Combs Forces In Silent Exit As Lane Relected Democratic Chairman; Contest Held Possible

Glenn W. Lane has "apparently" been re-elected for another four year term as Democratic chairman of Rowan County, but there were unconfirmed reports today that the Combs administration might expect Saturday's vote at the courthouse in Morehead to be a silent exit.

A silent, pre-arranged walkout of a few of the precinct committeemen and committeewomen, plus Combs supporters at the local level, came at the courthouse Saturday when Lane ruled that party law applied out that he, as the present County Chairman, should preside instead of a temporary chairman. The question of a temporary chairman was raised by Dennis Foster.

Lane and Lane faction was led by H. K. Taylor, local automobile dealer.

Lane openly charged, in a pre-arranged statement read at the meeting, that "relatives and friends of some (state) employees, who had been elected committeemen or committeewomen, had been threatened with loss of their jobs."

Key To Meeting
There are unverified reports of a "rump" session this morning following the walk-out.

Carter School System Is Charged With Irregularities

Kentucky's attention is focused again this week on Carter County following a voluminous, detailed and complicated State audit alleging numerous irregularities in the Carter County School system.

The report came about a month after Sept. of Schools Heman II McGuire had written a letter which was tested and hit election to place his three candidates on the Board of Education.

Also cited are cases of alleged fraud, allegedly improper insurance premium payments, etc. "I think the people are entitled to know the facts," the Governor said in his copy of the audit.

The Carter County Supply Company, Louisville, is the agent for the central school system. The material gotten by the Carter County Board of Education is accounted for in the proper procedures, and that the school system received all the necessary funds.

W. H. McCord at Central School Supply Company, Louisville, said Scheiber Sales Company is a Detroit firm which has been in business for at least 15 years.

The audit was the type that goes behind the book entries. "We have endeavored to make this audit as comprehensive as possible," Schneider wrote the Governor.

Under the heading, "Purchases for unidentified items," the auditor developed this statement: "The Whitehurst Company submitted an invoice to the board February 23, 1954, for $273.86 containing items that could not have been used by the Carter County School Board."

Under the heading, "Material purchased for unidentified items," the auditor developed this statement: "The Whitehurst Company submitted an invoice to the board February 23, 1954, for $273.86 containing items that could not have been used by the Carter County School Board."

Staff writer Allan M. Trout gave the following version in the Louisville Courier-Journal: The 5-page, 84-page audit was made in preparation. It covers selected periods from July 1, 1953, through June 30 of this year.

Butler termed the case an unusual situation and added: "It is my information that this audit can be turned over to the Commonwealth's attorney in accordance with the law."

Most States Face Problem Of Increasing Taxes To Meet Payrolls And Programs

Over the coming months, many states will be faced with the problem of raising additional money to meet costs. If more money must be raised, what kind of tax do you prefer? (Increasing the sales tax, about one in six would favor a (increasing the) state income tax, and one in seven, higher real estate taxes.

In other words, the proportionate increase in the sales tax, outnumber the combined vote of those who favor the income tax or higher property taxes.

These were the findings when Man On The Street and his trained professional staff reported to the following question to adult citizens in all walks of life:

It needs more money for schools and other services in the next year, or would you prefer the following tax increases in the state sales tax?
The results:
Sales Tax 33
Income Tax 26
Property (real estate) tax 14
Waste disposal taxes 9
No opinion 2
Highlighted of today's findings is the fact that in every population segment examined, those who say they prefer a (increase in) the sales tax outnumber those preferring either a (increase in) the state income tax or higher real estate taxes.

Highlights of today's findings is the fact that in every population segment examined, those who say they prefer a (increase in) the sales tax outnumber those preferring either a (increase in) the state income tax or higher real estate taxes.

For example, higher proportions of college educated people express a preference for a state income tax than do those with less formal schooling.

Eagles Rap Blue Raiders 85-75; Gain OVC Tie

BY LEE MUELLER
Hot Shot Granville Williams paced Bob Laughlin's Morehead Eagles to a shimmering victory over the Blue Raiders of Middle Tennessee, 85-75 Monday night at the MSC Football home to Western for the Ohio Valley Conference lead.

