Volunteer Efforts Make Teen Center Reality

By KATHY PARTIN
Staff Writer

"We hope to be the spark that lights the fire in the hearts of everyone in the community," said Mary Alfrey in January of 1979, speaking on behalf of the Morehead Woman's Club.

She addressed an assembly of 70 townspeople, meeting despite freezing weather and icy roads to discuss forming a teen center, a desire expressed by youth of the county in a school survey.

Appathy did not extinguish the spark, nor did financial worries prove overbearing. There was no lack of leadership or fear of labor.

Immediately steering committees of 25 adults and over 30 youth formed to meet and develop the idea.

Within two months, City Council approved plans to begin a 2,000 square foot addition to the Woodrow Barber Swimming Pool bath house for the center. The Recreation Commission granted $9,000 for construction material and Morehead State University faculty, staff and students were offering assistance.

Rowan County Retired Teachers Association and Farmers, Rebelok Lodge 23 were the first groups to make donations. And the 1979 Charity Ball, sponsored by the Woman's Club, presented $5,000 in proceeds to the Teen Center.

The month of May found the foundation for the building completed. Then, the arrival of summer meant city workers had to become involved with other city tasks, and construction seemed to crawl. But laborers from various firms, asking no pay, came to the rescue, working hours after a full day's work.

Volunteerism flowed into the preparation of the center. Varieties of groups cleaned and scrapped, hammered and sawed, held fund-raisers and offered encouragement.

"Because of the cooperative spirit, hardly anybody that we ask to do anything said no," said Mrs. Alfrey. "I knew it was going to be a big project... a big challenge, but it was enjoyable because of the good spirit. We couldn't have done it without the help of all these people."

Because of the large number of people offering assistance, it is impossible to list all who served. A slice from the top would have to include people like Dan Stewart, city recreation director, who didn't just oversee the construction work but also unhesitatingly rolled up his own sleeves, Shirley Hamilton who spent hours meeting with the teens, to insure they would have input.

Tonight at 8 p.m. the Teen Center opens with its first activity, a dance featuring WMOR disc jockey Dave Blivens. The highlight of the evening will be a dance contest with the winning couple receiving passes to University Cinema.

The "well chaperoned" dance for youth in grades 7-12 will end at 11 p.m., the city park's curfew.

Saturday and Sunday, the public is invited to attend an open house from 2-5 p.m.

There will be free refreshments all three days at the Teen Center as well as a "guess the number of jelly beans in a gallon jar" contest, open just to the youth. Prizes is a certificate for a record album from the Music Den in Trademore Shopping Center.

Someone had to count all those jelly beans, one-by-one, and who else but Teen Center Director Michelle Johnson?

Michelle, a native of Camden, Ohio, is a 1973 graduate of Morehead State University. A health, physical education and recreation major, her job experience includes working as general counselor, tennis coach and nature counselor in New York and Ohio summer camps and being a community center coordinator in Biloxi, Miss.

In Mt. Sterling, she was assistant recreation director and for five months acting director, director of playgrounds and summer programs, and assistant community education director.

While working as Teen Center director, she will be completing her masters degree.

ideas for activities, Michelle says April will be spent getting teens active in the center.

An Easy Shot?

Some things just simply are not done easily. It took six hands, two legs and a lot of determination to give one, a Great Dane, his rabies shot Wednesday at the Rowan County Health Center. It took two hands and a leg from Rusty Ford to hold the dog, two hands and a leg from Dr. Ralph Derrickson to stick him and two hands from his owner, Dawn Wright, to comfort him. Over 50 animals had been vaccinated at the clinic by 1 p.m. (Staff photo by Joe Lamb).

St. Claire Sets 'Expansion Celebration'

St. Claire Medical Center officials have announced they will host an "Expansion Celebration" at the hospital on Tuesday, April 8.

Special guest speakers for the event will be U.S. Rep. Carl D. Perkins (D-Hindman) and Dr. W. Grady Stumbo, secretary for the Kentucky Department for Human Resources.

The Expansion Celebration will mark the completion of a $6.5 million expansion program which began in early 1977 and includes the addition of four new floors, 56-acute-care beds, 20 psychiatric beds, enlarging the departments of pathology, X-ray, emergency services, nursery, pediatrics, physical therapy, respiratory therapy, pharmacy and the intensive care/coronary care unit.

The hospital, owned and operated by the Sisters of Notre Dame, opened in 1963 with 41 acute-care beds. St. Claire now has grown to be a seven-story, 170-bed, regional medical center, serving the secondary medical needs of a population of 125,000 in 11 counties in northeastern Kentucky.

St. Claire Medical Center has a medical staff of over 40 physicians who provide, in the following specialties: family medicine, general surgery, internal medicine, radiology, orthopedics, oral surgery, ophthalmology, otolaryngology, pulmonology, and emergency services.

A stained glass window, extending the full length of the seven floors in the elevator tower, is one of the tallest in the state of Kentucky.

Activities at the hospital on April 8 will begin with a formal program in the hospital dining room at 3 p.m. At that time both Dr. Stumbo and Congressman Perkins will speak.

At the conclusion of that program guided tours of the complete facility will be conducted in groups of 10. The tours will include an explanation of the new facilities and gifts from regional artists which have been hung in the hospital will be pointed out.

A reception, during which refreshments will be served, will follow at the conclusion of the tours on the sixth floor.

Though construction of the hospital expansion actually began in February 1977, it was a massive fund-raising drive in October of that year which helped make the improvements possible.

To this point, 75 percent, or $375,000, of the hospital's goal of $500,000 in local contributions toward the facility has been pledged. And of that amount, $330,000 has been collected already.

According to Martina Davis, coordinator of communications and development at St. Claire, all the construction has been completed. A complete furnishing of the rooms, however, will not be possible until the goal has been reached.

Contributions to the expansion have

Cable TV Company Changes Bring Protests At Council Meeting

By JOE LAMB

It seems that no matter what the Morehead Cable TV Company does these days, it is going to bring complaints from some quarter.

First it was the company's failure to extend service into additional areas of the county, that brought fire. Then it was complaints from city residents of poor service.

Next OVC Telecommunications, the parent firm, brought in an earth station which made possible for the system to receive satellite transmissions. The company eliminated a poor-reception station, Channel 19, in favor of Channel 11 out of Atlanta which brought some complaints.

Morehead Cable TV was then petitioned by several hundred residents to provide a religious station and that has resulted in the most recent round of complaints.

With only 12 spots on the selector and 11 stations already in use and another planned for vacant channel 8, the addition of Christian Broadcast Network, the religious station, meant that one of the old stations would have to go.

At first Channel 3, WSAZ from Huntington, was the target because the company said the reception was poor. When the company replaced Channel 3 with CBN, that brought a flood of complaints, including one from Morehead State University President Morris Norfleet, who said WSAZ was the only station which regularly assigns reporters to Morehead.

The company backed down and elected to remove Channel 9, WCPO from Cincinnati, instead. Again, a sea of complaints ensued, resulting in a petition drive and a decision by Morehead City Council, Monday night, to request that the company reinstate Channel 9 and move CBN to channel 6 on the selector.

Dr. Perry LeRoy, one of those responsible for the petition drive, said his group had collected over 800 signatures as of Tuesday and that the drive would continue through the week. He said the petitions would be forwarded to the cable company and the City Council so both would have a record of the opposition.

An indication that the city may eventually ask even more from the cable company came when City Administrator Don Evans pointed out that franchise agreement with the company called for it to provide 12 channels.

