Allen Hyden, 51, Electrocuted Thurs. While Repairing Lights At Board Of Trade Horse Show

Horse Show Postponed To August

Will Be Conducted As The Allen Hyden Memorial Benefit

Morehead's Horse Show, cancelled Thursday night following the death of Allen Hyden, electrician, will be repaired, the Jayve Memorial Stadium lighting system, will be held Saturday, August 1.

The show is to be known as The Allen Hyden Memorial Benefit with all gate receipts going to a fund which the Board of Trade will present to the Hyden family.

Announcement of the new date was made Saturday by Manager H. M. Meadows after a meeting with Board of Trade members.

This is on primary election night and the Rowan County News, which always sponsors at the courthouse a broadcast by address system of the returns, announced the election results would be given at the stadium.

News Editor W. E. Crutcher and Meadows expressed the opinion the event would be its largest crowd in history, because it is being held in memory of Mr. Hyden.

Classes will remain the same as originally scheduled, except a parade class might be added for southern Ohio exhibitors, Meadows declared.

It was learned that practically every exhibitor personally called the committee after Thursday's postponement and expressed condolence over the tragic death of Mr. Hyden and urged him they would be glad to help him to show their horses on August 1.

An advance ticket sale is also being planned.

Collections In General Fund At New High

Over $76 Million
Reported In State

General fund collections reached an all-time high for the state in the 1952-53 fiscal year, totaling $76,393,143, Department of Revenue officials said.

The forecast was made last January when it became known that receipts were falling below the original estimate of 78 million dollars.

Spectators Calm As Tragedy Strikes

Tragedy struck Thursday night at the annual Morehead Board of Trade Horse Show as Allen Hyden, Morehead State College electrician, was electrocuted while attempting to repair the flood-lighting system.

Hyden, 51 years of age, met instant death when conduits, carrying 4,000 volts of current, were shorted.

A few people outside the Stadium when the catastrophe happened said there was a blaze of fire from his body before he fell to the ground. The Morehead Fire Department and the United States and Kentucky Forest Service sent respirators for almost three hours in an attempt to revive him.

It was feared for a time that the cyclone fence around the stadium might be charged by the short, but in 1,000 spectators were calm and kept their seats without panicking. A warning of the Board of Trade was given at 8 o'clock.

Shortly before the first class was started, the catastrophe occurred on the west side of the stadium when the initial class, for boy and girl riders, was shown, but which announcer J. T. Denton of Lexington told the audience were in the stadium.

While the lighting system was repaired, a ladder was placed a ladder at the rear of the stadium on College Boulevard, and the current was cut off.

It is believed the voltage was not in contact with the metal pipes on the east side of the pole, as Hyden fell on the ground. W. H. Rice, Morehead College superintendent of Buildings and Grounds.

Most of the crowd did not know what happened until they sat in the dark, all the lights going off when Hyden hit the ground.

The loud-speaker system started calling for doctors and a few minutes later the medical corps and members of the forest service. It was then that the spectators knew there had been an accident, but announcer Denton calmly told them to remain in their seats and not to touch the wires as they were cut.

After the accident, the remains were removed to the Lane Funeral Home. The last rites were semi-private in that only the family and close friends attended and were in keeping with Hyden's expression that he did not desire a public funeral service.

Mr. Hyden, son of the late John and Dora Cassidy Hyden, was born at Farmers Orchard 28, 1902.

He lived his entire life in Rowan County. Until 1937 he was a resident of Farmers Orchard at Morehead at that time he was in possession of an electrician at the college. He was assisted with the college operated water works and impoundment reservoir.

ON SKIS, NOT THE SKIDS, AT 84

TOM BROWN glides along on water skis in Milwaukee and finds the sport is just what an 84-year-old "youngster" needs for mild exercise. A former cross-country runner and an advocate of walking 20 miles every day, Brown decided to try water skiing and discovered these juveniles have some pretty good ideas after all.

Ernest Cleveener, one of the first farmers in Rowan County to affiliate with the Licking Valley Strawberry Cooperative, this week presented Rowan County Agent Adrian Rezer with figures concerning this year's crop.

From his six-tenths of an acre patch Cleveener marketed 107 crates for $909.50, an average of $8.50 per crate.

Registration will be from 9:30 until 10:30 at Allie Young Hall, followed by a business session at 11 o'clock and the dinner banquet at 12:30 in the college cafeteria. Dr. Charles Spain is the banquet speaker.

Swine auction and terminal markets. Prices are still at near record levels with some prices just reported up $1-175 over the previous week. Choice butchers brought $26-250 very freely.

Top quality eggs are still hard to find on these hot days and prices are ranging around 45-50c, according to a State Department Agriculture report.

Prices that were unchanged to lower: Veals rose $1.50-2 on a steady basis. Hot days are dropping again; lambs also are not falling at the rate of 50c-2.50 on most markets since last week. Hen markets are unsettled and current receipt eggs unchanged to lower; feed prices mostly lower and cattle are continuing down, especially the low grades.

One bright spot in the farmer's picture is that chicken and turkey prices are supposed to continue above those of last year. And a much smaller turkey crop should push those prices higher.

Tuesday Sale Report At Morehead Stockyards
Tuesday's sale report at Morehead Stockyards: heaves $24(24.50; cows $25(10).

With our roads in a depleted condition it is difficult to understand the thinking of officials who continually raid the road fund in the face of a constitutional amendment voted by the people, four-to-one, which forbids diversion. Amendments proposed in the past have been approved by the legislature. This may be true. But the State Police, who are paid to spend 96.7% of its time patrolling the roads.

Drivers License Sale Lagging In Rowan County
Rowan Circuit Clerk Herb Bradley, Tuesday pointed out drivers licenses has been slow and expressed the opinion that "if you wait until the next day or so you will have to stand in line."