Led by the tremendous shooting of Williams, who had 23 markers, the outstanding rebounding of Norman Fogley, Ed Nee and Doug Cundiff and the terrific floor game by Henderson Thompson, the Eagles piled up a comfortable 42-21 half-time bulge and hung on to the second half to preserve the win.

Morehead struck fast and frequently during the opening minutes of the game, reeling off six straight points before the Blue Raiders could score. Williams capped the Eagle scoring with a nifty ten-foot jumper and the Laughlin men were off and rolling. Cundiff hit on a push-shot and Thompson followed with a 20-foot one hander and Ralph Bryant then broke the scoring ice for MTSC with a crisp shot and followed by a three-point shot by Ed Newton.

The Eagles continued to pour it on as the half progressed. The scoreboard clicked 22-12 when Thompson hit with a beautiful pass, basket high and Nee flicked it home as he came down.

Morehead had their biggest lead of the half when Williams sent one of his now familiar 35-footers into the corals to make the score 37-18 with 2:10 left in the half.

Williams repeated this act twice more before the half ended and Ed Nee added a free toss to give the MSC'ers their half-time total.

Williams had 23 tallies on ten fields and one free throw in the first act while Thompson piled up six markers on three field shots. Leading the way for the Coach Ed Diddle, Jr. quintet in the initial half was game leader, center Bob Burton with 11 points on four field goals and three for three at the charity stripe.

The second half started on a disastrous note as far as the Eagle pad was concerned. Newton hit on two straight jumpers and sub Bill Niekirk pushed in a long one-hander to bring the Morehead lead down to 42-34 with 15:37 remaining in the game.

Forward Pokley then swished two straight jumpers to put the Morehead men out to reach for a while. The next few minutes witnessed a great comeback by the lads from Tennessee as they scorched the nets with three straight baskets — being the game to a 55-49 count and Coach Laughlin sent Williams back into the contest.

Williams immediately hit a free throw, a jumper and one of his long rangeers' to give the Eagles a 60-53 lead.

Barton then scored two quickies for the Blue Raiders and the game was at close quarters again.

After the heading Stockdale sent hander and pump-and-put a nice jumper from the top of the circle to give the Morehead contingent a 10-point cushion and, as it worked out, an unshakable one.

The showdown comes on Thursday when the Eagles travel to Bowling Green for the "test of the tuppings" against Ed Diddle's Hill loppers.

Morehead's record now stands at 5-1.

Bramnon Given New Job In Administration

Paul Bramnon, Paris newspaper publisher, is Kentucky's executive coordinator of Civil War centennial activities.

He was appointed by Gov. Bert Combs after resigning as commissioner of the Department of Public Relations. Bramnon will act as a liaison between the National Civil War Centennial Commission, the Kentucky Civil War Centennial Commission and Kentucky communities participating in centennial events, Combs said.

The governor named Miss Cattie Lou Miller, his executive assistant, commissioner of the newly organized Department of Public Information, which succeeds the public relations agency.

Bramnon, 65, publishes weekly newspapers at Paris and Carlisle. His salary will be $12,000 a year, the same he received as public relations commissioner.

One major goal of the Civil War observance in the Commonwealth is to attract tourists to the state, which is the birthplace of Jefferson Davis and Abraham Lincoln. Kentucky also has many sites of Civil War significance and is rich in the lore of that conflict.

In announcing Bramnon's appointment, Combs said:

"Americans will travel thousands of miles and spend hundreds of thousands of dollars during the next five years visiting Civil War battlefields and landmarks where special memorial events are staged.

"With the right direction and the right promotion, we can bring Kentucky's full share of the centennial tourist travel to our state.

Bramnon has a broad and profound knowledge of Civil War history, the governor noted.

Strip Mines Are Scored In Survey

By C. H. Fields
(Ky. Farm Bureau Fed.)
Anyone who has traveled in Eastern Kentucky or other places in the state and has seen the devastation caused by strip-mining operations knows from observation that the strip-mining law has not been enforced for a number of years. The law provides for certain measures designed to insure that the former land area will be reclaimed and restored as far as possible to a natural condition.

