
Goose Ck's. head forks are E. Fk. and Collins Fk. where there were saltworks. (Ibid., P. 25). The Goose Ck. Salt Works at the m. of Collins Fk. (Ibid., P. 34). Verhoeff mentions the Russell map (1794) references to Franklincy. and Somerset as towns laid out by land co's. that never materialized. (Pp. 131-2). Early in 1798, there was a town called Martinsburg laid out ca. 20 mi above the 3 Fks. on 500 acres. Each of these names suggested the possibility of some settlement by that time. (Ibid.; P. 132). Beattyville's 1st settlement was made by Sam'l. Beatty in 1842. In 1870 that town had a pop. of 123 while Proctor had a pop. of 100. (Ibid., P. 133). The L&A RR built a branch betw. Heidelberg and Ida May on Duck Fk, 1906, to bring out coal from newly opened mines. (Ibid., P. 181);
LEE CO. (Ky.): Probably named for Lee Co., Va. from whence many of its pioneers had come. Myth perpetuated or originated by Richard Collins in rev. HIST. (1874) that it had been named for Gen. Robert E. Lee. No evidence for this. He and the members of the Ky. G.A. who organized the county in 1869 "may have simply assumed" this. J.W.F. Williams, late authority on Lee Co. history, believed it was named for Va. county. He knew the men who had petitioned for the Ky. county's establishment. The Va. county was named for Lighthorse Harry Lee, Rev. War officer and later Va. Gov. Still seeking documentary evidence for this. (Thos.
G. Harding and Gladys Sale, "The Naming of Lee Co." THE BUL. OF THE KHS, Vol. 4(6), 12/1978, P. 8; Shack. in Romance (1947) claimed the co. was named for REL (P. 3); Co. is close to the west end of E. Ky. Coal Field. Well-dissected plat. typical of much of e. Ky. Drained by main stream & 3 head fks of th Ky R. & their branches. The M. and N. Fks meet 2 mi above (ne. of) Beattyv. and together they're joined by the S. Fk. at Beattyv. The w. half of L. Co. is the D.B. Nat'l. For. (McGrain & Currens, TOPO. P. 46);
LEE COUNTY, KY: In its county enabling act, the G.A. named Proctor the county seat. Amended 3/10/70 to avoid continuing controversy on location of seat by naming a comm'n. to meet in Proctor on 4/4 to select a permanent site from several to be suggested. This and several subsequent deliberations ended in deadlocks. Finally, a one vote change brought the seat to Beattyv. in 1871. (Dennis L. Brewer, The Land of Lee (The Formation and County Officials of Lee County, Ky, 1870-1983), ca.1987; Pp. 7-8);
The Ky. Union Ry. was inc. 1872 to ship coal & timber from SE Ky. Construction began in 1886, and by the end of that year 14.7 mi had been completed betw. Ky. Union (later L&E) Jct. and Clay City. The line reached Lex. in 1890 and Jackson in 1891, a total of 92 miles. In receivership in 1891. Re-org. 10/16/1894 as the L&E and purchased by the L&N in Nov. 1910 with plans to extend ca. 100 miles from Dumont to McRoberts. (Sulzer, Ghost RR-Ky, P. 13);
LEE COUNTY, KY: --The co's. 1st settlers were Josiah & Sabina Miller, their d. Nancy and her husband Sam'l. Willcockson (sic). Josiah (sp. Joshiah) was bro. of Jacob, a scout for D. Boone. Settled about where the N. & M. Fks. meet. Willcockson (1755-1825) was bur. nearby in the St. Helens Cem. The next settlers of Lee Co. were the Stufflebean Bros. John & Mike, ex-Hessian soldiers. Two Beattyv. cks--Crystal & Silver--were once named for the bros: Mikes Br. at White Ash was named for Mike who had built a cabin here. John's home was the si. of the Beattyv. graded sch. Later moved to Maloney Bend A shoal in the r. there, before the dam was built, was thus called Stuffle Shoal. The county's next arrivals were Crawfords, Meadows, Snowdens, Wyatts, Ashcrafts, Coles, Durbins, Bakers, Horns, McGuieres, and Townsends. (Shack, Romance, 1947, Pp. 10-13); The Riney B (Richmond-Nicholasv.-Irvine & Beattyv. RR)=60.76 mi betwVers. & Irvine were completed 1890. 37.74 mi betw I and B. were completed by the Lou & Atl. in Nov. 190 The L&A bought the 5.6 mi. long Beattyv. & Cumb. RR from B. to Airedale on the L&E, thus providing the L&A a continuous route of 101.10 mi extending from Ve to Airedale (the Beattyv. Jct.)....(Centen. P. 75);
LEE COUNTY, KY: 211 sq. mi. "Est. in 1870 from parts of Owsley, Estill, Wolfe, and Breathitt Co's. Lee Co. is traditionally believed to have been named for Gen. Robert E. Lee (1807-70), commander of the armies of the Confederacy. This notion, originated or perpetuated in Collins’s Hist. of Ky. (1874), has been challenged by the late J.W.F. Williams and others who have found no documentary evidence for it. They suggest it was named for Lee Co., Va. whence many of its earliest residents had come. The Va. co. was named for Lighthorse Harry Lee, Rev. War officer and later Va. gov." (Book-P.168);
LEE CO., KY: Lee Co's. 1st settler, Jacob Miller, was the source of Miller's Ck. He settled nr. the site of the Canaan Chu, nr. the later home of Jas. McGuire (ca. 1881) (Newsl. of the Lee Co. H&G Soc., #16, 9/88, P. 8);
LEE COUNTY, KY: Taken from Breathitt, Estill, Owsley, & Wolfe Co's. Orig. terri=200 sq. mi. Gained negligible areas from Owsley Co. 4/30/88 and 2/12/90 to accommodate local prop. owners and 4/29/90 from Estill Co. Gained 10 sq. mi. from Wolfe Co. and a small area from Breathitt Co. 5/24/90. By then it had 210 sq. mi. (Long); 115th co. org. 211 sq. mi. Prefers derivation from Lee Co, Va. whence many co. residents and Union sentiments during the CW. Fairly hilly terrain with fertile valleys suitable for ag. (corn, tob, & fruit orchards). Heavily forested with 7000+ acres in the D.B Nat'l. For. Coal, iron ore, and oil deposits dev'd.
Earliest ind. was saltpeter mining used in manu. of gunpowder. Steamboats and later rr led to Beattyv. as an import. transp. ctr. in late 19th cent. Just below the "confl. of the 3 forks" Beattyv. was the "e. term. for (Ky. R.) steamboats. For a brief period in the 1950-60s prod'n. of coal and oil gave co. some importance but it declined after 1970. Pop. (1970)= 6587, (1880)=7754, (1990)=7744. (Ron D. Bryant, KY. ENCY. 1992, Pp. 541-42); Collins' hist. (1874) has it that the co. was named for Robt. E. Lee. Pop. was only 2924 in 1870; The Ky. R. was the Owsley-Wolfe Co. line when co. was org. in 1870. (Shack, 7/8/78);