Drivers, whose last names begin with 'L' through 'Z' are required to secure new licenses at a cost of $2, before August 1. The new licenses are issued for two years. Persons making application should bring their old licenses with them, Bradley said.

The Circuit Clerk pointed out that only 280 of more than 1,500 who must get new licenses in Rowan County, had secured them.

One Day Old Infant Claimed At Clearfield

The day old son of Emory and Amina (Howard) Wagner died Thursday morning at the home of his parents in Clearfield. The child had been named Everett and weighed over 12 pounds at birth.

Funeral for the infant was held Friday afternoon at Wagner with interment in Wagner cemetery. Burial was in the family home cared for the arrangements.

Besides his parents, the child leaves his paternal grandparents, Jake and Arizona Wagner of Elbert County and his maternal grandparents, Willie Howard and Marial, all at home.

Other survivors include a brother, three sisters, Ruth, Ruth, Glenn, Ann Brooks and Marial, all at home.

Heart Trouble Fatal To Child, 3 Months Old
Funeral Conducted Tuesday For Son Of Former Moreheadians

A heart ailment since birth proved fatal to three-month-old Harold Hamilton Hamlin Sunday morning at the home of his parents, Arlie and Nina Hamilton, in Lewis Landing.

The family is from Morehead, moving recently to Plummers Landing near Hamilton. Mr. Hamilton purchased a farm.

The child's death was not unexpected, his parents had a proposed plan to set up a credit and cooperative collection agency.

Under the initial proposal each merchant would pay a flat monthly fee for credit information. A graduated scale on collections would also be set. It would be necessary to maintain a credit office, and each merchant would make available to the Association his charge accounts.

The merchants also discussed plans for future special value days such as the recent dollar days in Morehead. Earl McBrayer is president of the Merchants Association.

Mortgage At Cranston Church Paid Off Sunday
Sunday was a great day for a great many people in the North Fork of Triplett section as they closed the mortgage on the Cranston Church.

The ceremony followed an all day program. After the regular services, conducted by Pastor Ernest Fisher, the congregation gathered in the church for a special service.

Harold Goodpastor of Morehead delivered the special sermon. The church, one of the most beautiful in the rural sections of Rowan County, was constructed five years ago. Initial payments were by public subscription and the church created the indebtedness to pay off the balance of construction costs.

Called A 'Shame'
The Clearfield school has been criticized by the health department and Martin Bowler, general manager of Lee Clay Products Company at Clearfield, has often pointed out the pitiful shame in a civilized nation.

A check of blueprints at the construction office at Clearfield shows the new Clearfield school is to be built of brick with tile floors, 11 classrooms, 141 by 91 feet, but will not have the floor space this would indicate, because the school is to be built on a hillside.

It will face the new Morehead-Leisure highway and is to be constructed on the road area plan call for terracing the large, sloping lawn.

Morehead Is Voted For Tax Reduction

City Council Reduces Levy From 75 Cents To 65 Cents This Week
Morehead's City Council voted Tuesday night to reduce taxes from 75 cents each $100 assessed to 65 cents.

Decision to grant the tax decrease, unusual in this period of inflation, came after the council studied figures and arrived at the conclusion expenses could be met under the 65 cents schedule.

No one could recall when Morehead had ever before had a reduction in taxes.

The some 300 parking meters in the city have been paid for and the city now has full use of this collection, about $1,000 a month.

At the time the meters were installed the council promised a special tax on them which was paid for. The new council voted the reduction.

Merchants May Form Cooperative Credit Group
The Morehead Merchants Association is considering at its Tuesday meeting a proposed plan to set up a credit and cooperative collection agency.

Under the initial proposal each merchant would pay a flat monthly fee for credit information. A graduated scale on collections would also be set. It would be necessary to maintain a credit office, and each merchant would make available to the Association his charge accounts.

The proposal is like that at ready adopted by many municipalities and almost every larger city in the state.

The merchants also discussed plans for future special value days such as the recent dollar days in Morehead. Earl McBrayer is president of the Merchants Association.

Senator to Wed

SEN. JOHN F. KENNEDY (D-Mass.), 36 and Jacqueline Lee Bouvier, 22, a former newspaper reporter-photographer, will be married in Newport, Rhode Island, in September, it was announced by Miss Bouvier's parents. The senator is the son of Joseph P. Kennedy, financier and former American Ambassador to Britain. The prospective bride was graduated from Georgetown Washington University in 1951.

Drought Stricken Cattlemen To Receive Help

Secretary Ezra T. Benson announced this week the Agricultural Department will buy at least 20,000,000 pounds of canned beef, hamburger and boned beef to help drought stricken cattlemen in the Southwest.

He said the purchases, to bolster the "runously low" prices cattlemen are getting for their livestock, will "begin immediately" and will continue for the next 20 weeks.

Shortly before Benson's announcement, President Eisenhower made $8,000,000 available for use in the drought areas of West Texas and Oklahoma.

Benson said "the drought and general cattle situations are two separate problems, but they are now inter-related and will be so for some weeks at least."

"It is important that a form of the relief we give to livestock people in the stricken areas be portable toward increasing the trend toward ruinously low prices for stock forced into liquidation by the drought conditions," he said.

For the week ended June 27, beef production under federal inspection totaled 179,000,000 pounds, compared to 182,300,000 pounds the previous week and 117,100,000 pounds for the same week a year ago.

ZOO 'MOTHER' GETS AN ORPHAN

MRS. FRED MARTIN, whose affection for young animals put in her care at the Bronx, N. Y., zoo nursery has won for her the title of "zoo mother" as shown with her latest "foster child," a Japanese Sika deer. The fawn seems to have succumbed to the Martind influence as completely as the long parade of lions, tigers and monkeys that have been bottle-fed and reared by Mrs. Martin until able to be exhibited. This deer was born at zoo by Caesarian operation. (International)

There's Difference In Earning A Living And Making A Living

In a magazine the other day, I came upon this line, "Do you want to earn a living or make a living?"

