County Bells To Ring Next Tuesday

Rowan to Join in Freedom Crusade Program; Local Quota Exceeded

Church and school bells in Rowan County will ring Tuesday morning—joining the weekly Crusade for Freedom. Bishop H. Hodge, Rowan chairman of the Crusade, is asking that all bells be rung in the county. At the same time the Freedom Bell will ring for the first time and will be broadcast by radio all over the world.

Hodge also announced that 1,250 persons signed the Freedom Crusade Scroll in Rowan county, 250 over the quota.

On Oct. 11 m. Tuesday there will be a ceremony in the courthouse at which prayers will be offered, the courthouse bell will join with others in the county three miles later.

Radio networks CBS, NBC and ABC will carry ceremonies at the same time from Berlin.

Nation's Sale Of Autos Is Tapering Off

Car sales, which have been breaking records for many months, show signs of slowing down.

The tapering off has been felt in both new and used vehicles. Some industry analysts attribute it to the new credit controls. Others say it results from a buyer's inclination to wait for new models, most of which are still to come.

Both these influences may have combined with a normal seasonal sag. Only in times of extreme shortages does late year demand come anywhere near matching that of June, July and August.

Some of the mid-range models, of course, topped that of any previous period in industry history.

The current decline has been only a moderate one. There still is more than normal demand in deliveries of the more popular models.

Most industry analysts are convinced the biggest factor in continuing down the road is the announcement of new models of those makes that represent about 80 to 90 per cent of all cars bought. These include Ford and Mercury, Studebaker, all the General Motors and all the Chrysler models.

Some industry sources look for a further tightening of credit restrictions, particularly on the purchase of used cars. These sources will see a sharp drop in the time payment limit on used cars cut from the present 21 months to 18.

If the change is made, trade groups expect it will come some time in November.

Grain Markets Weaken Under Slow Demand

Grain markets turned weaker and prices declined moderately during the week ended October 18, reports to the Kentucky and United States Departments of Agriculture indicate. Wheat declined 2 to 4 cents per bushel, influenced by relatively large supplies, a light export demand and competition from Russian grain in European markets. Corn prices were barely affected, despite frost damage in some portions of the belt and a reduction in millers' purchases in production estimates.

Plentiful supplies of old crop grain are a weakening factor. Little change occurred in the market situation for Rye, Oats, barley and Grain Sorghum, but prices of oil seeds declined further as marketings from the new crop increased.

Voiers Speaker At Annual Meet Of Homemakers

One of the major meetings of the homemakers of Rowan County is scheduled for Thursday, October 26, at the Morehead Methodist Church.

It was previously announced that this meeting would be an event, would be at the Christian Church.

On October 23, the third annual gathering of this type, in "Forward."

Special speakers will be Gus Voiers with the topic "Traveling with a Woman," Kentucky State Homemakers' Association.

A noon luncheon will be served to the homemakers in the basement of the church.

Pensioner Leases $1,800 In Jar

An old-age pensioner who lived in apparent poverty in a one-room cabin at Vanceburg died Sunday and left $1,800 in currency and a mid-stained quilt jar.

The money-filled jar was found under a table after the body of 80-year-old Andrew Jackson Eaton was discovered by a woman neighbor who daily took breakfast to the pensioner.

A coroner's jury decided Eaton died of natural causes. It was estimated he had been dead about eight hours when found.

The money was turned over to County Judge Smith McGill, who will appoint an administrator.

Dewey Says 'I Will Support Eisenhower'

New York Governor Comes Out For President Of Columbia U.

Thomas E. Dewey said flatly this week he would not run for the Columbia University, when Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the republican nomination.

Under circumstances that I can conceive," he said, "will I accept the nomination for president in 1952, and I doubt if there is any possibility the situation would arise thereafter."

The statements were made during an interview on the National Broadcasting Company's "Column One" radio show.

He added that "I don't believe a man should be nominated more than twice for the presidency."

There has been speculation that Dewey, defeated in 1946, and 1948, might have decided to run for re-election as governor with the loss of the 1952 presidential election.

Asked whether he had "any candidate in mind" for the republican nomination in 1952, Dewey replied:

"Well, I don't like little boy we have in New York a very great world figure, the president of Columbia University, the greatest statesman of our history, a fine educator, a man who understands the problems of the world."

He added that "if I should be re-elected governor and have influence with the New York delegation, I would recommend to them that they support Gen. Eisenhower for president if he would accept the draft."

DAV To Receive Charter Tuesday

The official charter will be presented and a full slate of officers elected at the meeting of the organized Rowan County Disabled American Veterans Tuesday, Oct. 24.

The meeting, scheduled to start at 8 p. m. will be at the city hall.

Symbolizes World Hope For Freedom And Lasting Peace

Homemakers clubs in Rowan County have joined thousands all over the nation in making a flag of the United Nations, which symbolizes hope for peace all over the world. The program, which is a world wide project to combat communism.

The story of the United Nations flag begins with the emblem which was prepared by the Presentation Branch of the United States Office of Strategic Services in April 1945, in response to a request for a design for the San Francisco Conference at which the United Nations charter was drafted and approved.

The San Francisco design was a circular representation of the map of the world, extending to the 40th parallel south, and with the 10th meridian west and Greenwich in the lower vertical position.

It is the second part of the first session of the United Nations General Assembly the Secretary-General urged that it was desirable for the Assembly to adopt a design to be the official seal and emblem of the United Nations.

On December 7, 1946, the Assembly approved with slight modifications the San Francisco design. This emblem was described as a map of the world representing an essential equality of the hemisphere, from left to right, Mrs. Calvin Hunt, Mrs. Dean Corrie, Mrs. Oscar Patrick, Mrs. Charles Apel, Mrs. C. E. Bishop, Mrs. Fiera May and Mrs. Evelyn Sinclair.

Overconfident Eagle Team Is Upset

Field Goal In Waning Minutes Gives Western 23-21 Victory Saturday

An overconfident Morehead football team, playing tirelessly and unable to generate a running attack, was upset at Jayne Stadium Saturday afternoon by a spirited Western team.

Larry Gilbert kicked a perfect 16 yard field goal in the last three minutes of play to give Western a 23-21 victory. The defeat dropped Morehead from first place in the Ohio Valley Conference and installed undefeated Murray as a prime favorite for the crown.

The game was one of the year's major upsets as Morehead entered the fray a six touch-down favorite. The two teams were evenly matched.

Murray Takes Over Ohio Valley Leadership

Ohio Valley Conference standing table

W. L. T.
Murray	3 0 0
Morehead	2 1 0
Eastern	2 1 0
Marshall	1 1 1
Western	1 1 1
Evansville	0 1 0
Tennessee Tech	0 1 0

had previously met common foes with these results: Morehead beat Marshall 51-6 and Marshall defeated Western 24-13. Morehead ran over Evansville 50-0 while Western and the Purple Aces played to a 7-7 tie.

Western was definitely "up" by this game and uncovered a ground gaining attack, sparked by Sammy Short, which drilled a victory for the Hilltoppers.

Although Western had matched all week against Morehead's passing attack they were unable to fully halt Charley Porter, Dorky Kirtley, and Company.

Morehead's three touchdowns were all by pass. The first score was a pass from Porter to Kirtley who lateraled to Jim Carter. This play covered 75 yards and resulted in a touchdown. Eagles might be off to an easy romp.

Western retaliated a ground attack that kept Morehead's line reeling. They drove 60 yards with John Souder's going over from the 4 yard line. Wing kicked all three extra points for Morehead while Western missed after their first touchdown and the Eagles led 7-0 at the half.

Morehead made it 14-0 in the third quarter when Porter passed 13 yards to Bob Pliska. The Hilltoppers bounced right back with their ground attack and the score was 14-13 after Roy Hiest scored. Morehead moved into front 13-13 on another scoring pass from Porter to Kirtley.

This set the stage for Western's great rally. Short carried the ball on most every play as the Bowling Green leads drove for their third touchdown late in the game. The game was tied 13-13. Continued Last Page, This Sec.

Theatre Party Go-ers— Morehead's Trail Theatre was host Thursday at a party and screening of the movie "Stars in My Crown."

Manager Tom Maxson arranged this buffet luncheon in the theatre lobby.

