The Morgan County tobacco crop is one of the best quality crops produced in years in the opinion of farmers, tobacco warehousemen and others, according to Morgan County agent. A BIG MOMENT IN KENTUCKY POLITICAL HISTORY — Kentucky's Democratic leaders were divided in the recent primary, but they're together now. Most of the members of the Campaign Executive Committee, pictured here, will be on the speaking platform at State Headquarters, Louisville. From left: Speakers, Chairman James F. Gordon; 1st District Congressman Noble J. Gregory; Democratic National Congressman Mrs. Susan B. Pollard; Campaign Co-Chairmen Robert Humphrey Joseph J. Leary; 6th District Congressman John Carter D. Perkins; Senator Earle C. Clements; Senator Allen W. Watts; 7th District Congressman William H. Natcher; and Former Governor Keen Johnson. Stanley could not attend because of illness. 4th District Congressman Frank, Chief was in Switzerland while 5th District Congressman Brent Spence had left. Shortly after this picture was taken in Louisville the Executive Committee and Democratic gubernatorial nominee A. B. Chandler discussed campaign plans for the November 8 election.

New Method To Be Used In Collecting Tax

The State Department of Revenue adopted a new system of collection of beer and whiskey taxes—through a reporting system—instead of a tax emblem printed on the crowns of bottles and cans. Involved are the consumption tax of $1.28 a gallon on whiskey, which yielded the state $3,191,000 and the $2.50 a gallon tax on beer which yielded the state $2,985,000 last year. Commissioner of Revenue Robert H. Alphin contended that sufficient checks could be had to prevent cheating through reports required to be made by both distillers and brewers to the Federal Government.

LESS PRINTED MONEY
One way the Treasury expects to save money for the taxpayers is to print less of it. The Treasury estimates it will save about $1,450,000 a year, beginning November, by turning out only about 86,000,000 sheets of new money, compared with 90,000,000 sheets in the last fiscal year. Each sheet contains 18 bills, about 63 per cent of which are $1 bills.

ACROSS the DESK
Ideas from other editors

From the Fort Umqua Courier, Reedsport-Gardner, Oregon: Integrity is a noble word, even in its original meaning of "wholeness." A man is not a "whole" man if he has no deeply cherished ideals, or if he is not loyal to those ideals. Nor is he a "whole" man if he lets himself be so ruled by his own emotions and prejudices that he becomes a bigot, intolerant and incapable of doing justice to other people. Integrity is not fulfilled merely by paying your bills and living up to the letter of your contracts, including the marriage contract. These are only a part of integrity. A man's integrity can be impaired if he is a wastrel of time or talents. We are tempted to say: A man's integrity is measured by the courage and honesty he shows when he faces the great and little challenges of life. And perhaps the greatest test of integrity is humility, which Lincoln had in abundance. Integrity is the sum of a man's beliefs with himself and other human beings, and in the best of us it never quite adds up to a perfect score. It is something we strive for. No matter how humble your position, it enables you to look any other man in the eye any time even if you still owe him a bill. It enables you to conduct

Ask Emergency Signals For Civil Defense Work

The Attorney General's office suggested that the 1936 General Assembly enlarge the existing law to authorize Civil Defense vehicles when used in emergencies.

THE STARS
By LYN CONNELLY
MARIO LANZA has earned the unimpeachable title of "The Fake Lanza" as far as Ray Heindorf, Warner Brothers music chief, is concerned. The singer prattled one take each on 12 songs in his starring picture, "Serenade". The speedy and flawless session took 140 minutes. Which only goes to prove Mario can cooperate when the spirit is willing. Now it will only show up on the set every day, on time and in the same cooperative mood perhaps he can beat the bug that bit him after "The Caruso Story".

Ann Sheridan is coming back to the screen in "Come Next Spring".

Composer-conductor Nelson Riddle has been retained by Republic Pictures to write the score for this forthcoming movie.