That cogent question stood out from the printed page. In it lies much more than a clever sentence. In it is the root of true success. Are we willing to earn our living, or do we merit each step we advance? Whether it be employment or self-employment, or do we want to make a living, slashing it hard, and forcing a place for ourselves?

If we want to earn a living, we do it at contentedly, doing a fair share of whatever it put before us, not cutting corners, nor cheating, nor turning out a shoddy piece of work. The same is true with our living outside of our work. If we want people to like us, we will be friendly, courteous, fair to all. No task will be too insignificant, for we will respect ourselves too much to do a bad job.

If we want to make a living, we will carve out a place for ourselves, perhaps not too scrupulously. We will be putting ourselves first and subordinating all things and all people to the one end of success. "Ambition only, gives, even of bitterness, a beaker full," the poet wrote.

Most of us want to earn a living. We come from that sort of people. We have a tradition of hard work behind us, people who braved the unknown to build through the labor of their heart and hands a home for themselves and for those to follow.

We have had enough of those who wanted to make a living-of the people who were not willing to achieve success by the slow process, but who wanted to grab for themselves not "a place in the sun" but "the place in the sun." We have learned that the appeal of the dictators-left or right-is to those who do not want to earn a living. They substitute taking for earning. They do not build. They destroy.

What is true of nations is true of individuals. What is true of

Strawberries Pay Off For Morgan Farmer

With a gross income of $1,274.89 per acre from strawberries, Robert Cassidy of Crockett, Morgan County, thinks the crop is equal to tobacco in value and holds great promise for Morgan County farmers.

The acreage of strawberries in Kentucky has been reduced in half largely because of the atomic energy plant near Paducah and other army and defense installations in the larger strawberry areas, stated County Agent Charlie Dixon. Because of this, prices for Kentucky berries have been at a record high this year.

Mr. Cassidy set 4,000 plants on seven-tenths acre in the spring of 1952. His income this year from the patch was $819.38 from 74 gallons sold. The family used and gave away 50 gallons of over-ripe, or smaller berries valued at $40, making a total gross income from the 7/8 acre of $859.38.

Mr. Cassidy recognizes that individuals is true of nations. It is up to us. What do we want to do—make a living or earn a living?

Kiwanis Club Views New Sports Film

The film, "Water Wilderness," hailed as one of the finest wildlife color motion pictures ever produced—has been chosen by the State Department as a U.S. entry in the upcoming International Film Festival at Locarno, Italy, it was announced this week.

"Water Wilderness" has been shown to the Morehead Kiwanis Club and organizations may still obtain prints free of charge on a loan basis from the Western Auto Supply Co., its sponsor.

Announcement that "Water Wilderness" has been selected for screening by the festival committee was made in Washington by the State Department, according to T. A. Cline, partner in the Morehead Western Auto Associate Store.

The festival will be held in July.

Mr. Cline also revealed that the film has been chosen by the state department for use in its overseas information program. The film will be translated into several foreign languages, he said.

"Water Wilderness" was filmed in the mysterious Florida Everglades and features Ed Dodd, creator of the "Mark Trail" comic strip. The film depicts Mr. Dodd on his search for new material to use in current "Mark Trail" sequences.

It shows a variety of fishing and wildlife incidents deep in the Everglades. Tarpon, shark, gator, sting ray and other sequences are all shown in full natural color.

"Water Wilderness" recently was named as one of the outstanding outdoor films of 1953 by the National Wildlife Federation—the first formal award ever given by the federation.

Surplus Labor Reported In 6 State Counties

Rep. Perkins (D-Ky.) said this week that Secretary of Labor Perkins has made a finding of surplus labor in six Kentucky counties—Pike, Floyd, Johnson, Martin, Magoffin and Knott.

If the office of defense mobilization approves the designation, the counties will be eligible for preference in the awarding of government contracts.

Perkins said six additional counties would be found surplus in labor by Durkin in a week or 10 days. He said these were Perry, Leslie, Breathitt, Letcher, Harlan and Bell.

Under the ODM program for labor surplus areas, the agency would instruct the Defense Department and the government's civilian buying agency—General Services Administration—to award contracts to the designated counties if they meet the lowest bid obtainable in non-surplus areas.

The preference does not apply to the textile, apparel, shipbuilding and petroleum industries.

Perkins said high unemployment in the 12 counties is due to the "mine situation." He said captive mines are working six days a week but "many" non-captive mines are on little as a one-day-a-week schedule.

Boy Scouts
Patience Pays Off In Any Boys Program

By Lucien Rice

It is very difficult to teach boys how to do something, but if you have patience and know what you're teaching then you can put your subject across to boys.

At camp manners are very hard to put across to a bunch of boys who are away from home in the Scout Law it says "A Scout is Courteous." This means he is courteous to his family, his community and his country. It also means that a scout should be courteous about his habits no matter where he is.

Boys have always been hard to handle, and hard to teach the right way. Here at Camp Offutt we try to teach the boys a various amount of Scouting skills, but most important we want them to live by the Scout Oath and Law, and to come back home with a clean mind.

These few paragraphs simply mean that a Scout should live to the best of his ability, a good clean life full of clean habits.

Abuse Of The Absentee Voting
Law In Kentucky

Kentucky's absentee voting law, which opened the way for political chicanery in the past, will be more abused this county election year.

Intention of the statute is good in that it permits citizens who will be away on vacation, business or other reasons, to vote. It is proper in that it permits men and women in the service to express, by secret ballot, their sentiment.

Few, however, realize what an opening this law gave unscrupulous politicians. Little has been said about the abuses in the past,
but it is only a matter of time until public attention is focused on it. Since this is the year when county officials are to be elected,
you can reasonably expect to hear much about how the absentee ballot can be used to advantage by any candidate or party.