BEAR TRACK (Lee Co., Ky): A large rock at the edge of Hatton Hollow, a deep gorge 13 mi. se of Beattyville, c. 100 ft. from the Beattyv-Irvine Pike. Impressions of the footprints of a bear at the edge of this rock. Story told of a young Indian who wounded a bear who then gave long chase. Gained on him. Brave reached the 'rim of the deep gorge. It was a sheer drop (of) over 100 ft. As he paused on the edge the bear gathered himself for a last charge. Uttering one piercing shriek the brave flung his outstretched arms above his head and leaped out and down into space. The bear was carried over the cliff by the intensity of his spring. As the large rock was soft the seconds hesitation (sic) of the brave and the bear was long enough to leave their footprints on it as mute testimony of the end of the race." One of the county's show places. "The footprints are dim but if you look closely you will see them pointing over the edge of the cliff." BEATYVILLE (Lee Co.): ("Bæ/dee/v(ih)l"). No one knows when the town was laid off or by whom. A no. of land companies came in here especially from Balti., Md. One of these was a Mr. Carnehan and the vic. was called Carnehan Patent. Thinks he was an Englishman. These speculators came in here with hope to build a great western city and they were going to develop the area's coal and timber. Certain that the land speculators from Balti laid out the town.... The 1st persons known to have settled this vic. were the McAfee Bros. who explored the land. Then Jas. Harrod came in. Acc. to trad., he was killed on the present site of the ct. hse. He was camping there and someone killed him... (See Collins Hist.) ("Tā/lərз L(ae)nd/(ih)ŋ"). The landing was supposed to have been right behind the site of the present po, at the mouth of Lower Stufflebean Creek. DK who Taylor was. We know the Stufflebeans, who were Hessian soldiers, were early settlers here. They had deserted the Brit. army during the Rev and fought on the Am. side. They were granted some land in this county in payment for their services.... (Nevyle Shackelford, interview, 7/8/1978);

BEATTYVILLE (Lee Co., Ky.)
Named for Samuel Beatty, a Welsh coal miner and an early settler of that section of the county. Town laid-off on his land. Many of his descendants still live in B'ville. (RR South, "Our Station Names" L&N MAG., 3/1950, Pp. 34-5.)

p.o. est. in Owsley Co. as Beattyville, 9/14/1858, Chas. J. Blount...to Lee Co., 1/7/1870, Robert B. Jameson...(NA)