He noted that only nine are now being carried. That does not include the local station, Channel 2 weathercast; the university's channel 12 which is shared with Appalachian programming; or channel 6, which carries Showtime pay television.

Evans said the company had added new channels but that they replaced others, meaning customers had not gained from the original nine. He said Showtime should not be counted because it is not available free to all subscribers.

The decision to move CBN to channel 8 apparently means the company will not be able to offer Madison Square Garden sports programming as planned.

One member of the audience asked the council to include in its resolution a request that the cable company retain at least two of each of the network stations.

In answer to a question from one of the council members, the company admits that some customers may have problems with channels 5 and 7; next to Showtime because of the scrambler system. Cable Company

Technician Art Nickell said the company would correct that problem on any set free by adding a device, if the customer requests it.

Teen Center

During the course of the special meeting Monday, the council also took up several other items.

One of those was the approval of guidelines for the operation of the new Teen Center at the City Park. The center opens in April.

The three-point proposal recommended by the Morehead Recreation Commission was the result of suggestions by Dr. Rex Chaney and Dr. Howard Nesbitt, which were studied by the Morehead-Rowan County Youth Inc. which spearheaded the drive for the Teen Center.

Points in the proposal adopted by the council include:

- ✓ That a Teen Center Advisory Board be established which consists of three members of the Recreation Commission, three members of Morehead-Rowan Youth Inc., one member from each of the student government associations at Rowan High School and University Breckinridge.
- ✓ That the Recreation Commission will insure that a proper amount of time be allotted to activities which will be teen-related.
- ✓ That Morehead-Rowan Youth Inc.

Morehead Man Arrested For Attempted Robbery

An 18-year-old Morehead man has been lodged in the Rowan County Jail on charges of criminal attempt at robbery in the first degree.

Lewis E. Smelley Jr., 130 Hargis Ave., was arrested on the charges Tuesday afternoon by Rowan County Sheriff Jim Nickell's office after the allegedly demanded money at knife point from the proprietor of Sturgill's Grocery in Haldeman.

Albert Sturgill told the sheriff that a man came into the store shortly after 1 p.m. Tuesday with a knife and told the store owner he didn't want to hurt him and not to move.

Sturgill reportedly called out for his son-in-law, Bill Smith, who was nearby. The would-be thief reportedly became scared and ran. Smith gave pursuit and a deputy who was in the area, made the arrest about 20 minutes after the incident was said to have occurred. Smelley was apprehended about one mile from the store.

Smelley was held in lieu of $2,000 cash bond and was to have made an appearance in Rowan District Court yesterday.

This covey of seagulls (identification unofficial) made a somewhat unusual 'x' this week at Trademore Shopping Center in Morehead. Harry Pawelczyk, a wildlife biologist with the U.S. Forest Service, said the gulls were rather common in the area this time of year as they begin their migration north to find more water for the breeding season. Pawelczyk said he didn't know why the birds would have stopped at the Trademore parking lot, although the birds sometimes select pavement to break clams on. He added quickly he didn't know where they would find clams at Trademore. (Staff photo by Joe Lamb).

Morgan Man Held In Fleming Shooting

FLEMINGSBURG — A Morgan County man was arrested Wednesday night in Rowan County and charged with first degree assault in connection with the shooting of a 52-year-old Fleming County man.

Harley Sexton, of Ringo Mills, the victim, was listed in serious condition Thursday after being transferred to Hayswood Hospital in Maysville after the shooting. He was originally taken to the Fleming County Hospital.

Jackie Lee Tackett, 37, of Blairs Mill in Morgan County, was lodged in the Fleming County jail on first degree assault charges after being arrested about 10:15 p.m. in Rowan County by Trooper Donald Falin.

State police said Sexton was wounded with a 22 caliber weapon about 9 a.m. in the grocery store he operated at Ringo Mills. Police said the shooting was the result of an apparent argument between the two men.

Truck Tags Now On Sale

The Rowan County Court Clerk's office is now in the second big rush of the spring as renewals for truck and trailer licenses, which expire next Tuesday, April 1, begin to pour in.

Apparently the effects of the new vehicle registration system enacted two years ago are being felt in the county as County Court Clerk Jean Bailey reports her office was less busy this year than normal with car license renewals.

Car tags expired the first of March, but unlike previous years, there was no big last-minute rush to purchase them. In 1979, lines began to form at the courthouse more than a week before the deadline. This year, Bailey says the only big line was on the last day and had only 15 people in it.

Bailey credited several things to the smaller crowds this year. For one thing many people bought their license stickers early; the clerks used a more efficient system; and the change in law is beginning to be felt.

Bailey noted, however, that many people still had not purchased this year's green car license sticker. She estimated the number at between 1,000 and 1,500.

Grin and Bear It

Often, throughout life's rocky road, there are things that you have to do, even if they don't feel too good. For Fritz, the cat, one of those things was a rabies vaccination at the Rowan County Health Center, Wednesday, Fritz's owner, Doris Lambert, helped soothe the pain as Dr. Ralph Derrickson administered the medicine. Morehead Police Report

Vandals fired three shots from a BB gun into the glass door of Main Street Gulf sometime between 9 a.m. and 8 p.m. Sunday. Manager Cobern Fannin reported the mischief 7 p.m. Monday. Investigating the incident was Officer Gordon Lambert.

Two vehicles were taken to a service station following an accident on Ky. 32 Monday. Officer Ronald W. Farley said that Randy D. Kidd, 18, Batesville, Ind., was headed north on the interchange when George A. Bailey, 40, Morehead, entered the street. Kidd said he moved to the inside lane to avoid an accident, but the cars collided. Bailey told Police he saw the other car but thought there was time to cross.

A minor accident occurred in the parking lot of Save Mart Monday evening. Stephanie T. Porter, 28, Clearfield was backing out of a parking space when she struck the parked car of Jeffrey S. Farley. Porter said she did not see the other car. Officer Bobby S. Criswell investigated the accident.

Alcohol Arrest Nets 145 Cases

WELLINGTON — State police from the Morehead post Wednesday morning arrested a 40-year-old Morgan County man on charges of illegal transportation of alcoholic beverages in a local option territory.

Eugene Romans, Rt. 4, West Liberty, was lodged in the Menifee County jail on the charges after he was arrested shortly before 3 a.m.

Police reportedly confiscated 145 cases of beer, seven cases of whiskey and a 1975 Ford pickup truck in the arrest which occurred about one mile east of the Menifee County community of Wellington.

Making the arrest were troopers George Green, Kenneth Steens and Rodney Brewer.

Volunteer Efforts

 county club or elite type of place. If they can't afford the membership ($5 a semester or $10 a year) we will find sponsors," she said.

Already people have called offering to sponsor teens without the funds to afford membership. For the first month the center is opened, membership is not necessary. Then, identification cards will be issued to paying members.

"The ID cards will help them to be proud of the place," says Michelle. Membership applications are available only at the center.

Some of the indoor activities listed in her notebook include Fooss Ball tournaments (there is a Fooss ball table at the center, along with pinball machines, a Space Invader machine, juke box and small pool table), dances, student art displays, educational seminars, crafts and various contests, such as underwater marble stacking.

"I'll have to experiment with that and find out if it's possible," she says with mock seriousness.

Summer weather plans include a wiener roast, hay rides and formation of the Youth Volunteer Corps, a community service group.

