March Draft Calls Slashed By Army, Marines

The Army and Marines called for 28,000 draftees in March—a figure far below average.

The March call will bring to 875,498 the total number of young men inducted since the draft was resumed in September, 1950. Of that number, 802,000 were assigned to the Army, the rest to the Marines.

The department also announced that the quota for February, previously announced as 35,000 men, has been cut by 2,500. It said the reduction was possible because of increased volunteering and a change in Marine Corps recruiting plans.

Education To Get Increase Under Budget

State education services will receive an increase of $7,900,000 in the next two years under a budget proposed by Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby to the General Assembly in 1952-53.

Health and Welfare services will receive $4,200,000 more and the Department of Education $1,900,000 more in 1952-53. The budget calls for expenditures of approximately $14,900,000 during the 1952-53 and 1953-54 fiscal years.

The figure is an increase of $14,000,000 over the current rate of spending for 1951-52 and is based on anticipated income for the period. The rate of spending is expected to increase to $17,000,000 the second year.

The new budget calls for expenditures of $7,900,000 the first year of the biennium and $8,000,000 the second year.

Governor Wetherby delivered his annual message to the General Assembly on January 15 at a joint session of the House and Senate at the State Capitol.

He also announced a new "State of Commonwealth" message and several legislative recommendations.

The major portion of the proposed increase for education will go to the Commonwealth Fund. The recommended appropriation for the biennium is $64,888,000, an increase of $13,588,000 over the appropriation made by the 1950 General Assembly. The new figure remains for 1952-53 and the $60,000,000 increase made by the 1951 Special Session.

The 1952-53 budget also includes $1,900,000 in new money. Increases for the biennium include $1,900,000 for the five state colleges and for other educational services were assigned to the Army, the rest to the Marines.

Proposed appropriations for mental health during the biennium are $1,100,000 over the current rate of spending. Wetherby said that the state is to go ahead with plans for an intensive treatment program and to increase hospitalization and economic.

Circuit Judge John J. Winn announced this week that the appointment of Morehead Attorney Tom Burns as Master Commissioner of Rowan County.

Burns, succeeds William J. Sample, who resigned the position when he was sworn in as State Senator.

Basketball Menu Is Light For Week; Breck's Play Brightest Spot For Morehead Cage Fans

Eagles Hit Cellar In O.V.; Morehead Vikings In Shump.

Basketball fare will be light for Morehead fans during the next week with only three games on tap, two of them away from home.

Morehead College's faltering Eagles, who dropped two and won one on a road trip over the weekend, are playing the toughest opponent of the year in the University of Louisville here Saturday evening. The Cardinals are currently ranked 14th in the nation and are picked to beat Morehead in a second round game.

The Eagles' schedule is a 17-point half-time deficit in a 30-20 game in the final quarter of the end of regulation play time but the Tigers won the game 79-60. The game was the only one in which Morehead was outscored in the first half.

The Eagles beat Centre 65-60 but lost 63-49 to Tennessee Tech at Cookeville Saturday. They will play the game in the last quarter of both the Georgetown and Tech games the fouling out of key men killed Morehead's hopes. The Tennessee loss dropped Morehead to 10th in the Ohio Valley Conference.

Brightest spot of the week for fans was the play of Bobby Laughlin's Breckinridge Training School Eagles. Using a pressuring down-the-four defense and a fast break the Eagles, boosted by the return of Jerry Riddle to the lineup, outscored Morehead 73-73 to 42 and then upset Flemingsburg 56-51. It was a Flemingburg second loss of the week-end.

Morehead High came within one point 91-90 early in the third quarter against Breck but the Laughlin coached club started breaking in for lay-ups and won going away. The Vikings appeared tired as Breck's team scored the winning last offense.

Breck overcame every bad break in the book to upset Flemingsburg. Four first strings fouled out, including Riddle in the second quarter. James Ferguson early in the fourth. James Coleman and Lucien Rice were substituted for Breck as they made-minded the substitutes against an obviously tired Flemingsburg team.

After a poor season start Breck seems to be rounding into shape and looks as a threat in the 16th round. Although other handicappers have given them a low rating, a real battle is in store this evening when Breck plays Mayville here. Early Jones club will be in the hospital suffering from gun shot wounds and an establishment, described by State Police today, and being complicated. Rowan County's most notorious dive was burned to the ground over the week-end.