Now that Conservation Commissioner J. O. Matlick and other state officials have decided that the owners of the strip-mining operations should obey the law like anyone else, they deserve the widespread support of the public. Certainly all sorts of pressures will be applied in Frankfort to call off the enforcement dogs. We hope that Governor Combs continues to back up state officials who are determined that state law shall be obeyed.

People or corporations who conduct strip-mining operations have no more right to ignore the law than anyone else. The law is unfair and impractical provisions, then it may need to be amended, but the people of Kentucky, through their elected representatives, have adopted a law designed to protect the public interest. This law should be carried out in both the letter and the spirit.

In a time when an all-out effort is being pushed to develop Eastern Kentucky for the tourist trade, it would be ridiculous to allow the wholesale abandonment of the mountains in that area to continue. People will not travel hundreds of miles to view a countryside marred by eroding gashes.

We are not against strip-mining. No doubt it will play a role in the Kentucky economy. We are for the owners of the operations obeying the law like the rest of us. Some of these operations will probably have to close down as a result of law enforcement, and the may temporarily put a few people out of a job, but the overall public interest should come first. We suggest you let Commissioner Matlick and other state officials know that you support their efforts in this matter.

Turn To Bible To Prevent Accidents

Kentucky traffic authorities are turning this season to Bible references, religious leaders, and church groups to help in freeing the highways of accidents.

Charles B. Jones, director of the Kentucky Division of Accident Control, said officials in the state will work with the Association of State and Provincial Safety Coordinators in its campaign for "Moral Responsibility in Traffic Accident Prevention."

The commandment, "Thou Shalt Not Kill," has been chosen as the most appropriate reference to spearhead the drive. Public education materials prepared for all media use the theme, "Drive by the Golden Rule — You are Your Brother's Keeper."

According to Lt. Neil Boyd, Cheyenne, Wyoming, president of the Association, the Moral Responsibility campaign is the first of four to be conducted in the next 12 months. The others will center around child safety, summer driving hazards, and the woman's role in traffic safety.

"It is our hope," said Jones, "that our shocking death-and-injury toll can be materially reduced by a continuing program of public education. For example, in 1959 there were 730 traffic fatalities and 15,785 disabling injuries in Kentucky, a five per cent increase over 1958. The financial burden of these accidents was staggering."

This growth depends upon the efforts of local communities, he added, describing community development as "the key to Kentucky's progress."

The governor said proper community development embraces "good schools, churches, good government, good streets and highways, adequate health facilities, adequate housing, proper care of the needy and an enthusiastic, enterprising business community."

He spoke before the Monticello-Wayne County Community Development Board at Monticello. The occasion was celebration of the city's winning a third place (for cities of 3,500 or less) in the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce community development contest.

Sincerity is the difference between writing and putting down words.

Tax Structure In Kentucky Vastly Changed

By William E. Scott
The 1960 Legislature made several changes in Kentucky's tax structure. The most outstanding was the enactment of the sales and use tax. Several taxes were repealed (state occupational license tax) or reduced (bank deposits tax, cigarette tax, income tax) to prevent inequities. One change increased the income tax credit for each dependent from $12 to $20. Also, a surtax on personal income was repealed.

Q. What is a tax credit?
A. The tax credit computation is a method of exempting part of the taxpayer's income from Kentucky income taxation. For the 1960 tax year, the $12 tax credit ordinarily is equivalent to $700 in income. By raising the credit to $20, the taxpayers can earn approximately $1,200 without being required to pay state income tax.

Q. What is a surtax?
A. The surtax is an additional tax levied on the amount of normal tax found to be due. The surtax rates are: 10 per cent of the first $25 of normal tax, 20 per cent of the next $75, and 30 per cent of the normal tax which exceeds $100.

Q. How much will these two changes lower our income taxes?
A. All persons will have their Kentucky income taxes reduced, but those with lower incomes will receive the greater percentage reduction. The following table shows the tax reduction for various incomes, assuming a family of four.

Yearly Income	Amount Withheld for Kentucky Income Tax	Per Cent Reduction
$ 80	$ 54	16%
100	1.26	55	54
125	2.36	1.47	38

CONCERT PROGRAM—Above are members of the "Amahl and the Night Visitors" cast which was presented Friday night in connection with Better Dress Week. The program was sponsored by the Northeast Kentucky Civic Celebrity Series Association on the campus of Morehead State College.