Named for founder Sam'l. D. Beatty. At the confluence of the north, south, and middle fks of the Ky. R., in the late 18th cent. "Early settlers were attracted by the rich timber-lands and coal deposits". At the head of navigation on the Ky. R. (FIRST TRIP; Lex. to Clermont Hts.)
BEATYYVILLE (Lee Co.): 1st settler at site was Sam'l. Beatty, native of Fayette Co. who built a log home there sometime before 1840. Soon joined by others; 1st store was run by Al Crawford. After his wife's death, Sam'l moved to Franklin Co., Mo. but returned to Ky. in 1842. (From an anon. ms. describing pre-C.W. life in Beattyv. in possession and reported by Nevyle Shackelford, "Old Manuscript Gives Early Hist. of Beattyville" LEX. LEADER, 6/24/1958); By 1870, thriving town of 12 stores, 2 M'd's, 1 sch. 3 chur., 4 lawyers... (cent. 1970, p.32) ("Baldet v. (in)e"),(red gabbard, 7/18/1977);
BEATTYVILLE (Lee Co., Ky): river port that supplied up country farmers. Lumber and coal floated down Ky. R. from here. Growth (substantial) came only with the arrival of the rr. (Goff Bedford, Clark Co., Vol. 1, P. 315); Its dev. was a reflection of area timber & mineral resources, bend in the r., and crossing of trails. (N. Shackelford in LEX LEAD. 6/24/58); Vill. w/ steam-operated flour, grist, & carding mills, 4 chu's & sch. Ships stone, coal, & timber. 1st settled 1832. Inc. as vil. 1852. Pop. ca. 300. Robt B. Jameson was pm & hotel keeper. Jas. Beatty was a lawyer. A no. of businesses incl. David Pryce & Bro. gen. store. C.D. Tyler gen. store, other stores & shops, etc. (1876-7 Gaz); BEATTYVILLE (Lee Co.): Two-thirds of the commissioners wanted to locate the co. seat at St. Helens because it was on level land. But the owner of the Beattyville site bought off one of the commissioners and they voted to build the town here. This was after the seat had been at Proctor. The 1st settler at B'ville was Sam'l. Beatty, a Fayette Co. native. He arr. at site in 1843. At that time it was known as Taylors Landing......(Nevyle Shackelford, interview, 7/8/1978); Inc. 3/28/1872 (ACTS 1871/2, Vol. 2, P. 488); see ACTS 1878, Vol. 2, P. 515); Bryant, KY ENCY, 1992, P. 62); Pop. of 165 (1887) and 1200 (1895) due to arr. of rr. Relatively shortlived boomtown;

BEATTYVILLE (Lee Co., Ky): ca. 1870—at the Ky R's. head of navigation, reached by steamboats only at certain times of the year. (Collins Hist. II, 1874, P. 461); Pop. in the 1870s=400 (Ibid); Al Crawford, an early B. storekeeper, and Beattyv's name source Sam'l. Beatty were the town's first two residents. (Shack, Romance, 1947, P. 13); ca. 1905 Beattyv. was the term of the L&A Ry, 2½ mi below Beattyv. Jct; BEATTYVILLE (Lee Co., Ky): Sam'l. Beatty (1793-1880), son of Henry Beatty, early recipient of land grants in Estill & Lee Co's. and who lived on Drowning Ck. in E. Co. In 1841 Sam'l. settled in (present) w. end of Beatty on 313 acres he heired from his father. Rob't. Beatty was the son of Wm. and Margaret (Sam'l's. sister) Jameson. The area w. of Lower Stufflebean was 1st called Beatty Town, the 1st part of the town to be settled. (Lee Co. History--Constitutional Bicent. 1787-1987, Vol. 2 of the Centen. ca. 1987 by Lee Co. Hist. Soc.); Town had pop. of 1500 (1900). By 1905 it was a lumber & mining ctr. with 5 large & several small area coal mines.
BEATTYVILLE (Lee Co.): No one really knows who was 1st settler of site. Some local historians think it was John Stufflebean. All are agreed, tho, that it was named for Sam'l Beatty (12/25/1793-3/3/1880) who, acc. to the late Johnny Williams, was founder, here from Madison Co. and is buried on a small knoll in Slabtown....Acc. to a descendant, Mrs. Gwendolyn Simpson, he arr. at site in 1843; it was then known as Taylor's Landing. The Ky. GA est. Taylor's Landing as a town in 1850 but named it Beattyville. First called Beatty, and later Beattyville. In 1870 Sam'l gave land for the ct. hse. (Nevyle Shackelford, ms. "Sam'l. Beatty, Founder of Beattyville" c1976); "This 5th cl. city and the seat of Lee Co. lies at the jct. of Ky 11 & 52, at the forks of the Ky. R. ... For reasons unknown it was first called Taylors Landing, but in 1850 it was officially estab'd. as Beattyville by an act of the Ky. leg. It was named for Sam'l. Beatty (1793-1880) who arr. at the site in 1843 and is credited with having founded the town. In 1870 Beatty also donated the land for the new co's. seat." (Book-P. 16); BEATTYVILLE (Lee Co., Ky): Local econ. from the 1920s to the early 1970s depended on the co's. oil ind. Lee Co. was a major oil producer for awhile but the big drillers moved away. In Sept. 1990 the Lee Adjustment Ctr., a pvt. prison, opened. Other businesses: a key-punch business and a fact. making firefighters uniforms. Failed to survive great potential of the 1880s. The Three Forks Investment Co. anticipated in an 1889 brochure that the town would soon become the gateway to E. Ky. and the ctr. of dev. of mineral, timber, & ag. resources of a large region due to its location nr the confl. of the Ky R's 3 head forks. Failed to materialize when the rr extended beyond B. and principal thru rds. bypassed it by some distance. Doubtful that the co. was named for REL. (John Voskuhl on B. in the LCJ 4/20/1992);