Michelle plans to work closely with the youth to determine their interests. A suggestion box will be in the center, she says.

Since she became director March 1 she has visited elementary schools in the county and has been heard on radio stations WMOR and WMKY.

She is hopeful that youth will visit the center to see what is going on and that parents will realize they can be confident about dropping their children off at the center for several hours.

"I'm not their mother - what they do before and after they visit the center isn't my business. But it is my business - while they are there," emphasized Michelle.

One rule written by the Teen Board states, "Use of alcoholic beverages, cigarettes or contraband in any form on the Teen Center premises is prohibited and will result in automatic suspension of membership."

Another says, "The duration of suspension of membership for any reason can be determined by the Center Director; however, before the suspended member can be reinstated, the situation resulting in suspension must be brought before, and acted upon by the Board of Directors."

Michelle is classified as a city worker but her salary is provided by the Morehead/Rowan County Youth Center, Inc.

"That group of citizens," chaired by Mary Alfrey, is left with the task of keeping funds flowing. Membership fees and cash taken in by way of game machines are expected to help, along with aid by the United Way.

The situation resulting in suspension may be "off the ground, existing in a positive way," says Mary Alfrey, before it can be seriously considered for grants.

Meanwhile, a second "shot in the arm" is expected from the Charity Ball being held Saturday, March 29 at 9 p.m. in the Rowan County High School cafeteria.

Proceeds for the second year are going to the Teen Center. Last year, in addition to the $3,000 from the dance, $2,000 was donated by the sponsoring Woman's Club from savings, according to Alfrey.

As of March 25, the Charity Ball Patron Committee had over $2,000 donated by patrons.

Mrs. Joyce Chaney, chairman of the patron committee, said, "We are elated at the response we've had. Last year, we made almost $1,600 and were pleased with that. But $2,000 is terrific. We are so grateful to all the generous will be responsible for providing adequate funds for salary and fringe benefits to pay for the position of Teen Center director.

City Council

Though many of the points in the final policy agreed with those recommended by the youth center group, there were some disagreements.

For one thing, the youth center group wanted 40 hours of work. The teens were narrowly defined to approximately 35 to 40 hours per week. For another, the group wanted, not an advisory board, but a regular committee comprised of half adults and half teens. In addition, the youth center group wanted it clear that vandalism by groups other than teens should be the responsibility of the Recreation Department.

Finally, the youth group wanted it specified that revenues derived from operation of game machines within the center - membership fees and fundraising events should go directly into the account of Morehead-Rowan Youth Center, Inc. Evans said the commission had agreed with that point.

Drs. Chaney and Nesbitt said in their proposal, "The success or failure of a recreation center for the Morehead-Rowan County teens will depend upon creative participation by all concerned entities."

They added, "A philosophy of 'with rather than 'for' the teenagers is imperative. This must be for the teens of the area, not an 'adult playing.'"

The council made the other recommendations a part of the minutes, although they were not to be included in the official policy.

The council also voted to continue the employment of Michelle Johnson as Teen Center Coordinator. Johnson had been hired by the Morehead-Rowan Youth Center previously at a salary of $10,000. As stated earlier, her pay will come from that group although she will be on the city payroll in order to take advantage of city personnel benefits.

To avoid advertising for the position, the city had to waive its employment procedure as to equal opportunity guidelines, noting that the youth group had properly advertised for the job.

Police SOP
 A new ordinance, setting forth standard operating procedures for the police department was also adopted by council during the session.

The SOP manual is basically a revision of one drafted and adopted by Police Chief Fred Barnsdale during his previous term as chief. Most of the individuals and businesses who have responded."

Mrs. Chaney added that tickets are going well and that with ticket sales and patron donations there will be no problem in reaching the goal of $5,000 which the club has pledged to donate to the Teen Center.

Mrs. George Barber is ticket chairman and may be contacted for tickets, as may be any member of the Ball Committee.

revisions dealt with changes in state law after the original was written.

Councilman Randy Wells, chairman of a committee appointed to review the document, in a written report to council, said it was the committee's feeling "that the SOP was not in conflict with state statutes, having been reviewed by the state attorney general's office; was not in conflict with any city ordinance; and was geared toward a more effective and efficient operation of the Morehead Police Department."

City Park Paving

The council also voted to provide part of the cost for completing the paving of the parking lot at the City Park. Evans has made application to Gateway for $5,300 in Area Development Funds for the project and estimated another $4,000 would be needed from the city to complete the job. He noted an estimate from East Kentucky Paving of $10,000 for the project.

Council members also asked that other parking areas of the park be paved if enough money becomes available.

Sewer Ordinance Revision

A revision to the 1977 Sewer User Ordinance, recommended by City Attorney Buddy Salyer, was also approved by council.

Salyer said the changes recommended by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), would be beneficial to the city.

Some of the changes involve stricter control and authority to regulate and test effluent discharged into the system by industries. The revisions also permit the city to pass stricter guidelines than EPA and to require permits for septic tank dumps into the system.

Legal Matter

The council spent about 10 minutes in closed session at the end of the meeting discussing a pending suit.

Salyer said the legal matter had to do with a claim on an engine which had to be replaced in one of the city packer trucks.

Mayor Pro-Tem John Holbrook chaired the meeting in the absence of Mayor Crayton Jackson. Councilman Randy Wells was also absent.

The next regular council meeting will be Monday, April 14, at 7:30 p.m. - at Heritage Place.

Officials Hope 'Fued' Will Draw Blood

In the historical tradition of eastern Kentucky, a feud has erupted between Rowan and Fleming counties. This feud, however, is a friendly one which could benefit many people in both counties.

It all started when Fleming County Judge/Executive Bill Owens made the statement that residents of his county are more responsive to the needs of the American Red Cross Bloodmobile than are Rowan countians.

Rowan Judge/Executive W. C. Flannery responded to that challenge by proclaiming April 1 as Rowan County Blood Donors Day.

Flannery, in making the proclamation, urged all residents of the county to make sure they respond to the life-saving cause. He said that Rowan countians through this endeavor will come together as one unit and defeat Fleming countians in their challenge.

The bloodmobile will visit in the Button Auditorium ROTC Drill Room from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. on April 1. Appointments may be made by calling 783-1212.

Station Manager Will Open MSU Colloquium

Gregory Yaden, station manager for WTCW-AM and WXXQ-FM in Whitesburg, will open the Morehead State University spring radio-television colloquium series on Wednesday, April 9.

Yaden began his career at WCPM in Cumberland in 1969 and began working at WTCW, Whitesburg as a staff announcer in 1974. Three years later he was promoted to station manager.

Yaden will discuss small market radio today and compare Appalachian radio with national radio industry trends.

The 7:30 p.m. program, in Rader Hall, is free and open to the public. The program is sponsored by MSU's Department of Communications and the national broadcasting honorary (AERho).

Howard E. Sollenberger, director emeritus of the Foreign Service Institute of the U.S. Department of State, will be the featured speaker at Morehead State University's joint initiation banquet of the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi and Pi Gamma Mu, National Honor Society in Social Sciences today (March 28).

The dinner is scheduled at 6 p.m. in Adron Doran University Center. Now a consultant in international affairs, Sollenberger will be appearing at MSU under auspices of Pi Gamma Mu's memorial lectureship for deceased national officers.

He served 26 years at the FSI, including 11 as director. The Institute is responsible for the professional training of American diplomats and other foreign service personnel. Sollenberger is a specialist in Chinese affairs.