'Amahl and Night Visitors' Presented In Connection With Better Dress Week

Giano-Carlo Menotti's traditional Christmas opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors," was presented in Button Auditorium at a Matinee on Friday, Dec. 9, at 2:00 p. m. and again at 7:30 p. m.

The production which was sponsored by the Northeast Kentucky Civic Celebrity Series and Concert Association was the same production that has been presented on the National Broadcasting Company Television program during the last ten years.

The troupe of artists who appeared with production have been during the last ten years on TV and during the last four years when they began touring with the show.

Mr. David Aiken, director of the production, worked with the Choir and Orchestra during Friday evening rehearsal. Mr. Aiken can also play the part of Melchior in the production and acts as general manager and producer for the company. With assistance from Morehead's, Don Loughrie and Jam's Bean, the production was already in the first stage when Mr. Aiken arrived to put the production on stage.

The story behind the Opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors" tells the tale of a young crippled boy who desires to take his crutch to the crib of the Christ child when the Kings, mentioned in the Bible pass by his home.

When he expresses this desire to give his crutch to the Christ child, he is miraculously cured and can walk again. He then proceeds to the manger where the child lays and gives thanks to the newborn infant for his favor.

This production which was enjoyed by all who crowded into Button Auditorium during the afternoon and evening performance has become one of America's greatest contributions to Christmas time.

The morning after its premier on NBC-TV in December, 1931, the young star of the opera of young Menotti had settled itself unshakable in the firmament of the great composers.

It was truly a production that the students of Morehead State College will long remember. For the members of the Concert Choir and the College Orchestra, it too will remain a memory for each member that assisted in the presentation.

Morehead Clashes With Toppers Of Western On December 5

By CHARLENE AITKIN

The mountainous terrain around Bowling Green, Kentucky, sets the scene for the hardwood clash of the Eagles of Morehead State College and Western Hilltoppers this Thursday evening.

Returning Charlie Osborne, Bobby Rascoe, and Harry Todd are Ed A. Diddle's Hoop Basketball Coach, main reasons for keeping his eye on the 1966-67 Ohio Valley Conference Crown. His hopes are high to surpass last season's 21.7 record. Diddle, who is beginning his 20th season at Western, is the only coach to have won 700 games at the same college. His probable starting lineup will be: forwards: Bobby Jackson and Harry Todd; center:

Charlie Osborne, and guards: Pamy Sarakatsannis and Bobby Rascoe.

Bobby Jackson, a 6-4 (196) sophomore from Valley Station, Kentucky, is the most touted prospect at Western since Tony Marshall. As a freshman, he tallied 50 points in one game and ended the season with a 32 point average. He has the ability to play any position but is expected to take over Al Ellison's forward position.

Harry Todd, 6-8 (220) junior from Earlington, Kentucky, has recovered from an operation he had to remove the calcium deposits on his ankles, and is expected to make a better showing this year. Last year he averaged 18 points per game and matched 297 rebounds. He is the key man in the fast break and can play either forward or center but is regularly a forward.

Charlie Osborne, the 6-6 senior center from Owensboro, Kentucky, was West Toppers' key figure in the NCAA games last season. He scored 487 points to be at the top in the OVC scoring department. Having picked off 281 rebounds, Osborne held the 2nd highest position in the rebound field. He was honored by being named to the All-OVC team as well as receiving honorable mention in the NCAA ratings.

Bobby Rascoe, the most lauded member of the Toppers, hails from Flat Gap, Kentucky. As a sophomore, Rascoe was voted their most outstanding player. With a 16.8 average last year, this 6-4 junior scored 471 points and grabbed off 190 rebounds. He will start as a guard though he can also play the forward slot with equal ability.

Senior Pamy Sarakatsannis from Fort Thomas, Kentucky, returns to the starting guard position after being the 6th man on the squad last year. The 6-2 (185) Sarakatsannis is expected to give a good account of himself this season due to the fact that he previously gained variety experience as a sophomore.

Much of last year's reverse strength, which had been the Toppers' best, has returned and additionally gained 6 sophomores.

It is excusable to get tired when you work hard but the trouble with the average person is a tendency to get tired before working.