CRESSMONT (Lee County, Ky.) Located on Sturgeon Creek, 3 mi. so. of Heidelberg. In 1911, the Turkey-foot Lumber Company then located in Cressmont, W.Va. bought a large boundary of timber in Lee and Jackson Counties. The company moved their large sawmill to the location of Sturgeon Creek and named the rapidly growing community for their home town.... Lee Countians sought the high wages paid by the company and flocked in. The company built the K.R. & C. (Kentucky, Rockcastle and Cumberland) railroad which ran from Caryton (near Heidelberg) to Jackson County to haul the logs to the sawmill. For a few years this 'boom' town flourished (with 2-room school, doctor, church, co. commissary)....When there was no more timber to saw the mill closed in 1925 and moved away. Therefore the Cressmont community vanished as rapidly as it sprang up. People left for jobs in Lexington, Cinci. Dayton, and other places....." (LEE COUNTY CENTENNIAL, 1870-1970, P. 19)

THE "CUT-OFF" Section of Lee County, Ky.

@ 1000 acres in the extreme northeast corner of the co. Virtually unoccupied today though there are good, "all-weather roads" into the area now. Came by its name "years ago when in the throes of swift development, the State of Kentucky created counties right and left with little regard for the consequences. Politically speaking, the Cut-Off should have been in Wolfe but in creating Lee County in 1870, it chances that the boundaries of Wolfe and the new county of Lee met across the open end of a big bend in the grand and one-time beautiful and fish-filled North Fork of the lordly Kentucky River. (In comparison to its former state of condition, this sinuous stream is now little better than an open sewer, but the section it gathered up in one of its curves came to be called the 'Cut-Off'--a cut-off in fact as well as in name, for the river hems it in on three sides with the fourth side fronting on Wolfe County which in former times offered no outlet except a dirt road all but impassible in winter and little better in summer. In later years a bridge was built across the river at the mouth of Fraley's Creek which provided ingress and egress for the area, but about 1957 this span washed out in a high tide leaving the residents almost as isolated as before." Stephen Campbell was 1st settler in the Cut-Off who came with family from Va.
Ancest. of the Kashes and Shackelfords of the area. C. 1940 it was publicized in a newsp.
story as "Kentucky's Shangri-La" as one of th
most peaceful, idyllic places in the state. Pop. then c. 15 families in the commu.
Decline since then. Never had a store, po or church. Strictly residential. But always a 1-room school, now abandoned as is the entire commu. People there had a strong feeling for educ.
Services were provided the local pop. over the line in Wolfe Co. Always known as a very friendly place where neighbors never wanted for anything. And everyone cared for each other.

EVELYN (Lee Co., Ky.) P.O. est. 3/18/1904 with Robert E. West, pm... (Acc. to the Nat'l. Arch.)
One of a string of villages along the Ky. R. in Lee Co. Important "in the early days when the river was the only link to the downstream world."
First called "Old Landing", a raftsman's tie-up spot for the night. Many willow trees grew along the river in this area, close to the river. Thus the area named Willow. Three shoals there before the locks were built: Long Shoal, at the quarry, now known as Yellow Rock; Big Willow, and Little Willow Shoals. Lewis Stamper came in from Breathitt Co. just after the C.W. bought land and engaged in farming.
His gr-grandson, Jim Wesley Spicer, was Willow pm for many years. RR men named a community Evelyn for old lady, Evelyn McIntyre who lived in the area. RR caused decline in river traffic. Now roads have caused decline in rr passenger traffic. So these places "have been by-passed in today's world." (LEE COUNTY CENTENNIAL, 1870-1970, P. 20.) (Check: are these 3 different towns?... Yes they are. Willow is several miles up river from Evelyn; Yellow Rock is still further up; and Old Landing is down river, at the loop.) (Acc. to the latest state county highway map). These commu. declined w coming of rr, + especially w roads that no longer needed to follow the course of the river (ibid.)
EVELYN (Lee Co., Ky): "This sta. on the L&N RR and dpo are on the n bank of the Ky R, just across from the Lee Estill Co. line and 8 (air) mi wnw of B. Acc. to some historians, the sta. was named for the wife or one of the rr officials who routed the tracks through that vic in 1902. Others say that it was named for Evalena or Evelyn McIntyre, a longtime resident and sister to G.W. Calmes who donated the right-of-way to the rr. The po was est. on 3/18/1904 with Robt. E. West, pm and named for the sta. It closed in 1954." (Book-P. 96);