The statute has been interpreted so that any person may go to the courthouse, make application and cast his vote on the spot. This is the portion the politicians are employing successfully.

Here are some examples that are being practiced in many eastern Kentucky counties:

- (1) Every county has many people who have moved to Ohio and other states for industrial employment. Many of them have been removed for several years, but pay periodic visits to their homes and back home. Their names remain on the registration lists under the somewhat lax purgation procedure. Many of these people, on visits to Kentucky, are applying for and voting on absentee ballot to help a relative or candidate they wish to elect. They can vote without vote without any challenge. In fact, if the individual's name is on the registration list
the clerk has to issue the ballot without question. Some candidates are employing a person to go to Dayton, Middletown and other cities where Kentuckians have migrated, to solicit such votes.

- (2) Every county has some so-called floating votes. It is used to be that precinct voters flee for these at the polls. There is an easier method now. The floater simply goes to the courthouse and votes many days before the election. It's a fast pay.

- (3) Four years ago in one nearby county
a candidate received 49 per cent of the total general election vote, but on absentee ballots had over 200 to less than 25 for his opponent.

If it can legally be done, we believe the absentee voting law should be repealed except that the right of an absentee ballot should be allowed men and women in the service.
In this respect the law has been good and has worked satisfactorily.

The Rising Debt Follows A Rising Economy

There have been many warnings from economists recently that consumer debt, or the total debt of the American economy, was expanding too rapidly. Usually these words of warning have been accompanied by figures showing a steep rise in consumer credit and other debt totals in the United States.

It is true that the total debt of the American economy is, and has been, rising sharply.
However, one could not expect anything else.
The income of the American economy has been rising, as well as savings, population, and total production. Thus, it is only natural for total debt to rise too.

To get an accurate picture of what the rising American debt means, and whether or not it threatens us with an economic recession, one must look at the increasing debt compared with increased production, income and savings. When one does this, it is reassuring, since it is discovered that the growth of savings is moving upward faster than the growth of the total American debt. In fact, only in the year since World War II has the total American debt grown faster than have increased savings.

Also, when comparing income and the total American debt, one can summarize the comparison by showing that the gross debt
has expanded about two hundred per cent
since 1940, while the national income has expanded over two hundred fifty per cent.
Therefore, the American debt in 1952 was a smaller proportion of the national income than it was in 1940.

bluffed than bludgeoned.

A Row Over Who Climbed
The Mountain First

Now that Mount Everest has at last been climbed, a full-fledged row has developed between members of the expedition which conquered the world's highest mountain.

There have been reports that the former mountain guide, Tensing Norkey, was the first to reach the peak of Everest.

However, Sir John Hunt, leader of the victorious expedition, reportedly has threatened to cancel Norkey's proposed trip to England if the guide did not retract statements that he had been the first to attain
the top peak of Everest.

Moreover, a controversy has broken out in the Indian press, with some writers charging that Norkey has not been treated fairly by the leaders of the expedition or the foreign press. There are also reports that Norkey and Sir Edmund P. Hillary, who also attained the peak of Everest, are experiencing strained relations. Some newspapers go so far as to assert that the condition is straining international relations between India and other countries.

It seems that we cannot forget the recent victorious Everest expedition. As far as we can see, it makes no difference whether Hillary or Norkey achieved the summit of Everest first. In fact, if the nations involved experience a rift because of the controversy, they would set some sort of record for wasted effort.

Failure Of The U. S.
Library System

Despite the wealth of America, the present generation has failed to build an adequate library system for young and old in forty-five out of forty-eight states. This conclusion was reached recently by a group of state librarians and the New York State Library
in a cooperative study.

The group went so far as to term the condition of the nation's public libraries "shocking," and estimated that more than 53,000,000
Americans do not have easy access to books.
And 24,000,000 have no public library services
of any kind.

Anyone who has traveled abroad and seen feverish Communist efforts to provide Communist literature for the masses can readily realize the extent of this failure in our domestic system.

The public library is an American heritage, which must be preserved if intellectual freedom and individual freedom of thought are to be safeguarded. It is in the public library that the American enjoys the freedom to read the views of anyone, whether or not he agrees with prevailing sentiment. In the Communist countries, and many other countries, this freedom to study and weigh the views of all is not enjoyed by the people. As President Dwight D. Eisenhower pointed out only recently, we Americans have a freedom of view about any issue if we are to champion our form of life successfully.

Description Of A Great
Naval Victory

Among the many fine books dealing with World War II published since the end of that great conflict are a series of volumes by Samuel E. Morison on the history of naval operations in World War II. Mr. Morison has just published the eighth of his fourteen-volume series.

Though military critics differ with him on some factual reporting and some judgments, it is agreed among all concerned that the books are a definite contribution to the task of recording the record of the Navy in the last war and they are also written in such manly style as to make them highly enjoyable
reading, and a contribution to history.

The latest volume, the eighth, has just been released. It describes the American naval victory off the Philippine Islands in 1944. This was the greatest single naval action of World War II, and is often compared to the Battle of Jutland in World War I as a fleet action. Like Sir Winston Churchill, who has portrayed the drama of two wars in superb style, Morison records a battle as though the reader were participating. The result is wholly satisfying.

To those who have enjoyed the writings of Churchill, the single volumes of Eisenhower, Bradley, and other top U. S. Commanders, and the accounts of Field Marshal Rommel's campaigns in Africa, and the like, the eighth volume is a gem. It is a work well worth absorbing. In fact, writers of naval history have many advantages for tracing operations and have so many records and logs to study they can reconstruct a naval action more accurately than either Army or Air Force historians. It is because of this, and the natural drama of naval battles, that the most accurate story of what happened in the principal naval actions in World War II is complete, and fascinating reading.

PAST BEDTIME STORY

THE EDITOR'S PEN

This Is The Kind Of
Story The Editor
Likes To Publish

We have perhaps never written a news story that gave us more satisfaction than the lead on page one of this issue. It announces plans for construction of a new school at Clearfield and a gymnasium in Morehead.