Many who flee from evil do not understand that it is in their hearts.

L'IL ABNER AND DAISY MAE—Kenny Akers is seen with his arm around Carol Lavender after the two were named best dressed L'il Abner and Daisy Mae at the Vets Club Dance at Morehead State College.

Lavender Chosen Daisy Mae; Akers Selected L'il Abner

The price of the patch on the seat of "Little Abner's" pants was quiet elaborate as compared with the price of the pants. Kenny Akers, dressed in a "differant" and unusual manner. These dances were scheduled for the week preceding the "Hoster-Dressed Week" of December 5.

The members of the Vets Club selected "Daisy Mae" and "L'il Abner" from the students attending the dance. The persons most appropriately dressed to portray the cartoon characters were Carol Lavender as "Daisy Mae" and Akers as "L'il Abner."

"Daisy Mae", a freshman student, was dressed in a brown costume accented with the zigzag hemline of the typical "Daisy Mae" dress.

"L'il Abner" sported a suit of clothing which he purchased from a local used clothing store, especially for this occasion. The gray pants, with one leg length shorter than the other, and the brown suit coat cost 40c, the tie 10c, the hat 20c, and the decorative patch of blue and pink stripes cost 4c.

The Sallie Hawkins Day Dance and the Bestnik Dance provided opportunity for the MSC students to dress in a "differant" and unusual manner. These dances were scheduled for the week preceding the "Hoster-Dressed Week" of December 5.

Sandy Hook Woman Faces Murder Charge

Mary Catherine Hampton is in Gooding County, Idaho jail while authorities await extradition papers required to return her to California, where she faces a murder charge.

Sheriff Keith Anderson said the 35-year-old woman from Sandy Hook, Ky., was jailed on a warrant accusing her of complicity in the killing of Perry Ten Eyck, 51, of Whittier, Calif., near Ukiah, Calif., in August of 1963.

She testified in a Gooding murder trial last week.

In Boise, Gov. Robert S. Smylie said he is still waiting for the extradition papers and would grant a request by Miss Hampton's attorney for an extradition hearing.

The woman testified in the trial last week of Roder Hall, 22, of Crescent City, Calif., who was acquitted of a murder charge in the slaying of Dr. John Hunt, Jr., 37, of Portland, Ore. Dr. Hunt's body was found a few days after the killing near Ukiah.

Miss Hampton originally was charged jointly with Hall and Emmett Spencer, 29, also of Sandy Hook. But the charge against her was dismissed so she could be a prosecution witness. Spencer is under death sentence in Florida for another slaying.

Wheat Straw Is Best Mulch For Strawberryberries

About one and a half tons of clean wheat straw is the best mulch for strawberryberries, says C. E. Walton, UK Experiment Station horticulturist.

Walton tried varied tonages of mulch over acre last season on a special plot of Tennessee Beauty strawberryberries. The ton and one half per acre rate yielded 600 of the 24 quart crates, he says. A two-ton mulching rate had 375 of the crates, a one-ton rate 347 crates and the check (not mulched), 230 crates.

Walton applied the mulch in late December, 1965 and covered the areas over and between the rows. The mulch was pulled off the plots in April, 1966 to give new growth a chance.

Advantages of mulching are prevention of fruit rot injury in severe cold, cherting of plant leaving delayed blooming, keeping down weeds, saving moisture, replacing cultivation, etc. Some disadvantages are mulching material costs, injury from poor materials, reopening and encouraging of some insects and some frost damage.

Walton feels that in normal years mulching will be beneficial despite the above-stated drawbacks. When mulching does not produce beneficial results, he says, it usually is because of a very mild winter, use of too much mulch, use of unsatisfactory mulches that smother plants or introduce weed seed, etc.

Wyatt Optimistic About Industry

T. G. Wilson Wyatt reported three weeks that 200 industries are eyeing sites in Kentucky either to expand or to bring in new industries.

He said the state has not gotten the number of new industries it should have because of the "presently recessed state of the economy."

An upturn in the economy next year, he added, would improve Kentucky's chances for industrial growth.

Wyatt said that as of now, companies have announced or started new facilities worth $37,723,000, adding the figure was conservative because some firms are reluctant to reveal publicly the full extent of their expansion.