Three-Judge Court To Decide Legality Of Exempting .9 Acre Burley Producers

The legality of a government regulation exempting burley allotment of .9 of an acre or less from any general reduction in acreage effected is now before a three-judge federal court.

The issue, long a point of argument among burley growers, was taken under submission by the court after the judges heard arguments in a case brought by Audine J. Lee, a Scott county producer, who challenged the validity of the regulation.

The decision, not expected for several weeks, will be made after the judges have studied the arguments, testimony and briefs heard and read during the hearing at Covington last Wednesday.

The case was heard by Judge John D. Martin, U. S. District Court, Cincinnati, and Judge Shakerford Miller Jr. and Judge John D. Martin, both of the U. S. Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Mrs. Lee filed the suit in U. S. District Court there in April, and it eventually was assigned for a three-judge court hearing in Lexington when the case was called, however, two judges of the three-judge court, Judge H. Church Ford and Mac Swinford, disqualified themselves because they had burley interests.

It was rescheduled for Covington, and the two new judges were named to sit with Judge Miller, who had been assigned to the hearing.

Mrs. Lee sued state Production and Marketing Administration and Marketing members and

Eagles Meet Middle Tennessee Saturday

Ellis Johnson's Morehead eagles will attempt to hit the comeback trail Saturday afternoon at Murfreesboro, Tenn. when they tangle with Middle Tennessee State.

The following Saturday, Oct. 26, they meet Eastern at Jayne Stadium in the annual homecoming game and close their season November 4 against Murray at Murray.

Mrs. Mayhall To Head March Of Dimes Drive

March of Dimes workers from Rowan County met in Ashland Wednesday night to lay plans for the annual drive to raise funds for the fight against polio.

The local group confers with representatives from Boyd, Greenup, Elliott, Lawrence, Lewis, Fleming, Morgan and Carter counties. The meeting was one of 11 which are being held in Kentucky during the next three weeks.

Harry W. Cooke, Harrodsburg, State March of Dimes chairman, spoke at the dinner meeting which was attended by more than 60 persons, according to Mrs. C. C. Mayhall, Rowan county representative of the Kentucky chapter.

The group heard a report concerning the activities of the Kentucky chapter in caring for nearly 1,600 polio victims during 1950, one-third of whom were stricken this year. The workers were also familiarized with advertising material which is to be used in the 1951 fund-raising drive. The drive will run from January 15 through January 31.

Father Of Mrs. Sam Denny Is Claimed

Nelson Gillispie, 83, retired farmer, died at his home near North Middletown in Bourbon County Tuesday morning, Oct. 12 after a long illness.

He was the father of Mrs. J. W. Bailey, Wheelwright, and of Henry T. Tull, Bourbon County, and Mrs. Sam Denny, Morehead.

Funeral services were conducted at the North Middletown Christian Church Saturday by Rev. Fred L. Gardner with Rev. F. M. Tindler and Rev. John W. Jones, assisting. Interment was in the North Middletown cemetery.

Thieves Should Have Looked Inside Car

John Edwards, 35, asleep in the back seat of his car near Philadelphia, felt himself being lifted in the air.

He didn't think he was dreaming—and he wasn't.

Two men, seeking two tires to replace a pair blown out, Edwards' car had jacked up. Edwards and arrested the two men on attempted burglary charges.

Edwards jumped out of his car and a fight began. Police arrived and arrested the two men.

Republicans Meet Friday Evening

An important Republican organization meeting is scheduled at the courthouse in Rowan County this Friday evening at 7:30.

In announcing the gathering, county chairman C. Z. Bruce urged every Republican to come and bring their friends.

Conduct Last Rites For F. A. Littleton, 82

Pioneer Citizen Is Survived By 9 Children, 104 Grandchildren

Funeral services were conducted Sunday at the Christian Baptist Church for Fanteley Aaron Littleton, 82-year-old native pioneer citizen of Rowan County.

Mr. Littleton, born February 16, 1868, died last Thursday at his home, a son, Archie Littleton on Clearfork.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Able Tackett, Kelly Profit and a son, Charlie Littleton. Interment was in the Sardis cemetery.

He was a farmer all his life until poor health forced him to retire about two years ago.

On October 16, 1890 Mr. Littleton married Ida V. Hamm and she bore the parents of 14 children of whom the following eight survive: Mrs. Vreda Brown, Mrs. F. F. Palmouth, L. Littleton, Arch Littleton, and Mrs. Rosa Tackett, RFD 2, Morehead; Archie Littleton, RFD 1, Aberdeen, Ohio; Preston Littleton, Chester Littleton and Elwood Littleton, Goddard, Ky.

His first wife passed away on August 12, 1902. He was married to her 27 years ago.

Mr. Littleton is also survived by 10 children and 104 great grandchildren and 49 great granddaughters.

Arrangements were under the direction of the Lane Funeral Home.

Fugitives Are Nabbed On Morehead Road

A wild chase through Fleming county late Thursday night ended about two miles from the city on the Morehead road when a car containing the fugitives overturned and the trio were captured by Patrolman Jim Pinson. Patrolman Pinson who was on duty near the city limit on the road at a high rate of speed and gave chase. The fugitives tried to run down a fence on the road as they were leaving the city toward Morehead but they were stopped by the fence and overturned and the trio were captured by Patrolman Jim Pinson.

He called Chief of Police Bruce Pratt and Patrolman Frazee Story to the scene of the accident and the three men were taken into custody. The fugitives were Jimmy Workman, 20, of Cincinnati, Johnny Doolin, 19, of Lexington, and a man from Fleming County, Yazel and Workman whose identity injured in the crash.

Upon being taken to Haywood hospital, Yazel was taken into custody by Brown County authorities on charges of having slashed the throat of Burt Ruggles, proprietor of the Bay Horse Tavern at Aberdeen earlier this year. Yazel was arrested on charges of drunken driving and he and Workman were held in jail.

Yazel was on bond on a charge of cattle stealing. Yazel was held in jail at Morehead until the Greenlade Reformatory.

Clifton Depree Ross Died In Middletown

Clifton Depree Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loui Ross, passed away Sunday, October 8 in the home of his parents in Middletown.

Funeral services were held from the home of his parents on the afternoon of October 11 with Rev. F. C. Williams officiating.

Burial was in the Leathertown cemetery. Arrangements were under the direction of the Lane Funeral Home.

Man Gets Life As Habitual Criminal

The habitual criminal arrested last week in the case of Curtis Coates and Pete Parker was given life imprisonment.

Coates served two prison sentences and was convicted last week for false swearing. Parker was given two prison sentences for stealing chickens and wounding with intent to kill.

Silver Star Awarded To Ward Owens

America's third highest award for gallantry in action, the Silver Star Medal, has been conferred upon a Morehead combat engineer of the 1st Cavalry Division in Korea.

Corporal Ward E. Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Owens, Route 1, received the decoration from Capt. J. W. Tackett, commander, Major General Robert R. Gray, in recognition of his extraordinary bravery in face of enemy fire during the battle of Yongdong early in the Korean war.

Cpl. Owens volunteered to remain in exposed position under enemy artillery and mortar fire throughout the night to operate a chain mine anti-tank attack. When one enemy tank was destroyed, he and a comrade disregarded their own personal safety to attack the tank with hand grenades, silencing its guns and killing its crew.

Cpl. Owens' outstanding heroism on this occasion reflects great credit upon himself as an individual and in keeping with the high traditions of the military service of which he is a part.

This Is Probably The World's Greatest Transition Period

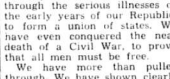

The one point upon which almost all are in accord is that we are in one of the great transition periods of world history. To face the problems of today requires clear thinking and calm judgment, self-control and mental poise. We must meet this challenge as it is, immaturity is there, but it is not a failure. No longer for us is there a permitted immaturity and a sole science.

Ray White We are not a nation of children. We are a nation of young men and women. In what a nation in a small span of time, we have accomplished much. We have proven beyond a doubt the worth of that brotherhood which is democracy. We have struggled through the serious illnesses of the early years of our Republic to form a union of states. We have even conquered the near death of a Civil War, to prove that all men must be free.