Best casting in ages: Grace Kelly and Cary Grant. Two suave sophisticated stars, they're the whole show in "To Catch a Thief".

Two of the most hilarious movies in the past few years are "The Private War of Major Benson" and "Mr. Roberts".

PLATTER CHATTER
COLUMBIA: — Frankie Laine's latest, "How-Ever," is headed for the hit list. It's a typical Laine tune and he makes the most of it. . . . Always amazes us how he can whip through these fast lyrics without collapsing from lack of wind. . . . Reverse has "Just Love Me A New Gal" on Gene Rodgers, does a fine job on "Your Little Bit More!" and "Now Is the Time".

Mahalia Jackson departs from the spiritual and classical to do two new top tunes and she does them equally well. "A Satisfied Mind" plus "The Bible Tells Me So."

CAPITOL: — Mary Ford and Les Paul have another hit in "Amukiriki (The Lord Willing)", a worthy follow-up for "My Blue Heaven". "Magic Melody" is on the flip side. Stan Kenton rolls with "Dance in Character" backed by "Sunset Tower". Bob Marley's latest is "Honestly" backed by "I'd Better Be Careful".

District Forest Wardens Hold Meeting Here

The annual district warden meeting was held at Morgan Ferry Depot last Friday. Twelve of the 19 National Forest wardens within the eight counties of the district attended. Those from Rowan County attending were Leard Hall, Robert Cooper, Wyatt Stone, Junior Jefferson, Herbert Bowman, and Fred Calvert. Fire tower lookouts also were there. Herbert Barker, county fire warden for the KY Division District, represented that organization. Large fire overhauled was the major topic.

Several entrants for the Soil Conservation Contest have already been at the office inquiring for bulletins and information on the contest subject. "How Forest Conservation can Benefit My Community," School principals will be the winners for their respective schools after the Dec. 1 local deadline. The county judging committee will then select the three best from the school winners.

The annual Cumberland National Forest Timber Stand and Fire Training Schools were held at Stearns this week. All year-long personnel on the Forest staff attended the five meetings. Supervisor's office and Rangers attended the timber meeting.

Monday's timber sale auction at the Morehead office was light due to early fire weather interfering with timber marking. Successful bidders included the sales were Joe Cassidy, Jr. and Banks Crouch of Salt Lick area. Bill Adams of Flemington bid in the sawtimber in the Frenchburg area. Next sale day will be Dec. 12.

Insurance companies on the West Coast are now studying the insurance for standing timber in that section of the country. A meeting was held in September with 40 companies interested. Much of the "South" already has insurance available to timber stands.

Maysville Man's Firing Upheld By Courts

The right of Arthur E. Summerville, postmaster general, to fire Newell M. Hargett from his $6,000-a-year job as Maysville postmaster was upheld in Washington Federal District Court. Hargett had sought the federal injunction on the basis that having been appointed by the President, he could be removed only by the President. He contends the department wishes to replace him now with a Republican.

The department maintains it wishes to remove Mr. Hargett for inefficiency. The Civil Service Commission earlier had upheld Postoffice charges of inefficiency, but those were not in issue at the hearing before Judge David A. Pine.

Jesus Is Baptized

Lesson for October 16, 1955

There is one notable day the church does not celebrate. We have a day for the birth of Jesus, one for his presentation in the Temple, a whole season (Leit) to recall his temptations, a day for the crucifixion, the resurrection, the ascension. But for remembering his baptism, day is not made. So it is well that the Sunday schools should do what the church does not do, for the baptism of Jesus was one of the most important events in his life. The reason why the church does not care to celebrate this event may be that the church does not know quite what it means. We know what other Christian festivals mean—Easter Sunday, Christmas, Good Friday and so on. But what does the baptism of Jesus mean?

TB Has No Obvious Effects In Early Stage

Tuberculosis is a convenient disease for the novelist or playwright. It's been used by some of the greatest and some of the worst.

