders seek to paralyze railroad transportation to compel the railroads to employ a wholly unnecessary additional fireman to ride on diesel locomotives. This scheme is plain REJECTED!

LEADERS of the Firemen's union have called a nationwide strike starting with four great railroads on April 28. These railroads are the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Santa Fe, and Southern.

The union claim that a second fireman is needed on grounds of safety is sheer hypocrisy. Safety has been dragged into this dispute only in an unsuccessful effort to give a cloak of respectability to vicious feather-bedding demands.

After a careful study of the first demands of this union, a Presidential Fact Finding Board on May 21, 1949, reported to President Roosevelt that there was no need for an extra fireman on diesel locomotives.

Again, on September 19, 1949, after a second hearing on the union leaders' demands, a second Board reported to President Truman that: "There presently exists no need for an additional fireman - upon either the ground of safety or that of efficiency and economy of operation."

"The Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good..."

PRESIDENTIAL FACT FINDING BOARD REPORT

Read these excerpts from official reports of Presidential Fact Finding Boards:

"The safety record of Diesels is outstandingly good, and it follows that the safety rules now applicable have produced good results."

"The safety and on-time performance of Diesel-electric locomotives operated under current rules indicates that Diesel-electric operation has been safer than steam locomotive operation."

Remember! These are not statements of the railroads. They are just a few of the many similar conclusions reached by President Truman's Fact Finding Board which spent months investigating the claims of the union leaders.

Extra fireman is needed for "safety" reasons. Here's what the Board had to say on that point:

"The safety and on-time performance of diesel electric locomotives operated under current rules has been notably good..."

"Upon careful analysis of the data submitted on safety, we have concluded that no valid reasons have been shown as a support for the Brotherhood proposal under which a fireman would be required to be at all times continuously in the cab of road diesels. The proposal must be rejected."

The real reason behind these demands is that the union leaders are trying to make jobs where there is no work. In other words, a plain case of "feather-bedding". The railroads have no intention of yielding to these wasteful make-work demands.

EASTERN SOUTHEASTERN WESTERN RAILROADS

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk to you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.

Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good

Although the railroads accepted the Board findings, the union leaders have brazenly rejected them. They represent that an

State Department Moves To Halt Fraud In Sale Of Baby Chicks In Kentucky

The State Department of Agriculture is strongly enforcing the laws governing the hatching and selling of baby chicks. A state law requires all chicks sold must be from flocks that have less than 2 per cent pullorum reactors. The Agriculture field agents are checking with all hatcheries and dealers to make certain they are abiding by this law and have a state permit to sell baby chicks. Violators of the law are given a chance to meet this requirement or discontinue business. The Department wishes to warn all chick buyers to make their purchases from those having a state permit.

Motor Bike Law Hits Youngsters Under 16 Years

After July 31, 1950 it will be illegal for any under 16 years of age to operate a motor bike or motor scooter in Kentucky. This was pointed out by Paul Boyd, supervisor of Operators License Section, Department of Revenue in calling attention to changes in Kentucky's motor vehicle operators license laws made by the 1950 session of the Legislature.

The former provision for a special license to operate motor bikes and scooters by those under 16 years of age has been repealed. 16 years or older must obtain a regular operators license, good for operating any motor vehicle.

Another major change in the operators license law was the elimination of the free election privilege for licenses of military personnel. This was also repealed by the 1950 Legislature when the war emergency was declared ended as far as the Commonwealth of Kentucky is concerned.

Therefore it will be necessary for Kentuckians who are former of the armed forces to secure the regular operators license if they wish to drive in the state after August 1, 1950.

Reed Lectures About Status Of Flora In Kentucky

Dr. Clyde F. Reed, of the Science Department of MSC, lectured to the members of the Beta Chi Gamma Club on April 18, concerning the status of the flora of Kentucky. Since the only State Plant Collection of any size was destroyed in 1948 at the University of Kentucky by fire, Dr. Reed has been building up an extensive collection of the plants of Kentucky. To date he has collected about 19,000 specimens.

There is a small herbarium here at Morehead, but the more extensive collections of the Reed Herbarium being housed in his private herbarium, which contains over 80,000 specimens for all parts of the world.

As more specimens are collected, it is hoped that a Flora of Kentucky can be written, since none has ever been written for this State.

Wildfire Is Costly To Growers

Enters Pores Of Plant Through Leaf And Is Picked Up By Sap

By Adrian Razor

Probably one of the most costly diseases of tobacco plant beds is that known as wildfire and angular leaf spot. This soil borne disease has caused extensive damage to tobacco crops in Rowan County and throughout the state.

The organism causing wildfire harbors in the soil and enters the plant through the pores of the leaf where it is picked up by the internal sap and carried throughout.

out, poisoning the whole plant. For this reason, it is too late to do much to stop wildfire after it has appeared, since the plant is already affected.

However, by applying a mixture of blue stone lime and water, a coating is formed on the soil and plant leaf surfaces which prevents the movement and passage of these organisms causing the infection. Blue stone lime is mixed as follows: Take three pounds of blue stone, four pounds of lime and mix the blue stone in three or four gallons of water and mix the lime in another container in about four gallons of water. Fill a clean 50-gallon barrel to full with water and pour in the lime paste and stir well. Then while stirring, add the blue stone solution slowly.

After this mixture has been thoroughly stirred and mixed, add enough water to make 50 gallons in the barrel and stir well again.

A common two or three gallon sprinker can be used to apply the solution to the bed. It is not necessary to move the canvas, just sprinkle it through the canvas on the bed. Be sure and stir the mixture in the barrel well each time a sprinkling can is filled. This amount of solution will treat 200 feet of bed 9 feet wide, or 150 feet of bed 12 feet wide. If a farmer has only 100 feet of bed to treat, he would only have to use 1 1/2 pounds of blue stone, two pounds of lime and 25 gallons of water for his first treatment.

It is very necessary that the bed be treated twice. The first treatment should be applied when the plants are forming their first true leaves and the second treatment should be applied ten days later. Sometimes the second spray is neglected and as a result the control has not been completed. If there are any weeds in the bed at the time the application is made, these weeds should be taken out before the blue stone lime mixture is applied. It pays to cut these weeds rather than pulling them out of the ground. Caution: Blue stone lime does not injure plants, so don't wash it off. Also, do not mix ammonium nitrate or nitrate of soda with this solution, since either one of these will cause extensive burning of the plants. If further information is desired, contact the Agent or call at the County Extension office.

Hobart Curtis was telling us out at the Sharkey meeting that he had two beds last year and used blue stone lime on one, but did not put it on the other. He said that the bed that he treated produced a nice bunch of plants, while the other was practically a loss.

Infected plants should not be set in the field with clean plants since wildfire will spread from one plant to another.

On April 11, the submarine service observer its fiftieth anniversary. The celebration was of particular significance in view of the fact that the submarine is now considered to be the Navy's "top weapon" of defense. On April 11, 1909 a migrant Irish schoolmaster, John Holland, became the first pioneer in submarine development to see his craft accepted by the Navy. Forerunner of today's submersible, its 34-foot hull displaced only 74 tons.