We have more than pulled through. We have shown clearly that the ideas of youth were practical, that the dreams of youth of a world in which all men were free, could be fulfilled. We have demonstrated that our way of life could give to all classes, all creeds, all conditions of people a better opportunity to develop to the full stature of a free man than they could obtain under any other form of government.

This we have done with the impetuosity, though often faulted with the clumsy stumbling-of youth. Revolution, change about the face of the earth, the impetuosity of youth. A stable and enduring peace, however, requires reasoned and seasoned judgment to maintain it. If we are to take the leading role in the council of free nations, we must do so not by force but by virtue of calm, collected thought. In short we must be emotionally mature.

We must not be swayed by our prejudices, played upon by demagogues, either of the left or of the right. This does not mean that we must descend into the realm of the realistic call "practical thinking." That is not what we must do. We must use the yardstick of our ideals to temper our emotions. We must not be swayed by our own opinions, confident by virtue of our experience, that a world in which no man need fear because of his beliefs, his faith, or his ancestry.

Ray White

Ray White To the voters of Educational District No. 5, consisting of the following precincts: No. 6 Little Brushy, No. 10 Morehead, No. 29 Big Brushy, and No. 21 Morehead.

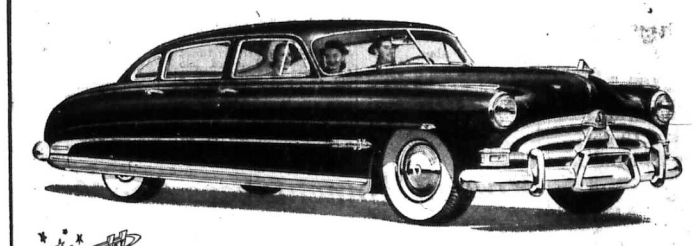

I am using this means of public announcement to the voters of Educational District No. 5 my candidacy for member of the Board of Education representing that district. On my record as a citizen of this county, my record of teaching school for seven years, my record as a member of the Board of Education, my record as a minister and on my record as business I submit to the electorate my name as a candidate. I have no axes to grind; I am not obligated, pledged or committed to any person, group or faction in any manner whatsoever. On the contrary, I am seeking this office as an Independent, free of domination or pressure or prejudice from any one and now pledge to the people of my district and county that if I am elected I will serve them to the best of my ability by devoting my time and energies, as best I am able, to help our county have a better school system and to give to our teachers and our citizens of tomorrow a greater opportunity and the chance to which they are entitled. I am a life long resident of this county; my children have been reared and educated in this county and I have a very particular interest in seeing our county advance with the others.

At a later date I will announce a platform in detail, outlining a program for which I will stand if elected. In the meantime I am asking you to give me your consideration and may I assure you that if elected, you will have a member of the Board of Education, who believes in education and betterment of our educational system.

Sincerely,
Ray L. White

I Will Do Everything I Can To Make Our School System Better---Curt Lewis

To the voters of Educational Division No. 1, including precincts No. 1, 4, 9, 17 and 18. During the past eight years the citizens of this Division have been ably represented on the Board of Education by Mr. Ora James, my friend and neighbor. Due to a prolonged illness Mr. James is unable to continue his service to you and your children. It is now necessary to elect a successor to this capable and unselfish public servant. I sincerely hope that you, through your votes, will allow me to assume the service to you which Mr. James is no longer able to carry. I was educated in the Public Schools of Rowan County and my children are now enrolled in these schools. As a father, my interests are for the welfare of my children and yours, before all other considerations. As a taxpayer, I am interested in securing for our schools full value for every dollar of tax money that is spent. As a citizen of Rowan County I take great pride in our schools and am anxious for them to be as good as those provided for children anywhere in Kentucky.

If you elect me to the Board of Education I shall do everything within my power to aid your superintendent and teachers in making our school program better and better. I shall work tirelessly to provide better bus services on existing routes and to establish new routes where needed; to provide additional classrooms where needed to relieve overcrowded conditions; to secure the best qualified teacher available for each and every classroom in our county; to aid and encourage the expansion of the school lunch program and the veterans' farm training program; and to continue the policy of an efficient and economical financial program for our school business.

I shall make no secret promises or pledges for the benefit of any individual. I do pledge to support our present superintendent so long as his services are satisfactory and for the best interests of our school children. Nothing, except fitness for the job, will govern me in voting for or against the employment of any person for a school position. I earnestly solicit your support and your votes at the General Election on November 7th. Ask for your school ballot and vote for me for Board of Education. Yours, Curt E. Lewis

We Should Continue The Progress Already Made Is Chester Kiser's Platform

To the voters of Educational Division No. 5, including precincts No. 6, 10, 20 and 21. It has been my privilege to serve you as Member of the County Board of Education during the past five years. In seeking re-election of this office, I wish to base my campaign on the record of your Board of Education during this period. Ever since the Board of Education during this time is a matter of public record and subject to your inspection at any time. You are invited to examine this record in deciding whether or not I should be privileged to continue to serve you as a Member of the County School Board.

During the past five years the Schools of Rowan County have been faced with the many problems of the post war period. Teacher shortages, rising prices, overcrowded buildings and overloaded school buses have caused many problems. In the main these problems have been met and alleviated if not completely solved. I should like to point out a few of the major items of progress in the County Schools during this period:

1. The qualifications and training of our teachers have steadily improved since 1946 to the extent that the average teacher in Rowan County, today, is better qualified than ever before. All teachers are now employed for a full nine-month term and salaries have increased an average of $50 per year.
2. School bus service has been improved and expanded such that over several hundred school children are transported daily in safe and comfortable buses.
3. School buildings in Rowan County are now being maintained in excellent condition. Repairs which had to be postponed during the War have been completed and many new classrooms have been added to care for increased enrollments. Additional buildings will be constructed as funds per-

A school lunch program has been organized in cooperation with parent groups and about 950 children are receiving low cost, well balanced, hot lunches each day. This service is available to about 1200 other pupils if they care to take advantage of this program.

The Veterans' Farm Training Program was organized in 1946 through the efforts of your Superintendent and Board of Education. All of Rowan County's veteran farmers have an opportunity for this training. In the four years the program has been under way the farm income of Rowan County has been increased by more than a half million dollars.

4. The Finance of your Board of Education has been handled on a sound and economical basis.
5. The State Department of Education has consistently praised your Superintendent and Board on the matter in which they have cared for the business of the schools.

If you re-elect me as a Member of your Board of Education I shall do all in my power to continue the progress being made by our schools and will do nothing which will injure or retard the growth of a better program of education for all of Rowan County's children. Your vote and support will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
Chester Kiser

The 1950 traffic death toll may reach 36,000, the highest since the record year of 1941, according to present predictions by the National Safety Council. Up to '50, up 11 per cent from last year, with little indications that the traffic toll can be reduced in 1950 for the fourth consecutive year.

The Nation's Industries Should Be Scattered Over The U. S.

Some idea of the possible scope of national defense is gathered from the suggestion, made by an official of the city of New York, that the Federal Government must provide two billion dollars for construction of atomic bomb shelters in New York and elsewhere. In the great metropolitan area, the step is proposed, the construction of about a half billion dollars worth of dual purpose shelters and parking areas under parks, playgrounds and buildings.

We can easily understand the concern of those who dwell in the great population centers of atomic bomb attacks is a great menace for these masses of humanity. The enemy bombers, if they come, will attempt to strike our industrial areas, where people have, of necessity, congregated.

If the Federal Government is to expend many billions of dollars for the purpose of constructing atomic bomb shelters, it might be a good idea, before beginning the project, to study what can be done, with the same amount of cash, along the line of dispersing our key industries.

Many of the problems of modern life, which means modern government, have developed as people have crowded together in great cities. Nearly everybody agrees that family life would be improved if we could eliminate some conditions and it may be possible for the government to solve both problems by a well-planned dispersal of industrial plants and workers.

If it is impractical, in view of the immensity of the task, to go into a large-scale dispersal of industry and people, it is necessary, in our opinion, for the Federal Government to assume some of the burden in connection with providing shelters for massed populations.

In spending this huge sum for the benefit of the workers and the Federal Government should not lose sight of the needs that exist in rural and small-town centers. Between one-third and one-half of the nation's population resides in these small-town and rural areas and they deserve equal attention with the commuters who dwell in the marts of commerce and industry.