There's the romantic tragedy—the beautiful heroine who dies coughing delicately. Or there's the young genius who dies just as his masterpiece is recognized. In the "no one must know" type, our hero struggles to support his younger brother, telling no one that he's ill; or the social butterfly refuses to be an invalid and plays out her life in hectic gaily. There's rarely any mention, of course, of the fact that these charming people are spreading an infectious disease, that tuberculosis of the lungs—has no obvious symptoms in its early stages. The disease can be present without either the victim or those near to him being aware of it. It can be months, even years, before the well-known symptoms are evident. And even severe: constant tiredness, loss of appetite, fever, night sweats, shortness of breath, and cough may be overtaken or attributed to some other cause. However, symptoms aren't the measure of the danger of TB. It's what happens inside the body that's important. The old name for TB—the lungs—consumption—describes it well. The tissue of the lung is being eaten away, the ability of the lung to function is weakened. People can be cured, that is, the waiting process can be allowed to run its course. It can't be replaced. The longer the disease has been allowed to go untreated, usually the greater the permanent damage. The person who has lost much lung tissue is a cripple, even though his disability can't be seen. His activity is limited both by his loss of lung function and by the fact that he must always guard against another outbreak of the disease, a recurrence that might be fatal. A crippled lung is not romantic to the individual who must live with it.

SLUM CLEARANCE

The Federal Housing Administration made its first mortgage commitment in a program designed to enable private efforts to replace slums with modern housing. The commitment covered the $1,000,000,000 urban redevelopment project in Harlem.

Owingsville Has New Law On Zoning

A zoning ordinance for the city of Owingsville was passed at a meeting of the city council Oct. 3, according to information released by the city officials. The purpose of the ordinance is to regulate and restrict the height, number of stories, and size of buildings and other structures, the percentage of lot that may be occupied, the density of population, and the location and use of buildings, structures, and land for trade, industry, residence or other purposes.

Eastern Students On Bloomer Party

Between 200 and 300 male students at Eastern State College milled in front of Burnam Hall, a girls' dormitory, for about an hour last Wednesday evening. "We want bloomers," but city police said none of the male students went inside the building. School officials said the initial rally was sounded shortly after the lights went out in three men's dormitories. It had not been determined Monday night what caused the lights to go out. The boys then congregated in front of their dorms and marched to Burnam Hall. Officials said that on several occasions male students darted toward the girls' dorm as if they were going inside, but that all of them turned away. One officer described the happening as "more noise than anything else." A similar demonstration was staged on the campus last year.

State, Federal Governments Set Up Plans For Development Of National Forest As Public Hunting Project

500,000 Acres In Cumberland Tract Studied

Charles L. Tebbe of Philadelphia, Regional Forester for the Eastern region of the United States Forest Service, arrived in Frankfort last week to sign a cooperative agreement with Commissioner Earl Wallace of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. Under this agreement one-half million acres in the Cumberland National Forest will be jointly developed by the State and Federal governments as a public hunting and fishing area. Tebbe was accompanied by Forest Supervisor, Robert Collins of Winchester; Everett Doman of Washington, D. C., Assistant Chief of the Forest Service Division of Wildlife Management, and T. C. Fearnow, Chief of the Eastern Region, Wildlife Management Section. Tebbe, who heads up administrative work for the Forest Service in 14 northeastern states from Maine to Kentucky, spoke with enthusiasm of progress already made in restoring wildlife populations in the Cumberland Forest Area of Eastern Kentucky. Particular credit in this matter is due District Wildlife Biologist Fred Haddy and Ranger Hal Blank of Somerset for their joint efforts in behalf of wildlife restoration and protection, Tebbe said.

He pointed out that the Beaver Creek area, established as a pilot plant operation in 1945, has brought back deer, wild turkey and other game, thus demonstrating to both the state and the Forest Service the benefits attainable under joint action programs.

The Forest Service is engaged in multiple use management, Tebbe said. Timber, water, wildlife and recreation are related segments of land management and it is our job to coordinate these uses to provide maximum benefits. Active assistance by the Department of Wildlife Resources in Kentucky has been important in making possible advancements in the field of wildlife management.