010 Card of Thanks

WE USE THIS MEANS TO THANK, from the bottom of our hearts, all who were so helpful and thoughtful during the illness and death of our beloved wife, mother and sister, Mrs. Maxine Dyer Faulkner. We are particularly grateful for the sincere and excellent service of Denny Northcutt of the Northcutt & Son Home for Funerals, Rev. Ted Green for his consoling words and for his many visits to the hospital to be with us during this trying time, we wish to specifically thank the Sisters at the Saint Claire Medical Center who Maxine dearly loved for all they did and sincerely appreciate the special memorial service held at the hospital chapel in her memory; all who sent flowers, brought food and called at the funeral home and our home, or assisted in any way. Your thoughtfulness will long be remembered.

Hospital Participates In Nutrition Month

"Eat smart" has been the theme for National Nutrition Month, sponsored by the American Dietetic Association.

To emphasize the month, The Dietary Department at St. Claire Medical Center held an open house for hospital employees March 8. The event featured tours of the kitchen and displays of nutrition information in the hospital cafeteria.

To eat smart, Jane Faith, dietitian at St. Claire offers these tips:

Start with these essentials - for vitamins A and C, four servings of fruits and vegetables. For iron and B vitamins, four servings of whole grain or enriched breads and cereals.

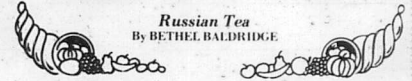

For protein, four to five ounces of lean meat, fish, poultry, eggs, nuts or dried beans or peas. For calcium and riboflavin, three to four servings of milk or cheese.

Add more of those foods as you need them for energy, ideal weight, and meal satisfaction, and be sure to firm up with exercise that you enjoy.

folks — slides, musicians, talk shows, etc.

I have worked hard toward raising enough money to charter the First Baptist Church bus for our trip to see The Easter Story with living pictures March 31 at Wallace Memorial Baptist Church in Knoxville. The scenes included are The Last Supper, The Agony, The Denial, The Trial, The Crucifixion, The Resurrection, The Great Commission and Come Unto Me.

Sunday a large crowd attended New Hope regular Primitive Baptist Church. Everyone enjoyed the preaching and singing.

Maud Thompson celebrated her 74th birthday March 19. She received many calls from her children and many friends; some were long distance. She received a lot of birthday cards, too. Her granddaughter Rita Trida from Lafayette, Ind. was Maud's dinner guest on Sunday.

Frank Whisman and Louise Little attended the auction sale Saturday on Rock Fork. Louise is Frank's lady friend and she bought herself a nice heating stove in a jacket. Now Frank has to haul it for her.

Earl Anderson is so generous. He told my husband, James, he would give him a piece of tile, as his culvert isn't wide or long enough.

Wendell Doudt is back in the hospital again after suffering a second heart attack. We hope for him a speedy recovery.

Spring brought Martha Kestley and her sister, Doty Brammer and Lilla Daxley out to the Center, Friday, for the March birthday dinner. Fifteen persons birthdays were celebrated in a dinner sponsored by McDonald's.

Dolly Erwin celebrated her birthday Sunday at her home on Christy Creek. Eight of her children were present and all of her twentyeight grandchildren.

Tom and Ethel Bradley both are on the sick list and neither were able to attend church Sunday. Charlie and Cephas Littleton will go to their home March 29 at 6:30 p.m. and hold a short service for them. Some of their children and friends will be there.

Everett and Edna Blevins had as guests Saturday night Glen and Sabra Littleton from Bracken County. All of them attended New Hope Church.

Quiller Bentley is one of our spriest men in town. He sure doesn't show his age. He acts just like he is forty, even if he is above seventy. Several of our Senior Citizens are above that.

James Powell and Mary Northcutt entertained the Senior Citizens at the Center again Monday by talking about greasy beans and kenny back potatoes and the best time to plant our gardens. Of course, they let us tell about whether to plant in the ground or in the moon.

Our grandson, Jay Prater and two of his boyfriends from Columbus, Ohio, are camping for eight days at Lake Lewman. Jay's parents own a cottage up there, but the boys want to rough it, so they are camping out in the woods where the wild flowers grow.

Ernest Sparkman, who fell and broke his hip several weeks ago, is up and about with the help of a walker. His wife, Hattie, says he will be joining us again soon at the Center. She comes in once a week.

Preston Littleton is gaining so much weight since Delphia is feeding him so good. He is getting too big for his breeches and they have been married only two months.

Harold Belcher is getting plenty of exercise since he walks his neighbors hugh dog several blocks every morning before coming to the Center. He used to clean the sidewalk out in front of the Center.

Eva Owens hasn't showed up at our Senior Citizens center for a few days. She must be keeping busy selling her Siamese kittens. She has oodles of them and plenty of friendly dogs, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Caudill are a fine couple and they come in real often, now. If only they would break down and bring pickle beans and corn to tide us over until we can go salad picking.

Something is going on five days a week at our center to entertain us little

Food Stamps Can Buy Seeds, Plants

ATLANTA, Ga. — "Plant a home vegetable garden and stretch your food stamps!"

That is the advice Edward W. Davidson, Southeast director of the food stamp and other family nutrition programs, is giving to food stamp recipients as the inflation continued to spiral.

"To be sure," Davidson said, "many families do not have space for a garden, but those who are fortunate enough to have even a small plot of available land can certainly supplement their diets in a nutritious and economical manner by using it."

He explained that food coupons have no expiration dates. This makes it possible to grow vegetables until winter when the need will be greater.

Davidson pointed out that city residents have shown that a surprisingly large quantity of vegetables can be grown on an extremely small plot of land — even in the flower garden or on the patio.

Recipients were reminded that garden seed and plants can be purchased with food stamps.

By PAUL MILLS Graded Feeder Cattle Sale

The Limestone Feeder Cattle Association is sponsoring a sale Wednesday, April 2, at the Flemingsburg Stockyards in Flemingsburg. Calves will be accepted from 7 a.m. until 3 p.m. that day.

Sale time will be 7:30 p.m. Wednesday night, April 2. There will be no farm inspection of calves. All grading will be done at the stockyards.

Consignors are urged to bring cattle early to avoid the mid-day rush and to separate heifers and steers if possible. All cattle must be owned for 60 days by the consignors.

All calves will be graded, marked and penned according to weight, breed, sex and grade.

All cattle will be grouped for best sale by graders and sale committee. Calves with eye lesions, bad eyes or pink eye, lame, sick or unthrifty calves will be considered "out" cattle. They will be sold after the regular graded sale.

All tags and bulls will be considered "non-graded" cattle. Cross-bred calves in all breeds will be accepted. They will be separated into pens by breeds at the yards. It is assumed that all cattle have been vaccinated for blackleg. No vaccinations will be done at the yards. The consignment fee for the animals will be $1 per head, plus regular stockyard commission and insurance charges. Other dates and locations of Feeder Cattle Sales within the area are: Winchester, April 14, at Mt. Sterling, April 21.

4-H Teen Weekend Camp

A 4-H teen weekend camp has been scheduled for April 18-20 for 4-H'ers at the North Central 4-H Center, Carlisle. The camp is open to any 4-H teen member (Association student). The registration will be Friday, April 18, at 6 p.m. and will run to Sunday noon, April 20. The cost will be $15 per person, which covers the food, lodging and insurance. Any high school teen 4-H'er interested in the camp should contact Paul Mills not later than April 22.