However, we are holding our fingers crossed because the $230,- 000 additional which the Board of Education can legally bond itself, appears to be inadequate.

But the Board of Education and Supt. Emrick Cecil have had this on their minds ever since they started the business for many months,
and they believe the contract has been within their grasp. As Mrs.
Cecil puts it: "The job is to be done... we're praying this will be enough money to get the job done and scrap on every penny."

How will they be financed?
The new roads will be financed by issuing revenue bonds payable over 20 years, and paid for by the gasoline tax. The present tax can pay for them.

The way in which we are going along at the present time will not bring us up to standard in years of road construction. The pace is simply too slow. Under present highway building schedules, it is estimated that it will take 15 years to build the same roads and that does not take care of deterioration of roads constructed.
Kentucky got off to a bad start in her road construction by building too many roads too thin to take the punishment.

Friends of this project are getting behind it. The Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce,
the Louisville Chamber of Commerce, the automobile clubs, are among the statewide organizations now pushing the proposal.

Let us hope that our cooperative arrangement between the city and the health department, the school and the city, will be strengthened by DDT. Got that a fly was a scarce article and people just didn't know it.

We have to retract some of this now because there's lots of
it. The summer. We understand some property owners complained the DDT blocked the side of the road. We're sorry about that.
We're hoping that a quick spraying in order because causing can be done by the DDT. We're sincerely of the mixture hitting amounts.

Perhaps you recall when Morehead had so many rats you could see them crossing the street. A few cats were sent to Morehead to cut the rodent population so much that most of what we have today is the result of a rat from the country or garbage dumps.

Haggan Is A Man
Of Many Trades
We noted in the last issue of the Rowan County News that Haggan was to judge the garden contest and also the Fourth of July parade. We understand that he is the founder of the cemetery improvement associations, that he is a member of the Rotary Club,
and he judges each year the Christmas Tree Decorations and the Fourth of July parade. He also runs a garage, and he is a rain gauge. All of which this active gentleman likes "a good deal."

Caricature Failed
To Arrive
The engraver failed again this week to get Willard Waltz
caricatured back in time for publication. There is a routing job on these particular cuts, but the artist has done his best and already made up for future use.

A Sad Story
For Any Editor
We mentioned the satisfaction of getting a lunch at the Rowan County's new school buildings. But, in this same story, we mentioned the saddest stories we have phrased
... the unfortunate electrocution
of a man.

It is proper the Board of Trade
is holding Allen Hyden Memorial fund to help the needy. We hope that just about everybody in Rowan County will have a ticket. We're buying several.

Goldie's To Award Bicycle, Radio, Camera, Tennis Racket, Other Prizes In Contest

Clarence Hibbard, manager of Goldie's Department Store at Morehead, said this morning that interest was exceptionally high in the Red Goose Shoe contest, in which a bicycle and many other valuable prizes will be awarded.

Tutor Scooters Must Use License Plates

Motor scooters and motorized bicycles are required to have license registration plates.

Assistant Attorney General T. N. Williams, Jr., said that he law requiring the registration of "motor vehicles" includes all vehicles propelled otherwise than by muscular power and that are used for transportation of persons or property. This, he said, includes the motor scooter.

Under the plan a vote is given for each penny spent on shoes at Goldie's. Votes are also obtained in other ways, including: (1) free votes for registering; (2) 10 votes for each pair of worn shoes tied together and brought into Goldie's on Mondays; (3) 25 votes for each adult that registers at the store on Tuesday; and (4) double votes on Thursday purchases.

Mr. Hibbard said that any boy or girl stands an excellent chance by entering now to win the bicycle or one of the other prizes consisting of: 2nd, a portable Zenith radio; 3rd camera; 4th, tennis racket; 5th, record player; 6th, badminton set; 7th, Roy Rogers wrist watch.

Leaders in the contest until Tuesday are: Richard Flannery, 3,769; Charles Butcher, 1,538; Tommy Prancer, 1,100; Billy Greene, 1,000; Reese Hunt, 949; Philip Flannery, 900; Lester Stewart, 900; Buddy Tackett, 800; Jackie Ferguson, 700; Connie Bailey, 675; Frank Lee Ferguson, 600; Wanda June Lewis, 600; and Paul Ferguson, 550.

Dr. McMillan Attends Public Relations Meet

Dr. R. M. McMillan, professor of education and director of public relations at Morehead College, left last week to attend the annual convention of American College Public Relations Directors at Salt Lake City, Utah. Dr. McMillan will return to the campus next week.

We wonder if school children appreciate summer as much as we did.

Survey Shows MSC Alums Help To Raise Birth Rate

By Gladys McConkey

Morehead alumni are doing their share in raising the fertility rate of the nation's college graduates. This was revealed by a recent national survey of college graduates 10 years ago and those of 25 years ago.

The survey, part of an eight year study, has shown that the trend toward more children for college graduates has been upward since 1936. It is completely the reversal of the pattern set during recent decades by college graduates whose children are families fall far below the replacement level. In the 10 years since leaving college, 1943 grads have already almost equaled the average family size of the class of 1928, 25 years after commencement. The 1943 group is able to boast of 488 per cent more offspring than could graduates of the class of 1936 and the figures indicate that they may replace themselves and their own.

Morehead's alumnae of the class of 1943 were included in the report of the survey which is sponsored by the Population Reference Bureau, a non-profit educational organization located in Washington, D. C. The Morehead women didn't do quite as well by the birth rate as most of their college sisters across the nation, but they still did better than the average of 1936 graduates. The figures show that women graduates of the class of 1943 had, as a national average, 1.30 children each 10 years after graduation. The 32 Morehead women who were surveyed had an average of only 1.13 children apiece but this figure is way ahead of the national average of .85 for 1936 alumnae 10 years after they graduated. In all cases the 1943 class, for example, is 43 per cent above the national average.