Tebbe arrived in Kentucky earlier this week to meet with a group of forestry officials considering plans for marketing increased amounts of low grade hardwood timber available in National Forest areas of the State. Through accelerated harvesting of this material the Forest Service hopes to improve employment opportunities for local people and at the same time carry out thinning and weeding operations in extensive areas of second growth hardwood to provide high quality growing stock for future markets.

The person chosen to be the first recipient of the Georgia Mullins Scholarship is Miss Lucille Dailey of Soldier, Kentucky.

A 1955 graduate of Olive Hill High School, Miss Dailey was selected on the basis of scholarship achievement, leadership, dependability, interest, in sports, and her desire to teach physical education. Miss Dailey, daughter of Mrs. Nora T. Dailey, is eighteen years old. She has three sisters and four brothers. She is a member of the Baptist Church.

When interviewed, Miss Dailey expressed interest in joining the Dramatics Club and the Trail Blazer staff in addition to the Women's Recreation Association.

Eight Per Cent Of Help Unemployed

Kentucky unemployment from industries other than farming was estimated at 61,500 at mid-August, the State Economic Security Department reported this week.

The department commented that this was "well below the $5,300 estimated for August, 1954, but substantially in excess of the 40,300 jobs in August, 1953."

"These estimates, it explained, included the unemployed from non-agricultural industries covered by the unemployment insurance, plus those from nonfarm industries not covered by the jobless-pay program.

"Despite the decline in the number of Kentucky jobless," the report said, "8.3 per cent of Kentucky's non-agricultural-labor force was unemployed in August, which was well in excess of the national rate of 3.5 per cent."

In other words, it said, Kentucky's unemployment was more than twice as severe as in that state as a whole although the rate in this state was well below last year's 12.2 per cent.

Some reasons why Kentucky's rate of unemployment has been well in excess of the national average for the past few years, the department said, are:

1. Sharp cutbacks in employment in construction and mining, both of which bulk large in the Kentucky economy than in the average state.

The drop in total construction employment between 1953 and 1955, however, stemmed primarily from virtual completion of the atomic-energy plant near Paducah, which had boomed employment several years ago, an official explained. He added that construction employment in the state was higher in 1955 than in 1953.

2. Frequent fluctuations in tobacco, distilling, and apparel industries, all of which are above average importance in Kentucky's employment.

3. Declines in portions of various industries. Employment in Kentucky manufacturing industries rose from a record high of 167,300 in August, a gain of 8,000 over July, the department said. "Most of the gain," it added, "resulted from the settlement of a strike in the machinery and equipment portion" of the durable-goods-industry. Employment in machinery and equipment industries rose from 43,900 in July to 50,100 in August, it said. The large change among producers of nondurable goods, the report stated, was the addition of 1,100 workers in the clothing and leather industries. "This probably was the result of call-backs after temporary summer layoffs for style changes at some plants," it commented.

And then there were those who said Ancient Archie would be the heavyweight champion about now.

MSC Tracksters Score Twin Triumph Over Bellarmine

Friday, Oct. 7, was a historic-making day for the Morehead track country squad. There was nothing special about a victory for the group. It had triumphed before, and no doubt will do so again this season. There wasn't even anything unusual about the lopsided score, for the Eagles had won even more decisively upon at least one other occasion. What was extraordinary, though, was the fact that Morehead fielded two teams on this particular day, and both of them beat the opposition decisively. Engaging Bellarmine College (Louisville) over the latter course, Team A galloped to a 15-44 win while Team B came out on top, 22-33. Five of the Morehead runners finished before the first Bellarmine athlete, Kenny Combs, crossed the line, and then all of the rest of the Eagle personnel, with one exception, concluded their efforts before the other Bellarmine men could score.

The meet was a double-duty affair, the first in which Morehead has participated. In this type of meet all the athletes run at the same time, but two different sets of scores are kept. It had the same effect, for scoring purposes, as if Bellarmine had met the two Morehead teams separately.