Tested Bulls Offered

Bull buyers can shop for performance tested bulls at the Paris Special Sale to be held Saturday, April 5, at the Paris Stockyards. Approximately 92 bulls, averaging between 13-14 months of age, will start selling at 12 noon. They include 36 Angus, three Ankin, 10 Charolais, one Schiangus, three Limousin, 30 polled Hereford, one shorthorn, and eight Simental Bulls.

By MARTHA HUNTSMAN Bake Sale

The Rowan County Homemakers will be having a bake sale on Saturday, March 29, beginning at 10 a.m. in the Trademore Mini-Mall. Proceeds from the sale will go to St. Claire Medical Center.

Homemakers Attend Meeting

Mrs. Frances Totich and Miss Grace Crosthwaite attended the Kentucky Extension Homemakers Association Annual Meeting held in Lexington March 19-21, and acted as Rowan County's voting delegates during the business sessions.

One of the highlights of the three day meeting was the presentation of a needlepoint tapestry from the Homemakers Association to the Commonwealth of Kentucky. The tapestry, measuring 9-feet high by 14-feet long, is made up of 126 individual 10-inch squares that have been woven together to make one huge wall hanging. There are 120 squares representing each of Kentucky's counties plus a square in each corner that pictures the state bird, state flower, and the State Capital Building. Squares bearing the Kentucky State seal and the seal of Kentucky Homemakers organization are in the center of the tapestry. Rowan County's square, depicting the Moonlight School, was designed and needlepointed by Grace Crosthwaite.

Cooking With Herbs

Adding herbs to dishes can spice up these everyday meals. Here's a guide to tell you what herbs go well with what foods:

- Beef - recommended are bay leaf, basil, caraway, cumin, dill, marjoram, sage, tarragon, or thyme.
- Pork - lemon balm, mint, marjoram, chervil, basil, anise, rosemary, tarragon and thyme.
- Lamb - usual flavoring is mint, but try lemon balm, dill or bay leaf.
- Poultry - sage, bay leaf, caraway or tarragon.
- Fish - thyme, rosemary, tarragon, sage, parsley, mint, marjoram, fennel, dill, basil or chives.
- Eggs - chives, dill, thyme, sage, tarragon, parsley or mint.
- Breads - rosemary, caraway, cumin, dill, marigold, or coriander.

Learn To Manage Money

The Extension Service is now offering a correspondence course called "Looking at Family Money Matters." The course includes four lessons — How to Live on Less; The Battle of the Budget; Renting Money and Services; and How Good a Manager Are You? The purpose of the lessons is to teach individuals how to recognize and use community resources, to understand the importance of a family spending plan, how to use credit wisely, and to learn good management. For more information or to sign up for the course, contact Martha Huntsman at the Extension Office 784-5457. The course is free.

Adrian Razor To Be Honored

A get-together in honor of Adrian Razor, recently retired county extension agent for agriculture, will be held on April 11, 1980 at 7:30 p.m. at the Rowan County High School cafeteria. There will be potluck dessert and all friends of the Razors are invited to attend. The hosts for the event are members of the Extension Council, Homemakers Council and 4-H Council.

Crop Receipts Up

Kentucky cash receipts from farm marketings reached a record high of $2,250.9 million in 1979, up 10 percent from 1978, according to information released this week by the Kentucky Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. And the state ranked 22nd in the United States for total cash receipts.

Cash from crops increased 10 percent from 1978, while livestock and livestock product receipts increased 11 percent. It was the sixth consecutive year that crop receipts were above livestock.

The increase in crop receipts, the service said, was mainly due to larger crops of soybeans and corn and higher prices for most major crops with the exceptions of soybeans and hay.

The increase in livestock receipts was due mainly to an increase in prices for cattle, calves and milk. Hog marketings were up, but price per pound was sharply lower.

U.S. cash receipts from farm marketings climbed to $128.9 billion in 1979, up 16 percent from 1978. Crop receipts at $61.7 billion increased 19 percent while livestock receipts at $67.3 billion increased 14 percent from 1978.

License Board Approves Projects

FRANKFORT — The Kentucky Certificate of Need and Licensure Board has acted on seven applications affecting north eastern Kentucky.

The board, which is attached to the Department for Human Resources, approved the following applications.

Renal Care Inc. in Ashland — to establish a five-station renal dialysis facility ($24,000 per year for building, $27,636 per year of equipment).

Boyd County Health Care Center in Ashland — to change the application by deleting 16 beds, for a proposed facility totaling 100 intermediate and personal care beds ($1.8 million).

Grayson Health Care Center — to change application by deleting 28 beds, for a proposed facility totaling 160 intermediate and personal care beds ($2.8 million).

Louisiana — to add 31 intermediate care beds and other improvements ($280,000).

The board disapproved a request by owners of Paintsville Hospital to replace that facility, based on a lack of demonstrated need and inconsistency with the established regional plan.

The board also approved the establishment of a three-bed family care home.

Breck Students Win Honors At KUNA Meeting

Students from University Breckinridge recently attended the Junior Kentucky United Nations Assembly (KUNA) sponsored by the State YMCA. Seventh, eighth, and ninth graders from across the state attended the assembly, which was held in Louisville.

KUNA is a model United Nations assembly and serves to give students experience in the nature and complete workings of the United Nations. They dress in appropriate native costumes, present bills and proposals for their country, and behave as if they were actually citizens of their chosen country.

This year the girls from Breck represented the country of Austria and the boys from Breck represented the country of Cuba.

The boys representing Cuba behaved very much like Cubans, deeply expressing their Communist customs and the desire for the United States to leave the army base at Guantanamo Bay. The Cubans even took over the General Assembly for 10 minutes in order to express their feelings.

After hostages from West Germany were released and a compromise was worked out by the United Nations, the assembly came back to order.

Anne Hanrahan, Breck student, served as the President of the General Assembly. Dean Hardin served as a cabinet member. Danita Saxon served as Council Secretary, and Bobby Hamilton, Sam Holbrook, Rick Alfman, and David Sizemore served as assembly sergeant-at-arms.

Eighth graders Robin Urban and Missy Gardner were candidates for 1980 offices. Seventh graders Jonathan Gotsick and Kyle Cragger spoke and debated.

The 1980 assembly awards were presented on Saturday.

Six outstanding delegate awards were presented and students from Breck received three of these awards. Outstanding delegate plaques were presented to Steve Taylor, Robin Urban, and Dean Hardin for their participation and debate.

The most honored award at the assembly is the State YMCA-KUNA Best Country Award. This year's award was a unanimous choice by the delegates, the advisors, and the State YMCA Director.

The best country award was presented to the boys from Breck for representing Cuba. The boys were presented with a plaque.

The students who attended Jr. KUNA are members of Breck's Jr. High CO-ED-Y Club. The advisor for the club is John Lester. Club members attend youth conventions and perform service projects for the community.

Joyce Saxon from Breck also attended the assembly as an advisor and a chaperone.

Girl Scout Activities Are Reviewed

Eleven senior scouts representing both University Breckinridge and Rowan County Schools are involved with the new career oriented materials "From Dreams to Reality" and "Let's Make It Happen."

In addition, they have attended council-sponsored events. Recently, Nita Eyster, Nicky DuBar, Annette Graham and Melissa Moon attended the Senior Luncheon at Shakertown.

The program included slides on the recent "Our Cabana" trip to Mexico over the Christmas holidays.

Annette Graham was one of eight girls from the Wilderness Road Girl Scout Council who was selected to attend.

