President Payne then submitted written report upon water consumption, which report is as follows:

"Water Consumption

During February 1931 two new buildings were added to the campus. These two buildings use an average of 300000 gallons of water per month. In addition to this consumption of water the heating plant is required to operate during the summer months using between 100,000 gallons and 200,000 gallons per month. Taking this added consumption into consideration plus the enlarged enrollment of the school, the total water bills for this year are not out of line with those of former years. For instance, the water bills for the first six months of 1930 and the first six months of 1931 are listed below:

	1930	1931
January	$311.32	$292.07
February	223.28	311.61
March	269.93	601.32
April	273.38	456.90
May	270.27	444.97
June	374.38	498.56

Leaks play an important part in the consumption of water in an institution of this size, and only constant supervision and inspection can keep these to a minimum. During the past several months all plumbing facilities have been overhauled, larger floats installed in a number of flush receptacles to insure proper closing of the valves. A daily inspection is made by the janitor or matron of each building and any trouble reported on a "trouble sheet" which is referred to the Grounds Department.

In addition to this, a weekly inspection is made by the Superintendent of Grounds of all buildings, thus keeping a fairly good check on troubles that may arise in any plumbing system. It would be possible to create a considerable saving in our water consumption by decreasing the pressure at each of the buildings. The existing pressure in our lines is around 80# per square inch. A pressure of from 40# to 50# would be sufficient for our needs. The amount of water passing through an orifice is proportional to the pressure. The only disadvantage I can see to this is that in case of fire the more water pressure you have, the better. Should the Board of Regents deem this advisable, we will install necessary valves, and lower our present pressure."

On motion of Mr. Stanfill, seconded by Judge Young and duly carried, Mr. Rice was instructed to ascertain what effect, if any, the proposed reduction of water pressure in the various building would have upon our insurance rates.

The bids secured for paint and certain work needed were submitted to the Board and are as follows:

	Fields Hall	Allie Young	Thompson Hall	Interior Decoration
Botts	*$1653.70 1067.00	$1495.00 969.50

After a general discussion of the subject, the matter was referred to President Payne and Mr. Rice with power to act in the premises.

Mr. Spanfill then offered the following motion:

Whereas the committee heretofore appointed to ascertain at what price the Worley Hall property could be bought, has been unable to agree with said Hall as to the fair price and reasonable value of said property, which consists of about four acres of land, lying just west of our Robert J. Breckinridge Training School:

And whereas the Morehead State Teachers College is growing and its student body constantly increasing, making it necessary that said property be acquired, in order that additional buildings and equipment be provided.

Therefore, be it resolved that the committee heretofore appointed continue to negotiate with said Hall in effort to buy said property at its fair cash value, and upon failure so to agree, said Committee is authorized and directed to institute proper and appropriate condemnation proceedings to acquire said property, as provided by law, and take any and all steps necessary and incident thereto.

Said motion was seconded by Judge Young and upon a roll call all members of the Board voted aye, and said motion was declared adopted.

President Payne then submitted report of Professor O'Bannon, Professor of Heat Engineering of the University of Kentucky, relating to heating situation and after a general discussion of the subject, said report and matter were referred to the committee heretofore appointed, with power to act in the premises.

The committee heretofore appointed to electrify the kitchen and enlarge cafeteria reported progress and was continued.

On motion, duly carried, resignation of Professor Chiles VanAntwerp was accepted, and President Payne then recommended as History Teacher, Professor Arthur Y. Lloyd of Providence, Kentucky, at a salary of $2500.00 for twelve months, and Judge Young moved that the recommendation of the President be concurred in, which motion was seconded by Dr. Rose and upon a roll call all members of the Board