For four days last week Carl Deaton, Morehead's foremost exponent of "picking them up and putting them down," was in a greatly depressed state. First one local physician and then another had stated that he probably had a heart murmur. If true, his athletic days were at an end. A cardiograph at Lexington on Thursday, though, revealed that all was well with the "little man." He celebrated the good news by doing a time 10:56 over a very soggy course.

Kenny Daugherty, captain, led the pack for a considerable distance at the start of the race and his time of 17:29 represented his best effort yet over a course of comparable difficulty. One again "Old Reliable," Kenny Thompson, placed high for Morehead, taking 22:11 in 18:04. As in the Ohio U. meet, Joe Wheeler, senior, and Paul Whiteley, freshman, staged their private dual with Whiteley edging Joe again, 18:18 to 18:21. Dick Wilson, freshman, was the last of the A Team as he finished 7th in 19:06.

The members of Team B finished as follows: Jimmy Reed, 8th in 19:15; Jerry Lancaster, 9th in 19:17; Crit "Rocky" Akers, 10th in 19:25; Clarence Schmitt, 11th in 19:39; and Edward Arnett, 14th in 20:02.

Morehead's next opponent will be Marshall College over the Eagles' own course at the halfway-time of the Morehead-Middle Tennessee football game, Saturday, Oct. 15.

Warn Against Early Delivery Of Tobacco

Tobacco should not be delivered to a warehouse before Monday, November 14, according to a warning issued this week by Albert C. Clay, general manager of the Burley Auction Warehouse Association.

"Tobacco which is delivered before this date always loses weight and often fades in color," Clay added.

Tobacco companies have complained about the loss in weight in tobacco that is delivered several weeks before the opening of the market. "This year," Clay stated, "all warehouses have been requested not to receive tobacco before November 14. Any tobacco received before this date should be reweighed."

TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES

New Mexico Town With Unlikely Name Not Sure Whether It Benefited From Change

Lots Of Free Publicity Is Received

Smirks and simmons go hand in hand at the southern New Mexico resort town of the unlikely name of "Truth or Consequences."

To make people who ask questions—and come here to ask them, a national network radio program of the same name early in 1950 looked around for a new name.

Editor Paul Tootley of the Hot Springs Herald (note that it is not the Truth or Consequences Herald) says conservative estimates place at more than two million dollars the cost of radio and television time alone which has boomed this health resort community.

Except for a few die-hards, the community has endured the jibes and chuckles of neighbors and travelers, operating on the old press agent theory that it doesn't make any difference what you say, so long as you spell the name correctly, they keep counting the dollars.

The name change was completed March 13, 1950. The population has grown from 4,500 to an estimated 6,000. That really doesn't matter much because a lot of folks who come have homes in other places, even though they spend nine years out of the year taking the baths or going through some sort of health or recuperative process.

The Post Office Department resisted for a while, then gave in and recognized there is such a community. Newsmen became resigned to the fact that the name "Truth or Consequences, N. M." will hardly fit into the first line of a story in type.

Will it last? That's hard to say. A few right this minute would be willing—and eager—to restore the original name.

Oldtimers Are Still Irked At Move

The old name. The majority of the citizens are inured to the jibes by now and are willing to ride along so long as it brings in the cash.

One thing to remember: Each suburb of the community, after the name change, also changed its name to Hot Springs. There is talk that at some very minute it looks desirable, the city fathers can annex the suburb and restore the old name.

85% Of State Poultry Gets No Inspection

Health authorities estimated that 85 per cent of poultry processed in Kentucky receives no thorough inspection at the point of sale.

Estimates based on a State Department of Health survey indicate that between 10 and 15 per cent of animal commercial cattle and hog slaughter is sold without inspection. Poultry inspection is a striking contrast, with little provision being made for inspection of poultry carcasses or plant facilities.