Sample was also named chairman of the Enrollment Committee and was placed on these committees by the Senate. He is also a member of the Education and Legislative Affairs, Fish and Game, Conservation and Forestry, and Historical Records, and Ways and Means.

Average Is $52.51 For State Burley

Prices During Past Week Generally Steady Throughout Kentucky

Kentucky burley tobacco markets resumed sales last week with generally steady prices.

Steadiness characterized the markets throughout the eight-state burley sales belt.

Burley brought an estimated average price of $50.56 a hundred pounds on Kentucky market for the week, the State Agriculture Department reported this week.

The estimated sales volume came to 39,778.419 pounds and the average price was $52.27, $70.11, the department said.

It said the estimated average for season's sales through last Friday was $51.99, compared with $53.34 for sales before the Christmas holidays.

Sales were resumed January 8 after the recess. The Federal-State Market News Service said most good and better grades with prices quoted the week before Christmas.

Prices for the week were generally steady to slightly lower last week while (buying was ready to be taken up).

Gross sales for the week were 37,975.091 pounds for an average of $51.15 a hundred. Net sales was up 75 cents from the last week before Christmas.

Season sales were brought to 201,350,145 pounds for $52.51. Receipts by the government program were 10 to 12 per cent, about the average for the season.

OPS To Check Milk Prices In Kentucky

A survey to determine whether Kentucky dairies are passing on only legitimate price increases to consumers is being conducted by the U. S. Office of Price Administration.

The survey is being conducted by the agency's Food and Restaurant Branch which will direct the check, according to a spokesman. The survey will be conducted in various localities where prices of milk have been raised recently.

Under the "fairly passed through" provision of the Defense Production Act, distributors are permitted to increase the price of milk to consumers when it is necessary to insure the production of milk.

In passing on the increase the price of milk to the price per quart they charge the consumer, dairies must pass on the full amount of their selling prices higher than the law allows," Kalliber said.

"If in the survey it comes across such instances, I will refer them to the Enforcement Division," he added.

Under the law, prior approval by OPS is advised for price increases whenever distributors purchase prices have been raised since the beginning of the war.

So long as the distributor have not exceeded the price of milk under the law, OPS has no authority over prices under parity, he said.

Morehead's Appropriation Is Raised

College Will Get $82,000 During Next Two Years

The proposed appropriation act submitted to the General Assembly for the 1952-53 fiscal year and $450,000 during 1953-54. Appropriations for Morehead for the next two years are $82,000 for the next two years.

The bill recommends that the institution receive $420,000 during the 1952-53 fiscal year and $450,000 during 1953-54. Appropriations for Morehead for the next two years are $82,000 for the next two years.

The increased appropriations will permit continuation of the present program at the college and provide for moderate increases in some areas, according to the budget document. The recommendations fall into categories of increased expenditures for the estimated decline of receipts caused by a decline in veteran education benefits.

7,178 Persons In Ashland Area Get Benefits

$153,746 Being Paid Monthly In Old Age, Survivors Insurance

After 15 years' operation, old age and survivors insurance is paying about $153,746 in monthly benefits to 7,178 in the area served by the Ashland field office.

The Social Security Administration, noting that the Federal Insurance Administration commenced operations on January 1, 1937, described it today as "a national institution reaching more people in this community than any other organization for family security."

From its comparatively modest beginning in 1937, the system has developed rapidly and is now the largest single insurance program in the world. It has even known, in 1940, the first year in which monthly benefits were paid to more than 10 million people.

The greatest increase in benefit payments occurred in the program's 15th year. This year, benefit payments were increased by higher payments to individual beneficiaries, and by the large number of people made eligible for benefits under liberalized qualifying requirements. Increases in benefit payment rates to retired workers range from 10 per cent to 100 per cent. For example, the minimum payment of $10 was doubled. The maximum payable to a retired worker in August 1950 was $45.50; this was raised to $68.50.

"Nearly everyone in this country has a stake in this contribution," said the program's director, R. R. Ridd. Three out of every four persons qualified employed or self-employed are covered by the law. Sixty-two million people are now insured. It is now providing life insurance and survivors' benefits to more than four of the nation's mothers and children.