Sponsors of the college study pointed out that the reproductive pattern of college graduates is of concern to the nation's future because, according to geneticists, college graduation implies a certain biological selection for intelligence and general ability. To the extent that these abilities are inherited—and geneticists are convinced that heredity is a significant component—under-reproduction of this group could have an adverse effect on the intelligence of the population in future generations.

Today, an average of 2.1 children per graduate is needed for replacement of that group from one generation to the next. It is still too early to conclude that the birth rate of this group of graduates will reach the replacement point, according to sponsors of the survey, but the prospects are encouraging.

Not only Morehead grads, but those of other southern colleges are below the national average in fertility rates. Average figures for 1943 alumnae, by the national apiece, are 1.18 in the south, 1.23 in the northeast, 1.34 in the middle west, and 1.54 in the far west.

Marriage rates were also studied in the recent survey. The Bureau concluded that marriage is still a popular institution, for only 12 per cent of the men graduating in 1943 have remained bachelors. A few more women—28 per cent—have remained unmarried. Of the married women, 88 per cent have become fathers, and 63 per cent of the wives are now mothers.

The college study, conducted by Clarence J. Gamble, M. D., of the U. S. Census Bureau, is available at individual colleges throughout the United States, thus supplementing generalized data. Over 14,000 men and women of the 1943 graduating class, 179 colleges were surveyed in the most recent study.

Studies of fertility published by the U. S. Census Bureau in 1949 are based on samples of married women between the ages of 15 and 50. They revealed that from 1940 and 1947 fertility rose among all groups. Women with more education—and this extended through the college graduate group—showed the greater gain in fertility. The fertility rate of married women who had college degrees increased 35 per cent while that for married women with less than five years of schooling increased only 13.2 per cent. However, the latter group was still having, in 1947, 62 per cent more children than the college graduates.

In all cases the 1943 class, for example, is 43 per cent above the national average.

Sponsors of the college study pointed out that the reproductive pattern of college graduates is of concern to the nation's future because, according to geneticists, college graduation implies a certain biological selection for intelligence and general ability. To the extent that these abilities are inherited—and geneticists are convinced that heredity is a significant component—under-reproduction of this group could have an adverse effect on the intelligence of the population in future generations.

Today, an average of 2.1 children per graduate is needed for replacement of that group from one generation to the next. It is still too early to conclude that the birth rate of this group of graduates will reach the replacement point, according to sponsors of the survey, but the prospects are encouraging.

Not only Morehead grads, but those of other southern colleges are below the national average in fertility rates. Average figures for 1943 alumnae, by the national apiece, are 1.18 in the south, 1.23 in the northeast, 1.34 in the middle west, and 1.54 in the far west.

Marriage rates were also studied in the recent survey. The Bureau concluded that marriage is still a popular institution, for only 12 per cent of the men graduating in 1943 have remained bachelors. A few more women—28 per cent—have remained unmarried. Of the married women, 88 per cent have become fathers, and 63 per cent of the wives are now mothers.

The college study, conducted by Clarence J. Gamble, M. D., of the U. S. Census Bureau, is available at individual colleges throughout the United States, thus supplementing generalized data. Over 14,000 men and women of the 1943 graduating class, 179 colleges were surveyed in the most recent study.

Studies of fertility published by the U. S. Census Bureau in 1949 are based on samples of married women between the ages of 15 and 50. They revealed that from 1940 and 1947 fertility rose among all groups. Women with more education—and this extended through the college graduate group—showed the greater gain in fertility. The fertility rate of married women who had college degrees increased 35 per cent while that for married women with less than five years of schooling increased only 13.2 per cent. However, the latter group was still having, in 1947, 62 per cent more children than the college graduates.

Doctor, 92 Will Become A Father

Dr. J. D. Hullmeier, 92 and hearty, of Clinton, Iowa said he expects to become a father again in about a week and "I rather think I'll handle the case myself at home."

He said his 32-year-old brunette wife, his former housekeeper, had expected their child about Aug. 2 "but I think now it will be about three weeks ahead of schedule."

The cornet-toting doctor, who still practices medicine actively, said he doesn't see any need to take his wife to a hospital.

"That's getting to be largely a matter of habit," he said. "I wasn't born in a hospital and I've lived to be 92."

Hullmeier said he feels he's well qualified to handle the delivery. His smiling wife nodded agreement.

"After all," he said, "I've delivered well over 3,000 babies in 62 years as a doctor."

The new baby will be Hullmeier's third child. Two adult daughters by a previous marriage have died.

Hullmeier married his present wife last year after his first wife died.

He said a happy married life is easy if both parties want it.

"All you have to do is be fair with each other and raise a family according to your means of support," he said.

"Personally I want a big family and that's what I'm starting on."

Want Information On National Guard

Company E, Olive Hill's unit of the Kentucky National Guard, has received numerous inquiries as a result of an article in the News as to the organization and purpose of the Guard, they reported today.

The National Guard is a volunteer organization of citizen-soldiers. It is a military organization but its members are civilians. They are local citizens who go to school or work—in offices, in factories, they are at stores, in factories, in stores, on farms. But whatever their civilian occupation, they give a part of their time, every week, to train in defense of their community and country.

As the country grew, the National Guard grew. As towns sprang up and states were added to the union, additional Guard units came into being... for local and national protection. Today there are more than 6,000 Guard units in more than 2,200 communities in Kentucky there are over 70 units.

At the head of the Kentucky National Guard is the Governor of the state. The local unit is commanded by an outstanding officer who lives and works at his job right here in Carter and Rowan counties, as do the other men and officers of the unit.