The report added that "it may be desirable ultimately to establish compulsory state meat inspection" and warned against a program poorly conceived or operated.

Remedial legislation should be sound and practical. The approach is through model ordinances suitable for adoption by local authorities. An official meat stamp under a state program must mean that the product has passed through the expert examination. Records should be kept so as to be of maximum benefit to sanitary officials in locating origin of diseased animals.

Agriculture Dept. Pioneering In New Aids To Farmers

Thin Watermelon Rind Is Example Of Developments

"Something new" is old hat at the Department of Agriculture. Thanks to the Agriculture Research Service and its bunnies, something new is being developed nearly all the time. They cover a wide range of subjects.

For example, there is the Charleston gray watermelon that cracks the melon at a recent lunch provided by Secretary of Agriculture Benson for the visiting Russian farm experts.

The automatic cotton-lint sampler was developed at the Stoneville, Miss., cotton laboratory. It is a mechanical production of portions of lint cotton taken from the lint flue during the ginning of a bale. With this there is no necessity for slashing into a bale to get a sample. The method is cleaner, faster, and cheaper.

The principle of radioactivity has been applied to measuring accurately the amount of plant nutrient in soil.

The Department has developed easy and low-cost methods of destroying mosquitoes before they threaten to destroy human beings. The aerosol bomb was developed as a method of applying sprays deadly to insects.

The Department advises fly swatter wielders in a Louisiana sugar-cane area to go easy; an inadvertent visit might knock off a cannibalistic insect which is aiding the sugar-cane crop. The cannibals operate on a larva-worm basis, killing off the sugar-cane borer.

The reason for six multi-purpose rose dusts developed by the Research Service gladdened the hearts of growers of outdoor roses.

Pears and lima beans have been subjected to deep-fat frying and turned out to be tasty snack items for food nibblers.

The Forest Products Laboratory has come up with a cheap, wood-fiber building board that filters poison gases, disease-laden particles, and radioactive fallout of atomic explosions.

Now available in limited quantities for commercial planting in the South this fall are seeds of an onion known as Early Crystal 281. It is a type that matures about 10 days earlier than other varieties. It has considerable resistance to pink rot and is less subject to splitting and forming seed prematurely than other varieties.

The average old age assistance payments was $35.50 to the 55,444 recipients on the rolls; while aid to dependent children and aid to needy blind programs, it was announced this week by Commissioner of Economic Security W. Garnett Johnson.

Total state-wide payments were $3,277,323, of which $1,968,346 was in old age assistance to 55,444 persons; $1,197,567 was aid to dependent children and $111,610 was for aid to the needy blind.

Old age assistance, $9,243; dependent children, $6,236; and needy blind, $565.

Communist of Insurance S. H. Goebel approved a revision in automobile material damage rates in Kentucky which will effect a saving of $2,000,000—or approximately 12 per cent—in direct coverage rates such as comprehensive, fire, theft, collision and other named perils.

The screw worm, a cattle scourge, was defeated after scientists took advantage of its gummative tendencies and killed him off the island of Curacao. The scientists saturated the wild, natural population of screw worm flies with laboratory-reared males that had been made sterile from gamma-ray treatment.

Army Commissions First Male Nurse

The Army has commissioned the first male nurse in its history. He is former Pvt. Edward L. T. Lyon, 28, of Kings Park, N. Y., sworn in last week as a second lieutenant in the Army Nurse Corps.

Lyon, 6 feet 5 and weighing 185 pounds, already is a registered nurse. For a time he was head nurse of surgical and psychiatric wards at Kings Park General Hospital and anesthetist at Nassau.

Previously only female nurses were commissioned, although some enlisted men have served in the Nurse Corps. Lyon joins some 3,000 commissioned women in the corps.

Frances Bolton (B-Ohio) and passed by Congress this year enabled Lyon to get the commission. It climaxed a 14-year fight by professional nursing societies to obtain for male registered nurses equal status with women in the Army.