"Eighty-five million people now living have made tax contributions to old-age and survivors insurance," says Ridd. "It is to employees, their employers, and to people who work for themselves that the Social Security Administration directs this report."

Find me a coward if you don't find me a coward. Sheriff's first report of the shooting was made to officers when the victim was brought to a Morehead hospital. The victim, named Dean and Wilson.

Man Shot At Grove; Then 'Night Club Burns To Ground'

When state police and the sheriff arrived at the establishment—generally referred to as the "Grove"—located three miles east of Morehead on U. S. 60, the place was "quiet as a mouse" and every customer had fled.

was revealed this week following his death Saturday. He was Robert Curtis Steger, 63, an engineer of Lexington, Ky. Steger had been unconscious since February 5, 1943. The measure of comfort afforded the family by the calibre of nursing care given Mr. Steger was invaluable, they said. After nine years of lying in a hospital bed, unconscious, his skin was like that of a baby—he never suffered any skin irritation, so expertly was he handled. He could not have lived nine years as he did without the fine nursing care he was given. "It was a great comfort to know that everything possible was being done. Relatives asked particularly that the highest praise be accorded three of the special nurses who attended Mr. Steger. They are: Mary Burtzel, on the case for nine years; Hilda Kagle, from Mr. Steger's admission until approximately a year ago; and Mrs. Kautz, seven years. Mr. Steger's death came less than a month before the ninth anniversary of the accident which left him with a blood clot on the brain that robbed him of consciousness. It came only a short time before the 41st anniversary of his marriage to Mrs. Vida Hall Steger. It was while Mrs. Steger was in Cincinnati visiting her husband in observance of their 32nd wedding anniversary that the accident occurred on Feb. 5, 1943. The Lexington electrical engineer was at work in the Wright Aeronautical Company plant near Cincinnati when he was struck by an eight-pound pump the blow which left him in a coma. During the nine ensuing years, and while Mr. Steger apparently was unable to comprehend anything of his surroundings or to recognize anyone, two of his sons returned from the armed services and four grandchildren were born to perpetuate his name. His wife, who had stayed almost constantly at his bedside, making her home in Cincinnati for two years after the accident, finally persuaded him to return to Lexington. Over the intervening years, she has continued to compute to the Ohio hospital until death "from general deterioration" closed the vigil that spanned nearly a decade. Origin of the "Mr. X" legend which attached itself to the injured Mr. Steger was explained by relatives as a simple desire to avoid publicity and to permit the family to live without annoyance of the curio.

Although identification of the unconscious man was withheld here for the nine years of his illness, relatives said some 100,000 letters were received in regard to the case.

MSC Alumni Give $124 For Scholarships

Fourteen contributions totalling $124 have been received so far by the Alumni Association Scholarship Committee in its recently organized fund-raising campaign for Morehead State College. The committee has authorized its Faculty Committee on Scholarships and Fellowships to select a student who will be awarded the first Alumni Association scholarship for the spring semester. The scholarship is to consist of a cash award of $50. Interested students should make application to this committee, which is under the chairmanship of Nolan Fowler. Alumni who have contributed to the scholarship fund are: Dr. and Mrs. Rigdon Ratliff of Ann Arbor, Mich.; Paul W. Holman of Glasgow, Gaynelle V. Cannon of Ewing, Louise McJoy of Greensburg, Clinton Williams of Big Spring, Tex.; Sallie W. Summers of Hazard, Aldine Womack of Huntington, W. Va.; Marie T. Hardy of Lafayette, Ind.; Colie E. Conner of Morehead, Ted Crosthwaite of Louisville; Charles W. Everhart of San Marcos, Tex.; and Mrs. John H. Allen of Geneva, N. Y.; Mrs. Louis A. Fair of Morehead, and Paul S. Maddox of Louisville. It has been suggested by President Charles R. Spain that any alumni who contribute $100 or more should have a scholarship named in his honor. The bright sayings attributed to babies are usually what mother thinks up after junior has gone to sleep.