Near the border of Lee and Powell Counties there is a little village by the name of Fixer. In the center of an oil-producing region, it sports a school, a general store, post office; and several nice homes. Years ago, acc. to Finley Booth who was raised up close by, a somewhat stern and impatient old gentleman by the name of Sim Crabtree decided the community needed a post office. Petitioning the US Postoffice (sic) authorities, Crabtree was told to go ahead, establish the post office and suggest a name. The old man sent in one name after the other only to be informed that places by the same name already existed and to suggest another. Finally when his already thin patience gave way to so much letter writing, he wrote the postal authorities he had sent in the last name he was going to and that 'you can fixer yourself.' (Nevyl Shackelford probably in his col. in the Lex. Leader.) 1/21/1959, P. 5-1.

And that is just what the Post Office Department did. They named the office Fixer.
FIXER (Lee Co., Ky): Acc. to G.W. Booth, jr., 3/26/17, the 1st name prop. for this new po was Burke and it would be 6 mi ne of the Ky R, ca. 100 yds s of Big Sinking Ck, 3 mi e of Radical po, 3½ mi s of Zachariah po. Not a vil. (the rest is too light) // Acc. to Geo. W. Booth, 7/31/1939, it was 50 ft from Big Sinking Ck, 14 mi from Beattyv. po, 3 mi se of Zachariah po, 2½ mi s of Zoe po. (SLR); PO closed 7/26/1968 (POR-NA); PM's after Geo. Booth: 9/30/46, Maudie Moorefield (Booth's daughter); Alma Booth (from 3/8/50-closing on 7/26/1968 (POR-NA); Acc. to 1920 Census, Booth was a 35 yr old local storekeeper, marr. to Dixie, Simp Crabtree's daughter; Fixer (Lee Co., Ky.). Settled by farmers. Some early settlers made re ties for 50¢ per day. 1918 oil boom brought many persons into the area. "One of the original settlers, Simpson Crabtree, grandfather of Lula Begley, was asked to send a name to Washington for a post office for this area. He sent several names which were all rejected because of previous use in other places. Finally in disgust he wrote to Washington and told them that he had sent all the names he was going to and for them to 'fix her.' As a result the little community was named Fixer." After WWI, a genl store was started by Geo. Booth, son-in law of Crabtree. Booth had carried the mail to Fixer on horseback for years. Booth still runs that store. (....) (Acc. to Lula Begley, in the LEE COUNTY CENTENNIAL, 1870-1970, P.
FIXER (Lee Co.): "They were getting a p.o. there and they were trying to decide on a name. And they'd send in one name and it was too long and the POD would send back--they'd send them another name. And they did that 3 or 4 times and finally they got together one night and wrote the POD and said 'You fix 'er'. And the POD just put it down Fixer-F-i-x-e-r. And that's the way I've been told it got its name." Originated in the oil boom of the 1920s. Now: nothing. Geo. Booth's long time store closed when he retired. The area is now more or less deserted. Only a few people still live there. (Nevyle Shackelford, interview, 7/8/78)

