WAR IN KENTUCKY.

The Outbreak in Carter County.

In Breathitt County.

[Special Dispatch to the Enquirer.

In Carter County the excitement and horror of the war are of a more startling nature than disclosed by my dispatch last night. It is alleged that the Holcomb party, which attacked the Underwoods on Thursday last, the conduct of the Underwood party for the past week has been quiet, and they have made no showing of a disposition to again indulge in hostilities, with the exception of Jesse Underwood.

Jesse Underwood has been out for some time with his rifle and revolvers, prepared to meet and defend himself against any attack. Underwood and his men have been obviously on the alert, and the news that the Holcomb party is in the neighborhood is likely to cause some excitement.

The Underwood party, under the leadership of Jesse Underwood, has taken up a position on the Holcomb farm, and has established a strict watch and guard system. The Holcomb party, under the leadership of Mr. Holcomb, has taken up a position on the Underwood farm, and has established a strict watch and guard system.

The Sheriff and posse of the county have been called out, and are now on the alert for any disturbance.

The house of Mr. Holcomb, which has been made a headquarters for the Holcomb party, is now occupied by the Sheriff and his posse.