Local Minister Picks Lock For College Prexy

House breaking may be just a hobby for Rev. Walter W. Garratt, Morehead's Methodist minister, but he has proved his competence in the skill, and now college president Charles R. Spain knows whom to call on whenever he wants a lock picked. It all happened during the Christmas vacation, when Dr. Spain invited a group of faculty members and other guests to watch the Rose Bowl game on the newly-installed television set in the grill-lounge. When the group assembled, however, it was found that the door was locked. Rev. Garratt saved the day by picking the lock on a window, crawling in through it, and opening the door from the inside. The game was enjoyed beyond the shadow of a guilty conscience.

Anderson To Return Here Next Semester

Ross C. Anderson of the commerce department will return to the Morehead College at the beginning of the second semester. Mr. Anderson has been at the University of Florida during the past semester on a leave of absence. He has been working for his doctor's degree there.

Re-Districting Hoovers Over Kentucky's Legislature

Major concern of the state administration as the 1952 General Assembly goes into its second week is that of re-districting 'hot potato' might be brought in the open. Governor Wetherby and Emerson Beauchamp have firm control of both the Senate and the House and the plan of re-districting recommended by the Legislative Research Commission should go through without too much dissension and fanfare. An exception is the controversial state whiskey store issue.

But, re-districting, necessitated by Kentucky's pro-rata population loss and elimination of one seat in the Congress, is the issue that could tear the Assembly apart. Naturally and properly Governor Wetherby wants all other legislation passed before this is brought up and the last two weeks of the session are being reserved for its consideration. Many observers think the Senate and House will not have time to come to terms in that two weeks' period and the Governor will then call a special session. The administration is concerned that some member might drop a re-districting bill in the hither no, which might result in confusion and endanger their program.

Here are the salient points on this re-districting: (1) Senator and former Governor Earle C. Clements and Eighth District Congressman Joe B. Bates haven't been on amiable terms for the past four years and there is the question as to whether Clements will try to do away with Bates' district. For that matter Clements and Bates are also friends, but Gregory is not vulnerable since his district lies in the extreme western part of the state and no amount of gerrymandering will reach his home county of Graves.

Second, Bates, on the other hand, strongly supported Wetherby and Beauchamp and there is no rift there. Third: Many observers think either the Fourth or Eighth will get the 'axe'. Member by member, the Eighth appears to have much stronger representation in the House and Senate than the Fourth. They are also strongly entrenched in the state government with such men as Banking Commissioner Henry Carter, Aeronautics Commissioner Charles Gattrell and former Highway Commissioner John Keck, all of whom are in the campaign. These men, the Eighth District representatives, and others who are influential are preparing for a last ditch stand, if necessary, to save their district.

Fourth: Many people like to divide the present Fifth, represented by Brent Spence, who hasn't been too friendly to the state. But, Kenton and Campbell counties have about 200,000 population and they are so isolated that it would be hard to get to Spence because these two northern Kentucky counties would still control the district.

Fifth: There are Frankfort rumors that present Seventh District Congressman Carl Perkins wants to entrench himself by grabbing off three or four heavy Democratic counties of the Eighth and dropping off some of his Republican counties. Reports are that Perkins wants Breathitt, Wayne, Morgan, and Boone Democratic, in exchange for Johnson, Magallon and Martin, all Republican. But Judge Irvine Turner of Jackson and Senator Cortia Sizer, West Liberty, both close to the Governor's office and the General Assembly will probably have something to say about this and it is known they don't want their counties in Perkins' territory.

Sixth: The report is being circulated by people who should know that the Third Magisterial District will be cut off of Jefferson County to leave Morton, Harpeth and the same population as the other districts. This would be added to the present Fifth. The city of Louisville, would in turn, pick up some Democratic counties of the present Fourth. The net result would be: (1) Louisville would have a Democratic Congressman, replacing Thurston, Republican, by giving Kentucky seven Democrats and one Republican in the House of Representatives; (2) it would not endanger the Fifth as Spence could still win easily; and (3) present Fourth District Congressman Frank Chief would be given a federal appointment. This latter proposal is the one that is most likely to be adopted by a Democratic General Assembly. If Chief is willing to step aside for a federal appointment this could well be the solution. Regardless of what intraparty jockeying exists it's safe to bet your last dollar that the foremost consideration of the Democrats will be to elect seven of the eight Congressmen and this can't be accomplished unless something is done about Jefferson County. The present Ninth will, of course, always remain Republican. And, if there's one thing that the Louisville Democratic organization would like it is to oust Morton, adding a thorn in their side.