This summer, Annette Graham and Nita Eyster have been selected to attend the national event, "Almost Anything Goes," in Connecticut from June 24-July 8.

Along with 75 other girls from the U.S. and 50 girls from foreign countries, they will tour the New England area, as well as New York City.

During the next two weeks the seniors will be busy painting the Teen Center, as one of their service projects. In addition they are working on plans for a trip to Chicago in April.

Members of the senior troop include: Beth Braugher, Tracey and Leith Clough, Debbie Cox, Nicole DuBar, Nita Eyster, Annette Graham, Angie Grindstaff, Alison Fisher, Alicia Johnston and Melissa Moon. Mrs. Marion Eyster is the troop advisor.

FCC Allows More FM; $25 a Concert Ticket?
NATIONAL POP MUSIC SCENE
By BECKY LYNN

The Federal Communications Commission says it will soon open up the FM radio dial and allow more stations to broadcast. Presently there are 110 commercial and 1,010 educational FM stations using the U.S. air waves.

Some pop music acts desire playing in smaller halls and clubs, but this drives the ticket price way up. If you want to see a major artist, it may cost $20 to $25 in some instances. If the performer insists on working smaller halls with more personal audience contact.

Several of Iran's top singers have been charged with "spreading corruption" throughout their country. Included is Gushag, Iran's most popular female vocalist.

Watch for a special "all country" guest line-up on this week's Hollywood Squares.

The long-awaited Eddie Rabbit television special has been set, to air on NBC-TV July 12th.

A $10 million film, based on Frank Sinatra's life story is slated for production in the spring of next year. Old, recent and re-recorded material will make up the movie's soundtrack.

Aunt and Nancy Wilson of Heart have been asked to write a script for a CBS-TV film.

Linda Ronstadt will reportedly make only 4,000 a week when she performs in the Prates of Penance movie, this summer.

Mark Goldenberg, bassist of The Cretones and songwriter of three tunes on Linda Ronstadt's latest LP, was arrested for driving while listening to music through headphones. The Cretones have their own hit album out, Thin Red Line, featuring the single Real Love.

Country artist Freddy Fender and his new band, The Spizz, have worked with Pete Menefee, costume designer for Kiss, and currently feature a Galactic Cowboy look as they tour with their theatrical-type country genre slow.

Tom T. Hall has replaced Ralph Emery as host of the syndicated Pop Goes the Country TV show. Emery will soon open up the FM radio dial and allow more stations to broadcast. Presently there are 110 commercial and 1,010 educational FM stations using the U.S. air waves.

David Lee Roth of Van Halen, broke his hand in a fight with a disco fan. The dispute was over judo 'n' roll and disco music.

Rock group Judas Priest had to pay $100,000 in ransom money to thieves that stole the master tapes for the band's next album.

Chase Trick will soon begin a nationwide small hall tour. Public Image, featuring Johnny Lydon (formerly known as Johnny Rotten), is doing a 10-city U.S. tour to promote the group's new Second Edition double album.

Kasin Sulton, bassist for Utopia, is going solo, while Jack Bruce, formerly of Cream, makes a comeback forming a new group. Both acts are currently performing in New York City.

The old Humble Pie is reforming — as is Black Sabbath. New lead singer, Ronnie Dio will be featured on Black Sabbath's upcoming Heaven and Hell LP. The group will tour in July.

The cover art of Bernadette Peters' first album is a portrait done by 84-year-old Alberto Vargas.

Late this month Motown Records will issue a special double album package, Twenty Number One Hits from Twenty Years. The disks will feature Smokey Robinson, Diana Ross, The Supremes, The Jackson Five, Temptations, Stevie Wonder, The Commodores and many more.

NEW TALENT
The Tasmanian Devils, from San Francisco, play pop-rock music on their debut Warner Bros. album. One of the better cuts is Spy in the House of Love.

Eagles Split With Louisville, 13-2, 11-3

The Morehead State baseball team split a doubleheader with Louisville Wednesday afternoon, losing the first contest 13-2, but rebounding in the second game for a 11-3 victory.

Louisville blasted senior pitcher Ken Wilfong for five runs on three hits during the first two innings. Wilfong walked the first two batters, which didn't help matters.

All told the Cardinals racked up 12 hits and were aided by two Eagle errors.

Sophomore Jamey Bennett accounted for two of the Eagles' six hits in the first game. Bennett also drove in all the MSU runs. Bennett had a single in the first, driving in Jody Hamilton and repeated the act in the third, again driving Hamilton to the plate.

Louisville scored first in the second game in the second inning off of two hits and an Eagle error by David Gaunce.

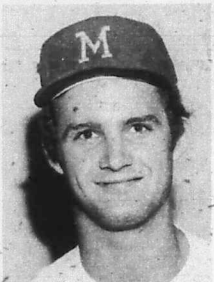

The Eagles rebounded in the third inning by sending 10 men to the plate and racking up seven runs off of four hits. Three of the hits were home runs by Chris Auer, David Gaunce and John Combs. Gaunce more than made up for his earlier error with another home run in the fifth inning with two outs.

Morehead added three more runs in the sixth inning with three hits. All told the Eagles totaled 10 hits.

Mike Mattox received the victory, his second of the young season. The sophomore from Carlisle, Kentucky pitched five innings, giving up just two runs, three hits, struck out four Cardinals and issued two walks.

Morehead played Kentucky State yesterday and will open Ohio Valley Conference play this weekend when they travel to Austin Peay and Murray State.

Sophomore David Gaunce blasted his first two home runs of the season Wednesday during the second game of a double header against Louisville.

Eagles Spring Football Practice Finally Gets Under Way

The weather has delayed the start of the Morehead State football team's spring practice, but hasn't dampened the spirits of the players or coaches.

After months of preparation practice finally got under way Wednesday afternoon. Under the NCAA rules, a college team has 30 days in the spring to get in 20 practice sessions.

Freshmen from last year's squad began working out by lifting weights right after the season ended. "This is where they receive their introduction to our weight and conditioning program," said Steve Loney, the Eagles offensive coordinator. Very few freshmen are able to step into a college football program and contribute the first year, mainly for physical reasons.

Veterans on the Eagle team began working out with weights after the Christmas break. Members of the team have a standard schedule for lifting except those who have injuries. Players who were injured during the season receive a special training program to meet their special needs. Players lift weights three days a week.

With a month to go before spring practice the weight lifting drops to twice a week and in addition the players run for three days a week.

A week before practice began the players were running five days a week. When practice finally started Wednesday, players were in shape and the weekend time could be spent on other aspects of the game.

Coaches spent even more time and effort preparing for spring practice. Films of all the games last season were broken down and analyzed. "We do this to try and determine what strengths and weaknesses we have and to evaluate what we did last year," Loney said. "Offensively each play is charted by formation, position on the field, the defense we were facing and what went wrong with the play," according to Loney.

During the past several weeks head coach Tom Lichtenberg and his assistants have been planning the details of each practice session, so as not to waste any time once out on the field. "Spring is the time a person makes the team," Loney said. "We take a look at everyone and try some people at different positions, the ones we think they will do the best in, and of course we're always making evaluations during the practices," Loney said.

The first twenty minutes of practice the offense and linebackers tape while the defense, wide receivers, tight ends and quarterback backs meet with coaches; the second minutes, the offense and linebackers tape while the other meet with coaches, to discuss the days workout. Specialists, such as long snappers, punters and kickers usually put in some extra work before the rest get out on the field.