In discussing this question, we do not overlook the fact that the city of New York, and other industrial areas, would be among the first targets of atomic bomb attacks. Nor would we suggest that the protection of these areas is not justified by their importance to the economy and defense of the country.

The construction of shelters in large cities is imperative but the establishment of housing facilities in relatively safe areas, where some of the city dwellers can find safety in time of attack, is a matter of almost equal importance. Moreover, the proper development of the so-called rural areas and other free country is being postponed because of the urgent needs that exist in connection with our metropolitan centers.

Disension On The Court Is Not Conducive To Good Service

When the members of the present Rowan County Fiscal Court assumed office the Rowan County News editorially said "this is an outstanding fiscal court... composed of qualified and conscientious men."

We hope it will be unnecessary to withdraw this comment, but there is growing indication that the members may be letting their perspective of the district they represent overshadow the county needs as a whole.

There seems no question but that the members are questioning the need for the same worthy goal... that of getting as much done, particularly on roads, as the available funds allow. But, suspicion has apparently arisen in the court.

An example is the Dry Creek road to be constructed on two cent money. This road was up before the present court and it is one of the most needed projects in the county... and its completion will open the way for other needed permanent improvements can be made. After all, on a project involving two cent money, the state makes the decisions and the Dry Creek project was surveyed months ago.

Disputes and dissensions make it that much more difficult to obtain roads in the county. There are 120 counties in the state and all are seeking improvements as we are.

But, there is one bright spot in the picture. Judge Green and the members are all interested in public improvements and there is nothing why permanent work should not be done. All have the same common goal and they are all men deeply interested in this county and its people.

Dawson Has Made Republicans A Poor Candidate

There is mounting evidence all over Kentucky that Republicans are leaving their nominee for United States Senator and unless the trend in this election is changed Governor Clements despite some bitterness in the Democratic party, will win by the largest percentage-wise majority ever recorded.

It appears to most observers that Judge Dawson entered this race with a complex that he couldn't win; that he refused the advice of members of his party who know and study Kentucky politics; and that he is using this election to get everything he wants off his chest. He is breathing acid and vinegar and has shown that Bob Taft is a piker when it comes to conservatism.

Republicans are the minority political group in this state, but many thinking leaders of the party were hopeful that Judge Dawson would like advantage of dissension among the Democrats and disaffection over the state administration to make a decent showing and enhance the GOP's chances in next year's important Governor's race. Dawson has not only failed to correct the disgruntled Democrats—he has chased them away from him. But, even more alarming to the Republican leaders, is that he is ruining away members of his own party.

Dawson's latest charge that President Truman should be impeached is so ridiculous that most newspapers in the state haven't used space to discuss it. Surely, Judge Dawson, himself a student of the law and the constitution, knows that impeachment of the President is a last resort... that the chief executive of this nation is elected by the people under the democratic process of which our nation was founded and operates.

Dawson's antics must be causing Republican voters in two congressional districts, the Third and Seventh. The Republicans were given a 50-50 chance to capture the Seventh and it is very heavy that Thurston Morton would retain his seat from Louisville.

It now appears that the Seventh, predominantly labor, will remain Democratic while there is some indication that Dawson might drag Thurston Morton, a liberal Republican, to defeat in Louisville.

Judge Dawson's methods are causing the Democrats to laugh up their sleeves and it is probable that the top-heavy campaign funds the Clements organization has gathered will be partially held over for next year's Governor's race.

Keep trying—at least one day in every seven is lucky.

Children of this generation are hard to understand as a writer. So are their parents.

It Was Probably Jesus Idea That The Lord's Prayer Should Be Used As A Pattern For Our Conversation With God

Our Sunday School Lesson for October 22, 1960.

Memory Selection: "I tell you, ask and it will be given you; seek and you will find; knock and it will be opened to you."
 Luke 11: 9-13; Philippians 1: 3-11

Lesson Text: Matthew 6: 9-13; Luke 11: 9-13; Philippians 1: 3-11

Continuing our studies based on the general theme, "Growing in Christian Living," our lesson for this week implies that the Christian can "grow through prayer." Clement of Alexandria has given us an excellent definition of prayer, when he declares, "Prayer is conversation with God."

In the Sermon on the Mount Jesus gave his hearers many directions for living as citizens of the Kingdom and among them he said, "Pray." He then how to pray. While practically all Christians have memorized the words of what we call the "Lord's Prayer," we do not believe it was Jesus' idea that this prayer was to be a "word-for-word," but as a "pattern" for our conversation with God.

This prayer reveals what Jesus taught about the fatherhood of God when he began saying, "Our Father." He then goes on to summarize what God's children should ask of their Heavenly Father.

First, we are to pray for the coming of God's kingdom. In praying thus, we are to place ourselves in God's hands so that he may use us to help bring his kingdom of justice, truth and loving-kindness on earth. Then, we are to pray for the necessities of life. "Give us this day our daily bread." Knowing that God provides the basic needs of man, Jesus told his disciples that they should not be anxious about food, strength and spiritual growth that they might be able to perform the tasks which God had given them to do. Christians are to think of themselves as God's servants and pray day by day for such bread as is needed for health and strength in his service.

Certainly, all of us need to pray for forgiveness. "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God." We need the forgiveness of God for these sins. However, we might point out that there is a condition which must be met before God promises to forgive our sins. It is, "repentance." We give those who sin against us. Thus we find that God's forgiveness can come only to those who themselves show a transforming spirit.

And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from all evil." If praying is asking for God's moral guidance and deliverance from the temptations of the world, we know that what a source of strength prayer can be in a time of testing. We can be strong enough to overcome any circumstances that try our souls, but with God's help, we can be strong enough to overcome them.

"For This is the Kingdom and the power and the glory forever." It is, reassuring to the children of God to realize that God's kingdom and power and glory are everlasting and that trusting in him, he is able to give us the victory over sin and death. Jesus teaches that God hears and answers the prayers of his servants. It is reassuring to us that we have committed ourselves to him and he has put him first in our lives. We can pray for whatever we need in his service, confident

COOPER, WATKINS SEEN GOP'S BEST BET IN '51 GOVERNOR'S ELECTION

As we noted last week, Kentucky Democrats take the results of this year's Senatorial election as a foregone conclusion. They are sure it's in the bag for Charlie Clements, so considerably ahead in the polls that he is shown in the gubernatorial nomination race.

On the other hand, the Republicans are a long way from being in the Senate race. They are not from being in the Senate race. They are not from being in the Senate race. They are not from being in the Senate race.

Under certain possible conditions, there is a chance that the Democrats would have plenty of trouble beating any Democrat.

There is one other leading possibility at this time—admittedly it's still pretty early in the nomination race. We can pray for whatever we need in his service, confident

Judge John Patton's Name Becomes Legend In Courthouse Circles

I doubt if there is anyone in the Big Sandy Valley who has not heard of Judge John Patton, the Eastern Kentuckian whose name is legend in the courthouse circles of the Big Sandy Valley, a member of the last Cumberland Circuit, who was later served his district as Circuit Judge.

Judge Patton was a tobacco-chewing unconventional son of the hills. He is referred to today as "the old man" because of the "cup that cheers" and his unconventionality in dress and speech were overshadowed by his eloquence that has furnished the inspiration for many a young lawyer over the years and under winter firesides.

Judge Patton whose life, deeds and talents are hailed by the admirers of the old time, was one of the oldsters who were his contemporaries, was the only democrat to have held the office of Governor of this state. His name is a name that has been mentioned in the history of this state.

As we have observed before, John Cooper has some decided liberal support for the Republican nomination for President.

What would be much more likely is that about the Republican support for the Republican nomination for President.

What would be much more likely is that about the Republican support for the Republican nomination for President.

Societ Now Using Radiofication Stations, Loud Speakers

In order to avoid the "propaganda" that comes over the Voice of America, the Soviet satellite nations are resorting to radio without short-wave bands and to "radiofication stations" and loud speakers.

The idea behind the "radiofication" program is the so-called rural areas and other free country to loud speakers that are installed in public places. A single station of this kind, in Rumania, had more than 1,000 loud speakers and can accommodate another 1,500.