Adding further to this conclusion is that if the Eighth District is cut to pieces the state administration will lose many close and influential friends for there's no question but that the Eighth is planning to fight this thing to the bitter finish... and they're well equipped for a good battle.

Commercial Truckers Should Build Own Highways

A concerted campaign launched within recent weeks by trucking interests, manufacturers of motor vehicles, tire companies and allied interests seeking to focus public attention upon the need for more and better highways and away from heavy trucks and trailers, the great damage these do to our roads needs looking at with clarity by every owner of an automobile.

These companies currently are leading the propaganda, appearing in double-page, full color advertisements, in our best periodicals, calling for more super-highways to end bottlenecks in traffic and to afford Mister and Mistress Motorist more pleasure and greater safety when they get driving on Sunday afternoons.

What this boils down to is that the motor makers and their friends want the general public to put up about 60 billions of dollars for multiple-lane concrete highways... for the benefit of the highway freight trains, the destroyers of life, wreckers of roads and the real creators of traffic bottle-necks.

In the November 24 issue of the magazine, an advertisement read, in part: "We Americans like to go places, but you can't motor very far anywhere today without being caught in endless traffic snarls that waste your time, frustrate your temper and cause accidents." Gradually, Jesus gathered together another group of men who were to share his ministry. He founded a new kind of school, the training of a great many laymen who were to carry on his work after his earthly life was over.

So much depended on them, he realized, if they were to possess the qualities of his spirit, and understand the truth which he came to reveal. They may be called to rely, not on their own resources, but on the limitless and infinite power of God.

Going about from place to place, as he would see a man who had the qualities he desired, Jesus did not hesitate to call him immediately. Matthew, in his first epistle, related his own call to discipleship. Briefly, he recounts that, as Jesus passed by Matthew's place of business, he saw a man named Matthew, sitting at the receipt of custom and he was seated upon a tax-gatherer for the despised Roman Government. Matthew was hated by his fellow-citizens.

It was the custom of the Romans to "farm out" the taxes, so that the collector was responsible for turning over certain amounts of money and goods to the Roman authorities. Whatever more he could extract from the people he kept for himself. Moreover, the greater his success in collecting taxes, the larger his opportunity for making a fortune.

While we do not know whether or not Matthew had been a Jew, his past life, his position in the society of his day, and even his moral character were of such a nature as to commend him to Jesus. Yet, we note that Jesus is more interested in spiritual possibilities and potentialities than he is in human achievements.

Whatever Matthew's past life had been, he became a new man when he followed the lowly and meek Jesus. It is significant that, in the Christian life, it matters not so much what man has been, but what he becomes after such contact. Matthew's lowly and despised station in life was no bar to his becoming a disciple. God can use both the lowly and the lofty, if they are willing to be used. Matthew's lowly and despised station in life was no bar to his becoming a disciple. God can use both the lowly and the lofty, if they are willing to be used.

These are the vehicles for which the friends of the highway freighters are demanding that we build super-duper highways, with multiple lanes... with the average motorist following 80 per cent of the bill. It is time we made the huge road-busting trucks build their own highways.

Embarrassing Time To Entertain Company

The Tax Collector Could Become Rich Under The Romans; Matthew's Fellow Townsman Hated Him Because Of This

International Sunday School Lesson January 20, 1952. Memory Selection: "They that are whole need not a physician, but they that are sick. Most States Have State Flowers, More Than One Nickname. Ask anyone the nickname for this Commonwealth and he will probably reply "The Bluegrass State." This is correct, but another, according to many folks, is "The Corncriacker State." Most Kentuckians know the nickname of our state flower, but few can tell you that the Trumpet Vine is also recognized by historians.