After ten minutes of calisthenics, real practice begins.

The first ten minutes are spent working on individual techniques according to position. For example the defensive backs work on stance, ball handling, dropping back, interceptions, tackling and containment drills. "During this time the players concentrate on agility drills which pertain to their certain position," Lichtenberg said.

After individual workouts, time is spent going through group situations. An example of this would be the offensive line working on a certain blocking scheme, or just the right side of the line working on a play.

A fifteen minute team drill follows with 11 on 11 situations.

This summer Lichtenberg plans to take all the data he and his staff have gathered and have it fed into a computer in order to spot tendencies. "This will enable to scout ourselves and how we run in different situations and what successful we are, which will enable us to be a better football team," Lichtenberg said.

Eagle I And Lewis Agency Reach Basketball Title Game

Eagle I and the Lewis Agency reached the finals of the Morehead Recreation Department Men's basketball league tournament. The two teams met last night for the championship.

Eagle I, the only team to go the whole season undefeated, downed Local Sanitation 73-62.

Marc Kessler scored 17 points. Bo Chambers had 14 points, Dorron Hunter pumped in 20 points, Carey Reid had eight points, Mike Ealey had six points, Keith Watts had four points, Greg Hall and Billy Goldsmith each had two points.

Steve Hodges led Local Sanitation with 22 points. Terry Brown added 13 points, Leroy Hodges had 10 points, Daryl Thomson scored nine points, Frank Gorrell had six points, and Gary Ferguson tossed in two points.

The Lewis Agency reached the finals for the second straight year by defeating People's Bank 70-69 in overtime.

Jim Morrison led the Lewis Agency with 23 points. Mark Lewis had 10, Ron Day had nine, Jim Stewart and Jim Tom Holbrook each had eight points. Rob Gibson had five points, Paul Hutzy had four points, Larry Stone had two points and Mike Keays had one point.

Brad Lemaster led People's Bank with 30 points. Kirk Hudson tossed in 10 points, Jim Brockman had 11, Sam Daugherty and Bill Fouch each had six points. Bob Wells had four, and Billy Hough had two points.

First Bass

Bill Boyd of Rowan County displays the first bass to be weighed in at Fin, Fur and Feather Bait Shop at Cave Run this spring. Boyd caught the 6 1/2 pound bass on a jig and pork rind using the "flipping method." He said he caught the 22-inch fish in 20 feet of water under a hidden water structure. Boyd also said he hooked two other fish of similar size but was unable to boat them.

Vanceburg Fire Damage Estimated At $200,000

VANCEBURG — Fire swept through a Vanceburg home Wednesday, destroying an estimated $200,000 worth of property including a garage containing four vehicles. Kentucky State Police arson investigators have been called in on the case.

The family of Dr. Arnold Robinson, Oakland Park, was not at home at the time of the blaze. A neighbor living some 500 feet away notified the Vanceburg Volunteer Fire Department at 3:10 p.m.

Firemen arrived within 10 minutes to the scene, but according to Fire Chief Gary Mofford, the garage, housing a 1980 Lincoln, 1977 pickup truck, 1962 Corvette, 1973 Mercury Montego and a motorcycle, had already collapsed and the fire was throughout the house.

Reportedly the home was heavily insulated and carpeted throughout, making flames difficult to extinguish. Vanceburg fire fighters were joined by Tollesboro and Garrison departments shortly after the call came in. Firemen were called back several times during the night due to flare-ups, and left for the last time at 6 a.m. Thursday morning.

Chief Mofford said about half of the frame of the house remains. What little furniture was saved is heavily smoke and water damaged.

Dr. Robinson is a dentist with offices on First Street in Vanceburg.

Computer Theft Under Investigation

Morehead State University Campus Security officers are still investigating the theft last week of a computer from the accounting department at the university.

Roger Holbrook's campus security, said the computer terminal and several items of related equipment were taken from Gary Van Meter's office, 316 Combs, sometime Thursday night.

Holbrook said entry to the office was gained through breaking out a glass panel on a door and reaching through to unlock the door. He said a chain had been cut on one of the doors leading into the Combs Building but was not sure if it was cut during entry or escape.

The total value of the equipment taken was estimated in excess of $4,000. Items taken included an Apple II computer, $1,800; two disc drives, $1,000; a Novation modem, $200; an IBM 440 computer printer, $1,200; and operating manuals.

Holbrook said he was not sure whether or not the burglar or burglars knew what they were taking because several discs as well as an AC power box were left behind. The computer equipment, however, was the only thing thieves took.

Holbrook said the computer, which was new and about the size of a typewriter, could have been used much like any other computer.

City Radio Office Moved

The City Police radio room should be moved into the remodeled first floor of city hall today.

Yesterday, the move began and was expected to be completed. Portable equipment normally used during power-off emergencies was used while the office was being transferred from cramped second floor quarters.

Entrance to the dispatcher's office is now through what use to be the fire station door.

FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 28, 1980

Proud Day

Today marks a very proud and special day for many industrious members of the community as the Morehead-Rowan County Teen Center at City Park prepares for its grand opening.

The opening of the center for youth of Morehead and Rowan County is the culmination of more than a year of hard labor by many individuals and groups within the community.

It began more than a year ago as a project of the Morehead Woman's Club and has since grown to where it has touched nearly every group or organization active in the county.

The city itself, through the Recreation Department, put out over $9,000 toward the construction of the facility and even the county government has donated some funds to its operation.

It would be unfair, if not impossible, to attempt to list all those who donated their time and their money to the project. But it is safe to say that they did it for the result and not the recognition anyway. Many of those who put in long hours on the facility did so after a hard day's work or gave up their free time on the weekend.

Still in all the work has just begun to make the Teen Center a success. Each year the Morehead-Rowan Youth Center Inc. must come up with enough funds to pay the salary of the director for the center. That will mean a lot of fund-raisers and much community interest, if the program is to continue.

And perhaps just as important to the success of the center is the attitude of the adults who oversee it toward the children and young adults who will use it. It was noted, in a written proposal for the operation of the center, that those responsible for the regulation of it must adopt an attitude of "with" rather than "for" the teenager. It was stressed that the center must not become an "adult plaything." The youth who use the center can be responsible if we will permit them.

We hope that the hard work, dedication and monetary contributions of all those involved will not be in vain. The Teen Center is indeed a community project.

Meeting the Competition

With all the cries of woe to be heard coming from Detroit these days, it is perhaps surprising to learn that some European automakers are saying their biggest threat may come from the U.S.

According to press reports, Europe can protect its native manufacturers from Japanese competition through import controls, but American car makers own large operations right in Europe. They do not have to import their products.

The cause of the Europeans' fears is government demand for the American manufacturers to make more fuel-efficient cars. Since the car makers have to go to the expense of retooling anyway, they may make a major effort at the same time to create exciting new technology which would produce the desired cars at less cost than under the old methods. They may not have been willing to do that in the past, but the changing situation has made it economically feasible. When Detroit could build any kind of car it thought would sell there was less pressure to develop new techniques. Now that pressure exists. Ford and General Motors, at least, can afford the huge capital investment needed for such breakthroughs; many European competitors cannot.

American car makers can apply a great amount of new technology to their European divisions because European and American cars are coming to resemble each other more as American manufacturers stress economy and nimbleness.