The Olive Hill unit, now engaged in a campaign to reach full strength, is now and has been closely tied to Morehead and Rowan County. The first company was formed back in 1928 was a Morehead man—the late Capt. Walter Miller. At that time many young men from Morehead were members of the unit. Capt. Boone Pelfrey, was commander for many years. At the present time Morehead is represented by Lt. Donald Cameron and Lt. Arthur Emmons of the Morehead post of the State Police, and Sgt. Maxwell Adkins, now attending Morehead State College. Members of the band who attend college at Morehead in the fall and winter months also drilled with the Olive Hill unit while away from their homes.

Capt. Edward Gee, the company commander, stated he would be interested in enlisting a number of men from Morehead, and he is perhaps even a whole platoon, complete with officers and non-commissioned officers. He added that by enlisting a group of men in this manner, with veteran non-coms, that it would be a Morehead unit throughout.

"I think," Capt. Gee said, "that the young men of Morehead should be given the opportunity to serve their country and fulfill their reserve obligation while staying at home, as can the youth of other communities in the state. It affords an excellent chance for those men who plan on attending college to complete their work without danger of interruption from selective service. In Richmond, Bowling Green, Lexington and other cities with state colleges many of the students are members of the Guard units."

Tax Commissioner's Exam Is Upheld The Court of Appeals upheld the 1949 legislative act requiring candidates for county tax commissioner to pass written examinations given by the State Department of Revenue before their names may appear on the ballots. The Franklin Circuit Court had held the statute failed to prescribe proper standards for the examinations. The Appellate Court upheld the lower court's decision. Flatliff often conceals jealousy.

Rowan School District To Get $140,642.38 Of Common Fund; State Allotment $26 Million

The Rowan County school district will receive $140,642.38 as its portion of the $26,212,500 common school fund to be distributed during the present school year. It was announced by Superintendent of Public Instruction Wendell P. Butler.

The sum represents $38.11 for each person between six and 18 years old living in the district. The per capita figure is slightly lower this year due to an overall increase in the state school census from 662,330 to 687,731—an increase of 3,401 pupils, while the fund for distribution is the same as before. The per capita figure last year was $38.41.

The per capita allotment does not take into consideration any aid that may be received from the $5,373,000 school equalization fund, a fund based on need. Distribution of this fund will be made later.

Put In Place To Really Cool Off

Thomas C. Morze, 54, won't have to worry about the heat for the next 20 days—he'll be in the cooler.

He also was fined $100 at Louisville on a charge of running around naked near his home.

Morze said he had been drinking and got too hot.

Pegler Labels Pearson Crude, And A Rascal

Westbrook Pegler has called another columnist, Drew Pearson, a rascal and has criticized Pearson's writing as "crude" and "lacking grace."

Pegler expressed these opinions at a pre-trial hearing on Pearson's $5,100,000 slander suit against Pegler and others. Pearson sat in on part of the hearing.

Pegler said Pearson lied when he broadcast a story that the late Secretary of Defense James V. Forrestal ran away while bandits were robbing his wife.

"He said the basic difference between himself and Pearson is that between an honest man and a rascal—I am the honest man."

Pearson alleges in the suit that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wa.) physically assaulted him and conspired with others to drive him out of business.

Road Bids Sought In 39 Counties

Kentucky's nine charitable and penal institution farms produced food valued at $319,368.45 in the first five months of 1953 according to a report released today by the Departments of Welfare and Mental Health.

Production for the period was valued at $39.66 worth of food grown on each acre. Milk production provided patients and inmates with more than a pint a day.

The State Reformatory farm at LaGrange topped production with $77,076.56 worth of food. Kentucky State Hospital at Danville was second with food valued at $48,180.73.

Per Capita In Kentucky Is $38.11

Schools Will Receive That Much From State For Each Pupil

Kentucky public schools will get $38.11 from the state during the coming school year for each child between six and 18 years of age.

The per capita allotment, based on the 1952 General Assembly appropriation of $26,212,500 school teacher aid for the 1953-54 year, was announced by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Wendell P. Butler.

The 1952-53 per capita allotment was $38.41. The drop in funds to be made available to each district is due to the increase in school census.

According to Butler there are 687,731 children of school age in the 227 school districts. He said this was an increase of 5,401 over last school year.

The per capita distribution has fallen in the mountainous coal-producing sections of Kentucky while it has risen in the Jackson Purchase and along the Ohio River Valley. Recent industrial development is attributed to the increase, while declining job forcing families to migrate from the coal producing areas is blamed for the loss.

Butler said big losses were noted in Letcher, Harlan, Pike, Floyd, Knott and Bell counties.

In announcing the per capita funds, Butler pointed out that in one district it would amount to $432 per child actually in attendance in the public schools while in another district it would mean $132.42 per child. He said this was due to distribution on a child population basis instead of on the basis of those actually in the public schools.

C. T. Ward, director of census and attendance, said there are 69,641 white school children and 41,650 Negro children of school age in the state.

Henry Brothers, Of Mt. Sterling, Win New Trial

Wills Clay Henry and Oliver Franklin Henry, Mt. Sterling, who were convicted by a federal jury last July on charges of violating internal revenue laws, have won a new trial.

A U.S. Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals mandate, reversing the judgments of conviction and remanding the case for a new trial, was received this week by the U.S. District Court clerk's office.

Last July 23, the two men were sentenced by Judge H. Church Ford to serve three years in prison. Wills Clay Henry was fined $2,500 and Oliver Franklin Henry, $1,000.

They were charged with carrying on the business of a wholesale liquor dealer without paying a special tax while doing business as the Bank Street Dispensary in Mt. Sterling.

They appealed for a new trial on grounds the district court committed a reversible error in permitting the entire testimony of two government witnesses to be presented to the jury for the second time by letting the court reporter play back their testimony on his recording machine after the case had been submitted to the jury and the foreman had reported the jurors unable to reach a verdict.

About The Longest Bath On Record

A 78-year-old, 290-pound woman was stuck in a bathtub in her home for four days, police reported. Jersey City, N. J.