OBSCURE OBSERVATIONS

Eisenhower Definitely Threat To Chances Of Senator Taft

We now have the announcement of General Dwight D. Eisenhower that he is a Republican, and that if his party wants him to seek the office of President of the United States, that he will make no objection. This is a tremendous reaction from the embattled camp of Senator Taft. The Republican Party is merely as surprising as it was amusing. So many small boys whistling their loudness of the race. He says himself he will not be a candidate, so let's all work for his job. This is, of course, so ridiculous as to be almost silly. What Eisenhower did was read himself into the Republican Presidential nomination sweepstakes just as solidly as he possibly could and maintain his position under the strict regulations which govern military men. But Taft, not at least to me, the really surprising thing about the Taft-type Republican reaction is not the particular statement. To realize its real significance, you must look much deeper into the particular philosophy which governs the Mr. Republican type of Republicans. Every boy, every survey, every analysis shows that General Eisenhower has the best possible chance of any Republican named thus far to beat the Democrats, to recapture the machinery of national government for the Republicans.

Every real student of politics, every truly honest and able political operator, regardless of his own political persuasion, realizes and declares that Eisenhower can do only what he can do with great difficulty if he is to do it at all.

So why do these Mr. Republican type Republicans shun the man who can lead them back to power? Answer: he's honest about it—they are shunning him.

The reason is clear and simple. And it has been demonstrated time and time again in local and state races all over the nation in the past year, the past five years, the past ten years. Demonstrated over and over again that the Mr. Republican type Republicans would a whole lot rather lose with someone they can't wholeheartedly embrace.

Generally, the people of the United States are a lot more patriotic and progressive than the Mr. Republican type. So time after time the past five years, the past ten years, the past fifteen years, they have refused to elect this type to office.

To be almost pathetic, you are tempted to feel sorry for the poor Old Guard which stubbornly holds its ground against the demands of the American people. Or, to put it another way, who multiply refuse to learn an often hard-learned lesson.

Remember this: If you pause to think what would happen if reaction took the place of progress and temptation disappears.

RANGE'S COLUMN

Bill Garey Elected President Of Rowan County Farmers Club

Bill Garey, manager of the local Southern Power, was elected president of the Rowan County Farmers Club for 1952. Bob Bishop is vice president. The old re-elected president, Stand still and light your taper. By its most feeble flickering, you may see the way of the sun. Stand still and light your taper. By its most feeble flickering, you may see the way of the sun.

Don't expect life to work like an electric light switch. We are so used to mechanical devices that we sometimes substitute them for our heads—or for our hands and feet. Tapers carried high by each and every one of us will light the world. But we seek have been so busy with light. And if we do that well—we will be too busy and happy to curse our neighbor for the darkness.

This better to be brief, than tedious.

State Highway Department plans to start the project this week. This should reduce the traffic congestion at this popular secret spot. Parking facilities will also be provided at two lookout points along the road leading to the Sky Bridge area.

A Little Light Is Better Than No Light At All

Confucius said: "It is better to have a small candle than to have no light at all." In our impatience with injustice, with trickery, with malice, with discrimination, we too often forget that everything cannot be accomplished at once, that it is better to have a little light than no light at all. And that no one ever brought light out of darkness by cursing—however satisfying it may be at the moment. The thing to do when darkness confronts us is to stand still and light your taper. By its most feeble flickering, you may see the way of the sun. Stand still and light your taper. By its most feeble flickering, you may see the way of the sun.

Don't curse the darkness. It never seen a night so dark there wasn't light. Somewhere about if I took care To strike a match and find out where.

Formation Of Naval Reserve Unit Here Appears Certain

Morehead will almost certainly have a U. S. Naval Reserve Volunteer Unit organized in the near future, it was disclosed by Francis Kibbey, student and naval reservist who is helping make arrangements for formation of the unit.

Six persons from this area have been accepted into the reserve corps, and only four more are needed to reach the number required for the establishment of a unit. Six prospective members, all men students here, took the first part of their physical examinations in Lexington Saturday and will return Thursday for final examinations.

The six persons already accepted are: Curt Davis of Sandy Hook; Coach Ellis Johnson, Dean Marjorie Palmquist, Eugene Riner, James Glascock and Francis Kibbey.

The men now taking physical examinations are Carson Spurlock, Calvin Cain, Billy Boy, Frank Taylor, Larry Hillman and Homer Hall.

A large number of men students signed up as being interested in joining the naval reserve, according to Dean Palmquist. However, men between the ages of 19 and 24, who are classified as 1A, are ineligible, and many of the applicants were in this category.