FIXER (Lee Co): p.o. est. 7/26/1917, Geo. W. Booth, Jr. Disc. 1970. And they would send in one name and it was too long and the POD would send back--(sic)They'd send them another name and they did that 3 or 4 times and finally they got together one night and wrote the POD and said, 'You fix'er.' And the POD just put it down Fixer. And that's the way I've been told it got its name." DK when/by whom it was 1st settled. It originated with the oil boom in the early 1920s. Now:
nothing. Long time store there run by Geo. Booth. He had the po; wanted to retire and no one else wanted the job. It closed. That area is more or less deserted, abandoned. Only a few people still live there. There's a terrible hill one has to go down to get there, impossible to get to from Campton, where the mail is now deliv__ered from, where the road is covered with snow. (Nevyle Shackelford, interview, 7/8/1978);
FIXER (Lee Co., Ky): "This nearly deserted and almost inaccessible com. with epo is on Big Sinking Ck, 6½ (air) mi n of B. Acc. to trad., Simpson Crabtree was unsuccessful in getting several suggested names accepted by the postal authorities. Each name he submitted was already in use, and he was repeatedly told to suggest another. Finally he wrote that he had sent in all the names he was going to and demanded that the postal authorities 'fix 'er' themselves. The po was thus est. as Fixer on 7/26/1917 with Crabtree's son-in-law Geo. W. Booth, Jr., as the 1st pm. The po closed in 1970." (Book-P. 102)
FIXER (Lee Co., Ky): "In 1916 residents submitted four names for approval of postal authorities. (Booth, Crabtree, Big Sinking, and Fixer). People contacted (by the Moyers) do not know definitely whether it is a family name, or if it was submitted as a whim...to memorialize a worker. In this instance, it was possibly a repairman of oil drilling machinery." (Armond & Winifred Moyer, comp., THE ORIGINS OF UNUSUAL PLACE-NAMES, 1958, P. 51. No source given.) FRAILEYS CREEK (Lee Co., Ky.): a trib. of the N. Fk. of the Ky. R. 113 mi. below its head, it falls 150 ft. over a rock precipice "landing in a gorge of rocks and thick foliage. Another mile to N. It is said that the com. grew from an overnight lodging house for the loggers who would tie up their rafts in the bottom across the river. The local po, est. on 3/26/83, with Mrs. Delina McGuire, pm, was 1st called Whynot, allegedly pron. 'weye/naht' but renamed Old Landing in 1904 when Ambrose Durbin took it over. The story of the logger who suggested that 'we tie up here' and got the answer 'why not?', has been discounted, but no other explanation has been offered. The name Old Landing may predate the Whynot po, for acc. to postal records, an Old Landing po was in operation from 1871 to 1874 and another po called Old Landing Sinks was in existence for nearly 9 mos. from Apr. 1878. It is not known where either of these po's were located." (Book-Pp. 219-220); OLD LANDING (Lee Co.): (Pron. "(Oh)ld L(ae)n/(ih)n") On the Estill Co. line "where they used to land log rafts when the logging men went down the river." DK of any Whynot. (Fred Gabbard, interview, 7/8/1977); ("Ohl L(ae)n/ dən") There's a big flat bottom across the river from O.L. and he's been told that that was where they used to land their rafts of a night. Someone had a boarding house for raftsmen to spend the night. lst called Whynot. ("W(ey)/n(ah)t") but dk why. When the rr came in, it was just a flag stop called O.L. N.ch. rather than a ch. in site. PO-store right on the river. Has heard the story about "somebody coming down on a raft and they said (sic) 'let tie up here 'and the other one said 'Whynot.' But doesn't think there's anything to this. Never anything but a rr: station. There was a landing there, used as a tie-up spot for rafts for years. Used to ship coal down stream in barges and these would tie up there too. On top of the hill, above O.L., is The Pinnacle, two stone monoliths. A lot of Boones were buried in the old (בש) Pinnacle Cem. There never was a New Landing at all. The commu. preceded the po and mayb the county but dk when or by whom it was 1st settled. The Durbins and McGuires were the main families there. Durbins probably settled it for they were descendants of the French Canadian fur traders. Now: Horn store right on the river. Locally still call Old Landing. (Nevyle Shackelford, interview, 7/8/1978);
OLD LANDING (Ohl Laen/dan) (Lee Co., Ky.):