Brig. Gen. Harold W. Glattly, first Army surgeon, said that men trained in nursing are vital for service in the front lines and in small isolated stations where women cannot be sent.

Lyon, who is unmarried, will go to Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., for the six-week Army basic nurses course and then will be assigned to a general hospital.

The football writers are busy these days revising their incorrect appraisals of team strength from week to week, but they have to write something.

Alumni Group Sets Business Meeting

Parade Of Floats, Football Game, Dance On Menu

Morehead alumni will return to the campus Saturday for the annual Homecoming festivities. A full day's schedule of activities for students and visiting grads will be highlighted by a parade, the football game with Middle Tennessee, and the traditional Homecoming Dance.

The 10 a. m. parade through the town of Morehead will be led by the college marching band. Floats entered by campus organizations and classes will compete for the Alumni Association plaque for best decoration, which will be awarded at the Homecoming Dance. The parade will form at 9 a. m. at the stadium.

The Homecoming Queen, to be selected by popular vote of the student body, will be presented with her court of 10 campus beauties during the half-time at the football game. Game time is 2 p. m.

Alumni and students will wind up the day at the formal Homecoming Dance, to be held from 9 to 12 in the college gymnasium. Decorations are being handled by the Mystic Club, and music will be by the Clyde Trank band. This 12-piece ensemble, plus vocalist, is from Cincinnati and plays nightly over radio station WLW.

Featured at the dance will be the crowning of the Homecoming Queen and the presentation of special awards. The Queen and her attendants will be escorted for the crowning ceremony by 11 members of the football team. Plaques for the best-decorated parade float and the best-decorated dormitory will be awarded by Fola Hayes, president of the Alumni Association. An award for the best-decorated downtown window display on the Homecoming theme will be presented by Steve Hamilton, president of the Student Council.

Other alumni activities will include a business meeting at 11 a. m. in Breckinridge Training School Auditorium, and a barbecue, immediately following the football game, at Bishop L., opposite the Science Bldg.

Alumni will register in the lobby of the Administration Bldg. beginning at 9:00 a. m. Coffee will be served by the Alumni Association.

An open House, in charge of senior women students, will be held at Fields Hall from 9 a. m. to 12 for visitors and faculty members.

There are some people who think they could write better comments than these—and they might be right.

Candidates For Homecoming Queen Announced

The following upperclass girls have been chosen by the student body as candidates for Homecoming Queen:

Elliott County has the finest crop of smoker type burley in years, but production will be off about 800,000 pounds and cash income will be down about $450,000 under last year, county farm agency officials estimated this week.

All burley has been housed in Elliott County and some farmers have commenced stripping. Milt Frasley of the ASC county office, said this week.

"Elliott County has a thin, light crop this year that will make a fine smoker type of burley that should sell good; in fact, this year's crop is the finest we've had in Elliott for several years," Frasley said.

Women Around Williba Are Not Much For Taking Care Of The Farm Work—Clennie

By Clennie Holton

Times ain't near as good around Williba as they used to be. We reckon everybody would do work around here for me, but she rest of us don't like to work so well and we ain't making much money hardly. Mrs. Del. Abner lives out the big road a piece and she is a very hard working woman. She has cut all her fodder and saved all her hay. She is the workin' woman near here. I reckon my fodder is all fallin' off the stalk and I have been trying to get Mrs. Abner to come over and cut it for me, but she claims that she has so much work to do at home that she can't hardly bare out to cut her neighbor's fodder.

I tell you the women around Williba ain't much whenever it comes to doing the farm work like Mrs. Abner does and like all women should. It very hard to get a Williba woman to cut a shock of fodder or put up a stack of hay. Don't know how they expect the old cow to give any milk this winter. Our women are a lot to have to get out of this shiftless stage and get to work doing something besides doing the washing and cutting a little pile of stovewood or her husbands are going to have to leave and try to find a neighter woman what will make us a better living. Since women took away the triches from men, it is nothing but right that they take the work what went with the briches.