When a sufficient number of men are accepted, an officer from the fifth naval district will be sent here to organize the unit, which will then meet twice a month for training purposes. The unit has been promised full use of college facilities, including a movie projector.

Applications are still being taken by Dean Palmquist.

to the Museum of Tel Aviv. Her exhibit is "very modern," Mrs. Claypool said. According to the write-ups that appeared in the Louisville Courier-Journal and the Lexington Leader when her screen prints were on exhibit in those localities, Sylvia Wald has achieved a rather unique position among serigraphers by her exploration of the creative possibilities of the medium. She does not use it to reproduce a painting as accurately as it can be achieved in a process which applies each color through a special stencil.

The artist herself says the two variations of her print, "The Baba," indicate her procedure. "The version of it which contains the figure of the boy was a part of the procedure I frequently employ in the act of working out an idea," she said. "I make a larger number of sheets to play with than I need for the edition. At a point in the development I pulled with a brush on some of the 'played' sheets until I have oriented my idea toward a picture that pleases me. This is my way instead of the old way of working from a master drawing. Thus the picture actually evolves and is created at the time of printing."

Her art, Mrs. Claypool said, "is very difficult to do." She likes to vary the effect of the individual print by different manipulation of the squeeze, even at the risk of losing some prints which do not turn out to be satisfactory to the artist. The four variations of "Tundra Clouds" show the results of this kind of experimentation.

The exhibit will continue on display at the art gallery here until February 2, except for the week of the Senior Exhibit by Frank Proffitt and Wendell Dobson, art students who graduate this month. During this period—January 17 to 24—the Sylvia Wald exhibit will be moved to another part of the art department.

Rescue Effected By German War Bride

A Lewis County World War II veteran farmer escaped death last Thursday after his German "war bride" summoned help to drag him from beneath a ton of baled hay.

But for the three and one-half hours the victim, Bruce Kielman, 25, father of two, lay buried under the fallen hay in a field out of sight and sound of any passer-by. He was trapped when a rick holding a ton of baled hay col-

Council Names Crockett To City Police Force

Morehead's City Council today announced the appointment of Hanky Crockett to the police force replacing Ed Davis, resigned.

Besides Crockett the police force is composed of Callis Coyle, Chief, and Bill Bowman.

Mrs. Freda Kielman, who married the Kentucky farm boy in Bremenhausen, Germany, while he was in service there, went in search of her husband when he failed to return to his home. She could not hear his screams because of the running motor of the tractor and did not know how to turn off the ignition.

She hurried to a neighbor's home Arlin Trussell and Barbour Hill reached, to the scene with her and succeeded in pushing aside the hay.

They found the victim almost unconscious in a state of panic, his body bruised and wet.

Family Escapes From Burning Dwelling

Mr. and Mrs. George Elam and their three children barely escaped from their burning home on Morgan Fork Friday night.

The residence, belonging to Jess Tony Myhrner, was consumed by the flames, believed to have started from faulty electric wiring.

Poultry Raisers Should Clean Up Poultry Houses

Now is the time that poultry raisers for the coming year should be thinking about cleaning up their poultry houses and their baby chicks. Be sure to clean the brooder house thoroughly with a good disinfectant and put in dry clean litter before the chicks are placed in the house. Buy chicks from a good dependable hatchery preferred one not too far distant in order that the chicks will not have to spend too much time on the road increasing the danger of chilling and disease.

In buying Straight Run chicks, buy three chicks for every pullet you plan to put in the laying house.

This year, as in past years, there will be a good many in the poultry business. For the stock owner who does a good care and management job, remember that cleanliness is very important in the poultry program.

Strawberry Plants May Be Scarce

Strawberry growers should be thinking at this time of the place they are going to put their strawberry beds this year and making arrangements with a good planting plant, Clifford Wills, who is president of the Lacking Valley Strawberry Market Co. tells me that strawberry plants are going to be scarce this year but that he will be able to obtain plants for growers in this area if they will order them early. Anyone desiring plants should contact Mr. Wills or the Extension Office.

Tennessee Beauty continues to be the variety desired for production this year and Mr. Wills has said that there should be a good market for berries since it is estimated that 3,000 acres less berries will be produced in Western Kentucky this year due to war plants being established in that area. Anyone desiring information on strawberry production, should contact the Extension Office.