In addition, the satellite regimes of Eastern Europe dislike the broadcasts that come from the United States and other free countries. In some of them, it is criminal to repeat what one hears and dangerous to listen.

The political pot is boiling again. As always it is a problem of the country voter to make the city voter behave.

They Were Going To Deal With Matpins, But Changed At The Last Minute.

The Fayette Garden Club took a trip through the southern part of the district last Friday. At their request Supervisor H. L. Borden, and I acted as guide and driver. The members made up the party, and a good time was had by all. The basket lunch was prepared by the members. The picnic tables at the Pine Ridge Recreation Area were set out for the party. Many stated that the scenery was equal to that of the "Smokies" and other well known tourist centers. "See your own State First" is a good slogan to turn out on the hills. A pleasant surprise when followed.

The fall colors were the big attraction last week-end. Coupled with the grand weather, a semi-trip was made on the boat. Jack Frizzell, on duty at the Morehead Triangle Tower, says there were at least a hundred people at that spot last Sunday. Visitors are always welcome anywhere on the Cumberland National Forest. But be sure you don't destroy your own scenery by a careless match or discarded cigarette.

Citizens Eye Flood Walls On Triplet To Halt Flash Floods

A group of forward thinking and civic minded Moreheadians are planning to ask Congress for a survey of Triplet Creek with hopes that flood walls can be constructed to hold back the disastrous "flash" or "rain basin" floods which are becoming more numerous and more destructive.

The heaviest recorded rainfall in the United States was at Morehead on the night of July 4, 1939. The resulting flash flood caused millions of dollars in damage and claimed 25 lives in Rowan County.

Good Passing, Poor Running

The Rowan County News predicted Saturday's football score as Morehead 44; Western 0. The final score was Western 23; Morehead 21.

We have no alibis. But we do have at hand three national rating systems. One picked Morehead by 31 points, another by 36, and the other by 37.

Seems that all "experts" bit the dust on this one. But we're going along with our previous prognostication that the score of this week's game will be Morehead 32, Middle Tennessee 0.

But, unless the Eagles can generate a ground attack to go with Charley Porter's aerial offense, it looks as if the going might be tough from here on.

Every opponent is playing a five man line of defense against us.

Morehead has scored 152 points this season . . . but not a touchdown running the ball.

Ed Hall Doing Good Job At Owensville

Former Morehead Police Chief Ed Hall has gained the praise of Owensville citizens where he is now the Chief. Of Mr. Hall the Owensville News-Outlook recently commented: "Police Chief Hall has very efficiently fitted into his official duties. . . we heartily endorse his vigilant, competent service."

Want Building Named After Dr. Button

There is a move in Morehead to name the student union building to be constructed next year at a cost of over a million dollars after Dr. Frank C. Button, founder of the school. Final decision will likely be left to the Board of Regents but friends and admirers of the late Dr. Button have a mighty strong and sincere talking point.

Politics were really brewing in Morehead a couple weeks ago. . . that is the democrat variety. On Monday Governor Clements, Highway Commissioner John Keek, Banking Commissioner Henry Carter and a half-dozen other administration stalwarts were present. . . Congressman Joe Bates was here that day and Here's an advance hint—look for two or three Morehead leaders to play a major role in next year's state primary.

Amused At 50 Years Progress

In 1900 Boyd Cornett left Farmers, Ky., for Cheyenne, Oklahoma where he later purchased a cattle ranch.

This month, or 50 years later, Mr. Cornett returned for the first time to visit with his sister, Gene Grayson, of Farmers. While here he attended the Harvest Festival and toured most of Morehead.

"Most amazing thing I ever saw," he commented. He was talking about the remarkable growth and progress.

When Mr. Cornett left Rowan County Farmers was a much bigger town than Morehead.

Those Graves Have To Be Regulated

You may have noticed a recent warning from the state department of health that grave diggers in this county are not going the 6 feet required by Kentucky law.

It is later noted that this law is being violated all over the county and the state department of health is planning state-wide action with possible court indictments.

Dealers Ask To Be Regulated

The "wets" and the "drys" in Mason County have informal agreement that if the wets will conduct their places of business properly and close by 10 o'clock each evening another local option election won't be called.

This month 19 to 20 dealers petitioned the city council to adopt an ordinance making them close at 10 o'clock. However, the ordinance is no good, because this is governed by state law which specifies midnight as the closing time.

War Hits Neighbors

When Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dahlberg of Five Points, Wisc., learned that their son had been killed in Korea, John Smelcer, a neighbor, offered to help the Dahlbergs with their having. The next day, Smelcer was informed that his own son, Pfc Richard Smelcer also had died in action in Korea.

This might be a wonderful world with millions of nice people, if men and women would think their own business.

Mayor Proclaims This As Oil Progress Week; Industry Gives Mid-Century Report

Mayor William H. Layne proclaimed October 15 to 21, inclusive, as Morehead Oil Progress Week.

The special week is being set aside, said the mayor's proclamation, in order that oil men who live and work in this community may give a mid-century report to their neighbors on the many ways in which oil men and their progressive industry have served the public in the past and plan to do so in the future.

During the week designated, said the proclamation, citizens engaged either in producing, transporting, refining or marketing petroleum products will cooperate to inform the public about the many ways in which oil men individually and through their industry have contributed to our high standards of living and to the preservation of our democratic freedoms.

Mayor Layne called the attention of all citizens to the many contributions and services which oil men who live and work among us make to the steady advancement of our public, social, business and private lives.

We haven't any idea about a number of things which we need not mention.

HEADS OIL WEEK—Russell Meadows, above, has been named chairman of Rowan and Elliott counties Oil Progress Week which started Monday and continues through Saturday. Purpose of this national week is to acquaint the public of the contribution the Think twice today when you buy a truck!

THAT new truck you're considering may have to last a long time. So you'll be wise to look at a GMC for these important reasons:

GMC's are built by the world's largest exclusive manufacturer of commercial vehicles—with the broadest truck engineering experience.

GMC's are real trucks. Engine, transmission and frame, as well as cab and axles, are all specially truck-built to give you longer service.

GMC truck-built engines have high horsepower with higher sustained torque—greater pulling power. They are built to give extra years of service with less maintenance.

GMC extra-value features include Synchron-Mesh transmission, Tocco-hardened crankshaft, full-pressure lubrication, recirculating ball-bearing steering gear, airplane-type bearings and Lifetime Weathersealed cabs as standard equipment on practically all models from 1/2 ton up.

That's why more truckers are buying GMC's today than ever before—experience proves them best in the long haul!

'Stars In My Crown' Rich In Heart Appeal; Joel McCrea Scores Hit As Fighting Pioneer Minister

Interested In Better Schools, Not Obligated, Debord Says In Announcement

Joel McCrea, Ellen Drew and little Dean Stockwell as they will appear on the Trail screen Sunday in "Stars in My Crown." M-G-M's stirring drama of a two-fisted cavalryman turned preacher, who brings love and laughter to a pioneer community. Alan Hale, Lewis Stone, James Mitchell and Juano Hernandez are others in a fine cast.

forced to bow to the stronger will of the indomitable preacher. Although "Stars in My Crown" has its share of rugged action, it is the atmospheric details of a small, growing village, the homespun humor and the vivid naturalness of characterization which give the picture its warmth and color. There is the glowing sequence, for instance, in which the experienced Uncle Prill and the neophyte John go fishing, or the uproariously funny Medicine Show scenes, or the episode in which Doc Harris removes a fish hook from a young victim, or that in which Josiah backs the town bully into a pool of mud. Then there are the various moments in which old fashioned ballads and folk tunes of the period are sung in choral groups, an authentic as well as charmingly melodic touch.

To the voters of educational district 4, composed of the following precincts: Little Brushy, Big Brushy, Morehead No. 10 and Morehead No. 21.

This is to formally announce as a candidate for the Board of Education at the November 7 election and to give you my background and qualifications for the position I seek.

I am 31 years of age, was born and reared in Rowan county and am the father of five children. I attended the public schools of Rowan County, Halderman High and Morehead High. I also attended Eastern State College at Richmond.