Of course I'm an getting sort of ready to go to work if in the law will leave me alone. I've already got me a good one each copper "still" worm and as soon as I can get a barrel, I aim to set me up a batch of pernmoms and make some pernmom brandy to sell during the holidays and at election time. They tell me that pernmom brandy will really knock the drinking fellers low. It is the wife-beating, head-bashing type of liker and makes 'em so sick that they have just got to keep coming for more to try to cure themselves. Of course I need me a copper boiler and I am a looking around for one. I asked Donnelly Cole about getting me one down there near Heidelberg from some of his industrious neighbors; but he told me that they didn't use no copper outfits down there. They just use a few old lard cans and run the "stuff" thru their holler bed posts. He did tell me that his friend Vernon Pryse might have a real good outfit and that he would borrow it for me if he did have one.

Albert Cundiff has been trying to take my copper still worm. He claims that it is the one that he had. He loaned it to a preacher and the preacher never did bring it back. He knows that I loaned my car to a preacher and he thinks that the preacher fogged it back. But this didn't happen. A friend of mine was out groun'ing hunting and he got hung up in this copper worm out in some weeds. After getting untrangled from the thing, he picked it up and sneaked home with it. I traded him out of it and it ain't Albert Cundiff's outfit. Yet I am willing to take Mr. Cundiff in as a partner so that he can show me how to make some real head-bushing stuff.

Well, one of the little ducks what I sold the woman to take to Ohio didn't make it. Mrs. Sharraw spent the night out on the Bear Track ridge with friends. This happened to be near the home of Lee Tyler. Lee's dog went over to investigate the new arrivals. This dog never did see a duck before. He watched them for awhile. Then he reached down and got one and swallered it. He was getting ready to swaller the other one whenever he was discovered. Mrs. Sharraw was very mad at the dog and Mr. Tyler was very mad at the dog but the dog was full of duck and would have been fuller if he had not been disturbed.

Mr. Stanley Peck, Kalamazoo, Mich., wrote me that he had only one gourd seed to come up but that he raised some mighty big gourds from this one vine. He is scared the gourds weren't mated to Michigan. He sent me a picture to prove that he really had the gourds. He really does.

Charles H. Burton, Memphis, Tenn., wrote me that he had some grannys didn't do a bit of good. They came up late to midding and late to weeding and were finally to porely and thin and finally died. We hate to hear about this because Mr. Burton told us that he hadn't smelled a plum granny in nine years. Mr. Burton is in a hospital and he needs more dirt around them than you can get in a hospital. He is an Alabama hill-billy and has been in the hospital for five years and would certainly appreciate a real plum granny. We are very sorry, but the plum granny season is over around Williba and we ain't got none to send to him. We hope he has better luck next year.

Got a sack of seeds from our good friend G. W. Pendergrass, Houston, Texas. He says they are extra sweet New Mexico cantaloupes. We'll try 'em next year.

Pretty good this morning, ain't it?

Hilltoppers Take Measure Of Eagles In Defensive Battle

The Western Hilltoppers edged Morehead, 12-7, at Bowling Green last Saturday night in a highly contested game.

Only inches separated Coach Shorty Jamerson's charges from upsetting the heavily favored Toppers. Time ran out on the Eagles in the first half as quarterback Don McKenzie was stopped on the winners' goal line.

With approximately three minutes left in that half, tackle George Brown recovered a Western fumble on the Morehead 36-yard line. McKenzie, playing what was probably the finest performance of his college career, began working the quarterback optional series to perfection, lateraling to right half Connie Pappas, fullback Ronald Hart occasionally, but mostly keeping the ball himself. The Eagles drove steadily down the field only to have their efforts thwarted by the clock.

The Hilltoppers had taken a 6-0 lead early in the first quarter when halfback Dave Brown sid into the end zone for nine yards and a TD Brantley's conversion attempt was wide.

After a scoreless third quarter, which featured two defensive stands by the Eagles inside their own 15-yard line, Western scored its second touchdown midway