"They tell me that that's where they's a big flat bottom across the river from Old Landin'. And they tell me that that's where they used to land the rafts of a night when they'd reach there and tie up the raft of a night. And they'd--somebody had a big house there--a boarding house where raftsmen could spend the night at that boarding house. And I've heard (it called) Whynot and I don't know why they called it that but that was the first name before Old Landin'. And, of course, when the rr came; it was just a flag stop...." (The po and store were right on the rr so Whynot) to Old Landing was a n.ch.) (Q. Why was that first called Whynot?) "I don't know. Somebody told me one time, but I don't think they knew what they was talkin' about, but they supposed so-and-so like somebody was comin' down a raft and they said 'let's tie up here and the other one said, 'Why not?'. OLD LANDING (Lee Co., Ky): Early place of portage on the Ky R to avoid the inconvenience of river travel. Would cross a hill and into a val. coming down to the r. at another pt. A permanent camp was made here. Later travelers decided to use the river rte. instead and began referring to the place of portage as the old landing. W of 1812 recruits gathered in the sinks above O.L. and called it the old musterground in the Old Landing Sinks. So identified in an 1823 deed from Sam'l. PRIMROSE (Lee Co.): The Rev. Jos. Hooker Hieronymus...was the 1st pm of Primrose. ('Pr(ih)m/r(oh)z') DK how/why the name originated. J.H. Hieronymus was always writing poems and Shackelford thinks he was the one that named the place. Charley was Jos's. bro. Ada France's was Jos.'s wife. She was nee Lucas. Never heard of any Joe Francis or anyone else there with the last name of Francis. Thinks that some of the Lucas family started the store & po or maybe it was the Coomers. He really d.k. Coomer was wealthy, had many interests and employed many persons...
He had a store. The Hieronymus family were the best educated in the community and naturally they served as clerks and bookkeepers and teachers there. This was one of the oldest communities in the co. lst settled by a Mr. Grey and he was a silversmith from Lex. and came to that area at the time of the great cholera epidemic in Lex. Bought his family with him to escape the plague. They settled that area. lst called the vic. Greys Bend for him. ("Grāz B(eh)nd") He acquired that whole area and sold it off. A de-descendant, Barney Grey, now lives in Montana. All it's ever been is a store and post office and that's all there is now. A farming community. No timber or mining. Active post office. (Nevyle Shackelford, interview, 7/8/1978); PROCTOR (Lee Co.): ("Pr(ah)k/tər") Named for the Rev. Jos. Proctor, Meth. minister & Indian fighter. He didn't settle the town. Is older than Beattyville and was the 1st county seat. THE ROCKEY GAP (Lee Co., Ky): c. 8 mi. above Beattyville, on the Middle Fork of the Ky. R. nr. Monica. Area homeguardsmen during the C.W. had their headquarters there. A county road going n. from Monica--now gravel-ed--then but a path, "winds up a high hill which..curves right or left almost all the wa to the top of the gap. On each side of the road is a natural barrier of high cliffs and rocks. At the top, the opening or gap is protected on both sides by rocks that are about 15 feet to the top from the bottom. This afforded a clear view both ways from the top of the hill. Acc. to legend, several C.W. skirmishes here...." (Bernice Calmes Co. Hist. Remembering Lee Co. N.H. 1941-2)
ST. HELENS (Lee Co.): (Pron. "Sánt H(éh)l/\text{ä}nz"). At one time it was called New Canaan ("Nyú Kān/(uh)n") but doubts if any local people know it by this name. When Lee Co. was cut off by the Ky. Leg. from Owsley Co. in 1870, an election was held to locate the co. seat in Beattyv., Proctor, or New Canaan. B'ville won by one vote... (Fred Gabbard, interview, 7/8/1977); Canaan had a pop. of 40, acc. to Collins II (1874) with 2 chu's, a sch. & a blacksmith; The co's 1st newps. was The Three Forks Enterprise of Beattyv., 5/8/1883 with the Rev. S.K. Ramey, edit. Disc. Re-est. 1906 by Judge Sam Hurst. Disc. Re-est. again in the 1920s... (Centén. P. 80); One of the 2 current weekly is The Three Forks Trad'n.
St. Helens (F37c) is 4½ mi. e. of Beattyville. It is 0.3 mi. n. of the Middle Fork of the Ky. R. (and Ky. 52) and 1½ miles above its confluence with the N. Fk. (and 3 mi. from where N. Fk. join S. Fk. at Beattyville.) The N. and M. Forks join c. 4 miles above where (as North Fork) they are joined by S. Fork at Beattyville. Caanan (sic was another contender for co. seat. Was later called Llewellyn and then St. Helens. ca. 1870, had a chu. and 2-3 scattered homes. (Robt S. Smallwood "Lee Co. Hist. Notes" WPA ms, 1936);
St. Helens (Lee Co.): p.o. est. as Lewellen, 3/16/1883, Josiah J. Walton...Disc. 9/17/1887, (papers to Beattyville); Re-est. as St. Hellena (sic), 11/9/1888, Henry B. McGuire; n.ch. to St. Helens, 1/16/89, Henry B. McGuire ...(NA) The 1st settlers are believed to have been Josiah Miller and wife Sabina, and their daughter & son-in-law, Nance and 'Sam'l. Wilcoxson. They settled near the present day Kash homestead. Acc. to Samuel's tombstone in St. H. Cem. his dates were 1755-11/1825. They are also believed to have been the first settlers in the county. (LEE COUNTY CENTENNIAL, 1870-1970, Compiled by the Lee Co. Cent. Book Comm., Beattyville, 1970, P. 6.)
ST. HELENS (Lee Co.): James McGuire and Jacob Miller were probably the earliest settlers of this vic. Miller arr. at the mouth of Middle Fork (Greek) R. in the spring, 1801. (Probably acc. to the late Johnny Williams, cent. Ky. news. edit. & historian, and cited by Nevyle Shackelford, "Old Newsp. Reveals First Settlers in Lee" LEX. LEAD. 5/5/64, P. 6); Some Balti. land speculators owned a lot of land in this area and laid out an elaborate city with streets, etc. The bubble burst in a matter of weeks. Mr. Snowden was paid by the speculators a very large amt. for his land there. When the burst came, he was able to buy it back for a fraction of what he paid and became wealthy. ("Sānt H(eh)lənz") (Nevyle Shackelford, interview, 7/8/1978); First called Canaan ("Kā/nən"), then Lake City ("Lāk S(ih)/tee"). Then St. Helens Laid out by land speculators from Balti., Md. Then it was heavily timbered. It was a big lumber town at the head of the rr. Now only a Pres. Chu. and 2 stores. Never heard of it being called Louellen or Lewellen. The 95 yr. old son of Mr. Snowden still lives there, in the house in which he was born. Never heard of a Three Forks City.
DK why they renamed it St. Helens. Lake Cty may have just been the name of the rr sta. before the St. H. name was applied to it...
The Balti. speculators weren't connected with the rr; the rr came in later. Was not called St. H. before the rr est. its sta. there. The L&E rr people undoubtedly named it. In c1896, it had a pop. of 150, MD & lawyer stores, depot, hotel, 2 stave mills; Fletcher Snowden was pm. A Scotch engineer, who surveyed the routeway, named a no. of stations and maybe this too....(Ibid.)
ST. HELENS (Lee County, Ky.) Small vill. 4½ mi from Beattyville, above Middle Fork R., off Ky 52. Settled in the late 18th cent. by the Snowdens and McGuires of Pa. and NC. Orig. called Canaan (after the Biblical place name). Then called Louellen when po est. She was the daughter of the 1st pm, a Mr. McGuire. Name changed again to Three Forks City in 1889 when rr came in from Clay City. Then changed to St Helens by a rr official "who thought the latte name more appropriate." City officially founded in 1890.