I served in the army during World War II, spending 22 months overseas. For meritorious achievement during the battle of the bulge I was awarded the Bronze Star Medal.

If elected as a member of your Board of Education I shall put forth my greatest effort to help secure the best schools for Rowan county that we can afford. I would like it always to be remembered that I am not obligated to any politician or pressure group.

I believe our teachers should be given first opportunity to qualify for positions that are open in the school system. I am one hundred percent behind the "hot lunch" program.

I believe that the superintendent of the school system should be men and women of high caliber, people who are sober and honest and who are interested in the moral, physical and spiritual welfare of our community and our children.

As a citizen interested in our schools and our children, I respectfully solicit your support.

Respectfully,
Ivan DeBord

"Stars in My Crown," new M-G-M attraction starting at the Trail Theatre Sunday, is a tenderly unfolded, heartwarming story of a small Southern settlement at the close of the Civil War and of a two-fisted preacher who leads the way in making his community a better place to live in.

Joel McCrea enacts Josiah Gray, ex-cavalryman who comes to the little village of Walsburg. He inspires the community to build the first church, marries the pretty organist, Harriet, and becomes a second father to their little ward, John. The parson's steadfast courage and honesty make themselves felt on almost every member of the village and he even wins the intransigent Doc Harris over to his side when he saves the life of the latter's fiancée, Faith, after all the doctor's medical knowledge has failed. Only one man proves stubborn in his resistance to Josiah's precepts of honor and humanity. He is Lon Backett, the town's richest man, who tries to exert his own authority over that of the law, but who in the picture's stirring climax is

Orville Carter Says Rowan County Has Amply Qualified People For Principals

To the voters of educational division number 1 composed of the following precincts: Morehead, Morehead 18, Hogtown, Wagner and Lewis:

I take this opportunity to bring to you, the voters of this educational division, announcement of my candidacy for member of the Rowan County Board of Education.

In making this race I have only one desire—that is to serve the children of Rowan County. I have no obligations which will make me other than that which is best for the county and the educational district I represent.

Most of the people in the area I live know me as a citizen and teacher. I have attended the Training School at Morehead

State College and know the great good brought to us by its being located here. I feel that this college has amply educated enough of Rowan County's citizens so that we should be able to find enough qualified principals here in the county for our high schools, and that it is unnecessary to import them from other parts of the state.

I have taught many schools in Rowan County and believe I am very well qualified for the office I seek. If elected I will serve the patrons and the children of Rowan County honestly and faithfully.

Yours truly,
Orville J. Carter

You'd Be Amazed How Many Problems Your Child Has

By Mrs. Catherine Conrad Edwards

You think you have problems — did it ever occur to you how many your children have? A study made by Dr. Jean MacFarlane of the Institute of Child Welfare at the University of California on normal, pre-school children found that even these youngsters had from one to six recognizable behavior problems. From six to nine years of age the problems increased to from one to 12 per child. These problems decreased to a top of seven as the difficult growing-out-of-childhood years merged into the magic age of 12, where a lot of living has been mastered and adolescence hasn't yet posed new adjustments.

Here are some of the problems encountered and the ages when they seemed most prevalent. Up to the age of four and a half many children are plagued by fears, jealousy and over-sensitiveness. Temper is often the expression of these impulses which children can't understand. But around five the normal child begins to outgrow these characteristics unless they have become deep-seated through improper upbringing — perhaps through unavoidable circumstances, such as when an average child is continually eclipsed by a more brilliant brother or sister.

Battles on the front range are most common in the years from two to five. Over 50 per cent of parents interviewed "felt" that their children in this age group didn't eat enough. Whether parents become reconciled to the amount of food their children relish or appetites improve with going to school, this problem diminishes for the school age child.

The 1-to-not period, as parents well know, begins when babyhood leaves off and reaches its peak around two and one-half.

Todd Says Dems Trying To Buy November Election

Kentucky's Republican national committeeman—Joseph Ross Todd—has charged state Democrats with attempting to buy this year's senatorial election.

Todd, who is also co-chairman of the GOP state campaign committee, said he had asked the U. S. Senate subcommittee on the privileges and elections to investigate his charges.

He made public a letter he sent to U. S. Sen. Guy M. Gillette (D-Iowa), chairman of the subcommittee, in which he charged the organization headed by Gov. Earle C. Clements already had collected more than $350,000 and has set its goal at $500,000.

The Democratic Party in Kentucky, said the Clements organization had collected and was continuing to collect "a campaign fund far in excess of any campaign fund ever collected before in Kentucky."

"The use of such a large amount of money in Kentucky could be but for one purpose, namely, the purchase of votes on election day," Todd wrote.

Todd said he wrote Gillette on Oct. 10 that it was "common knowledge in Kentucky" that the Clements organization had collected and was continuing to collect "a campaign fund far in excess of any campaign fund ever collected before in Kentucky."

"The use of such a large amount of money in Kentucky could be but for one purpose, namely, the purchase of votes on election day," Todd wrote.

The letter added, "Every state employee has been assessed once, and it is my information that the organization is now engaged in a second assessment from these employees. Even the day laborers on the public works are being assessed. I have seen assessments from $20 to $40."

Todd also charged that "every road contractor in the state has been assessed, even the banks of the state, in which state funds are deposited are being assessed one-tenth of one per cent of the amount of such deposit held by such bank."

(Asked to comment on the charges, J. Thaxter Sims, Democratic state campaign chairman, said: "It's news to me. We will welcome any investigation of this campaign.")

Huge Armed Force For Generation Is Predicted By Top Military Leaders

Top-ranking military men have now lifted a corner of the secrecy lid from their plans to build strong U. S. armed forces and maintain them "for many years to come—maybe a generation." The plans involve considerable national belt tightening as taxes bite deeper, and profound changes in many an American household as sons are drafted or other members of the family go to work in defense industries. But national leaders say there is nothing else to do, in view of the policies adopted by a little group of men in the Kremlin. Major points of the planning were disclosed by high representatives of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines at hearings during the past few days

Saves 10,000 New Roosevelt Dimes

The Carl W. George of Unionville Center, Ohio paid dimes for their new car this week—10,000 of them. Four years ago, George saw his first Roosevelt dime. To study friends he said: "I'm going to save this dime for a new car." Last Tuesday he walked into an auto salesroom in Maryville and placed two buckets on the floor. They contained 87½ pounds of silver, including the 10,000 dimes and $500 in quarters and other coins. He left with a new 1950 automobile and $10 in dimes. "We're going to start saving dimes again," said Mrs. George.

Endorsements Get Approval Of Chamber

The Korean campaign is not the only factor in this rebuilding, by any means. Vinson said the international situation requires the kind of military strength now being built into being whether or not a single North Korean had marched south of the 38th Parallel. Admiral Forrest Sherman, chief of naval operations, said the program now being worked out had in general been agreed upon by the joint chiefs of staff prior to the outbreak of the Korean war in June. The admiral said the Korean war had speeded it up. The effect of the speedup was quickly seen in the military budget. In a few weeks it jumped from $14,676,000,000 to $20,775,000,000.

Strike Delays Shipments Of Sorghum

The strike in the Soda Ash Industry this past summer has caused the Kentucky Sorghum Growers Cooperative Association to curtail sorghum shipments, except in 2½ pound jars. Soda ash is used in the making of glass and the strike caused glass manufacturers to shut-down. However, more jars are expected to be available in about one week. Sorghum production is now in full swing in Hancock county. Quality is reported to be excellent.

Gas Octane Content Due For Drop

Motorists can look for a drop in the octane rating of motor fuel before too long, according to J. Stephen Watkins, president of the Blue Grass Automobile Club. The prediction was based on information issued by Federal officials who said a shortage of high octane fuel is impending and that the government will shortly place a limit on the octane rating of passenger car gasoline. Mr. Watkins assured motorists, however, that the government foresees no shortage in the supply of motor fuel available for private consumption. "The high octane content of regular and high test motor fuels," the AAA official said, "has been steadily rising until August. Since then, it has been reduced about one point for both regular and premium gas. Even with further contemplated reductions, the octane content will be higher than that of a year ago, which was greater, in turn, than that of the gasoline available to motorists during the war."