This is a hopeful sign for U.S. industry. It points out the real solution to our sagging balance of payments problem. The U.S. is not going to overcome foreign competition by short-sighted protectionism. It needs to make better products at a competitive cost. That is how the economy was built and that is how it can be restored. American ingenuity, aggressiveness and the willingness to take a risk on something new made the U.S. great. Resting on laurels while seeking protection from innovative competition is not the answer.

Politics

Politics is a very ancient pastime. Sallust, for example, could have been writing for the 20th century A.D. instead of for the first century B.C. when he said: "In public life, instead of modesty, incorruptibility and honesty — shamelessness, bribery and rapacity — hold sway."

Few politicians, however, would agree with Will Rogers, who said: "I tell you folks, all politics is apple sauce."

George Washington warned in his Farewell Address against "the spirit of faction." Emerson, very much above the battle, said haughtily: "Politics is a deleterious profession." The best party, said Lord Halifax, "is but a kind of conspiracy against the rest of the nation... ingorance maketh men go into a party, and shame keepeth them from going out of it." Cowper thought: "The age of virtuous politics is past." Party spirit, according to Pope, is "at best the madness of many for the gain of a few."

So people go on discovering that men do not become saints when they go into politics, and the old cry "Turn the rascals out!" sounds as fresh today as it did when Charles A. Dana used it in the campaign of 1872.

Many of these critics were perfectionists. Politics is the art of compromise. "No man," as Sydney Smith said, "can effect great benefits for his country without some sacrifice of the minor virtues."

Redefining 'Leisure'

The American worker has a thousand hours more leisure a year than his grandfather had. That is the estimate of an industrial designer who complains that as this "extra" time has mounted, the worker has done little constructive with his leisure.

What's he exercised about? Over the years soothsayers proclaimed that the leisure which "progress" was giving us, and which would be increasing as time passed, was to be spent as we pleased. Nobody said we had to be constructive about it.

S. C. Van Curen

Agree Or Not . . .

FRANKFORT — While the legislature is struggling toward a dramatic but predictable finish with the governor winning his tax program, there are some mundane but important affairs that ought to be discussed for the future of the commonwealth.

One of the problems that never seems to go away is the question of what to do with the governor's mansion. Every four years repair work is done, and every four years the new governor's wife wants to change it... from different furniture to painting the woodwork and walls and putting new art on the walls. Each new first lady seems to want to leave her mark on the mansion.

First off, the governor's mansion is the property of the Commonwealth of Kentucky (the taxpayers). It is provided as the temporary home of the governor for the brief four-year period he is here.

Theoretically, this is the reason there are statutory provisions for a Mansion Committee to look after maintenance and improvements. This is supposed to provide a continuing program to keep the mansion as a stable showpiece as the temporary home of governors.

In effect, the committee doesn't seem to work that way. The Finance Department seems to listen to the governors or their wives in making improvements and furnishing the mansion.

The first floor of the mansion is public and visitors come and go on designated days of the week. Living quarters for the governor and his family are upstairs. The upstairs is private.

Thus, logically, it would seem that the committee would have full say as to what happens in the way of furnishing, maintenance, repair and art on the lower floor.

It would seem logical that the furniture on the lower floor should be the finest that reflects some of the history and the romance of Kentucky. In other words, the lower floor of the mansion should be a real showpiece.

Let the governor's family do whatever it wants in the way of furnishings, painting, remodeling within reason, in the upstairs living quarters, for this is really their home for four years.

The mansion is part of the history of Kentucky, and it should remain so, not just a chinking place of residence to be redone at the will of the temporary resident.

The new budget appropriates one million seven hundred thousand dollars for repair and refurbishing the mansion. A big amount is spent every four years.

It is true that the electrical systems need to be completely replaced. The plumbing should be modernized. The masonry outer structure is solid. Maintenance and refurbishing is what is needed.

A continuing committee should have charge of taking care of the mansion's maintenance and furnishings on the lower floor.

Kentuckians could be encouraged to contribute funds to obtain the unique furniture and art work telling the history of Kentucky in an elegant and proper manner.

There was an idea advanced during Gov. Julian Carroll's administration to build a wrought iron fence around the mansion as a security measure. Other ideas of landscaping were advanced.

Then, there is the matter of airplanes and their usage for the governors. Planes always seem to bring political discussions and criticism. But this is another story.

Planes should also be available for the governor and should be under the charge of a special office that sees there is no abuse of the privileges, but to see that the governor has the necessary transportation when needed.

Black To Join Honorary Society

John Hunter Black, IV, Rt. 2, Morehead, will be among sixty-seven people initiated into Phi Beta Kappa, national collegiate honorary society, in ceremonies Tuesday, April 8 at Duke University, Durham, N.C.

Dr. Juanita Kropp, James B. Duke professor of economics at Duke and former U.S. Secretary of Commerce, will speak at the banquet following ceremonies at Duke Art Museum. Dr. John O. Blackburn, professor of economics at Duke will preside. The new initiates include two honorary members, three alumni members, four recent graduates, 51 seniors, of which Black is one, and seven juniors.

There are nearly 600 million credit cards being carried in this country today.

Media Expert Will Talk At University

"The Role of the Media in the 1980's Convention: Fact vs. Fiction", will be the topic of discussion by communication expert, Vincent R. Clephas, on Thursday, at Morehead State University.

Clephas, director of communications for Philip Morris, Inc., heads the media arrangements committee for the 1980 Democratic National Convention. The Louisville native is a 17-year news veteran and is former assistant of Ambassador Robert S. Strauss, the United States special trade representative, press and legislative assistant to Congressman William P. Carlin, Jr., of Kentucky and administrative assistant to Congressman John B. Breckinridge.

Clephas has been active in political activities including managing television operations at the 1972 Democratic National Convention, working with the McGovern presidential campaign, press secretary and director of communications for the Democratic National Committee.

He has also worked as reporter, television news director and national correspondent and has presented lectures in the Soviet Union.

Clephas' program, sponsored by MSU's Campus Communications Club, will be at 6:30 p.m. in the Adron Doran University Center.

The program is free and open to the public.

Easter Seals Helped 8,733

LOUISVILLE — the Kentucky Easter Seal provided care and treatment for 8,733 disabled Kentuckians in 1979, according to Dr. Harvey Sloane, Louisville, 1980 Kentucky Easter Seal Campaign Chairman.
 "Of those helped, 5,486 were children, he reported. The treatment program was supplied through the programs offered by eight Easter Seal programs and facilities.
 Among the services offered were hearing and speech therapies; special education, hospitalization, resident camping, vocational counseling, sheltered employment, physical and occupational therapies, transportation, equipment loan and information and referral.

St. Peter's in Rome is the world's largest church, covering six acres and holding some 80,000 people.

Outreach Services Offered Sr. Citizens

The Rowan County Senior Citizens Organization is providing transportation and escort services to residents of Rowan County who are 60 years and older.
This service is provided to meal sites, social or recreational activities, shopping areas, doctor or medical appointments and other social service agencies.
Mary Corrette, site director, will provide an informant and referral service to tell persons where they may apply for assistance from agencies.
Outreach services are also seeking to identify hard-to-reach individuals to assist them in gaining access to needed services. A legal counseling service is provided to assist senior citizens in identifying legal issues and problems which they are unable to handle in dealing with pension, medicare, medicare, social security, health, housing, employment, etc.
Telephone reassurance and friendly visiting are provided to older persons who may otherwise be isolated from the mainstream of community and social interaction due to residential remoteness or confining illness.
All these services are available through the local Senior Citizen's Center on Wilson Ave. Morehead. The telephone number is 784-8811.