Officers said Mrs. Julia Untz told them she slipped while getting out of the tub last Friday, wedging herself fast. Her body heard her calls for help. Her daughter found her Tuesday.

Doctors said Mrs. Untz, who subsisted on water from the tub tap during her imprisonment, suffered only hip and elbow bruises.

Civil Defense Study Urged In Schools

Superintendent of Public Instruction Wendell P. Butler today recommended to all Kentucky school superintendents that the topic of Civil Defense find a place in the course of study for each school text.

"Our country is in a state of emergency," Butler wrote. "We are no longer free from the danger of devastating attack. Seriousness of the world situation makes it imperative that our people make whatever plans seem necessary in their community to save lives and unessential suffering in the case of disaster."

The State Department of Education has prepared an educational bulletin on Civil Defense in Kentucky Schools and it will be distributed to all schools in the Commonwealth. It outlines defense subjects that should be taught school children and also tells of the place of schools as centers of defense activities in each community.

Polio Outbreak In Montgomery May Be Curbed

For the second day in succession, there were no new polio cases reported Saturday in Montgomery County, Alabama, following a mass immunization campaign last week.

The county total remained at 86.

"Naturally we are very much encouraged by this," said Dr. A. H. Graham, county health officer, "but it's too early to say whether polio has been checked."

Health authorities say it will be Friday at the earliest before they can say for sure whether the mass inoculation has checked a threatened epidemic of the dreaded disease.

Tax Collections Up, But National Debt Climbing

The government collected more taxes in the last 12 months than in any other year in the nation's history, but still ran up a deficit of $9,389,000,000.

And it is going to start off the new fiscal year, which began July 1, by borrowing 5 1/2 to 6 billion dollars—the biggest net borrowing since the war.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), noting these figures, said in an inter-

On all these points of comparison... Chevrolet's farther ahead than ever!

... IN NEW AND ADVANCED STYLING—The new long, low, sleek lines of the 1953 Chevrolet set new standards of beauty in the low-price field. Here you will see careful detailing and a richness of appointments always before found only in much costlier cars.

... IN HIGH-POWERED PERFORMANCE—The most powerful engine in the low-price field! The entirely new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine in combination with new Powerglide* brings you new high-compression power and a wonderful gain in economy, too. In gearshift models you will find the advanced high-driving 108-h.p. "Turbo-King" engine.

... IN SMOOTH, SIMPLE AUTOMATIC DRIVING—Expect faster getaway with Powerglide's new automatic starting and passing range... and new economy, too. Chevrolet's new Power Steering* takes over 80 per cent of the work of steering, makes parking unbelievably easy.

... IN ECONOMY AND VALUE—Now, you'll get many more miles out of every gallon of gasoline. You'll save on over-all operation and upkeep, too. Yet Chevrolet remains the low-priced line in the low-price field.

... IN AMERICA'S FAVOR—Again this year—as in every single postwar year—more people are buying Chevrolets than any other car. In fact, latest official registration figures show that Chevrolet is over 25% ahead of the second-place car. Nearly 2 million more people now drive Chevrolets than any other make.

*Optional at extra cost. Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine available on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models only. Power Steering available on all models.

Candidate For

ROWAN COUNTY COURT CLERK
Republican Primary Saturday, August 1, 1953

To my Republican friends:

I want you folks in Rowan County to know how deeply grateful I am for your kindness and help in my races for public office during the past twenty years. You have elected me to office four times. I served two terms on the School Board, and am now serving my second term as Mayor of the City of Morehead.

But, did you ever stop to think how much work is connected with these offices and how small the pay? The highest pay I have received in any of these offices has been less than eight cents a day. As you can see I ran most of those hard races mostly for the experience and to be in position to do my part in making Morehead and Rowan County the best town and county in Kentucky to live in.

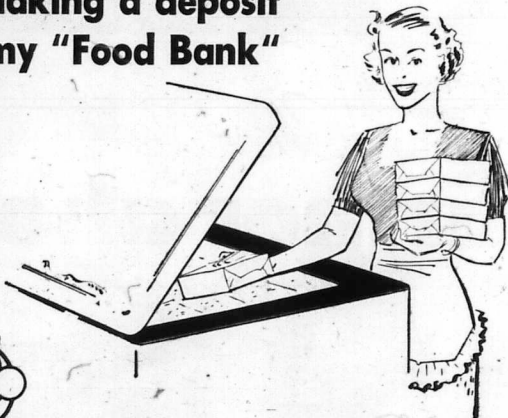

I spent four years as Secretary and Treasurer-of the National Farm Loan Association in Rowan County. I did so, as most of you know, so that I would be in the position to help you improve and hold your farms when the going was tough.

The positions of public trust and service that I have held are mentioned here to emphasize that I have not spent a lifetime in public office at high pay.

After spending several years as Deputy Circuit Court Clerk under Joe McKinney, my brother-in-law, during his illness, I worked with most of the Republicans in Rowan County in many elections. As you know I have had, at all times during the past twenty years, the best interests of the Republican party at heart, and have given freely of my time and efforts to promote those interests. When I am nominated for this office, you may be assured that I will do everything in my power for the Republican party and when elected in November I promise you faithfully that I will do the job while in office and you will have a friend in the Courthouse.

Respectfully, your friend,
Wm. H. (Bill) Layne

I'm making a deposit in my "Food Bank"

to safe, economical, easy food preservation

Having a "food reserve" in your freezer is as thrilling as building a cash reserve in the bank. It makes the future look brighter. Just as thrifty, too! You see . . . buying in quantity when foods are plentiful and prices low—takes the strain off your food budget.

You can afford more good, nutritious foods for day-after-day needs — and even a supply of out-of-season treats for special occasions. ECONOMY is one of the top reasons for buying an electric freezer — but when you think of the time and hard work it saves — you'll agree you need one NOW!