MSC Trips Tech Twice, 85-84, 84-74; Williams Hits 40

Coach Bob Laughlin's MSC Eagles got some hot shooting from Granville Williams, who scored 73 points in two contests, last Friday and Saturday night and ran through two games with Tennessee Tech, winning 85-84 at Prestonsburg and 84-74 at Morehead in the conference tilt.

In the contest at Prestonsburg, the Eagles were pushed and pushed hard by the Golden Eagles of John Oldham, trailing by as much as 17 points in the first half, the Morehead men fell behind by a 42-35 count at halftime.

Williams led MSC in scoring for the first half, racking up 15 points on seven feeders and a free toss. Hecky Thompson chipped in with eight markers on four field goals. Neither team hit with any consistency.

The second half proved to be more eventful in the eyes of the Morehead delegation anyway.

Faced by the torrid shooting of Williams and Thompson and the heavy rebounding by Norman Pokley and Doug Canfield, the Eagles scored back to capture the lead on a jumper by Williams with 10:00 remaining. The game was a saw affair from there on out.

Morehead piled up a six point lead with 1:45 seconds remaining, only to see the Techmen come zooming back with a quick basket and a free throw by Tom McKinney. With Morehead stalling and time running, guard Dave Eakin stole the ball at mid-court, raced to the foul circle, and pumped it in as the horn sounded and the MSC'ers walked off the floor with a one point win.

Williams completed 33 points for his night's effort while Thompson picked up 23 for his night's work. McKinney led Golden Eagle scorers with 22 takes.

Morehead 84 — Tech 74

Saturday night was replete with the first game, as the Tech men led throughout most of the contest, only to see their lead dwindle to nothing and watch the Laughlin men surge into a lead of their own.

One of the most outstanding performances of shooting displayed by a Morehead player in the last few years was given by Williams who amassed 40 points on 15 field goals and ten for ten at the charity strip.

Williams gathered 17 of his total in the first half, ten of which were derived by set shots from 35 feet or more. His final tally came in the last second of the half when he swished a magnificent 50-footer, as the half ended showing the Tech contingent ahead, 40-38.

Williams continued his torrid shooting in the second half and along with some nifty rebounding from Pokley and John Gibson, who tied with Canfield for second place in scoring with 11 points, rared back, took the lead and held on to the ball for the remainder of the game, shooting only when the shooting was sure.

The Techmen, minus All-American Jimmy Hagan, were led by sub Dave Gorn who hit on 10 of 22 attempts from the field and six of eight from the free throw line. Ron Stumate was next with 16 markers.

Williams had his 40 of 24 shots from the field while Gibson and Canfield hit on five of 11 and four of ten respectively.

The contest was the Eagles' first Ohio Valley Conference game of the year and upped the season's record to 4-1, losing only by one point to the Ohio University Bobcats, 81-80.

The defeat dropped the Golden Eagles to a 2-3 status as they possessed a 2-1 record before coming into Eagleland. Their next game is with Murray on Jan. 7.

Breck Training School First To Get Accredited

In its sixth-fifth annual session last week at Memphis, Tennessee, the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools for the first time in the history of the Association accredited schools on the elementary school level.

The Breckinridge Training School, Morehead State College, was the first and only school in Kentucky to receive this signal honor.

Having completed a two-year program of self-improvement and self-study, Breckinridge was visited by the Kentucky state committee in November and in turn, recommended by Mr. Claude A. Taylor, Director of Instructional Services, State Department of Education, Frankfort, to the Central Coordinating Committee of the Southern Association for final accreditation approval.

At Tuesday's general session of the Cooperative Program in Elementary Education at Memphis representing the only Kentucky school to receive the accreditation status, were Mrs. Hazel Whitaker, Acting Director of the Breckinridge Training School, and Miss Thelma Evans, chairman of the study projects in which the school has been engaged.

Special tribute was paid to sixteen individual schools and ten school systems from six southern states who now have the added distinction of being not only affiliated but accredited schools in the Southern Association and its respective commissions.

States now having reached this milestone in education are Georgia, Louisiana, North Carolina, South Carolina, Texas and Kentucky.