Watson Thomas Dies At Keeneland Track

Watson S. Thomas, 56, Barbourville, W. Va. and former Bowling Green merchant and postmaster, died suddenly of a heart attack at Keeneland Race Course, Lexington Saturday afternoon. GOP Candidate Comes Out For Impeachment

Dawson Tells Audience That Truman Should Be Ousted As President

Charles I. Dawson, Republican nominee for the U. S. Senate, said this week that if he is elected to the Senate Nov. 7 he will support impeachment proceedings against President Truman. The Louisville attorney and former federal judge said in campaign speeches that his impeachment stand was due to what he has consistently called "incompetent leadership by the president and his administration." "I know that impeachment proceedings must start in the House of Representatives," Dawson said. "But if I am elected to the U. S. Senate I will do my level best to find me a man (for the House) who will introduce these proceedings."

Hello, Folks . . .

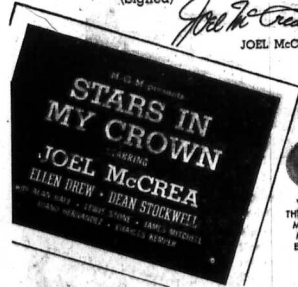

I'd like to tell you about a picture we've made at M-G-M, "Stars In My Crown". It's what a newspaper friend of mine calls a human interest story . . . it's not the story of one man or one family—it's about all the folks in this town or any town . . . the good and the bad . . . the dramatic things and funny things that happen to them.

Like pretty Ellen Drew—she's my wife in the story. She sort of runs the whole shebang from the sidelines. And there's young Dean Stockwell as John. Watching him is like growing up all over again. Then there's Alan Hale, a man who loves a fight or a prank, and Lewis Stone who's the old Doc and handsome James Mitchell who's the young Doc. And well, there's characters like Uncle Famous and Chloroform and the bully—every town has them, for better or for worse.

Me, I play the Parson, the kind of man who says "Either I speak or my pistols do!" I've never played a role like this one before. It's different and it's real. And I sincerely hope you like it.

Vegetable Platters Can Be Pretty And Nourishing

By Helen Hale

Vegetable platters can be pretty and nourishing enough to serve for luncheon parties if they're planned for color and flavor contrast. Here are some suggestions:
Serve a rice or noodle ring with creamed mushrooms, and then add color or flavor to the same plate with buttered beets and buttered broccoli or Brussels sprouts.
Spinach ring filled with creamtatoes and carrots and peas around the spinach.

Try stuffing tomatoes with whole kernel corn as another idea for vegetable platters. Round this out with string beans cooked with onion and bits of bacon, and steamed or baked green squash.
Stuffed green peppers are a good substantial start on vegetable dinners. Add creamed potatoes, minted carrots and buttered lima beans.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Cheese Fondue

(Serves 4)

- 1/2 cup ripe olives
- 4 slices day-old bread
- 1 cup cooked peas
- 1 (2 1/2-ounce) jar dried beef
- 1 cup grated American cheese
- 2 eggs
- 2 cups scalded milk
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Black pepper

Cut olives from pits into large chunks. Cut bread into cubes in 1 1/2-quart casserole. Layer bread, peas, shredded beef, cheese and olives. Beat eggs slightly, stir in milk, salt and pepper. Pour over ingredients in casserole. Bake in a moderately slow (325 degrees) oven for 45 minutes or until set.

Cut onions makes a pretty center for a vegetable plate. Alternate small mounds of parsleyed po-

Here's good texture and color contrast in this vegetable luncheon, cauliflower au gratin, Harvard beets and buttered green beans.
Serve cheese muffins with this vegetable luncheon to make it thoroughly satisfying. Stuff tomatoes with bread stuffing, then bake. Add corn fritters and buttered lima beans to the platter.

The power to re-arm

America has power, as never before — electric power so vital in re-arming as well as in meeting today's record-breaking civilian needs.

The business-managed electric companies have been building up the nation's power supply in history's greatest industrial expansion program. Just since 1945 the nation's electric companies have increased their power capacity by 35 per cent. Here in Kentucky the increase has been even more marked.

Kentucky Utilities Company has increased its generating capacity 218 per cent since 1945. The Tyrone and Green River plants have added more than 750,000,000 kilowatt hours annually to the state's potential power needs.

With proper allocation of manpower and materials, almost as much more capacity will be added during the next three years. We, and all the industry, stand ready to meet even greater needs.

All this is being done on the companies' own initiative and enterprise — and financed entirely by money from investors.

The electric companies' power supply is one of America's greatest industrial resources. Today it includes a large reserve of unused power capacity. And thanks to interconnections of companies' lines and farsighted power "pooling", many of our reservoirs of power can be made available over wide areas.

Above all, the nation's electric power to re-arm is backed by the loyalty, skill, and experience of electric utility men and women. Whatever demands are made upon them they will never fail this country in the hour of need. They will serve, as they did in World War II, when electricity was "never too little or too late."

The preparedness of America's business-managed, tax-paying Electric Light and Power Companies is a matter of interest to every citizen. These companies are continuing to build up generating capacity and reserves to a state of defense readiness. And all, without a cent of government money!

"Reunion"

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

I meant to warn Oliver about Carolyn, but somehow I hadn't got around to it. After all, you can't go up to a man you've only known three days and tell him to lay off a beautiful woman like Carolyn because she was wicked. Especially when you know the man is in love with her. Men in love aren't rational.

What gripped me most was the fact that she was well aware that I knew all about her and it didn't make any difference. This proved more than anything that she was an unscrupulous woman.

Of course she hadn't known I was coming. Palmer Khor invited me down at the last minute. He was going to Europe, and this was a sort of farewell party—one of Palmer's famous parties that began on Friday and ended on Monday.

I had had these ten minutes before I saw Carolyn. She had a man in tow. I might have expected a man, but even so it was a shock. It hadn't been a month since she'd had her quarrel with Toby, I knew all about that quarrel. Every one else did, I guess. Every one but this Oliver Legge. He was a stranger. He had a blue suit, a white shirt and tie, and I had every intention of warning him.

If you stopped to think about the thing carefully, which was hard when you knew Carolyn, you wouldn't wonder at Legge's infatuation. She was a what colored blonde with deep blue eyes and a scarlet mouth. If ever a more beautiful woman lived I haven't met her.

The worst of it was that Palmer and the others were amused at the way Legge was being taken in.

"Somebody," I said, "ought to warn that fool."

"Why?" said Palmer, grinning. "Why? I repeat, 'Why' know very well why. Look what kind of a woman she is. The boy seems decent."

"He is decent. I've known him for years. Carolyn's all right, too."

"Yes? Look what she did to one man."

"Toby? Maybe that was Toby's fault."

I looked at him in surprise. "You know damn well it was! Everybody knows it."

"This did before they heard Carolyn's side of the story. There's two sides, you know, to every story."

I shot him a quick, suspicious look. "So that's it? Carolyn came down here and cried on your shoulder and you believed her?"

She explained that she didn't know Toby was near financial ruin. He was one of those doing foot on his private business. He never let his wife in on his private business. He never everything she asked. When the end came he blamed his ruin on her extravagance. That's what made her mad.

"And you believed her?"

"Sure I believed it. Any one who knew the pair would. Toby was nice about her. So nice that he didn't play fair."

"Do you call giving her everything she wants not playing fair?"

"Yes, the worst kind of cheating. If Toby had given the girl a break she'd have come through. She loved him."

"You're crazy!"

Palmer shrugged. It struck me as grimly humorous the way he had been taken in. Carolyn was clever all right. She made Toby look like a pup. She had them all rooting for her. And now she had Oliver Legge chasing after her.

The next day I took the trouble to find out something about Legge. Among other things I learned that he had a million dollars in his own right. That explained a lot. This time Carolyn was knocking off some real money. She wasn't going to run the risk of having a second husband go broke. I felt sorry for Legge. He was a good, clean chap, something ought to be done at once.

I went looking for Carolyn. She wasn't in the living room and she wasn't anywhere else in the house. Nathan, the butler, said he'd seen her going over the north slope alone on skis. I got my skis and climbed to the top of the slope. Below there was a moving yellow dot. That was Carolyn's trick ski suit. She was alone.