C. J. James McGuire
RR built depot and turntable. Then community had a church and one-room school. Grew. Expected it to become a rr town. Boom town with speculators for the timberland, rr, and river traffic. Bad reput. for the gamblers, other undesirable who gathered there. 5 saloons. Other local lore and history. Snowden house was built in 1815. (Info. from an article by Nevyle Shackelford and interviews with Dudley Snowden and Inadell McGuire Mackey, appearing in the LEE COUNTY CENTENNIAL, 1870-1970, Pp. 15-16)
ST. HELENS (Lee Co., Ky): D(udley) B. Snowden's father was paid by early land speculators a very large amt. for his land. When the bubble burst he was able to buy it back for a fraction (1/10) of what he paid for it and became wealthy. Balti. speculators laid out an elaborate city with named streets. But the bubble burst in several weeks. (Shackelford, 7/8/1978); Acc. to the 1895 Gaz, this place was on the L&E RR, 4½ mi from Beattyv. with a pop. of 150. U.L. Snowden was pm. Gen. stores were operated by F.W. Beatty, G.H. Hobbs & Co, and J.W. Wilson. Wm. Abner was a distiller, G.D. Hieronymus & Co. had sawmill, Hieronymus & Sims had a stave mill and lumber co, J.G. Thomas ran hotel, J.N. Watson was rr & expr. agent; Walton was listed as Josiah in 1870 Census and Joseph in 1880 Census (age 39). In 1865-6 he marr. (Emma) Ann (36). No Lewellen or Louellen; St. Helens was 1st called Canaan, then Three Forks, then Louellen (sic). St. H. is said to have been named by a rr man with a d. named Helen. Jerilyn Ginnan in ms. "Lee Co. Commu's--A Link With Ou Past" on "St. Helens-The Canaan Land", J. Class of Lee Co. H.S., 1980, Pp. 15-21); APO on Ky 52 (by 1/1996); 4 rail mi above Beattyv. and 4 rail mi. below Tallega;

THIRTEEN (Lee Co., Ky): Plans were to complete Lock & Dam 13 and 14 by 1913. Both projects were under contract by 1911. The work schedule was disrupted several times by "unexpected difficulties" (incl. death threats). (P. 131) The Corps began construction of #13 in 1909 with the original plan for completion by 1912. In May 1909 the contract for the construction of the lock was awarded to Smith Towles & Co. of W.Va. This company built its camp for the workers and called it Thirteen. The lock was completed by Aug. 1911. The contract for the dam was awarded Oct. 1910 to W.F. Garretson Co. of Cinci. but the company folded in 1912. (P. 132). Lock #13 was opened for navigation on 11/14/1914 (P. 134).
The Ky. R. drains 7000 sq. miles and is 255 mi long. (Leland R. Johnson and Chas. E. Parrish, Ky. River Development: The Commonwealth's Waterway, Louisville Dist. Corps of Engineers, 1999); "Construction at Lock and Dam 13 began in 1909, and it opened to navigation in 1914. However, land surveying and acquisition would have been initiated several years prior to the construction start; this could have taken place as early as 1906. Therefore, it is quite reasonable to conclude that the commu. could have been named by 1909." (Chas. E. Parrish, Historian, US Corps of Eng., Louisville, in a letter to me, 10/22/2001);