The thing that killed me is I couldn't see it. I started to turn and stopped. My throat felt dry. I swallowed. Then I said: "Palmer told me you men, he said the smash-up wasn't your fault."

"Yes!" she said, and waited, watching.

"Well," said I, "I told Palmer he was crazy. I told him you were the type who would let your husband down when he needed you. I—uh, hang it, Carolyn. I didn't mean it, honest?"

She caught her breath, but she didn't speak. I came on close.

"Listen," I said, "I never thought of it that way. Palmer got me to thinking. Maybe maybe I didn't give you a break. But that's because I loved you. I think heaven it couldn't make myself believe you would be happy without material things. I mean, I've kidded myself it was me you loved and not what I could give."

"Toby," she breathed. "Darling! Then thank heaven it happened so you can know always that it is you and nothing else in the world that I love. Toby, you do believe me?"

"This proves—everything," I cried happily. And then I had my wife in my arms and figuratively speaking, of course, she's been there ever since.

Record 'Chute Leap

The jump which Air Force Capt. Richard E. Wheeler, of Waterford, Mass., made from a height of more than 8 miles is believed to be the longest set new world's parachute drop record—exceeding by about 2,000 the record of 40,200 feet set by Col. W. R. Lovelock 3rd, in June, 1940.

Wheeler jumped 42,440 feet. This also surpassed the recent jumps by Capt. Vincent Masza, of Newryville, Ill., who jumped from 42,213 and 41,586 feet.

Stock Market Shows Sharp Drop In Week

The government's fight against inflation slapped the brakes on the stock market last week and caused the heaviest weekly net loss in three months.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined $1.18 during the week to $83.60, the first weekly loss since the week ended Aug. 29 and the lowest since July 15.

There were three principal road-blocks the stock market found too difficult to negotiate without a set-back—the threat of higher federal reserve member bank reserve requirements, the imposition of credit restraints on new housing, and the tougher installment credit terms on a long list of consumer goods.

Stock market prices were off an average four days out of five.

Plan Tighter Enforcement Of Gas Tax

Companies, State Will Work Together To Halt Violations

Gasoline companies and the state government will work together for tighter enforcement of the law on farm gasoline tax refunds.

The result was a conference between Department of Revenue staff members and representatives of the state's major oil and gasoline distributing companies. The company representatives agreed to increase efforts to train all tank truck drivers on the provisions of the refund law. The law requires that refund gasoline must be stored in a tank plainly marked "Refund Gas" and must be identified with purple dye furnished gasoline companies by the state.

The farmer who buys the refund gas and the truck driver who delivers it are jointly responsible for proper identification and storage of the gasoline. The Department of Revenue has found some cases in which both farmers and tank truck drivers failed to comply with these provisions.

The Department of Revenue makes a continuous check of trucks who have agricultural gasoline tax refund permits. Within the past several months 2,000 permit holders have been checked. Forty permits have been revoked and 24 suspended. Three were acquitted and 48 cases are still under consideration.

The State Tax Commission has the authority to suspend for as much as two years the permits of gasoline distributors who do not comply with the provisions of the refund law. Commissioners of Revenue H. Clyde Reeves told the company representatives: "We know that a large majority of the farmers and dealers are complying with the law. For Shin obediently parked the car on a nearby sidewalk.

"Do you know who that was," the Marine was asked. He replied: "Coulda been my grandmother. I ain't curious."

their protection, and in fairness to taxpayers and highway users, we are determined that violators shall be caught and their privilege to use tax-free gasoline denied."

Suits Seek To Halt Carter Bond Issue

A suit to prevent the County Board of Education from contracting for the construction of buildings, swimming pools, and other additions and to prevent the Board from issuing $600,000 in revenue bonds for the construction costs was filed in Carter Circuit Court Tuesday by C. R. Kiser and Ralph Haney. Defendants named in the case were the County Board of Education, Fiscal Court Judge Joe Johnson and Heman H. McGuire, superintendent of county schools.

In their petition, Kiser and Haney say that the buildings intended to be constructed will cost far in excess of the $600,000 set up by the County Board of Education as necessary construction expense. They further state that it would be necessary to spend some sums of money to secure necessary equipment and that in addition to the cost of construction and equipment, there will be large costs of maintenance on the proposed new buildings which would add a large and continuous burden on the income of the Board of Education from year to year.

Decision To Build Road Is Clarified

Dry Creek Project Was Set Up In 1948. Already Surveyed By State

Officials at the Morehead courthouse today released a statement concerning the proposed construction of the Dry Creek road contracts for which are to be let October 27.

The statement in which Judge Sam Green concurred read: "This road is to be constructed out of the two cent gas tax money and possibly supplemented with other state funds since the cost of the road is so great. The question has arisen and there is some disagreement why this road was singled out at this time for construction.

"When funds are used from the gas tax, as is this road, the state is the sole judge as to what road or roads it shall be used on in each county. When this program was first started three roads in Rowan County were selected to be worked first and the Dry Creek road is the third of these. This project has been set up for sometime, the question always being when the county might get this construction completed so that other deserving projects could be considered.

"County officials were anxious to get this work as soon as possible, hence their insistence at Frankfort that the Dry Creek road be built at once. The reasons for this were two-fold; first, it would cost the county several thousands of dollars to get the present road even possible, it being one of the worst in the county and secondly, they wanted to get the present projects completed before the present administration retired."

The statement concerning the Dry Creek road came after part of the Fiscal Court questioned the move. Under Kentucky law the state picks out the projects and the County Judges and Fiscal Court are consulted in an advisory capacity. The Dry Creek project was recommended in 1948 and the state completed the survey last year.

WHY Farmers Should Vote for CLEMENTS For U. S. SENATOR

- EARLE CLEMENTS is the farmers' friend. He was born and reared in a Union County farm community. He's still a farmer and breeder of purebred livestock. He knows farming and farmers' problems. His Union County neighbors know him as a down-to-earth farmer who can milk a cow, run a tractor or vaccinate a hog. He is Kentucky's first real farmer-Governor in many years.
- As Congressman, EARLE CLEMENTS was on the important House Agriculture Committee. He rendered valuable service to farmers of Kentucky and the Nation. He sponsored the CLEMENTS BILL in 1945 that has increased income of over 33,000 dark tobacco growers in Kentucky by $34,259,900 in 5 years. The tobacco price supports also have been of vast benefit to burley growers.
- GOVERNOR CLEMENTS gave active, effective and vigorous support to the Kentucky Delegation in Congress to include tobacco under the Marshall Plan.
- EARLE CLEMENTS helped write and worked for passage of the Agricultural Research and Marketing Act to broaden use of farm products. As Governor, he has enabled Kentucky to take fullest advantage of the Hope-Flannagan Act to aid farmers.
- EARLE CLEMENTS has fought vigorously to expand rural electrification. When he became Governor, less than 49 per cent of Kentucky farm homes were electrified. Today, expansion will increase this to 76 per cent. On his call, the special session of the 1949

Legislature gave approval to the Federal Act which increased from 25 to 33 years amortization of REA loans to conform to the Federal Act. In Congress, EARLE CLEMENTS vigorously opposed Republican attempts to cut rural electrification funds.

EARLE CLEMENTS supported the 1950 Kentucky Act to aid expansion of rural telephones under the new REA rural telephone act. He has fought consistently to improve soil conservation and to increase aid for extension work. In Congress, he worked for passage of his Agriculture Committee's bill for permanent school-aid lunch program to enable school children to have adequate, nutritious meals.

We know that a large majority of the farmers and dealers are complying with the law. For GOVERNOR CLEMENTS has given Kentucky farmers better roads. During his administration, more than 2,500 miles of farm-to-market roads have been built, and more improvements have been made on the primary system than in any like period in history of the Commonwealth. He sponsored legislation establishing the Agricultural and Industrial Development Board to expand Kentucky agriculture and industry.

On his Union County farm, EARLE CLEMENTS practices soil conservation. His knowledge of farming and farm problems has been put to practical use by the State. Kentucky's penal and mental institutions now operate modern farms of more than 11,000 acres. More than 2,500 acres were purchased during CLEMENTS' administration. These farms now raise much of their own food, saving the taxpayers many thousands of dollars.
